THE City of Los Angeles has been known for some time as a critical labor shortage area. The situation has become so acute that the War Manpower Commission last week instituted a new priority referral program wherein every male worker must be referred to a job by the United States Employment Service and cannot be hired under any other condition. This was done "in the best interest of the war effort" so that those fields of production which are behind schedule may have the needed manpower. Critical labor shortage! Manpower deficiency! Those are the reasons given to the men at the front when the needed materials do not arrive on time. What would those men on the battlefront think and how would they feel if they knew that the manpower that is available cannot produce to the utmost because the company charged with the responsibility of delivering those workers to their jobs ON TIME and in a mental and physical condition to give their all are sabotaging the efforts of this available manpower because they have not buried Jim Crow.

And how well could they fight if they knew that all available manpower is not being used "in the best interest of the war effort" as long as Negro manpower is idle or the best use of their skills is not being made. And that the biggest propagators of this condition is the street railway which carries the name of the city for which they are fighting—the Los Angeles Railway Company.

It doesn't take much skill to run a streetcar—if a Negro can guide a ship through enemy waters, a Negro can certainly run a street car down the middle of the street on a track. There is no question in this regard—other cities have demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt that Negroes can run streetcars and can work harmoniously with

Home Front Heroism Brings Medals For Two U. S. Government Employes

WASHINGTON—In recognition of heroism on the home front, the War Department has awarded the Exceptional Service Emblem, highest award given by the Department to civilian employees, to Ernest Wheeler, laborer at the Red River Ordnance Depot in Texarkana, Tex., and Mrs Allene G. Lee, employee of the Pine Bluff Arsenal and Chemical Warfare Service Plant at Pine Bluff, Ark.

Both Wheeler and Mrs. Lee saved fellow workers from death when their clothing caught fire from explosions. Mrs. Lee suffered second degree burns in tearing the burning clothing off a male employee with her bare hands, but returned to work on the same shift after receiving medical attention.

Mae Liddy Denies Any Knowledge Of KKK Order for Family to Move

During the week of June 12, 1944, Mr. and Mrs. Sullie Keeling reported to the California Eagle that a rock had been thrown through a window of their home at 854 East 97th street, and a sign posted on their property reading "Clear out at once . . . KKK."

They also told the Eagle that they had purchased the home through the Mae Liddy Real Estate firm of South Los Angeles, and that Mrs. Liddy had visited them on Monday morning of that week "and advised them to sell their property to a Chinese gentleman, because she did not think the neighbors would permit them to live there in peace."

Based on these facts, the Eagle carried a story on the incident in its issue of June 15, 1944, under the front page banner, "Ku-Klux Klan Orders Family To Move," illustrated with pictures.

The California Eagle has received a communication from John F. Roberts, attorney for Mrs. Liddy in which he states in part:

"Whether or not the KKK ordered the Keeling family to "Clear Out," is something of which my client has no information . . ."

The Eagle regrets, if as Mr. Roberts states in his communication, that the article contained

Hastily Departing Gas Crooks Leave Their Car

Gasoline rationing has created many evils not the least of which is the syphoning of the precious fuel from automobiles that are parked in the street overnight.

Robert Moseley of 2921 South LaSalle, can attest to the fact that at least a locked cap on the tank will help a little bit. He came by his wisdom late Monday night when he was awakened by the calling of his landlady, Louisa Wilson.

He dashed down stairs, sans clothing, but adequately wrapped in a blanket, to discover a length of hose inserted in his tank with the oother end resting in a large pail into which his gasoline was flowing.

Hastily retreating from the scene were two men, white, who

Peter Ross Passes; Suggested Naming Ships For Negroes

The funeral of Peter Ross, who died Monday, July 3, 1944 at 1:05 p.m. at the General Hospital, will be held Friday, July 7, 1944 at Zion Hill Baptist Church. The Rev. Grant Harris will officiate.

Mr. Ross will be remembered by all the Negro population of the United States as the person who first had the idea for naming a merchant ship after a Negro, Booker T. Washington, and who presented this idea to the management of the California Shipbuilding Corporation who put it into effect. Since that time, a number of merchant vessels have been named for outstanding Negroes.

Mr. Ross leaves a wife and one son, Pvt. Arthur Ross, who is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

For many years a member of Zion Hill Baptist Church, Mr. Ross was active in religious and political affairs of Los Angeles.

War Department Verifies Reports Of Race Losses

No Details Yet; Praised for Fine Work Under Fire

Reports that have filtered through from the Normandy front since the "D" Day invasion have indicated that casualties among the thousands of Negro troops who participated were heavy. Negro service an dsupply divisions were among the frist soldiers to set foot on the invasion shores, and they were in the thick of the resistance firing from the very beginning.

While details and identification information are not expected to be made available for some time, the War Department makes the following announcement: "Pictures sent back from the invasion front which have been widely published, clearly show the presence of Negro troops. Of course, we don't announce units in an operation.

That is made by the unit commander when he thinks it proper. Except for making public the larger elements participating in the invasion, General Eisenhower has made no announcement giving composition of his forces. But on the beaches, Negro Combat Engineers and other Negro troops, among those unloading the ships and handling the supplies on shore, did their duty excellently under fire in this zone of heavy combat. And they suffered many casualties."

99th Squadron Strikes Double

WASHINGTON.—Negro pilots of the 99th Pursuit Squadron, now busy dive-bombing and strafing the fleeing Nazis in the Levante sector of northern Italy, are striking double blows at the enemy, the Treasury Department revealed last week.

In addition to making regular salary allotments for War Bond purchases, the Negro fliers celebrate each air victory by purchasing a $1,000 bond for every enemy plane destroyed by a member of the squadron.

Phoenix Murder Retrial Put Off Until Late Fall

Deadlocked Jury Makes a Second Trial Necessary

PHOENIX, ARIZONA—Retrial of the first degree murder charge against Leonce Navarre, local detective, for fatally shooting David, (Starr) Johnson, young Negro policeman, is scheduled for sometime in the fall.

SHOT MAY 2nd

The charge grew out of an incident on May 2 last when Johnson, carrying out his police duties, was citing Lloyd Simmonds, a friend of Navarre's for a traffic violation. Navarre, who was off duty at the time, resentfully interferred, finally emtying his service revolver into Johnson's body.

A coroner's jury after only ten minutes of deliberation, brought in a verdict of self defense, but pressure from an aroused community prompted the County

Narcolics Charge Not Proved So Robinson Case Is Dismissed

George Washington Robinson, young man-about-town, was found not guilty of two counts of possession and sale of narcotics last Thursday afternoon by Judge Thomas L. Ambrose in Department 42 of the Superior Court, who tried the case without a jury.

Robinson who was defended by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, was arrested on March 22nd at the entrance of the Dunbar Hotel by Officer Hooks of the Newton Street Vice Squad after having been pointed out by Victor Ray, special police officer of 4571½ East 41st street.

At the time of the arrest Robinson was in the company of Paul Silagye, a young white band leader who the officers claimed they saw purchase five marihuana cigarettes from Robinson.

The cigarettes were found in the possession of Silagye and taken from his pockets by the arresting officer, but Robinson denied having sold them and the prosecution was unable to prove that the cigarettes taken from Silagye's pocket were the ones which were alleged to have been handed to him by Robinson.

Capital War Bond Show, "Shot From the Sky," Visited by Famous Airman

The Commander of the famous 99th Pursuit Squadron takes a busman's holiday. Major George Spencer Roberts, home for a well-deserved rest, visits the Monument grounds in Washington, D. C., to take in the Army Air Forces War Bond show, "Shot from the Sky." In left photo he examines a Japanese Zero. This particular model, he says, bears a close resemblance to the Fockewulf 190's his boys have shot down over Italy. Major Roberts has seen hundreds of wrecked German airplanes on scattered airfields in North Africa, Sicily and Italy, and was apparently bored with the show until he spotted the Japanese collection.

"Now, I am interested," he said. He examines a German aerial machine gun in center photo and at right assumes a "mission accomplished" pose alongside the wreck of a Messerschmitt. The 99th Pursuit Squadron celebrated the downing of twelve Fockewulfs over the Anzio-Nettuno beachhead in Italy by buying $12,000 worth of Bonds during the Fourth War Loan. "Everybody kicked in," Major Roberts said, "even those who were already making heavy allotments from their salaries for War Bonds."

Captain Homer Garrott and his brother, Dr. A. C. Garrott of Los Angeles, testify to the harmonious relationship in existence at San Francisco where white and Negro people operate streetcars. These are citizens whose word can be relied upon. The Garrotts in a recent visit to the state's chief city made some careful observations.

We could charge the Los Angeles Railway with treason. We could charge it with sabotage. It has been so charged before and has not even bothered to answer the charge. We shall not waste idle words. We know the facts, and in our capacity of guardians of the interests of the people in the prosecution of the war, it is our responsibility to take the forefront in directing the evident dissatisfaction of the people of Los Angeles over the transportation situation into channels that will effectively overcome this obstacle to on-schedule production in Los Angeles.

Here and now we charge the Los Angeles Railway Company with laughing up its sleeve at being successful in throwing the monkey wrench into the cog of production, of just making plain fools of those whose lives are endangered each time they board a stretcar, who must make their contribution to the success of the war by being squeezed almost to death, by standing sometimes for miles, for having to stand on the street while as many as a dozen streetcars pass by without even stopping, while they pay their fare for this privilege of being transported like livestock in a cattle car to the most important job they have ever had in their lives.

The transportation of slaves to this country packed in the holds of ships by blue print only slightly outdoes the inhuman way in which workers of Los Angeles are forced to get to their work and back home. And they pay for the privilege!

We, the people of Los Angeles, white, Negro, and Mexican, call upon the Victory Committee, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Committee for Civic Unity, the ministers, the Mayor's Committee, the Masons, Elks, Pythians, United Brothers of Friendship, and all other committees and organizations to unite in a demand that the Los Angeles Railway cease its practice of race and color discrimination in the matter of employment on its cars.

We are serving notice on the Los Angeles Railway that we shall unite our forces against unfair practices in the matter of employment. If we are to give our utmost to win the war and enjoy the victory, we must not be hampered by race-baiting, anti-Semitism, labor-baiting, and Jim Crow anywhere along the line of march. We here and now declare that we realize that the winning of the war motivates our every action and shall continue to do so until the victory is won, and that because of this realization, we shall not let our efforts on the field of production be hampered further by the simple fact that the conditions under which we must get to work are rapidly becoming unbearable. We shall let nothing stand in our way to break this strongest hangover of the days before Pearl Harbor, of the days before the Civil War, no less, and with the help of God we shall win.

Georgia Bars Voters

Association of Democratic Clubs, were both refused permission to vote. Walden announced that he would start suit immediately.

NOT LISTED

The device used by the election managers was to tell the Negroes that their names were not on the list. In every case the Negroes were orderly and their attempts to vote went off without incident.

Georgia is one of the Southern states that has refused to pledge its presidential electors unless the Democratic convention, soon to open in Chicago, takes positive anti-Negro action.

In Augusta, Albany, and other cities in the state, Negro voters were also denied the right to vote.

Meanwhile, in Mississippi, another of the lily-white primary states which has announced its intention to withhold electoral college votes unless racial bias is inserted in the Democratic platform, Secretary of State Walker Wood announced that Negroes were not expected to make an effort to vote.

Following the Supreme Court Decision in the Texas Primary case, a decision which denied the right of the Democratic party to bar Negroes from voting in the party primary elections, rebellion has broken out in several southern states which have avowed that despite the Supreme Court ruling, they will not permit Negroes to vote.

With the presidential campaign coming up, politicians who hate "that man in the White House," are hopeful of building this issue into a weapon strong enough to weaken fourth term prospects.

a "false imputation" of Mrs. Liddy's connection with the incident, and had "a definite tendency to injure my client in her occupation."

The full text of Mr. Roberts' communication follows:

California Eagle,
4075 South Central,
Los Angeles (11), Cal.

Re: Liddy-vs.-California Eagle.

Gentlemen:

My client, Mae Liddy, has consulted me regarding the publication, in your newspaper, of the article headed "KKK Orders Family To Clear Out"; said article being set out in paragraph two (2), of your edition of the said California Eagle, of Thursday, June 15th, 1944.

Whether or not the KKK ordered the Keeling family to "Clear Out," is something of which my client has no information, however, the fact that the only name of the individual which is used throughout the article, other than that of the Keelings', is that of my client, Mae Liddy; the inference is quite apparent that your desire is to show to the world that my client is the primary moving party in the alleged affair.

The statement contained therein that 'Mae Liddy has sold property to Negroes in the Watts or South Los Angeles area over a long period of years"; also, the home was purchased through the Mae Liddy Real Estate firm of South Los Angeles," are not matters of such public interest that it would sustain it's inclusio nin an article of this nature.

My client is a real estate broker of many years standing and was retained by Mr. Keeling to find a purchaser for the property featured in your photographs accompanying the article herein complained of. My client did obtain a purchaser for said property at the price and upon the terms suggested by Mr. Keeling. Mr. Keeling and the buyer then opened an escrow for said sale and purchase. Whether or not Mrs. Keeling had decided to sell, or whether she had not decided to sell, are matters outside the article and are not concerned in the subject thereof.

Whether or not my client "visited the Keelings Monday and advised them to sell their property to a Chinese Gentleman," as set forth in said article, is of no moment and could not be used as a method of including my clients' name in said article in order to cast reflection upon her and upon her motives. The false imputation contained in said article has a definite tendency to injure my client in her occupation.

A newspaper stands in the same class as an individual as far as the application of the principle of privileged communications are concerned and a fair and true report of the facts does not include as privileged, facts outside the record or comments by the writer. The insinuations that my client was the moving party in the asserted attempt to disrupt the "quite comfortable and happy" surroundings of the Keelings, is, to say the least, a libelous and defamatory innuendo.

Now, that you have seen fit to publish this article, it is fitting and proper that you make a further investigation that you may not permit yourself to be overcome with compassion over similar affairs that may come to your attention in this fashion, in the future. An investigation upon your part of the subject set forth in your article may disclose some other matters that will assist you in the publishing of a correction of the article complained of.

My client, Mae Liddy, hereby requests a retraction or correction of said article, and that it be published in as conspicious a place and type in said newspaper as was the statements complained of, in a regular issue thereof, and published within two (2) weeks after the receipt of this demand.

Respectfully,

son at the corner of 50th and Main streets.

Five witnesses who saw the accident took the stand for the prosecution, but all of them under cross-examination by defense Attorney Curtis C. Taylor who represented Denson, failed to carry the burden for the prosecution, because of discrepancy in their testimony.

Several said the car was going fast while others say it was going slow. There was also a discrepancy as to whether or not Mrs. Metzler was in the safety zone.

TRAFFIS OFFICER TESTIFIES

Motorcycle Officer Hull of the Los Angeles Traffic Department testified that he saw the car when it passed him a block North of the accident and that it was going at an excessive rate of speed, but he admitted under cross-examination that he did not witness the accident itself, having only heard the cresh, but that he sped to the scene immediately thereafter to find the woman lying dead near the sidewalk and Denson's car parked about forty feet away.

The accused man took the stand in his own defense and testified that he did not see Mrs. Metzler until it was too late. He said that he was enroute home from San Pedro and that it was almost dusk making visibility difficult since the street lights had not yet come on.

He testified that when he reached the intersection of 50th and Main streets, Mrs. Metzler suddenly darted out from behind another automobile into the path of his on-rushing car and that he applied his brakes with great force immediately when he saw her , but it was too late. Judge Gates held that the evidence was unsufficient and ordered Denson cleared of all charges.

Phoenix Murder

Attorney's office to act. A front page editorial in the Phoenix Press pointed out that the efficiency of a police force is nullified by such quick trigger men who constitute a menace to the community.

County Attorney, James A. Walsh and his deputy, Edwin Beauchamp, set to work preparing a case against Navarre. They brought him to trial in Superior Court before Judge M. T. Phelps and an all white jury. The prosecution was fearlessly handled, with Walsh pointing out that Navarre, "shot down Johnson in cold blood like a dog." The defense claimed self defense.

After deliberating for twenty-two hours last week the Jury reported that it was hopelessly deadlocked and could not reach a verdict with further deliberations. Judge Phelps dismissed the Jury and the retrial was scheduled for the fall.

SENATE-WIDE SUPPORT

The Thomas Jefferson Communist Community Club which did much to arouse public indignation against the attempted whitewash of Navvarre by the corner's jury, are working to gain state wide support for justice before the next trial.

1000 Delegates Join MPA Protest Fight

More than a thousand Hollywood delegates, meeting June 28, brought into being a loud and united public relations voice for the motion picture industry when representatives of the 17 labor organizations comprising the Emergency Committee of Guilds and Unions passed a resolution creating the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions, and gave it ample strength for the task.

At the same time the group militantly repudiated the charges and aims of the Motion Picture Alliance for the Preservation of American Ideals, a thorough study and evaluation of its methods was undertaken at the meeting.

Deputy School Supt. Retires After 25 Years

After more than a quarter-century of service in the Los Angeles City Schools, Deputy Superintendent Arthur Gould retires on June 30 from active participation.

Dr. Gould was called to the Los Angeles City Schools in 1918, by Superintendent Albert Shiels, to serve as Assistant Superintendent, Subsequently Dr. Gould has served under Superintendents Susan M. Dorsey, Frank A. Bouell, and Vierling Kersey.

Mosteller Jr., commanding officer of the field, announced last week.

Released From the County Jail After 3 Months Uncertainty

After having been confined for the past three months in the County Jail under a bail too heavy for him to make, convicted of the charge of armed robbery and then literally snatched from the jaws of San Quentin penitentiary through the unremitting efforts of his Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, is the experience of Shelley Freeman, former service station operator of 1528 E. 53rd street.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

Freeman was cleared of all charges after his Attorney had interposed a plea of double jeopardy in Judge Walter S. Gates' court last Thursday morning. His troubles grew out of his arrest along with Algie Simmons on November 22nd upon the complaint of Fred Rogers, white business man, and Wm. S. Zittell, a grocery store operator on South Avalon Blvd., that Freeman had held them up at the point of a revolver within thirty minutes apart on November 16th last.

Detroit Almost Reached It s Goal

NEW YORK.—The phenomenal success of the NAACP membership drive in Detroit for 25,000 new members is revealed in the current report of 21,209 toward that goal in less than a month subsequent to the opening of the campaign there.

Local executive and branch leadership aided by Daisy Lampkin, Gloster Current, Dr. James J. McClendon, L. C. Blount and others, predict a sweeping close within the next few weeks, making the total in dollars and cents considerably more than the $26,697 already on hand.

The Youth Council of the NAACP will present Miss Mary Sherwood, a member of the American Youth for Democracy, who will give an informative address on the result of a conference with Undersecretary of War Patterson and Truman Gibson, civilian aide to the Undersecretary of War, in which she participated.

The conference dealt with discrimination in the armed forces. Miss Sherwood will speak at the regular meeting of the council Friday night, July 7, at 8 p.m. Her address will be of special interest for all community leaders in every field and especially newspaper people. She will be in the city for a limited time only, so it is necessary for all who want firsthand information in regard to the War Department's attitude toward discrimination to attend this meeting.

Air Hero of Sicilian Campaign Honored by Washington (D.C.) School Children

Cardozo Junior High School (Wash., D. C.) pays homage to one of its graduates, a war hero. A jeep purchased by students with War Bonds and Stamps is christened by Jacqueline Jackson, one of the school's prize Bond salesgirls, in honor of Lt. Paul Graham Mitchell, who was graduated from Cardozo in 1937. Mitchell saw action overseas as a member of the famous 99th Pursuit Squadron and was reported missing after his squadron engaged forty Messerschmitts and Fockewulfs after a raid on the big German airfield at Castelvestrano, in Northwest Sicily, just prior to our invasion of Sicily. Attending the colorful ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Mitchell, of 908 Howard Road, Anacostia, parents of Lt. Mitchell. In right photo, cadets and girl students stand at attention during the playing of the Star-Spangled Banner.

"Songbird Of The South" Is A Talented Red Cross Booster

LONDON—"She sings — You sing—Everybody sings," posters proclaim, advertising the appearance of the "Songbird of the South," presented by the American Red Cross in Great Britain for G.I. audiences. And wherever she appears, Mrs. Margaret Simms, of Jacksonville, Florida, draws large crowds of American soldiers, hungry for the beloved songs of their homeland.

In informal songfests Mrs. Simms leads the boys in singing American popular tunes; in formal concert programs she regales them with classic selections. Negro folk songs are an important part of her repertoire. She sings them both for her soldier audiences because they love them, and at her more august Anglo-American relations programs because they portray an important phase of American culture.

In December, 1942, Mrs. Simms left the States, one of a number of Negro men and women bound for foreign service with the American Red Cross. Her training and experience in business administration fitted her for her new job as assistant club director. Aboard ship she was active in planning entertainment programs for the troops in transit.

When it became known that she was a concert singer of some note, having appeared in cities throughout the United States, Mrs. Simms was asked to give a shipboard concert. She sang, and won the enthusiastic commendation of the Commanding Officer and the men.

Arriving in England, Mrs. Simms was reassigned. Word of her talent had preceded her, and she was soon launched on her present assignment, unique among Red Cross workers. In fifteen months she has journeyed back and forth over the British Isles, covering more than 40,000 miles and appearing before over 300 audiences, singing with more enthusiasm than on her concert tours back home.

From her vast repertoire, Mrs. Simms assembles a program to fit the occasion, ranging in length from forty-five minutes to an hour and a half.

Avalon USO Club Dormitory Opens Last Sunday; Will Sleep 200 Men

With a sleeping capacity for 200 enlisted personell, the Avalon USO Club dormitory, 43rd Place and Avalon, was officially opened Sunday afternoon, July 2, under the auspices of the Avalon USO club, 4202 South Avalon.

Truman Johnson, executive director of the Los Angeles USO, Ben Ellison, director of the Avalon USO Club, and A. J. Williams, chairman of the board of directors of the Avalon Club, appeared on the program which dedicated the site to the housing of men in the armed forces who make Los Angeles their week end stamping ground.

Showers, shaving equipment and other facilities are included in the overnight charge of 50 cents per man. The dormitory will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays, with the week day housing load to be handled by the Avalon Club, two blocks away.

NEED GREAT

According to Mr. Ellison the need to alleviate the housing problem for enlisted men has been great. He and his staff at the Avalon Club have found the 50 beds they have to be inadequate.

"On the eve of the dedication ceremony, before the site was officially opened to the public, we housed 179 men in the dormitory," stated Mr. Ellison. "We fell sure the demand to keep it open seven days a week will be forthcoming."

Other officials appearing on the afternoon's program were Miss Nita Blackwell, associate director; Mrs. Vertner Gordon, chairman of volunteers; and Mr. James Robinson, assistant director. The Navy Band from Port Hueneme was on hand to play for the dance and tea which followed the formal ceremony.

Friends, Co-Workers Say Farewell To Jeanette Cohen, Eagle Columnist

The party was given by friends from the community and her coworkers, at the home of Mrs. Anita Chatinover, well known local soprano.

Jeanette will be missed very much by all the friends she has made through the Eagle and at Pacific Sound. Bridge Points

"KEEP PUSHING—IT IS WISER THAN SITTING ASIDE."

In last week's column concerning responses to no-trump opening bids was sufficient information to correctly respond with any type of hand, providing you knew the rule of 4-5-6 and the type of hand an opening no-trump required distributionally (4-3-3-3, 4-4-3-2, 5-3-3-2).

So, naturally, holding an unusual hand like this: S. AKJ-109X H. KJX D. KJX C. A., a master player would make rapid fire analyzation of his partner's possible holding and into his consciousness would appear a very clear-cut picture similar to:

1.—S.QXX
H.AQX
D.AQXX
C.QXX
2.—S.XXXX
H.AQX
D.AQXX
D.AQXX
C.KQ
3.—S.QXX
H.AQ
D.AQXXX
C.KXX
4.—S.XXXXX
H.AQ
D.AQX
C.KQX

Since by adding his maximum honor tricks to his partners minimum the combined hands totaled 8 plus H. Ts and a minimum of 15 honor cards—six spades or N. T. is assured and 7 in either N.T. or spades depend on partner holding a mximum N.T. opening; a finesse, or distributional factor.

Next in this visualized picture would appear equations (your partner's relative scientific knowledge and past actions) hence you would know that a master player would not open 1 N.T. holding either No. 1 or 4 hands. (continued next week).

The correct response to last week's hand of the week was I N.T. It is rarely, if ever, that on should respond with a no-trump holding a singleton, but in this case the lesser of the evils present is I N.T.

OUR SINCERE APPRECIATION

Electa Chapter No. 3, OES, wishes to express her sincere appreciation to all her friends and sister chapters who rallied to her recent Calendar Contest Tea at the Prince Hall Masonic Temple, 1050 E. 50th street and helped to write another page in her financial history. Our final count and your numerous calls and compliments made our hearts glad and the wish of the chapter is to continue to please her friends so that we might feel worthy of your support and friendship. Thanks to everyone who contributed in any way to make our tea the success it was. Estelle Van Meter, W.M., Myrtle L. Franklin, Reporter.

Negro Red Cross Workers in New Guinea Are Rated High

By CONRAD CLARK

AT AN ADVANCED BASE IN NEW GUINEA.—Contrary to all talk about the lack of self-sacrifice on the part of Negro women, the Negro staff of American Red Cross workers over here, at this advanced Base, in the SWPA, are proving the fallacies of those "rumore".

From sunrise to sunst, these soldiers of "morale" are daily, either working in the various Red Cross clubs here on the island, are in their huts or are in conference with Base officials, making plans to make living so many thousands of miles away from their loved ones, a bit more congenial, and less drab.

There are more than three such clubs here with one of them entirely staffed by Negro personnel. This does not mean though that this is the sole club, for Negro soldiers on the island, but simply that this one club is solely under Negro workers. The clubs are located in various parts of the islands, built for the men in that particular area. Bot white and Negro troops stationed in the areas, and members of both races, crowd all the clubs, nightly.

WORKING 3 MONTHS

The Negro staff has been here less than 3 months, and members are: Frank Byrd of New York City, club director, a former worker of the New York Dept. of Social Welfare; Misses Willie Powe of New Orleans, La., program director; and Leila T. Gardner of New York City, asst. program director; Mrs. Eleanor A. Calloway of Ossining, N. Y., and Miss Clara Wells of Marshall, Texas.

Mr. Byrd, who is well known on Harlem's Main Stem, was proprietor - manager of the Bohemian Club, 220 West 135th street, New York City. A student of Physical Education and Social Service Work, he took his training at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass., and NYU, New York City. He also took Social Work at Columbia Teachers' College, N.Y.C., and taught Physical Education in New Jersey. A worker at Harlem's million dollar YMCA, on West 135th street, he also did volunteer work for the NAACP, N. Y. Branch.

Before joining the staff of the ARC, the club director saw more than 15 months of service in the Army, and was honorably discharged later from "somewhere on the West Coast". In December of last year, the ex-soldier became an ARC, and after working a few months in the Nation's Capitol, was transferred to the New Guinea sector a few months ago. A member of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity, Mr. Byrd holds membership also in the American Newspaper Guild, and is married to the former Miss Ruth Hodges of New York City.

Program director, Willie C. Powe, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Powe of New Orleans, La., is a graduate of Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Miss., and was a Supervisor of School, Jackson Parish, Louisiana, before entering her present work.

Other work, the director did before entering "morale" service was as a Recreation work and program director of school projects, and the vice-president of the PTA of La. A radio soprano soloist, Miss Powe is one of 3 girls and 5 boys. Her father, the Rev. Powe, is the Presiding Elder of North Orleans A. M. E. Church District, 2802 Freret st., N.O., Louisiana.

Staff asst. is Miss Clara Wells, graduate of Wiley College, Texas, and a resident of Marshall, Texas.

Asst. program director is Miss Leila T. Gardner, the daughter of Mrs. Caroline Gardner, of New York City. In civilian life, Miss Gardner resided with her mother at 530 West 144th street, and before joining the ARC, she was an employe of the Dept. of Public Recreation, Baltimore, Md. A graduate of Talladega College, Ala., she aso did some work towards her Master's in Physical Education and Social Service.

Also a former worker of the Orange, N. J. YMCA, Miss Gardner became a staff worker in February of last year. Before coming to New Guinea, less than 3 months ago, she worked in Alaska for more than 8 months, then was transferred to Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. Her final assignment in Continental America, was at Herlong, Calif. A member of the Tau Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, she was a well known fraternal and social worker in Harlem.

The office of staff assistant to Miss Powe, is held by Mrs. Eleanor A. Calloway of Ossining, N. Y. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Alston of 42 Broadway in that city. An elder sister, Mrs. Jeannie Bailey, the staff asst. is the wife of M/Sgt. Samuel D. Bailey, somewhere in Italy.

Before enlisting with the American Red Cross, Mrs. Calloway was a teacher of chemistry and Home Economics at the Lylburn-Downing School, Lexington, Va. A graduate of the Junior and Senior High School of Ossining, she later attended NYU, N.Y.C., and Virginia State College, Petersburgh, Va. Baha'i Delegate To Speak Sunday

Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop, returning delegate from the Baha'i Centenary Convention, held in Chicago, will address a meeting of the Baha'i Community of Los Angeles Sunday, July 9, 3 p.m., at their center, 1709 W. 8th street to which the public is cordially invited. Her topic will be "The First Hundred Years." It is timely, she says ,coming as it does at the close of the first Baha'i century.

Baha'is are continuing their radio series for two more weeks, on KFOX, 7:45 to 8 p.m., Sunday evenings.

Vanity is the mother, and affection is the darling daughter; vanity is the sin, and affectation is the punishment; the first may be called the root of self-love, the other the fruit.

Our Babies and Our War Bonds Will Help Build the New World

One of the outstanding posters being used for the 5th War Loan Drive bears the picture of a bright-eyed, chuckling youngster overlooking the world scene from a position on his stomach. The caption under the picture advises, "For Baby's Future, Buy War Bonds."

Emphasis, in the post war world, will be on the care and guidance of our little citizens, for they are the heirs to all of the things for which our boys are fighting today.

What happens to their future depends entirely upon what we do with the present. Broad planning for a world at peace with freedon, full equality and security for all is the tempo of the times. War Bonds are an important part of that planning.

$25 WAR BOND

Because a more valuable gift, in terms of future worth and present service, can not be found, the California Eagle's Baby Health and Poularity Contest has selected a $25 War Bond as the prize to be given to the contest winner.

Through the cooperation of Dr. Seymour Kaufman each baby entered in the contest will be given a free examination at his offices at First and San Pedro.

A one year subscription to the California Eagle is all that is required to enter your baby. With that subscription you will have bought a full year's reading of the paper of the people, dedicated to a better world for every baby to enjoy.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Man has not wrought elsewhere to equal this:
Ineffable madness chastened by a mastered dole
Of hairbreadth measurements, creating Death's antithesis,
Beauty out-topping the dreams of an enraptured soul,
Perfection that bears no common lot with earthly dust
And speaks no wisdom gleaned from any mortal past,
Nor dreams of heaven hoped for on Earth's frail crust.
Omnipotence, in some kind mood, effulgent has here cast
This supreme model of lovliness, else to us unknown,
Then unto man (fettered between the mists and stars).
Vouchsafed this boon as fair quittance for evils sown;
Compensation for insatiable Decay's consuming fires.
Man owns no coin wherewith to pay for such a gift divine:
Taj Mahal stands alone, of Almighty God a pledge and sign.

—Bernice Cook.

The above poem is a contribution from David W. Cade, of Brooklyn, New York; an interesting person, indeed, who has traveled to many scenic spots throughout the world. His hobby, as with the above verse, is to write poetry "on the spot" where he happens to be, as the inspiration comes to him. This is only one of many beautiful things Mr. Cade has written. Poetry lovers, here is one for your scrapbook.

JAM SESSION

Sunday afternoon, history was made at the old Philharmonic Auditorium when the musical all-stars, such as Nat King Cole, Barney Bigard, Bob Hatch, Meade Lux Lewis, and Les Paul virtually "knocked themselves out" as they gave of their time and talent to aid the Sleepy Lagoon Defense Fund. The auditorium was well packed and the musicians were very enthusiastically received.

JOHN THOMAS WINS

Well, if you put your money on John Thomas to win over Armstrong—Tuesday night at the Olympic—you should be feeling fine. It was a great fight and everyone was there. To mention a few seen around the ringside, there were Dr. Ennis (the dentist), Nat King Cole, Misses Fay Milhouse and Myrtle Kenzie, cousins of the winner, Miss Geraldine Mann, Mr. Abraham Chiles, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gipson.

Taking in the sunshine of the beach, in several private beach parties, were seen Misses Jessie Mae Brown and Benzell Graham, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham; Messrs. Jack Terry, Joe Henderson, Bennie Benfield, Neal Collins; Miss Teddy Stafford and Mrs. Doris Booker.

Dropping by beautiful Exposition Park, among those picnicking were Mrs. Jannie Mann, Mrs. Fay Thomas, Mrs. Nicie Mann and little son, Donald Wesley, Miss LaVaughn Martin, Mrs. Mary Martin Young, Miss Geraldine Mann, Mr. Marion Mann, Mr. Caleb Peterson Jr., Mr. Abraham Chiles, and Mrs. George Dixon.

CONGRATULATIONS

One of the most beautiful wedding of this, or any other season, was that of charming Gertrude Lomax and handsome J. T. Gipson, which took place at the Zion Hill Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon. The newlyweds will spend a brief honeymoon at Murray's Ranch in Victorville, Calif. Many lovely gifts have been received by the couple, and they continue to pour in every day. MGM's Lena Horne rendered a beautiful musical selection at the wedding.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

Extensive plans are in work by Walter Worril, and his coworkers, Curley Monroe, Joe Knight, and Mrs. Corinne Ashby, in promoting the coming aquatic show scheduled for the 8th of July at the 28th Street branch of the YMCA. Gathered from Toussaint Jennings, active Y worker, that the show is a grand starter for a big program at the branch, that will include swimming classes for women and teen-agers. Understand that shapely Juanita Humber, Yvonne Cole, Dorothy Williams, and Yvonne Crosley are among the contestants in the beauty contest, that will highlight the show.

Schedule of activities include coed night every Friday from 7:30 till 9:00, with special swimming instructions for women from 9:00 until 10:00. Teen-age group takes over on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 at night until 9:00. So all you female water lovers can take it from there.

NAACP JR. COUNCIL PARTY

The Junior Council members are well into their membership drive for some 1,000 members. All fraternal and club groups are being contacted for membership. One of the main events scheduled for the drive, is the coming dance at the Plantation Club. So happens that Joe Morris is allowing the Youth Council to take over free of charge that evening, and Jimmy Lunceford is also doing his part.

All Council members will be expected at Friday nights meeting in order to get new membership cards. Younger Setters plan to be on hand in large numbers on the 12th when the big dance comes off, because they are aware of the fact that the NAACP is definitely a worth while organization.

OVER THE WEEK-END

The fashionable wedding of J. T. Gipson and Gertrude Lomax, held Sunday afternoon at Zion Hill Baptist Church was one of the biggest events of the season. The younger setters took their vows before a record breaking crowd.

Among highlight events of the weekend was the introduction of Mrs. Anne Fentress Green, of Tuskegee and Birmingham, to the Los Angeles social circles. The receiving line was formed Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, and formal introductions were made until 7:00 o'clock. Hostesses at the affair included Ethel Boykins, Elinore Lee, Maxine Clarke, and a bevy of others.

LEAGUERS MEET

Mrs. Joseph Morris (Euvolda), was hostess to the Doll League at the Club Plantation last Sunday. The club under the leadership of Flo Ware turned out in complete numbers and enjoyed a perfect afternoon transacting bits of light business, enjoying the well planned luncheon, and listening to the music of Lunceford's orchestra.

Weekend partying was centered around Althea Warren and Lula Green's Saturday night events as expected. Both affairs were attended by the "Set," and a super-time was had by all. Throughout the evening, caught a glimpse or did a bit of chatting with Bal Kemp and Corinne Jones, Marilyn Williams, Joyce and Jerry Stewart, Jack Terry, Corinne Kimbel and the rest of the crowd.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

The rumors that have been going around town about Lt. Curtis Smith missing in action, have been confirmed by his wife Ruth. She, however, feels that he is safe, because on three other occasions Curt had been reported as missing in action only to turn up a day or two later, safe and sound. Here's hoping the former Angeleno is safe . . .

Hear that my pal, Naomi Davis, has again deserted the coast for New Orleans. Harriette Patterson had that far-away look in her eye Sunday, guess she had fiance Lawrence Johnson's long distance phone call on the mind . . . Say, saw Marion Patterson Spencer last Sunday looking fine as ever. Found out that the addition to the Spencer family is a little girl. By the way, William is stationed somewhere in India . . . Wallace Marine, Pre-Med student at UCLA is now taking up his studies at Maharie . . .

A trip south of the border this summer seems to be quite the thing. Joyce and Jerry Stewart had big plans for flying down to La Ciudad De Mexico for a brief vacation. However, new plans have been completed for an early spring trip . . . A few days back several of us were at Mrs. Portwig's "Anchor," to meet the very charming Miss Hale, who had just completed her education at the University of Mexico . . . Albert Hicks is scheduled to be in on furlough in a few days . . . The life of the party now days seems to be centered around my buddy and yours, Roy Hart, the fellow who sells good records cheap . . . Back in town and looking cute as a dime, dimples and all is Deloris Benemie . . . Slowly but surely the complete little group of sub-deb glamour men are leaving the scene for the armed forces. Edward Mouten is sporting some G.I. jive along with the rest of the gents.

Latter part of this month, popular Bette Yarbrough will again be moving in Los Angeles, circles . . .Received a letter from George Sturdivant last week. He is stationed somewhere in England, and sends hellos to the gang . . . Mabel Snow Thomas is looking plenty fine for herself now days . . . Heroletta Garrison is back in town after spending a week or two at the Pilgrim Fellowship camp. Has given up her dream of going to Stanford U. for University of Cal. Berkeley campus. By the way, Marilyn Williams plans to complete her high school education a semester early, by taking up her final work in summer school.

Glamorous Jean Soldier departed from the fair city last Wednesday in order to visit with hubby, LeRoy, who is down in Florida . . . Barbara Ragsdale is headed for the East. Plans to return to the city this fall . . . Since Frank, notorious tripper of the light fantastic, Dupas, is in the Army, his running buddy Arthur Trent has the feeling that he too may be leaving any day now.

Returns from the recent election of Sigma Chapter of the AKA's has Benzell Graham as prexy; Mary King, vice prexy; Jack Wilson, secretary; Katherine Randolph, corresponding secretary; Ella Louise Cook, treasurer; Alfieda Jackson, chaplain, and Gloria Roberts, reporter . . .

The girls have big plans for the coming season of club activity. Making reservations for San Francisco isn't an easy job, take it from any AKA trying to make her way to the coming conference . . . Les Charmantes will be balling on the beach of Santa Monica, come Sunday morn . . .

Don't forget to buy War Bonds, and plenty of them.

MARRIED LAST SUNDAY—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce (the former Miss Dorothy Lee Nobles) cut the wedding cake following their marriage last Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on East 43rd place.

Dorothy Lee Nobles—Robert E. Bruce Wedding Solemnized Last Sunday

A romance that started over three years ago when they were both members of the junior choir of the First AME church, came to full bloom last Sunday afternoon with the marriage of Dorothy Lee Nobles and Robert Edward Bruce in the patio of the Nobles family residence at 1329 E. 43rd place. The Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of the First AME church read the marriage vows.

Standing in the midst of friends and relatives who formed a "V" under the sun-bright sky, the couple were united in a solemn ceremony that began at 4:30 p.m.

The bride wore a white chiffon dress trimmed in Old English lace and carried a bouquet of gardenias and orchids. She was escorted to the arch under which the couple stood by her father, Robert A. Nobles, a prominent excavating contractor of this city.

Mrs. Geraldine Harris, daughter of Mrs. Willie L. Curtis, acted as Matron of Honor. Miss Margaret E. Kyle, a Wilberforce coed, and the daughter of Dr. Thomas W. Kyle, was the maid of honor. Miss Roberta (Chick) Nobles, USC coed and sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

All of the bride's attendants were gowned in pastel shades and carried bouquets of tropical flowers. The mother of the bride, Mrs. Vallie Lee Nobles, was graciously gowned in orchid crepe.

Charles Grose, a former student at Los Angeles City College, and an employee of the U. S. Postal Service, was best man. Everett Bell, A.M., Prairie View College, was the groomsman.

Mrs. Edna Tukes sang, "Because," and General White sang, "By the Bend of the River." Edith K. Owens was at the piano.

The bride, a native of Los Angeles, is a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High school with honors, and presently attends City College. The groom is a graduate of Alton high school, Alton, Ill. He served 10 months in the U. S. Army and recently returned to civilian life.

He is employed in an essential industry.

Gipson-Lomax Rites at Zion Hill Baptist Church Breath-taking With Innovations; Bride Unattended, Wears Draped Gown

By LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

Los Angeles has a wedding. People, Los Angeles had a most unique wedding. Mark the date on your calendar, Sunday, July 2, 1944. It is difficult to describe this wedding in the traditional sense, mainly because the reader will not be afforded a clear enough picture of what transpired.

It is far better that we describe the affair in the manner of a review of a Hollywood picture premiere. This is suggested mainly because the entire proceedings could have been the makings of an excellent screen plot, with the exception that the principals, J. T. Gipson, the groom, Gertrude Lomax, bride and the Rev. Grant Harris, were real and on the up and up performers.

MASTERPIECE

No Hollywood script writer could have written the roles for the various participants in the wedding ceremonial which united newspaper columnist, J. T. Gipson, in holy wedlock with charming and attractive Gertrude Lomax any better than was skilfully executed under the marvelous direction of Ralphe Porter. It was a masterpiece.

The wedding rites were said in a specially erected alter of gold by the Reverend Grant Harris, pastor of Zion Hill Baptist Church, 22nd and Central Avenue at 4:00 p.m. before an over-crowded church audience. The Rev. John Brannon, Assistant Pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church, officiated in prayer.

LENA HORNE SINGS

Although Lena Horne, beauteous sepia screen star was principal soloist at the wedding, the stellar roles easily went to the two wedding participants. Their parts were that great, and they were majestically measured up to them.

Any singular starring roles would have to be given to the bride. Her role seemed most difficult. She appeared to have had to overcome the most acute problems of decision in order to become a part of this real life drama. In it, she was supreme, majestic and defiant. A most glorious bride.

Think what you want, there was more drama, deep, stark drama enacted there in Zion Hill Baptist Church. That young couple gave out in the most eloquent fashion a determination to not only merely join in wedlock, but to live together and succeed where suspicion of failure lurked.

SYMPHONIC ORCHESTRA

Preceding the wedding ceremonies, a 15 piece symphonic orchestra under the direction of Frank Woodson, entertained the vast audience with beautiful numbers. Organist Katherine Lindsay Colbert started the ceremonies off with a rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner."

This was followed by a special solo number by screen actress Lena Horne, who stood in the chancery. Bernice Rogers, proved the first innovation when she appeared singing a solo in processional style. This scene proved breath-taking.

WEDDING PARTY

The wedding party consisted of, best man, Harry Bigelow; matron of honor, Mrs. Ruth Shelton; maids of honor, carrying corsages of pink orchids, Lillian Lomax and Betty Scott, sister and cousin of the bride; bridesmaids, Delores Beanami, Velma Woodson, Genevive Woodson, Sutton; ushers, Boyd "Mac" Pinkston, James B. Brown, Johnny Betty Jean Evans, and Beverly Thomas, Yernon Mendes, Jimmie Brown, and Tuson Moore; flower girls, Linda Lou Rembert and Yvonne Perry, and Mrs. Gertrude Harris Aunt of the bride who gave her away in marriage.

Ralphe Porter, interior decorator, who directed the entire marvelous overall picture, scored his major triumph in the wedding processional itself. Here was a most fitting finale. One that Hollywood motion picture directors have hoped to have given them in a picture.

Mr. Porter had all the lesser performers, matron of honor, bridesmaids, ushers and all pass in parade in the traditional manner singly up and down opposite aisles to later form on the alter stand. Then followed the groom supported by his best man.

THE BRIDE ENTERS

A most fitting and dazzling climax was produced in the effect of the charmingly beautiful bride wearing a beautiful expertly draped white slipper satin gown, with laced train, carrying a bouquet of Orchids and a Bible, marching slowly, hesitantly, smilingly, majestically, defiantly alone down that long corridor to the alter. Throughout the bride's slow tantalizing march, the groom appeared visibly nervous.

The spectators reacted to the emotionalism occasioned by the tenseness of the situation in a manner as to suggest the starkness of the drama unfolded there that afternoon. It is a known fact, that all weddings, like funerals and births should bring to mind some strange drama of life which the average mind cannot grasp or fathom.

But, seldom has such a case appeared so eloquent in the direction of the supernatural. An atmosphere of pomp and circumstance pervaded over all. The Rev. Grant Harris, an uncle of the bride who performed the ceremonies according to the Baptist ritual, himself challengedly uttered the words admonishing those in his hearing "If any here know any reason why these two should not be joined together, let him speak now, or forever hold his peace!"

The wedding of the popular newspaper columnist, and former musician, to the charming former Gertrude Lomax drew a large crowd of people representing a class, section and stratum of local life. The theatrical crowd was noticeable in the audience.

Among those noted by the writer were; Monte Hawley, Leonard Reed, Lillian Randolph, Fannie Robinson, Mrs. Maceo B. Sheffield, Charles Butler, Nina Mae McKinney, Horace Henderson (who was accompanist for Lena Horne) Norma Amato (protege of Hattie McDaniels, Mr. and Mrs. Elihu (Black Dot) McGee. Roy (Sonny) Howard. Mrs. Faye Roberts, Mabel Scott, and scores of others.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding at 320 East Jefferson, where two rooms full of presents were displayed. The bridal party was later guest of the Club Alabam, Plantation Club and Casa Blanca breakfast club.

Nursery Aided by Hudson Recital; Sings Tonight for Real Estate Board

Worried mothers who have been apprehensive over the welfare of their children while toiling over their machines, both for their livelihood and to aid the war effort, and young mothers of war babies who would like to work while husband and father is fighting at the front, will greet with joy all such assistance as was given by Ever Brewer Hudson in recital on Monday of last week under the auspices of th Non Nobis Goodwill Worker live women's organization. The proceeds from the presentation of the talented mezzo-soprano went to swell the sum needed for their worthy goal.

Besides this, all who were present to enjoy the musical treat were also better informed of the nastness of the task these Goodwill Workers have undertaken, and many more pledged themselves to aid in their own way.

Among the classic numbers rendered by Mrs. Hudson, who at present is in great demand, were: Strauss' "Tomorrow," Vaccl's "Precessoa l'morir," Gounod's "Ave Maria," and others in perfectly ennunciated French, Italian and German. "Balm In Gilead," "Crucifixion," "Peter Go Ring Dem Bells" and other beautiful spirituals took on a new meaning and appeal under Ever Brewer Hudson's interpretation.

SINGS TONIGHT FOR REAL ESTATE BOARD

Tonight at the lcxurious Villa Arlington the rich-voiced singer will be presented as a special feature of entertainment at the bond drive banquet being held there by the Golden West Real Estate Board. As all this outstanding body and their guests are lovers of real music, they are looking forward to her appearance.

Golden West Bridge Association

By Ellis L. Veil

Judging by the number of women who have expressed intention to participate in the Golden West Bridge Association's third annual women's pair regional, all attendance records for this game seem destined to be broken. Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9, are the dates with dinner free to all players. Who will be the winners? We refuse to predict.

They could be the 1943 champs, Elinor-May Denton, or the 1942 champs, Agnes Beal-Lena Brewer, or such popular pairs as Vista Henry-Gene C. Campbell, Louis Roan-Margaret Hale, Dr. Darthula Matthews-Julya Asberry, Beatrice Reeves-Vetra White.

I could go on but it is anybody's game. May the best pair win. The men are preparing and serving the dinner.

The auxiliary's progressive tournament held Friday, June 30, was a grand success. Prize winners were: first, Elinor Floyd; second, Ellis L. Viel; third, Margaret Hale; fourth, Chester Lewis.

Attention, men! The only game to be held on the Pacific coast exclusively for men will be on July 22 and 23. Register now!

The top six for the $15 donated by Clarence Ennis, president, for the Tuesday series are: Dr. Matthews-Claudine Hilburn, 290; Dr. A. L. Waldace-Julia Scott, 288; May Norman-May Denton, 286½; Joe Henry-Verna Bean, 282; R. J. City-Irene G. Hall, 280½; John Hilburn-Marue Owsley, 275½. Joe Henry-Verne Bean won the June trophy series.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Branch stopped over on their way home to Berkeley, California. They had been visiting with a daughter in Chicago.

10th Anniversary of the Garner Music Research Center Obsered

Leading Educators Praise Its Work Of Making Racial Amity Through Music

The tenth anniversary celebration of the founder of the Garner Negro Music Research Center of Pasadena was held last Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church in that city.

Notable for its program of character building through music and the bridging of chasms of predjudice through the medium of the Negro Spiritual, the center is a tribute to the industriousness and civic patriotism of the Rev. George Robert Garner and his wife and partner, Netta Paullyn Garner.

Evidence of the inter-racil goodwill and harmonious understanding which has been created by the activities of the Garner Center was shown by the singing of the inter-racial choir, and by the testimonials spoken by prominent educators from USC, leading social and business personalties of the community and the heads of the educational system of Pasadena.

CONTRIBUTION

T. Virgil Truman of USC spoke in high praise of the Rev. Mr. Garner and his wife for the contribution they are making to the cultural life of the city, and to the post war world by their teachings of inter-racial amity.

Dr. John A. Sexon, Pasadena's Superintendent of Education, introduced many of the educators and community leaders present, and added his praise to the volume received by the Rev. and Mrs. George Garner for their tireless efforts for civic betterment.

Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the California Eagle, and an early and staunch supporter of the Center's work, traced the history of its activities from the beginning, predicting greater accomplishments from the team work of Rev. Garner and his accomplished wife.

Rev. Garner who presented several of the Center's students in solo vocal selections, and who directed the inter-racial choir in two well-received selections, spoke in acknowledgement of the appreciation of his work, and pledged himself to greater effort in the future. Both Rev. Garner and his wife, who also accompanied the soloist, expressed grateful appreciation for the assistance they had received from the Superintendents of Schools and Education and from the business, social and community leaders, many of whom were present at the dinner which was served to over three hundred of the Center's guests.

Norma Amato, protege of Hattie McDaniel, and a pupil of Mme. Cahier, former teacher of Marion Anderson, was the guest soloist of the evening.

Pasadena Club In Closing Meeting

PASADENA.—The Art and Self-Improvement Club held its last meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Batiste. Mrs. George Garner rendered two piano numbers. Mrs. Primrose Perry gave two solos accompanied by Miss Gene Morrow. A review of the current issues of the Negro Digest was given.

Of One Blood—All Men!

"We aren't taking colored folks just now" or "Come back some other day when we are ready for colored folks" are the greetings still too often received by prospective Negro contributors to the Red Cross Blood Bank while posters, newspapers, radio, and every other public informational source pleads for the pint of blood that will save a life. The contribution of Negro blood donors is still segregated exclusively for Negro use in the face of all scientific reports that the only difference in blood is that it is of four types: O, A, B, and AB, and in spite of the fact that the blood is reduced to plasma and all of it is just that — plasma, what remains after the white and red corpuscles are removed—and is not even types. The above action on the part of the Red Cross was reported to the California Eagle by a white person of tanned skin, who tells of watching Negroes being told those words and leaving the Blood Bank without making his contribution because he did not want anyone to have the opportunity to say, "No," to him.

"I think it a mighty poor howdy-do," he writes, when they use scabs from sick cows to vaccinate against smallpox and blood serum from sick horses as a medium for carrying antitoxin, and then turn down flat the offer of our colored people to donate blood at a time when people are urged to make this donation as a humanitarian and patriotic service to our sacrificing defenders in the field of battle.

"The benighted and race-hating hypocrites who make these policies apparently are absolutely ignorant of the fact that science has been unable to detect any biological or chemical differences in the bloods of the different races.

"Our armed forces are compelled to take various treatments using the excretions of sick horses and cattle, but when it comes to using the blood-serum of tested, healthy Negroes to save the lives of our wounded on the battle fronts—well, they seem to think rather than pollute the blood of the unfortunate man, better let him die in his 'pure, undefiled state'."

This condition in free America can scarcely be imagined. But it is true. We wish it were not. It seems the exact contradiction of what we are fighting for. We Negroes have 1,000,000 of our men in the armed forces of America. Hundreds have given their lives for this country. Thousands have been wounded. All have risked death. Our girls have joined the WAC where they, too, risk death every hour of their service.

We have shed our blood on the battle front. We have donated our blood to the Blood Bank even though we have been told it would be segregated that it might not "pollute" any white soldier. We have done it again and again. And, folks, WE ARE GOING TO KEEP ON DOING IT. We are going to keep on giving our blood that its precious plasma may be used to save the lives, not only of our own boys, but of all the boys of the United Nations. We doubt very much if in the hurlyburly of battle those physicians at the front would have time—even if they wished to do so—to separate one vial from another when it came to administering the precious fluid.

We are going to do this because we Negroes feel that we are fighting for something bigger than those "race-hating hypocrites" can even imagine. We are fighting for something that hasn't ever shown above their horizon — a free America, a really free America, where every one regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin, shall have perfect freedom of speech, of worship, from want, and from fear.

To win this free America, we on the home front must fight as hard as those in Europe or in the Pacific Islands. We are fighting a different kind of war, however. We are using different kinds of weapons. We must overcome this bigotry, this race-hating, this narrow-mindedness, this pettiness, not by being equally bigoted and narrow-minded and petty. We must overcome it by rising above it. Bitter? Well, how can we help being bitter, at least a trifle. But when that wave of bitterness comes over you, brother, just grit your teeth a little harder as the nurse at the Red Cross blood bank punctures your arm, and think you are saving the life of some one who will fight harder than ever when he comes home for a free America, a really free America.

And make up your minds, folks, to keep a government in power that has gone farther than any other in DOING SOMETHING towards making that free America a reality. Promises amount to nothing. Any one can promise anything and forget it after the election. President Roosevelt, our commander-in-chief, in spite of thousands of handicaps, has accomplished more than any other president in making our country a nation free from the degradation and humiliation we Negroes have suffered a long time. We must elect to Congress office. And we must elect to Congress every man and woman who will help him in his great work, and see to it that he finishes the job.

The Republican Convention

The Republican convention in Chicago has ended. It has produced a platform stating its policies, and it nominated its candidates for president and vice-president.

And so far as we Negroes are concerned, what has it offered us? The same old promises, the same old soup warmed over, with a little luke-warm water added. It bids for our support by coming out for a Free Employment Practice Committee and against the poll tax.

But let us look at the record. The FEPC was saved for another year, not by our "friends" the Republicans, but by the Northern Democrats. In the vote for the measure to appropriate $500,000 for another year there were 23 Democrats and only 15 Republicans who voted for it. Of course the 14 Senators who voted against it were Southern Democrats, but they were joined by 7 of our so-called Republican "friends."

In the state of New York Governor Dewey the GOP presidential candidate, killed the state permanent FEPC bill, an act that will long be remembered as a "supreme piece of political chicanery." The promise of the Republican Party in the GOP platform for a permanent FEPC can therefore mean but little.

So far as the poll tax is concerned, the Republicans in Congress could so easily have helped the Democrats of the North in shutting off the filibuster in the U. S. Senate if they had wished to do so, when the anti-poll tax bill was up for debate. But did they do it? They did not. They voted instead with the Southern Democrats. And the anti-poll tax bill was tabled. Even now, if our Republican friends in the U. S. Senate should wish to do so, they could so easily call up this same measure again, push through the cloture that would shut off unlimited debate, and have the bill passed. They have not done so. They will not do so. They are siding with our enemies from the South. Their promises in their platform are but idle words that mean nothing.

We should like to ask, too, where were our Republican "friends" during all the years that the poll tax was developing? For forty years the Republican Party was in power in Washington, virtually supreme power. They made no effort then to curb the poll tax, to prevent any of the other acts designed to rob us of our rights as free American citizens. The thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth amendments were made a part of the Constitution, it is true, but they became dead laws almost as soon as they were adopted. The Republican Party did nothing at all to see that they were enforced. And they were not enforced. Our freedom was a freedom granted us on paper only. What we have won today we have won through our own efforts. Not through any help of the Republicans.

We have gained what we have because at long last we have a real friend in the White House and a few friends in Congress; viz. Senator Claud Pepper of Florida and Vito Macomtonio of New York who believe in us, who believe we are capable of making advancement ourselves if we are given the means of making that advancement. They have given us the tools, and we are proving on the battle front and on the home front that we can and will conquer every enemy—racial discrimination, class discrimination, poverty, disease, illiteracy, fear.

The administration of President Roosevelt has gone into the huts of the deep South, into Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, and has taken Negroes out of those huts and given them homes to live in. It has given those Negroes a sense of responsibility, a feeling of moral worth they had never felt before. It has made men and women out of them. It could have done more, a thousand times more, if it had not been hindered in every move by the very Republicans who now profess to be our "good friends."

No, as Willkie Republicans we can not see anything for us Negroes in the platform written by the Republican convention in Chicago. Their weak-kneed promises are but bids for the Negro vote. They want us to help them to get into power again. They are like the devil promising Jesus all things if He would but bow down and worship him. Jesus told the devil to get behind him. We must do likewise with our Republican tempters.

W. J. Wheaton Says—

SAN FRANCISCO — The Elephant has selected his burden and the Howdah will be occupied by the Hons. Tom Dewey, and John Bricker. A number of the leftovers, for what was once the Republican party, met in the sweltering atmosphere of Chicago and put over a near cut and dried program. The only matter of concern was the running mate to Dewey. Warren stood by his guns and would not allow himself, or lend himself, to the political sacrifice. Governor Bricker, whose splendid sportsmanship endeared him to the delegates, finally consented to take the gamble, and if Dewey ever had a chance, it was strengthened by the dynamic Bricker.

The Platform was asinine as usual. The usual sop was given to the Negro voter. It decried lynching and poll-tax. both of which they have had numerous chances to have killed. Look over the vote on cloture and count up the vote on the poll-tax measure. We have been so accustomed to that blarney that it is useless to make mention of it. "Actions speak louder than words."

DONES IN LIMELIGHT

"By the way, we notice that the ubiquitous, Mr. Dones, (Sidney of LA) has been seeking the limelight. The following from a New York daily!

"Albany, NY, June 21 (UP)—Sidney P. Dones, Negro member of California's Republican state central committee, indicated during a visit to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that there will be a definite drive to swing Negro votes to whomsoever the Republicans nominate for President in Chicago next week! Dones told Dewey that he had admired the Governor for some time, but more than ever since passing a week talking with Negro leaders in New York City. The drive to swing Negro votes to the Republican nominee will be carried out whether the G O P chooses Dewey or not, Dones said."

Well, Sid don't you think that you have exceeded your natural ego? The Negro voter no longer votes labels, and when you and others talk of voting them blindly—Oh well!! What's the use. Egotism is ingrained in some folks.

99TH LOOKS TOWARD POST-WAR

Two captains of the 99th Fighter Squadron, Negro veterans of air campaigns in Africa, Sicily and Italy, said on arrival here (NY) that the American Negro fighting men are looking toward post-war improvement of conditions for their race. Captain Chas. B. Hall, 23, of Brazil, Ind., told a press conference at the Army Public Relations Office, that he was "interested in the opportunities the Negro will have after the war."

"Some of us are interested in military aviation and others in commercial, but we all want as many possibilities as we can get," Captain Hall said. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross.

To the man on the sideline, it seems funny that every time a protest is made against some injustice he is immediately branded as a Communist. That was the charge made against Enos Baker, civic worker, in the San Diego housing row, and caused the resignation of Aubrey Davis. Enos Baker protested the restrictions that Davis sought to place on the project.

If fighting for democracy and democratic principles is to be branded Communist, then it is a great pity that there are not more of that brand. If to make the fight for equal justice equal opportunity, and equality of citizenship is to be branded Communist, then that brand is one of honor and not a stigma.

So, Baker, you can still consider yourself in decent company.

SOMETHING LACKING

Returning to the political aspect, there was something lacking at the Republican convention. If it had not been for Governor Bricker's dynamic personality, it would have fallen flat. The popular Ohioan put the only human interest shown throughout the session. Earl Warren tried his best (in the keynote) to inject some vim in the proceedings and Joe Martin sought to put some life in the old Elephant, but the best that could be got was a squeal. Bricker did get a weak trumpet.

The acceptance speech was just a replica of what the present administration is doing or has programmed for the future. The only thing that diversed was that the Outs think that they can do the job better than the Ins. Whatever the outcome, we have a fight to make. A fight for an equal citizenship in the nation; an equal right to share in the opportunities as well as the responsibilities of the nation.

In short, we must and we will continue to fight for the rights of a full and unequivocal citizenship guaranteed to every one under the banner of this nation's Constitution. We believe that the majority of the voters (those who have no selfish motives) will ignore the party label and cast their votes for the candidates who have the belief and the courage to state that belief; that there should be no minority groups but that this nation will be strong only as it is welded into a homogeneous people. A nation of Americans without the racial distinction of color or creed. No Italian, French, Hebrew, Negro or other appellation. Only American.

Yes, we know that many will say, "What's the use?" The answer is obvious. Nothing is worth the while without a struggle, without a fight. All real progress is up the stream. It's easy to drift with the tide. It takes grit to keep going when the going is hard, but it is hard work that toughens the muscles and gives the will to carry on.

If it were not for the fortitude and the energy and unselfish sacrifice of our women, this fight for the elimination of minority groups, as such, would not have progressed so far as it has. The next few months will be of great importance to every man and woman in the nation. It is to be hoped that every man and woman of voting age, and entitled to exercise the right of franchise, will register and make themselves eligible to exercise that right. We must scan well, not alone the promises, but the background of every prospective candidate, regardless of the party label.

It is on record that when the GOP's were searching for a running mate for Dewey, that Congressman Knudsen, (Republican, Minn.) suggested that the Republican party draft Senator Byrd, Democrat from Virginia, as a vice presidential candidate. That suggestion was seized on with avidity by any number of Republicans and many southern members of the Democrat party. The only drawback to the suggestion was that it would make it too obvious that there was a palpable weakness in the ranks, or in its leadership.

But it goes to show that the label can be stuck on the Elephant as well as the Donkey. It is the man that counts.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The California Eagle:

Just a few lines from the fellows to my company somewhere in India. We are writting to you in regards to your paper that we received here in India and it is really swell. Yesterday in mail call my name was called and there was five copies of the California Eagle there and you can never imagine my surprise to receive them.

They were hardly unwrapped before I had a hundred questions being asked me if they could be next to see the papers which is really going to be a problem trying to let every one see them. You can never realize how much your paper is appreciated by the fellows of the armed service over seas.

A few weeks ago I received a clippig i the paper of you and my mother, Mrs. Bertha Blakely, She writes me quite often of the wonderful work you are doing there with your paper.

Well, Mrs. Bass, I am quite sure you are wondering about India—it is quite hot here, it rains nearly all the time here, but the heat is still here—other than that I would say it is not bad. This is really not going to be a long letter, it is one that I thought I would get together for the fellows in complete thanks for the swell job your paper is doing on the home front in printing the news. So keep up the good work.

We are having a time here in the company trying to see who is next to read the Eagle.

✦ AS I SEE IT! ✦

By Jeanette Cohen

By the time this is printed I will be deep in the heart of Texas. Yes, believe it or not, that's where I'm going. Of course, I won't be there long—I don't think I could stand it for more than a week.

I'm really on my way to New York. But, I'm going to stop in Texas to see my girl friend who is stationed there with the WAC's. From Texas, I am going to the nation's capitol — Washington, D. C. And then on to New York!

It's not that I don't like California that much, but I am lonesome for the old place. I just can't explain it, but I love my home city and state.

A friend of mine sent her 16-year-old son off to Yale from Los Angeles last week and he wrote her a letter from the train. He explains how he feels about California and he says it so well, that all I can say is "that's the way I feel about New York".

Marvin Chatinover wrote his mother: "Mom, last night when I told you I was sorry to leave, it wasn't only because I will miss you. I know that we will see each other in a few months. It was because I was leaving my home state California indefinitely.

"There is a lot of filth in my home state, political and otherwise, but that evists in every community in the nation. I will never forget the beauty of the old missions, the Pacific Coast, the landscaping of Beverly Hills, the City Hall and the Council Chambers, etc.

"Those are sights a native son of California can never forget. When I was at the ton of the City Hall, I could look in all four directions and see an industrial giant, a civic center, a thriving business market, a beautiful place to live.

"In the post-war world, California will be even more important as the Gateway to our Pacific market. There is a big job to be done in California and I want to help in it. I believe it is my duty.

"My home state of California has a great part to play in the rebirth of America and I believe it is my duty and privilege to be a part of it. I hope now you will realize why I was sad last night and why I say and know in my heart that some day I return to California."

New York is not as beautiful as all that—but it has something that no other city in the country has. Of course, it has its dirty streets, giant tenements and the heat of the summer and frost of the winter—but it's New York! In spite of Governor Dewey—I love it!

I've enjoyed my work in Los Angeles—both in the community and in my plant. I want to thank all my friends at Pacific Sound Equipment Company and my friends Cora Holder, Alma Perkins, Lavina Ford, Jacqueline Smith and many others who made it so pleasant for me in a strange city.

My deepest gratitude goes to the Avalon USO and its directors Ben Ellison and Miss Nita Blackwell for extending the privilege to me of working there as a senior hostess.

I also want to thank Mrs. Ed Stancel of the Watts USO for her invitation to visit here during my last week in L. A. I spent a most enjoyable evening in their beautiful center.

Last, but by no means least, I want to thank Mrs. Charlotte Bass, editor of this paper, for her friendship and guidance. The hours I spent with Mrs. Bass each Monday evening, discussing the progress of the war and the part we all must play in it will long be a dear memory to me. She is a woman that not only her people can be proud of but the nation as a whole.

I'll be writing from Texas, Washington and New York. Farewell, Los Angeles—and, as most people here have told me—I may be back.

THE PULPIT VOICE

REV. HAMILTON T. BOSWELL
Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist Church

Freedom For The American Indian

We as the nation's largest minority group are much concerned about winning a proper status for the race within the network of American society. That this is our unfailing effort is a worthy tribute to the undying struggle which we are persistently engaged in for a wider application of freedom and truth for all men regardless of race or creed.

In this bitter battle, there is much to commend our hope as the forces of opposition are made to realize daily that there can be no final and lasting victory unless it includes the twelve million Negro citizens of these United States.

As we consistently declare this truth so must we ever open our ears to the wider application of our chosen principle. When will we realize that we are not alone in our endeavor? How can we as a minority people expect equality for ourselves unless it applies to all races?

Witness with me our lack of concern for discrimination against Japanese and American Indians. If ever one would vindicate injustice for oppression of minority groups in the United States that cause could of itself never exclude the American Indian.

The American Indian has the most inferior status of any minority in our country. As wards of the government, their every action is limited to the selfish political decisions of a southern reactionary congress. Certainly it is that we as Negroes enjoy a higher degree of citizenship than they.

At the present our militant N.A.A.C.P. is engaged in a gigantic membership drive, girding our forces for a renewed demand of the four freedoms. But dare we stop with Negroes; cannot our struggle be in full keeping with so noble a caption? It is evident that we can not disregard the fact that Indians are colored, whether or not certain hoodwinked individuals among them think the contrary.

Match these traitors with those among us who betray the race with their pseudo-claims of superiority because of the illegitimate blood which flows through their frustrated veins.

THE AMERICAN INDIAN

In these times when we are being made to think in global dimensions, when our reading forces us to look at our world as "One World," and when we are constantly reminded of the international and interracial implications of the war, why, some may ask, should we stop to analyze the status of the Indian, one of the smallest numerical groups in our population? The answer is simple and very reasonable.

It is that unless we can hope to make possible to the American Indian the things which we say we are fighting for in the world, for the world, then our fighting will be for the most part vain. If we cannot make possible the four freedoms for the American Indians, that we say, and believe to be basic to the new world order, then they are impossible of achievement with any group anywhere.

What minority individual would engulf himself in a world of make believe and seek social salvation for himself separate from his group? To further illustrate, therefore, what alert and socially wise group could honestly seek liberation apart from the struggle of common people everywhere?

The American Indian was the first and natural citizen. It is owed to him an equal and rightful chance to be a full participant in the common life—economically, socially, politically and religiously. Therefore it is that Negroes are eternally condemned to second class citizenship as long as our efforts are unsympathetic and separate from the full program of equality and justice, of itself can never exclude even those least.

MINORITY LEADERSHIP IN U.

Focused before the lens of minority persecution are Jews, Japanese, Mexicans, Chinese, Filipinos, Indians, Koreans, Negroes and other racial groups. Numerically speaking we are the largest unit; therefore it is urgent that we take the lead not in opposition but for full equality and justice. If America will be saved from the inevitable defeat of an arrogant "white man's world" it lies in the strength of the excluded racial minority groups to with stay such disaster, not for white men, but for the highest hope of democracy.

We owe it to the ideals of the framers of the immortal Constitution of our country, whether they meant it for us or not.

Despite argument or debate with those who would destroy or limit even one small application of the Constitution, the destiny of the American Negro, stolen from the warm shores of mother Africa is to fulfill the ideal of early American patriots, who dreamed of a country established upon the tenets of democracy though they were blind to the actual width and breadth of its greater realm.

Wars, declines of civilization shall continue until the world someday becomes bigger than its prejudices. Peace shall only come when Mongoloid, Negroid and Caucasoid are one.

Bizet's "Carmen" Will Be Given By Independent Church Choir

Fired with the determination to present the best in musical literature to members of our community, the People's Independent Church of Christ Department of Music in its Second Annual Music Festival presents Georges Bizet's popular opera, "Carmen," in concertized form, on Thursday evening, July 13, at 8:30 p. m. in the Church Auditorium, 18th and Paloma streets.

Notable among the many fine past presentations of the Cathedral Choir have been Rossini's "Stabat Mater"; Dubois' "Seven Lost Words"; Handel's immortal "Messiah"; and recently Mendelssohn's "Elijah." This performance of "Carmen" is the first attempt at Grand Opera in this vicinity.

The story is lajd in Seville, Spain, and Carmen is a seductive, temperamental gypsy girl who works in a cigarette factory. After a fight with one of the girls in the factory, Carmen flirts with Don Jose, a corporal of the Guard of Dragoons, who has her under arrest and tempts him to desert his company and flee with her. While awaiting the arrival of Don Jose in the local tavern of Lilias Pastia, Carmen meets the dashing bull fighter, Escamillo, who has just returned from triumphs in Granada and who makes a lasting impression upon the willful gypsy girl Micaela, Don Jose's childhood sweetheart, comes after him in the mountains to the camp of the band of gypsy smugglers whom he and Carmen have joined. Micaela pleads with him to go back to see his mother who is dying. As he leaves with Micaela, the boastful song of the toreador and ofthe love-sick Don Jose, decides to follow him. The day of the great bull fight, Carmen comes to the arena with the famous toreador. As she is about to enter the arena, Don Jose appears, haggard and worn. Frantic and made with jealousy over losing her, he begs Carmen to return to him. Carmen refuses, tells him that it is the end. The desperate Don Joe stabs her to death rather than let any other many take her, and Carmen dies as the crowd in the arena behind them cheers the brave Escamillo as their hero.

Featured in the singing roles will be Marguerite Chapman as Carmen; Josephine Cooper will sing Micaela; Willie Starks will portray the desperate Don Jose; George Comfort, the popular Escamillo; Wathea Jones, the Gypsy Mercedes; Gladys Dent, her gypsy friend Frasquita; and William Valentine, the Dragoon Zuniga. Albert John McNeil will direct the entire production, assisted by Fannie Evelyn Benjamin. Robert Henry will be at the piano. Gwendolyn Valentine-piano. Dorothya McNeil and Leroy Jennings will narrate. Gwendolyn Valentine-Sanders is in charge of Publicity.

All seats are reserved. Patron reservations must be in by July 6 Information may be received by calling PRospect 7-9633, RIchmond 1309, or CEntury 2-5825.

A Lecture Recital based upon the dramatic experiences of six great women of the Bible will be presented by Grace Bush at the First A.M.E. Church, 801 Towne Avenue, this Sunday evening.

Grace Bush

Miss Bush has been heard in similar recitals not only in the largest churches of Southern California but in New York, Chicago, and other metropolitan centers of the coutnry as well. Speaking for the Council of Church Wowen of Los Angeles, its president stated that she had never before heard the Bible so beautifully set forth and so interestingly prsented as in this recital by Miss Bush. The lecture is illustrated with original songs which will be presented by Miss Grace Brewer, lyric soprano, who for nine years toured the United States and Canada in concert and opera. Lovers of music and the literature of the Bible will find this a rare occasion.

A WELCOME AWAITS YOU

Basso Seth T. Toney Acclaimed For The Range Of His Voice

Seth T. Toney

Seth Thedford Toney, Basso Profundo, is appearing in a series of benefit performances here in the "City of the Angels." He is being enthusiastically acclaimed as an artist with very rare vocal talent, capabilities, and promise. With an extreme range of three octaves, his voice, unusually rich in overtones, lends itself to the provocative and emotional spirituals so expressive of the hopeful though oppressed peoples of the earth, as well as to the rendition of the interpretive operatic, or to the enlivening and stimulating popular ballads of today and yesterday.

Ever critical of himself, this six feet and five inches of Texas manhood is, at present and for the past year, under the tutelage of Valdmar Banke who is himself an opera star and interested instructor of long standing, and Mr. J. A. Gray of the Gray Conservatory of Music. It is reported that certain musical directors of the major moving picture production studios have established contact with Mr. Toney.

He and his wife — herself a singer of repute—Mrs. Fernandra B. Toney, may be heard ccrently at New Hope Baptist Church, Rev. A. Lively, Pastor, the church of their membership and where they serve in the choir.

Pilgrim Baptist Church Services

The Rev. B. W. Wade, pastor, preached his first sermon after returning from the National Baptist Sunday School and BTU Congress in Birmingham, Ala., last Sunday morning at Pilgrim Baptist Church, 45th and Wadsworth. Five were added to the membership.

At night the congregation attended First Street Baptist, of which the Rev. L. B. Brown is pastor where the baccalaureate sermon was preached to the graduating class of Providence Baptist Institute by the Rev. J. D. Gordon. Rev. Mr. Wade was among those who received degrees.

The young women of Pilgrim will meet today (Thursday). The president is asking all members to be present.

Rev. Henderson Gets Doctor of Divinity Degree

When he left town two months ago, he was the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, when he returned, he was Dr. Henderson, for his alma mater, Virginia Union University at Richmond, Va., conferred the doctorate of divinity degree upon him for meritorious service at the June commencement. In conferring the degree teh university said:

"He was graduated from Wayland Academy of Virginia Union University in 1920; from the college department with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1924. Afterwards he was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Divinity by the Oberlin School of Religion and Master of Sacred Theology by the Andover Newton Theological school. Before going to his present field he was pastor of leading churches in Philadelphia, Charleston, W. Va., Atlanta, Ga., and New Rochelle, N. Y. He has won fresh laurels as pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Los Angeles. He is an inspiring preacher and a progressive pastor who challenges his people to "undertake great things for God" and "do it now." His name has gone out in all the land as one in whose pastorates church debts "flee away." In him the cause of the oppressed finds a champion and every movement for racial uplift and advance a friend. He is a past-president of the Alumni Association of the university. Unless too far removed from the city to attend, he has been a regular visitor at commencement. He is an outstanding supporter in word and deed of Union's cause."

A great audience greeted him last Sunday. A much larger attendance is expected Sunday when he delivers his message, "What a Debt-Free Church Can Do."

Services will be featured by testimony for one half hour for the next six weeks. Visitors are invited. Newcomers to the city are welcomed as members.

Mrs. Annie L. Geary Presented in Recital

Mrs. Annie Louise Geary was presented in a song recital at Ward Chapel AME Church on June 18. She was received with much acclaim by her many friends and admirers. She was simply but beautifully gowned in white satin, and carried an orchid. The stage was decorated with many flowers, which formed a lovely background for the singer.

Mrs. Geary sang 16 numbers by well known composers with the greatest of ease and poise, which showed fine training. The manner in which her numbers were rendered showed that the singer was striving for purity of tone rather than volume, and she gives great promise as a lovely singer.

Her accompanist was Mrs. Blanche Woods, who so understandingly played "Trees," after Deane Randall told the story of how the poem came to life. Mrs. Geary was presented by Mme. Deane Randall of Hollywood.—Adv.

CLUBS

Miss Mary Lou Phillips of Harris street was hostess to La Cercle Charmante last week. The meeting was business and there-fore closed. Prizes were won by Mrs. Gertrude Davis and Mrs. Roena Muckelroy Savage. Delightful refreshments were served. Miss Phillips, who teaches in Los Angeles, is home for the summer.

STUDY CLUB

The Anna B. Garner Study Club met with Mrs. Marie Muckelroy, president emeritus of 6th street. Mrs. Muckelroy presided due to the illness of the president, Mrs. Catherine Green. The committee on the church supper, reported a great success. A number of the members attended luncheon given by the Republican Women's Club in Fontana, last week.

There were many candidates there who gave interesting talks. Those attending were Mrs. Marie Muckelroy, Mrs. Roena Savage, Mrs. J. Boyd and Mrs. Bell of Riverside and Mrs. Bernice Lawson of Los Angeles, who accompanied Mrs. Savage in a vocal solo enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Magnus Reid of 7th street was hostess to the Cosmos Club last week. It was a closed business meeting and a very attractive and delicious buffet luncheon was served.

The Mothers Club has disbanded for the summer.

Mrs. Effie Lewis of Perris st. entertained Mrs. Leona Cade of Beaumont, Texas, at dinner Sunday. Mrs. Cade is employed at the S. B. Air Depot.

Mrs. Ressie Kelly of Pasadena has opened a beauty salon on 6th street. Your patronage is appreciated. We welcome Mrs. Kelly to our community and wish for her great success.

The GOP Platform
China's Celebration
So. African Trends

WEEK OF JUNE 30 TO JULY 7, 1944

How London, Moscow, Chungking and other United Nations capitals react to the Republican National Convention is more important to Negro America than the GOP's platform planks regarding racial relations here at home. Because the real trend of racial relations here will be determined by the extent to which we and our Allies destroy Hitlerism abroad and lay the foundation for a lasting and prosperous peace.

If the war stops short of destruction of fascism abroad, it will end in some kind of compromise peace. How dangerous this would be for us was indicated June 17 when representatives of the 25 most influential Negro organizations met in New York city and formulated six minimum demands of Negro voters to be sent to both the Republican and Democratic national conventions. First of these demands was: "Opposition to a negotiated peace with the enemy, and crushing of Hitlerism at home as well as abroad." Only by the realization of this first condition could the other five demands be fulfilled, including the demand for "political and economic democracy in Africa, India, the West Indies and all colonial areas, and the establishment of a foreign policy which recognizes China as an 'equal ally' and opposes exploitation of darker races by the white."

But fully to destroy Hitlerism requires the closest unity and collaboration with our Allies. We can't do the job alone. Hence, the importance of reaction abroad to the GOP platform.

Key to GOP thinking was Herbert Hoover's denunciation of the Teheran agreement, echoed by Dewey, and his barbed attack on the Soviet Union, in re the Polish question. The consequence of such a policy for the colonial peoples was recently implied in a statement of Leonard Barnes, member of the British Colonial Office since 1921 and also a member of the Council on African Affairs. Said Barnes:

"The days are over when colonial peoples looked to British institutions and the spirit that informs them as models indicating the lines of social and political advance to be followed in the colonies themselves... And if the colonies stand as solidly with the United Nations at this moment as Mr. Amery and Colonel Stanley (the secretary for India and the colonial minister—(J. P.) permit, that is less because the alliance includes Britain than because it includes the USSR."

As for other aspects of the GOP platform, which Columnist Dorothy Thompson calls "a hodgepodge of vote-catching appeals addressed to every conceivable minority group," wonder how Fred Roberts and Sid Dones expect to sell it to California Negroes, who probably will—

1. Contrast the GOP plank for repeal of poll tax legislation by a constitutional amendment with the GOP's alliance with poll taxers in the recent Congress debate which defeated the bill to outlaw the poll tax once and for all;

2. Weigh the GOP plank for Puerto Rico's statehood against persistent GOP sabotage in Congress of proposals to alleviate conditions in Peurto Rico right now;

3. Stack the GOP plank for a permanent FEPC against the GOP record of backing the poll taxers, who pushed through the so-called "Russell Amendment" aimed at eliminating the existing FEPC, and then supported moves to cut off the FEPC appropriation.

Looks as if Sid, Fred and Walter Gordon in Berkeley will have to burn the midnight oil aplenty to think up answers to these.

TRIPLE SEVEN FETE

This July 7 Pacific Coast Chinatowns and other communities of the 80,000 Chinese in the United States will join their countrymen abroad in celebrating the seventh day of the seventh month of the completed seventh year of China's resistance to Japan. It is a big day for China and the rest of the world—especially for long-suffering colonial and colored peoples who look to China for the harginger of a new day for the world's colonial millions.

Negro-American can draw from China's seven-year ordeal several lessons applicable to our own strategy:

1. China's survival during this period is attributable chiefly to one fact—the unity of her people. This unity is not perfect by any means. But to the extent that it has enabled people of many languages, classes, occupations, cultural patterns, and political and social beliefs to cooperate in the national war effort—to this extent it has prevented Japanese fasism from annexing China, a consummation which no lover of liberty could contemplate with aught but dread.

2. The primary danger to China—and to us—at the moment is the threat to this unity. To the extent that dissension and disruption weaken the Chinese war effort, to that extent will the war be prolonged and the risks of American lives in the Far East be increased.

3. Main elements of disunity at the moment are (a) inflation, which breed class conflict, since the poor are forced to bear the burden of the war effort; (b) fuedalism, which obstructs adoption of democratic measures in much the same way that the feudal remnants of slavery in Dixie hamper the war effort by insisting on disfranchisement and segregation and peonage; and (c) anti-Communism, which, by immobilizing many divisions of Chinese troops used to blockade and police Communist-led armies, hampers resistance to Japan (in much the same fashion that John Rankin and Bilbo scream "Communism" whenever they want to discredit measures such as the ban on poll taxes and the FEPC).

Resolution of these problems of unity may be protracted and occur, of necessity, through struggle. It can and must be speeded by United States political, financial and military policy, since our stake in a free, democratic, powerful China is part of our stake in postwar peace and prosperity. However, portending possible early developments was recent statement given U. S. newsmen by Mao Tse-tung, chairman o fthe Communist Party of China. Mao vowed the Chinese Communists would continue to struggle for the destruction of Japanese imperialism, but insisted that democracy is China's present great need. "Only democracy can give strength to the Chinese war resistance, can put the internal and external relations of China on the right track, and can give victory to our war resistance," said Mao.

BACKSLIDE IN AFRICA

In an amendment to the Native Laws, a majority of the South African Parliament in recent session imposed further restrictions on the four-fifths of the population who are native Africans. The amendment conferred on local authorities the power to limit entry of Africans into their areas, and to confine Africans to certain segregated locations. The pass laws are now decreed for Cape Province and other areas heretofore unrestricted. Africans who violate the new laws may be imprisoned.

This fascist measure foreshadows serious conflict—possibly including violence—in the postwar period, when the problems of adjustments will be aggravated by demobilization and reconversion. There is reason to believe Africans and progressive whites in South Africa are not disposed to accept the new repression without a bitter struggle. Most recent indication of the new temper in South Africa was the great demonstration in Johannesburg early in June.

More than 540 delegates representing over 600,000 people met the demand abolition of the Pass laws as being "in conflict with the high and progressive war aims for which the United Nations are fighting." The conference declared the Pass laws "hold the African people in a condition of abject poverty and subjection, retard industrial and economic development, hamper the growth of the organization of African workers and weaken the entire labor movement. They are the cause of sharp racial friction between the peoples of South Africa; they uphold the cheap labor system, resulting in malnutrition, starvation and disease; they fill our jails with innocent people and they create widespread crime."

Delegates to the conference represented trade unios, peasant, political, religious, student and tenant organizations. They have launched a campign for 1,000,000 signatures to an anti-Pass law petition to be presented to the government in August. So we may see some changes in South Africa before the end of 1944.

Schenectady Committee Stresses Racial Amity

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The sub-committee on Racial and Class Discrimination of the Schenectady County Consolidated War Council has issued 30,000 pledge cards in the community asking citizens of all races to sign to cooperate in combating racial and religious prejudices.

The card stresses the five fundamental freedoms for which Americans of all racial origins are fighting all over the world. Communities throughout the nation are asked to adopt this plan.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

POLITICAL SHAVINGS

The Republican Convention is over, and so, according to Congresswoman Clare Booth Luce, is the war. G I Joe has became the new hero of the Republican party. Over one million of the meh in the fighting services are members of the CIO, perhaps one of them was the casualty referred to as GI Jim, the spirit of the dead Joes over whom Clare Luce emoted long and sickeningly at the convention. On the chance that Jim was a CIO member, he must have been ashamed of the spectacle at Chicago. When he died, Jim didn't give his life for the advancement of the Republican party or the Democratic party; he fought and died for freedom, under God, for all of the people and their fellows in all parts of the world.

John M. Lee

He wasn't thinking in terms of isolationism, or sectionalism, nor was he thinking of turning his sacrifices into a weapon to be used to alienate one class from another in the post war world.

The Negro vote and the CIO Political Action program are predicted to be the forces that will carry the most weight in the November election. Already the Republicans are sending out invitations to the Negro voters to come back home. They are much less cordial about the political action program.

Optimistic though the Republicam pronouncements might be, they are privately concerned over the failure of past devices to work up any appreciable degree of enthusiasm for their paternalistic approach to Negro voters. They think that by trotting out all of the worn, old stooges of past campaigns, and lining them up with a few less ancient big names, they will be able to work political magic and herd Negro voters into the polls to their advantage.

What they have failed to take into consideration is what is almost common knowledge in less opportunistic circles; the Negro vote and CIO political action are synonymous. Negro voters are taking their leadership from the organization that has contributed more to their economic and political advancement in the last ten years than has either of the political parties.

Negroes all over the country have received better job opportunities and consequently, better wages, which spell a higher standard of living, because the CIO has demonstrated its devotion to democracy by giving them membership without restriction, and fighting for their employment in all of the crafts and industries in which it is represented.

The CIO has fought for legislation to improve the status of Negroes and all minorities; mere promises of a future political Valhall or attempts to intimidate it will not help the Republican presidential candidate.

The Blood Bank at Ninth and Western still needs deposits. Negro workers, who have a deep understanding of giving vital help is needed, will take the leadership which is needed to achieve a more representative response to this call. Make an appointment and give a pint.

NAACP Membership Drive Shows An Increase of Public Support

The NAACP membership drive is hitting its stride at $2000 a week, according to Clarence R. Johnson, operations director of the local organization.

4 SHORT WEEKS

Already 27 per cent of the way toward its local quota, results show streamlined operations, enthusiasm of teamworkers, interest of propsective members are reasons why the drive has upped its weekly report from $300 to $2000 within four short weeks.

While the goal is 20,000 members, we may even exceed that amount, Johnson predicts. Mostly because Los Angeles' 106,000 Negro population doesn't have to be "sold" in the old sense of the word. Campaign workers report that newcomers as well as old-timers volunteer their memberships.

"One call gets entire families as compared with past campaigns where several calls had to be made before even one membership would be forthcoming," Johnson says.

Leading campaign supervisors are Clarence English, Westside, with $1622; Clarence Smith, Eastside "B" with $1102; and Mrs. Emma Spencer, Watts, with $343.

"CANDID COMMENTS"

By J. T. Gipson

There is something that restrains me,
Makes me shun your fond embraces—
Because the way you hold me,
Makes my slip hang down in places!

SCANNIN' THE NEWS TICKER TAPE

Chums say Over-Indulgence in stagger soup is the reason for Henry Hatcher's illness. The irony of the rumor is this: The guy doesn't drink! . . . Horace Henderson's newest assignment is Pianist-Arranger for Lena Horne. He replaced Phil Moore, who auth'd "Shoo Shoo Baby." . . . Gladys Snyder (formerly of the films—and what a beaut!) is secretaring at a defense plant. The gorgeous honey-colored doll won't return to the flickers until the duration . . . Arthur Lee Simpkins, the grand singer, is in line for a Sinatra-like build-up. He's the drawing card at the Florentine Gardens. Now in his eighth month there. The record so far . . .

J. T. Gipson

At our wedding Sunday last Ted Merriman (the photog) said: "Jay. You should live to a ripe old age—'cause you're a married man now." Black Dot McGee niftied: "Hmf. Married men don't live longer than single men—it just seems longer!" . . . Nellie Lutcher's crew at the club Royale is a big time act crowded with class . . .

Louis Jordan (whose record sales passed the three million mark) is scheduled to appear at the Elks tonight. Contract trouble may (may, I said) interrupt Otis Pollard's plans. Pollard is the grand guy who promoted the June Richmond-Benny Carter dances at the Elks. He's trying to make that ballroom the angel city's "home of happy feet." . . . A famed Man-About-Town was scheduled to go under the Surgeon's blade for a major op last week. He was converted to Christian Science and cancelled his appointment. He's "okay now." His quotes not mine . . .

Julius "Stuff" Crouch, the Angel City's top nite club impresario, nodding to his many friends as he strolls down the stem with a beautiful woman—his wife. They make a peach of a pair . . . Mae Glover, of Hollywood, who has the prettiest figger I've seen since Grable's! An angel with a heavenly body . . . Delores Williams, who made such a hit at the Troc last year, has deserted the singing profession to work in a Defense plant. That's just in case you've wondered what became of her . . . Jimmie Harrison, the playbore, lost twenty pounds last Wednesday nit. His girl not his weight. She eloped with a lad from the social set . . .

Hildegard's thrushing of "I'll Be Seeing You" is our idea of the loveliest song to come out of this war. Maybe it's the way she toys with it . . . On the highways in most places, if you have a black face you can't get served. That's the kind of complaints that has flooded this office for months . . .

PORTRAIT OF A REPORTER ON A RAMPAGE: They're still charging twenty-five cents for a Hamburger at the Hog Dog stand in the 4500 block on So. Central avenue. You get a small patter of Hamburger meat on a bun, and thassal brother! We asked (in this dep't col'm's ago) if that wasn't something for them to investigate. Twenty-Five cents (for Hamburgers in this sector at the sidewalk stands) is ABOVE OPA ceiling prices, but no one has ever made a complaint.

The OPA won't interfere unless complaints (of the prices) from the customers are made. The ladys charge de affaires of the stand flippingly flaunts: "Twenty Five cents is my price for a Hamburger, and you can payit or lump it!" We lumped it . . . As the nation swings along in high, here's a shocking report of conditions on Central avenue. No Negro help is employed in the Sid Williams Jewelry store, located in the heart of the Angel City's Harlem.

Halley Harding, my valued contemporary in the field of Journalism, called on Mr. Williams one evening in regards to employing Negro help. "Well," Mr. Williams well'd, "drop around within a coupla weeks and give me a little time to get organized." Mr. Williams is now entering his fourth week in the Negro district on the busiest thoroughfare of the Angel City's Harlem without so much as the services of a Negro janitor in his employ.

When the news reached our ears, we paid Mr. Williams a visit. "It's like this," he said when we asked whether or not he intended employing Negro help, "I have a ten year lease on the building, so I guess I can take my time hiring help." If he's on the level, we can see his point. But just in case you're tempted to take him serious, be reminded that directly across the street is a Loan Office, Central Loan and Jewelry (at 4212 South Central) to be exact, that has been at the above address for over six years and hasn't employed Negro help yet! Mr. Siegal, the owner, gave his reason: "I would hire Negroes in my store, but I can't find one I can trust!" And don't worry, friends of the col'm, Mr. Siegal won't sue me for libel—'cause he knows I'm libel to prove it!

WANTS SOME TIME

Mr. Williams, who has just moved into the district, wants a little time—to decide whether or not to hire Negroes. (The first part of the statement is mine. The last part his.) It has taken Mr. Siegal six years, and he is still undecided! He hasn't hired a Negro yet. Instead of reverting to the adage: "Don't spend where you can't work," or want valuable space in sniping at rival confreres, the Fourth Estaters should pay a call on the Messrs. Williams and Siegal and ask a sixty-four dollar question. "What's Your Story?" . . .

Nitelifers are spending big coin again in the nite spots—reminiscent of the good ol' days of thirty-two . . . Nina Mae McKinney, in a snug-tight sweater, looks like Lana Turner in a snug-tight sweater! Her "come-back" campaign is being press agented by the Angel City's best, Lawrence LaMarr . . . The eye-filling blonde decoration on the arm of Playboy Johnny Brannigan (the other two in the morning) was one of Flo Ziegfeld's adorables. She was one of the Follies beautiful ah-tractions . . .

Jerry Nicholas, Fayard's fine frau, who is one of the most interesting conversationalists we know. She makes more sense in two minutes than most folks do in two years! . . . Tip To Talent Scouts: Watch the team of Dandridge and Ware. A comedy dance duo with great possibilities . . . J. B. Brown (surely you know him by now). He makes the col'm with amazing regularity) is investing his moola in Real Estate. He also invests in War Bonds. Ha, Another proof that playboy's aren't dopes! . . .

Jean Richards, of the Palm Beach crowd, unprettied her pretty nose when she bumped it getting into her coupe the other day . . . That was Horace Henderson (Fletcher's bro) accompanying Lena Horne when she sang our favorite lullabye at the Wedding Sunday.

Tuskegee Air Forces Select Sgt. Hopkins "GI" Of The Week

TUSKEGEE ARMY AIR FIELD, Ala.—Recently selected as "GI of the Week" was Sgt. Thomas B. Hopkins, non-commissioned officer of Pasadena, Calif., in charge of all gunnery aid training at Tuskegee.

Sgt. Hopkins was the first Negro to graduate from the Army Photographic School at Lowry Field, Colo., as an Army-Navy gun camera specialist, and is also the first enlisted man to supervise the training of cadets and officers in the science of aerial and ground gunnery at Tuskegee field.

A graduate of Pasadena Junior College, with a music major, Sgt. Hopkins played guard on the football team. He was attending the University of Southern California when he volunteered for cadet training at Tuskegee Air Field in 1942. His wife, the former Miss Irma Bogne of Chicago, is also a sergeant with the WAAC's at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

John R. Tunis Says Education Is Vital In Digest Article

CHICAGO.—A plan to work for the betterment of America as a whole and for the Negro people, for their integration into the democratic process, for their social and political equality, not in one place or one state, but all over the nation, is what John R. Tunis would follow if he were a Negro.

Writing in the July issue of NEGRO DIGEST on the regular feature, "If I were A Negro," the noted sports writer and author believes that he would not be discouraged by slow progress, but would always reject a philosophy of negation, of despair, of violence.

Education in schools and universities is what the writer would strive for; these being impossible, he would teach himself in public libraries. Tunis declares, "I'd try hard not to feel those of my race darker in color than myself were inferior, or those lighter better than I was.

"I'd try to realize that we are fighting today not only Hitler and the Gestapo and their Nazi party, but the evil that is in their hearts, and in the hearts of all men, everywhere.

"I'd try always to remember that this fight is never-ending and must continue for all men of good will for all time," he concludes.

List Pre-Induction Meeting Places for Eastside, Southside

With the enthusiastic approval of men about to join the armed forces and Army, Navy and draft board authorities, the series of pre-induction information meetings initiated by the City War Council and local citizens' committees from district war problems will be continued and expanded, it was announced this week.

Men about to enter the Army or Navy appreciate the information gatherings as a help in straightening out their personal affairs and clearing up civilian problems before induction, according to Henry S. Eaton, director of war services in the War Council.

Forthcoming meetings in this area, at which panels of experts will answer questions and give advice to men about to don uniforms, and to their wives and parents are as follows:

South, Southeast, Southwest District: Mondays, June 26 — July 24—August 28, Bret Harte Junior High School, 9301 south Hoover street; Thursdays, July 6 —August 3, Manual Arts High School, 4131 south Vermont avenue.

Eastside and Central Avenue District: Tuesdays, June 27 — July 25—August 22, Roosevelt High School, 450 south Fickett street.

A guard of patience.

TIME OUT FOR REST—After playing to a packed house all afternoon Tuesday, and with only a few minutes rest before the crowd started pouring in for the big July Fourth party, Joe, Jimmy, and Julius, the three J's, as well as the "Big Three" in the night club world, found their way to the couch for a brief rest period.

The holiday and the two days before the holiday was hard on the three "J's". Trying to please thousands of people in three days is a hard job for any one. Try it some time and see for yourself.

Eagle's Theatrical Editor Raves Over New Saxophonist; Rates Kirt Bradford On Par With Ellington's Johnny Hodges

By J. T. GIPSON

No, we're not gonna bore you to tears with highlights from the headlines of the Gipson wedding (Voice from the boys in the back room of the Eagle: "Thank Goodness!"), instead we're gonna let you in on what we think is the hottest discovery since radium! So, to get down to facts, here's the feature communique of the week:

Next time you're out to Joe Morris' New Club Plantation club, cast your glimmers in the direction of the bandstand, and cop a gander at the handsome young cat in the saxophone section named Kirtland Bradford.

You can't miss him. He's a little fellow. Wears glasses, and always has a smile on his bespeckled pan. Well, just in case you're sitting on the edge of your chair waiting for the second paragraph to begin, we'll tell you a little about Kirtland Bradford.

He blows the hottest alto saxophone in the business! That's taking in a lot of territory, in view of the fact that Downbeat Magazine (whose opinions I respect more than somewhat) rate him only on a par with Johnny Hodges, of Duke Ellington's band.

Johnny Hodges, you'll know if you're up on your musician's, has been top man when it comes to tooting an alto for the past ten years. But take it from an overworked, underfed niteclub editor, Mrs. Hodges little boy, Johnny, is living on a reputation! Kirtland Bradford plays more horn than anybody in the business. Anybody that is, that we've heard.

His tone is deep, round and as clear as a bell. His intricate riffs and piston-like rapidity when it comes to manipulating the keys will send you wherever it is hepcats go when they're sent!

He plays a flawless horn. Never missing a note. And as sure as there are four s's in Mississippi, the name of Kirtland Bradford will go down in the hall of fame as top man in the saxophone section.

He is just beginning to get the recognition his playing deserves.

There are other musicians in the Jimmie Lunceford band — stars in their own right. But this communique is about Kirtland Bradford. And no other saxophone players name should be mentioned in the same breath with Kirtland Bradford's.

He isn't good—he's great!

"Nicodemus" Writes a Musical Comedy; Has Prominent Writer Interested In It

Nicodemus, the hilarious comedian who, as you probably know by this time, made such a terrific hit in the movie FOLLOW THE BOYS, has completed a Musical Comedy called "What A Night!" From Comedian to Author is a long jump in any man's doubletalk. But from all indications, Nicodemus (whose real name is Horace Stewart) made the leap with the greatest of ease.

Nicodemus, who is one of Hollywood's most outstanding young comics, at least has one "angel" interested in his book. The gentleman in question who, like me, believe in the books possibilities, is Henry Blankford. Already he is dickering for the Duke of Ellington to do the show.

With Henry Blankford as "angel and backer"; Nicodemus as writer, and the Duke in the leading role, it can't miss for hitting.

Private Carr's Jeep Pays Off With Honor

AIR FORCE, South Pacific.—Originality displayed in the modeling of any Army Jeep (¾-ton truck) in his spare time has captured main honors for Private George Carr, 207 East Walnut street, Des Moines, Iowa, in an "Ingenuity Contest" sponsored by the American Red Cross in New Caledonia.

Private Carr, a truck driver with a Quartermaster Trucking Company of the 13th AAF Service Command, fashioned his model vehicle out of metal scraps and wrecked airplanes.

The model took two prizes in the Red Cross event, being judged first for both originality and workmanship. Private Carr worked in his spare moments for many weeks to complete the job, employing only a soldering iron, pliers, tin cutters, file and a bit of paint.

Mrs. Steward's Music Pupils In Recital; To Vacation In L. A.

DENVER, Colo.—A large audience greeted what might be the final recital of Mrs. Dovie Steward's music class Thursday evening, June 29, at Zion Baptist Church at 8:15 o'clock, and acclaimed the event a climax of seven years of demonstrations and recitals which entailed some of the youngest music pupils to be seen in this section.

The program revealed that some of the children, who seven years ago appeared as three and four-year-old beginners, had early achieved an unusual mastery of the technique and interpretation of good music.

Neon W. Steward, her husband, has resigned as executive secretary of the Glenarm branch YMCA and leaves for Los Angeles about August 1.

Youth Council's Big Membership Cabaret Dance Wednesday, 12th

Final plans for the first annual membership dance of the Youth Council of the NAACP, are now being completed with most of the features already worked out.

Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra and Mantan Moreland, internationally famous comedian, will headline the show. Moreland has organized a star-studded floor show that will be presented at the beginning of the show. He will be assisted by Ben Carter and many other outstanding personalities from the entertainment world.

Then Jimmie Lunceford and his great band will take over and give out with their matchless dance music and swoon tunes. Aside from the talent already lined up, many other artists are expected to drop in and add their bit to the grand show.

The admission fee will be a 1944 membership card or receipt.

Persons failing to get a membership card before the night of the dance may secure memberships at the door. However, it is hoped that most persons planning to attend will secure their membership cards in advance in order to avoid congestion because an overflow crowd is expected to turn out to the Plantation Club Wednesday night, July 12, for this gala affair.

The prices of memberships are 50 cents for persons from 16 to 21 years of age and one dollar for persons 21 to 25 or over.

15-Year Old Girl Saved $2,086 in U.S. War Stamps

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Little Mary Lewis, a 15-year-old junior high school student, who hopes some day to be a teacher and who wants to pay her way through college, has put aside $2,086 toward these twin objectives through the purchase of War Savings Stamps, the Treasury department revealed this week.

Mary, a 7a grade student at Shaw Junior high in Washington, D. C., heads stamp purchasers in the school's war savings department, according to Mrs. Esther B. Sutton, teacher in charge. Mary lives at 1546 Columbus street, N. W.

LANG Will Dance at Elks Hall July 29th

The Los Angeles Newspaper Guild of which G. Kay Williams is the administrative officer, plans a repeat performance of the highly successful dance which they gave some time ago.

Featuring a democratic contest to name a "Miss Copy Girl" of 1944, in which all guild members are entitled to enter a candidate, the dance will be enlivened by the music provided by Art Whiting and his orchestra.

Scheduled for July 29 at the Elks Hall, the dance will feature entertainment and door prizes.

Friends Ambulance Unit Doing Relief Work In Ethiopia

For a year and a half a section of the Frends Ambulance Unit in London has been doing medical relief work in Ethiopia. The suggestion that the Friends Ambulance Unit should send a party to Ethiopia was first taken up by the War Office in London, but negotiations lapsed when the country passed from the administration of the Occupied Enemy Territory Administration, and Ethiopia became an independent state under the direct control of the emperor.

However, in the spring of 1942 the emperor for a party of forty an invitation was received from unit members. The section got away in various small parties, the first arriving in Addis in August, 1942, and the remainder before Christmas of that year.

Since then, certain reinforcements have reached them, including five doctors, a teacher and an architect to work under Straighten Up and Fly Right Said the Monkey to the Buzzard.

Swooner-Crooner . . . Nat "King" Cole is the new VOICE that is causing girls to swoon. They now have him in the big stores just to sign his records. Nat has come a long way from the Warwick Hall on 47th street in Chi. His Columographer, Alice Keyes, failed to include Malcolm B. Smith and the writer in her account of the rise of the King. We held ministerial posts under His Majesty.

WILLIAM FAULKNER IS TOP MAN IN POLICE

William Faulkner is top man in the Sheriff's office. He holds the rank of Corporal, and is very active in the Elks and other groups. He is doing his bit by being a member of the O.P.A. Ration Board 5:40. He gives his time—FREE It seems that we may have three new stars in our flag—if and when Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico are given statehood. If this happens, those Americans who cling to Ante Bellum prejudices may find they may have to adjust themselves to a nation without racial and religious prejudice.

AN AMERICAN CLERGY GIVES A CHRISTIAN VIEW

The very Christian and true American attitude on the part of the Methodist Conference to resolve that loyal American Japs be returned to the evacuated areas, on the same basis as other Americans and aliens of other countries, is to be commended. Sometimes, it takes a great deal of courage to publicly uphold the Bill of Rights, especially when the country is at war with the nations from which these people are descended. This same attitude prevailed against the naturalized British by the native Americans following the Revolutionary War, until the 19th century.

Officer Wilmer Bratton, deputy Sheriff, assigned as a bailiff in the Superior Court of Judge Georgia Bullock, is winning many friends for Sheriff Biscailuz by his conduct. He is a good police officer. This writer is the other fellow who is in the same capacity. This was brought about by Sheriff Biscailuz, Under-Sheriff A. C. Jewel, Lt. Charles Wright Judge Bullock and Judge John Beardsley. Judge Beardsley first had Arthur Adams, who resigned to study law and aid Floyd Covington of the Urban League. Next James Polk, who is now an officer with the L.A.P.D.

It is good to remember that Judges Georgia Bullock and John Beardsley both nominated Negroes to the County Grand Jury. Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of this newspaper and Robert Hargrove respectively.

Man About Town — Norman Allison is now head of his own money exchange down at First and San Pedro. Amos Black is going great guns with his ex-servicemen club and rendezvous in the same neighborhood. He is author of what he calls "The Black Plan" for ex-service men.

Pigmeat Markham, who I shall always believe was the originator of the Zoot suits and the little strut peculiar to that class of young Americans, says he is the Mayor of 5th Street. We saw Pigmeat wear baggy trousers back in 1934 on the stage of the Apollo theatre in Harlem.

To mention First street without mentioning the more or less official mayor of Bronzeville would be an affront. Leonard Christmas, chain hotel owner, is President of the Bronzeville Chamber of Commerce. Charles Broady, manager of a cocktail bar and hotel, and retired police officer, must be the Chief of Police of Bronzeville. Officer Joe Gibson, one of Biscailuz' little boys, is Commissioner of Police of Bronzeville.

MRS. JESSIE TERRY WOMAN OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Jessie Terry is our candidate for this week as one of the outstanding women of Los Angeles who has and is doing commendable work. She is an asset to her commuity, city, state, nation and race. Her son, Lt. Frank Terry, is in India leading his black platoon against the enemy. Her daughter, Beulah, is a hostess at an army post and has the rating of a second Lt. Her eldest daughter, Juanita, adds her brains and beauty to the War Housing office under supervision of Fay Jackson.

Mr. Terry is busy in War Construction. Mrs. Terry was appointed to the Housing Authority by Mayor Fletcher Bowron a few years ago. Mrs. Terry has done a good job and has made hundreds of people happy. If you wish to submit a candidate for "woman of the week," do so by writing or phoning the writer at 5013 Wall Street, 11, ADams 7010.

This is Earl J. Morris, Eugene Biscailuz' little boy playing policeman, who tells you that "Reason and Sanity have a hard struggle with Emotions and Vanity."

Chirping Mabel Will Star On a Grade A Bill

By JULIE DUVAL

He's done it again!! Proving again that there is a nimble, imaginative and versatile mind in our midst, Leonard Reed has again produced another one of his hilarious and entertaining shows at the Lincoln Theatre playhouse. New twists, new ideas, and novel cosuming combine to make a refreshingly different stage offering. "Follow the Leader," a skit which the amazing Lennie leads himself, will keep you in stitches. "Death of the Blues." the finale, will have you rolling in the aisles. Is there no limit to this man's talents? He can dance, sing, compose lyrics — design settings —in fact, he's a whole show in himself. One could go on ad infinitum about his various and varied talents.

Every week, one can be sure of a really good show and outstanding artists—the best that can be obtained. Gladys Palmer, the tantalizing pianiste, is a unique personality and makes a strong bid for favoritism. The show also boasts Clarence Ellis, always a crowd pleaser, and Johnny Talbert, singer of romantic songs.

The current offering of the Lincoln players starring Laura Bowman, Monte Hawley, Sybil Lewis and Jimmie Basquette. "Who Is Guilty," will have you laughing and hysterical, by turns. The public is clamoring for bigger and better shows, and, by golly, that's just what they're getting at the Lincoln Theatre. It has the best chorus line in the city, and all the accoutrements and frou-frou that go to make up a good stage offering.

The orchestra, under the baton of Bardu Ali, seems to have taken a new lease on life, and swings out with the best of them. The Lincoln truly has a triple-threat show—a chorus that has beauty and can really dance, dramatic players who can really act, with the best of them, and an orchestra that can really please with hot or sweet music. All of this, combined with two double feature screen-offerings, give the best entertainment value in the city. Don't say I didn't tell you!

Next week, the Lincoln Theatre is proud to announce that the inimitable Mable Scott, the sensation of "Sweet 'N Hot," will star on the Lincoln Theatre stage. Also appearing will be the Flennoy Trio, Freddie Gordon, and an enviable cast of stage artists. On the screen, "Once Upon a time," starring Cary Grant and Janet Blair, is co-featured with "The Girl in the Case," featuring Edmund Lowe and Janis Carter. Flash! Don't fail to see the Lincoln players, Laura Bowman, Monte Hawley, Sybil Lewis, and Jimmie Baskette in the new thriller, "Are the Parents Guilty?"

Cozy Cole Is Signed For 2 More Months

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Cozy Cole, the dynamic sepia drum star, has had his original six week contract as stellar attraction in the current show at 52nd Street's Onyx Club renewed for an additional eight week period, and will continue doubling from Billy Rose's "Carmen Jones" at the Broadway Theatre into the Onyx.

Cozy's box office draw has been enhanced by recent guest shots on the Kate Smith Hour an dthe NBC "Hall of Fame," and a dozen of his new swing discs that have hit the market.

"Christmas Holiday" Is Deanna Durbin's First Heavy Drama

Transferring Somerset Maugham's novel "Christmas Holiday" to the screen provides Deanna Durbin with her first heavy dramatic role. "Christmas Holiday," now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 South Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, stars Deanna Durbin and Gene Kelly with a capable supporting cast which includes Richard Whorf, Dean Harens, Gladys George, Gale Sondergaard and David Bruce.

This is a tragic love story. Deanna Durbin and Gene Kelly are dramatically well mated in the tense and absorbing narrative of a rather naive New England girl who marries a decadent son of an old Louisiana family and a psychoneurotic mother.

The son kills a bookie and is sent to prison. The mother, shielding the boy, charges the young wife with having been wholly responsible for the son's tragic trouble. Kelly escapes from the pen with the intention of killing his wife.

ON LINCOLN STAGE—Mabel Scott, inimitable sensation of the musical hit, "Sweet 'n Hot," will augment the stage offering at the Lincoln Theatre on next week's bill. Also to be seen will be the Flennoy Trio, Freddie Gordon, and an enviable cast of stage artists.

FORT HUACHUCA MOTHER—Mrs. Lillie Baker of Los Angeles is the mother of the former "Our Gang Comedies" star, Pvt. Eugene Jackson, who is both a good and well-liked soldier at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. For 20 years Pvt. Jackson has starred in pictures, having started his career at the age of seven. He was inducted in the Army in April, 1943. In addition to pictures like "Penrod and Sam" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Pvt. Jackson has been featured in "Cimarron," "Stormy Weather," Stage Door Canteen," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and others.

When Pearl Harbor was bombed on December 7, 1941, Eugene Jackson was standing on a Honululu rooftop watching the gyrations of the attacking Jap fleet. He worked at rescuing the wounded and entrapped and directed the first "black-out show" given in Hawaii during the dreadful week following the disaster.

Pvt. Jackson's army chores consist of Special Service Division work; he participates in all of the camp entertainments.

Horace Henderson Has Job With Lena Horne—And Gets Paid, Too!

By J. T. GIPSON

One of those "it's nice work—if you can get it" jobs was handed to the brilliant musical arranger, Horace Henderson, when he was signed as pianist-arranger for the beauteous Lena Horne last week.

Replacing Phil Moore, whose song hit "Shoo Shoo Baby" lingered around the Hit Parade hall for weeks, the dapper and well-liked Horace is a natural as accompanist for the glamourous MGM singing star.

He plays terrific piano, and has a real style that has set him apart from any number of other great pianists in the good but not great category. His rhythms carry a good beat, and he plays in a soft, mellow vein.

He formerly handled the piano chores for brother Fletcher, when that band appeared at the Plantation Club here. A native of Chicago, he is well known in musical circles from Maine to Mexico.

Yes, as pianist-arranger for Lena Horne, he has a good job. It's nice work—and he's got it!

"Big Sid" Catlett Is In Solid Kick at the "Streets of Paris"

For years one of Swingdom's top drummers, and formerly featured with the Louis Armstrong orchestra, Sid Catlett, familiarly known as "Big Sid," has invaded Hollywood and taken that magic city by storm.

A quartet of star-studded musicians (paced by the bass slapping of the popular Johnny Simmons) forms the nucleus of this swingy little group that is fast becoming the rage of Hollywood.

Replacing Dorothy Donegan, the classical swinging pianist who was called hom to Chicago at the bedside of her ailing father, Big Sid and his quartet of solid senders will hold forth at the famed Hollywood Street nitery for the next twenty-six weeks.

Some mighty nice music comes out of this band—sounding very much as though the Sid Catlett Quartet has the right ideas, and a bright future.

Featured at the Streets of Paris also, along with the Catlett group, is the Eddie South Trio. Eddie, as if you didn't know, is one of the country's best Violinists. Swingingly speaking, that is.

With Catlett and South on the same job, the joynt rocks.

You can believe that!

God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and and conscience.

Georgia Marches On! To the Rear—Alone!

ATLANTA, Ga.—New curbs on union organization were placed in Milledgeville, Ga., when R. E. Starnes, field representative of the United Steel Workers of America, (CIO), was sentenced to pay a fine of $150 or serve nine months on the public works gang under a newly passed city ordinance curbing union organizational activity.

The ordinance places a $5,000 fee upon licenses to "organize employees of any employer into any group, association, membership, society or union." Union organizers must first file an application for a permit with the mayor or city councilmen before they can begin their organizational work.

Starnes' attorneys immediately paid the fine and appealed the case. They stated they were prepared to take the case to the U. S. Supreme Court, should the Georgia court uphold the ordinance.

Morris Milgram, National Secretary of the Workers Defense League, called the Milledgeville ordinance an "outrage" and "a flagrant violation of the civil rights inherent in the Constitution." He stated that the Workers Defense League was prepared to file an amicus curiae brief if the case goes to the U. S. Supreme Court.

I have been more and more convinced, the more I think of it, that, in general, pride is at the bottom of all great mistakes.

NEGRO TROOPS LEND HELPING HAND TO WOUNDED DURING INVASION

Negro Jewish Unity Was Stressed at Recent "Salute"

By Solomon Harper

New York... (Calvin's News Service)... "Life memberships aren't so difficult to purchase when you plan to save a certain amount toward them each week." That's what Dr. H. Claude Hudson says, who made his first payment of $100 toward his life membership last week.

"This is our fight," he says, "and when my $500's paid—I'll still be fighting."

A Bigger Battle When It Is Over

"When this war's over we Negroes will have an even bigger battle—here's my $2.50 to help marshall the supplies for that effort" . . . and that's the way it was summed up by J. D., a bootblack, who would be doing an even bigger bit for the war effort if he had the use of both legs.

He hasn't, so he's keeping shoes shined, ears open, and makes every contact to help advance the Negro.

GI Stevedores Hold The Fate of Troops In Their Able Hands

A F H Q, MEDITERRANEAN THEATER—GI stevedores of a U.S. Army port battalion in North Africa hold the fate of a ship and its troops in their hands. The manner of loading and disposition of equipment on both freighters and troop ships is the responsibility of these Negro soldiers.

If the cargo of a ship should shift while at sea, it is doomed. Gasoline, shells, wheat, and flour—all have to be loaded in a special manner to insure security from explosions or combustion. That is why the work of this battalion is one calling for care and knowledge.

These GI stevedores are specialists and technicians. They have all attended schools fitting them for their jobs.

Although working at the port all day, and even at night when needed, the colored personnel of this outfit have built one of the most attractive camps in the area for themselves. Starting from scratch, they have created a modern tent city with landscaping, concrete floors, wiring, water, and sewerage facilities.

J., lodged support for the Rally through all its locals.

Speaking for the union, Ernest Tompson, ranking Negro official, said that "All people must stand behind the Negro Freedom Rally, to make this one of the greatest mass rallies ever put on by labor and progressive groups. In this way, we will serve notice on the public that we stand united against all enemies."

"Little Enough For the Future"

"A membership in the NAACP is little enough infestment to make in the Negro's future,"—thus stated one little Gold Star mother, whose three sons have served in South Pacific, European and North African war theatres.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying in other words that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.

He Says It's An Awful Bad Film—But They Say They Didn't Do It

Sergeant Layne saw a picture titled "Stars on Parade" recently, and quite plainly he didn't like it, so he sat down and wrote a letter to Republic Productions, Inc. and told them so.

Republic Productions didn't know anything about the picture and they didn't like what Sergeant Layne wrote, so they wrote him a reply and sent us a letter explaining why they sent all of the correspondence to us.

Here they are:

Editor:
The California Eagle
4075 S. Central Avenue
Los Angeles, California
Dear Sir:

Attached is a letter received from Sergeant Lou Layne, and our reply.

It is the policy of our studios to make only clean, wholesome entertainment. We try at all times to be conscious of this obligation to our audiences, and never cast aspersions or defile the sacred traditions and pride of any race, regardless of creed or color.

It is evident that Sergeant Layne has confused Republic with some other company, but regardless of this, we stand ready to help in any way possible in the creation of a better understanding in the approach to our mutual problems.

Sincerely,
REPUBLIC PRODUCTIONS, INC.
jj Howard Shechan.

Republic Pictures, Inc.
Hollywood, Calif.
Gentlemen:

I have just returned from a showing of the crummiest picture of your unenlightened and undistinguished career, "Stars on Parade." I'm referring particularly to your portrayal of the Negro in stereotyped roles that were outdated even before Lee de Forrest first combined sight and sound pictures. If such undignified and no longer true interpretations are the best you can offer, you'd do better to relegate your efforts to the nearest sewage disposal plant.

Look about you, at the studios you try to imitate on your limited budgets. Even if you prefer not to invest as much as they, you can at least follow the examples of Paramount, 20th Century-Fox, and other studios, in giving the Negro the dignity of his art.

Doing so even in a small way would be much more preferable than bald-faced exploitation of his unenviable position in this democracy whereby, in order to appear at all on your hallowed screen, he must take part in such insulting scenes as "Mammy Ginny's Jubilee" and the like. If you can't see wherein lie the insults, try consulting your Negro consumers.

You might even consult some of the Negroes now in pictures, just so long as you are careful not to select those who might "yes" you to death because of a possible day's work in the future, or a bit player's pay when you need the too disgustingly familiar "type" characterized by rolling eyes, flashing white teeth, and "yassuh, Boss!"

While I'm on the subject, has it ever occured to you that you might even try to employ a few Negroes as technicians and in other responsible positions? You may not believe this (just another indication of how far behind you are in this age of advancement), but the potentialities of Negroes in fields artistic, technical and creative are proportionally just as great as they are among other Americans.

Ask John Golden, who only recently displayed his theatrical progressiveness by permitting a Negro cast to take over an evening's performance of one of his Broadway hit plays.

And just to make certain you'll see this expression of more Negroes than any studio should care to offend (if some misguided underling should feel one of your waste-paper baskets is the proper place for it), I'm sending copies of this letter to a few of our newspapers — like The People's Voice, The New York Star-News, Pittsburgh Courier, Afro-American, Chicago Defender, and Los Angeles' own California Eagle.

Here's hoping you'll wake up—but fast!

(1st Sgt.) Lou Layne,
Headquarter Company,
Reception Center,
Fort Benning, Ga.

Dear Mr. Layne:

We received your letter, written to Republic Pictures, dated May 28th, and we consider your letter unjustified and unwarranted insofar as we are concerned.

NEVER HEARD OF IT

First, Republic didn't make nor release any motion picture entitled "STARS ON PARADE." Second, the writer has never seen the picture in question, so I will have to confine my remarks to the facts.

Republic Pictures and Republic Productions, to my knowledge, in their ten years of existence have not had any major complaints from any representative Negro organization, or from its press, that we have been guilty of portraying or playing Negro characters or their backgrounds in a base, low or undignified manner.

Furthermore, some of our most valued and friendly customers are the many Negro theatre managers who consistently play Republic pictures year after year. We gladly accept their counsel and wisdom on how to improve our merchandise.

For that matter, we welcome any constructive ideas or suggestions from you or any other member of your race that will improve and make our pictures more entertaining.

DISTURBING

It does disturb us, however, to read a letter of your kind, even though we are not the producers of the subject. We are a part of the great motion picture industry, and are as interested as you in bringing about reforms that will make the motion picture even more acceptable as a medium of universal enjoyment and enlightenment.

In regard to employing technicians in our studio. I suggest you write directly to the American Federation of Labor, as they control the memberships of all crafts employed in the Hollywood Studios. We do not concern ourselves with the color nor creed of our employees. We appraise them on their industry and ability to get the job done.

SOME OF THE BEST

It would interest you to know that we have had the honor of employing such celebrated colored artists as Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway, Molasses and January, Etta McDaniel, Willie Best, Daisy Lee Mothershed, Mills Bros., Ira Buck Woods, Count Basie and many others.

We are now making Atlantic City with Louis Armstrong, Buck and Bubbles and Dorothy Dandridge. These artists are as careful about their material and situations as we are. Neither the artists or ourselves would knowingly inject anything in a picture that would be degrading to your race.

In conclusion, I am not finding fault with your right to challenge anything that you think is offensive and effronts the dignity of your race. However, I wouldn't involve innocent parties and friends like ourselves.

I am sending a copy of this letter, my reply, to the People's Voice, The New York Star-News, Pittsburgh Courier, The Afro-American, Chicago Defenders, and the Los Angeles Eagle. I am sure they will agree that you shouldn't write letters of this kind without ascertaining who is the guilty party.

Since you seem to like good motion pictures, if you care to send us ideas that will improve our stories, stars, or production, they will be gratefully received and given every consideration.

Very truly yours,
REPUBLIC STUDIOS.

Checking Up on War Bond Holdings

The Frederick P. Snowdens, of Washington, D. C., derive a thrill out of War Bond holdings. Steadily growing stack is brought out often for a family checkup. Snowden works at a naval torpedo station by day and drives a taxi nights. Besides regular salary allotments, he has purchased an extra Bond in every drive for each member of the family. The stack will come in handy, he says, to educate the children, Fred, Jr., 6, and Dianne, 3. The Snowdens live at 1741 "S" Street, N.W., Washington.

Community Effort Gets a Bus Driver

Phoenix, Ariz.—A one year struggle led by the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People (NAACP), the Thomas Jefferson Communist Community Club, the Community Advisory Council and members of the clergy and labor, for the employment of Negroes as bus drivers reached a successful climax as George D. Holmes became the first Negro to drive a bus of the city-owned transportation system.

The persistency and determination of Holmes, after other applicants had been tricked in tests and generally discouraged from being employed, helped make possible this victory.

Die-hard opponents who claimed that Negro bus drivers would cause 'friction' have been soundly rebuffed by the white residents on Holmes' run who praise his efficiency and courtesy.

GIs Get Education Opportunity In The European Theatre

Headquarters, European Theatre of Operations—Corporal Frank Branch, 2319 E. 114th street, Los Angeles, is one GI Joe who believes in keeping his education fresh and up to date.

Branch is enrolled for the refresher course in an adult education program recently set up at A Negro American Red Cross Club in a larger Ulster County, Ireland, city. Classes are held twice weekly and six instructors, all from the Belfast School system donate their services.

The subjects which Branch is free to take include grammar, pennanship, arithmetic and a course designed to promote better understanding between the United Kingdom and the United States. French, German and Algebra are also on the agenda.

GI'S ASKED FOR IT

Formation of the school came about through an appeal by some of the student-soldiers to their unit commander, Lieutenant-Colonel K. W. Dimgman of Pittsburg for a refresher course. Earl W. Howard of Washington, D. C., director of the Red Cross Club was instrumental in securing the services of competent instructors.

Chaplain (Captain) Otto A. Dieter, Champaign, Illinois, a former instructor in the department of English at the University of Illinois, has been an ardent supporter of the project, and Stewart Hawnt, Education Director, Belfast College of Technology has given extensive academic help.

Man And Woman Are Held For A Parking Lot Knife Hold Up

Norman E. Batiste of 103 North Los Angeles street was arrested recently by Police Officer L. A. Tear, charged with the robbery of John Abrams, 982½ East Vernon.

According to Abrams, Batiste and a woman held him up on First and Main streets, with knives, in a parking lot and robbed him of a wrist watch and a billfold containing $60 in currency.

NAUGHTY STUFF

Batiste says Abrams had a date with the woman who asked him to stand guard while the date was consumated. Batiste said that after the woman left Abrams she returned to him and gave him the wrist watch and took the money herself and threw the billfold away.

On cross examination by Attorney H. L. Richardson, Officer Tear admitted that this statement was made by Batiste, who denied at all times having participated in the robbery.

'Dear Joe' We Are Behind You Say the People of Los Angeles

GI Joe will hear the thunderous greetings from multiple thousands who shouted, "Hello Joe," in the Coliseum last Friday night. Sponsored by labor, management, all religious faiths, the city fathers and a united people in a victory determined city, the demonstration was a message from the heart of Los Angeles carrying a pledge of never-ending support and loyalty to all of the men in all of the armed services everywhere.

With a representative cross section of the population represented, a two hour program presided over by Art Linkletter and Harry Von Zell, noted radio announcer, and featuring such personalities as Bob Burns, Carmen Miranda, John Charles Thomas, Kenny Baker, Agnes Moorehead, George Jessel and the Nash Singers, was recorded for overseas presentation.

The feature of the evening was the "Dear Joe" letter which was subscribed by the writers representing labor management, religion, civilian defense, soldiers of the home front entertainment and government.

13 STATES UNITY

Walter Winchell, world famour newspaper columnist and radio commentator, made his contribution to the GI letter in the form of a plea for unity and understanding, using the original 13 states with their diversified views and interests as the basis for a demonstrated instance that in unity there is strength.

Phillip M. Connelly, secretary of the Los Angeles CIO council participated in the program with a message to "Joe" from the CIO as did William Bassett, secretary of the Central Labor Council, AFL.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron, as a citizen of Los Angeles "who happens to be Mayor," sent a message from the people of the city with an account of stewardship and a pledge for the post war security of "Joe."

Soldier and marine heroes as well as heroes from the production front were given honered seats in a fleet of Jeeps and presented to the audience.

A demonstration of welding and burning between a team of men and a team of women ended with the men winning by a few seconds margin.

A scheduled parachute jump by Skippy Smith failed to materialize due to low hanging clouds. The rally ended with the audience standing and repeating a solemn pledge to stay on the job and finish the job so that every required instrument of war will be available to them.

ON THE TURF

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico—Nearly all the invaders from the northern track up Baymeadows way were turned back in the future races at Caliente last Sunday. Yes they came to Caliente, south of the border down Mexico way, with big reputations to conquer all that Generalissimo Eddie Neallis had been feeding since he re-opened the track.

It was in the Woodacres Handicap at six furlongs for three-year-olds and upwards that my Universe made such northern stars as Gold Pomp, Ace Hudkins and Pala Equaw eat this dust. Not only that but two other steeds which have been enjoying the balmy sunshine of Old Mexico showed their heels to the invaders.

Ace Hudkins was made favorite, with gold Pomp nearly equal choice. But when the running was over both finished up the stretch. My Universe was the winner; Crystal Torch, second and Deer Heels, third.

FEATURE RACE

The winner paid $9.20. In the feature race of the day $1500 was the added stake for two-year-olds at five and one-half furlongs. Again all invaders from Baymeadows and even Mexico City were turned back when P. L. Fuller's Rapid Run nosed out Bar Raider from the north to take down the big end of the purse, paying $10.20.

About the most exciting race in many Sundays was the ninth when five horses nearly hit the finishing wire at the same time. It had the big Sunday crowd on it's feet yelling for their favorite nag. After about fifteen minutes the camera showed Tow Rope, by a nose, Bulwark, second, Kantaka, third, Jode's Joe, fourth, and Waiter, fifth. Only a nose separated these five horses. The winner paid $14.60. Out of the twelve races four public choices won. Again Little Jockey H. S. Jones, the senation of the border course, rode four winners. The daily-double paid $38.40 while the Quiniella with the co-favorites rewarded it's backers $6.20.

Many exciting finishes were also enjoyed July 6th. It was the first time since last summer that Caliente had staged two racing days in one week. This Sunday some of the best handicaped horses that are now on the West Coast will prance at the Caliente oval and Judge Joe Walter has aranged all-star card of thirteen races with three feature events.

So until then, keep smiling, buy more War Bonds—yes buy until it hurts as our boys and girls need your help. Make America safe for all races and colors. It's the children we must think of... So-long George.

girl unit is still the talk of the town and one of the hottest things to hit Los Angeles in many a moon.

They form the background for an all-girl revue, produced by Patsy Hunter. Matinees are held every Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m.

Current night life discussion centers around the out-bounds restrictions recently tagged on the Alabam, barring servicemen from the place. Patrons and East side merchants are incensed over the move and many of them are demanding lifting the ban.

Leon Giles, president of the East Side Chamber of Commerce, says he has received scores of protest about the restrictions and has thrown the strength of the chamber behind the move to have the ban lifted.

Many Negro residents of the city are asking why the Alabam and many other Negro entertainment spots have been labeled "Out of Bounds" while similar white businesses are allowed to flourish in white districts.

Champ'n Lockheed Riveters Challenge Others to Beat Them

One hundred and four rivets in 120 seconds!

All women riveters at the Lockheed plane plant at Burbank, Calif., have been challenged by Elizabeth Vernando and Cleo Glover, Negro riveting team, to beat this record which the pair set recently, the Office of War Information said today.

The team's feat was attested by Joseph M. Alvey, group supervisor, who conducted a special time test. The young women work on bomb bay doors for the PV-1 Ventura bomber, among the first American planes consistently to bomb the Japanese homeland of Paramushiro, northernmost bastion of the Nippon home defenses.

One hundred and four ⅜-inch rivets were placed in the drilled holes and were completely riveted in 120 seconds by this team, the group supervisor's record revealed.

ON JOB 1 YEAR

Miss Vernando and Miss Glover started work at Lockheed one year ago, building PV-1 bomb doors. They came in as inexperienced workers but today are considered to be two of the fastest women riveters in the plant.

When asked how they attained such a high degree of efficiency, Miss Vernando said, 'You can become efficient doing anything if you have rhythm in your work."

Miss Glover said, "Whether you're using a machine gun or a rivet gun, you have to have rhythm."

And they prove it. For with rhythm of motion and the rhythmis rat-tat-tat of their rivet gun, they have established a record that has yet to be beaten under a stop watch at Lockheed.

Parents, Guardians Are Responsible for Children's Driving

Before any minor may be issued an operator's license, the parents or guardian of such minor must sign and verify an application for such license.

The application provides that the parents or guardian signing the same assume financial responsibility for any damage to person or property resulting from the negligent operation of any vehicle by the minor applicant, up to the amount of $5,000 for personal injury or death to one person; $10,000 for personal injury or death to two or more persons; and property damage to the amount of $1,000.

When a minor drives a car he safely not only for himself, but carries the burden of driving for his parents or guardian as well.

Many persons are not aware of this fact, although it is one of vital importance, because the parent or guardian who signs a minor's application for a driver's license actually assumes responsibility for the safe driving of the minor.

If a minor drives in a careless manner and causes an accident, the injured parties may hold the parents or guardian responsible, as well as the minor driver.

Soldier In the South Pacific Sends Encouragement Back Home

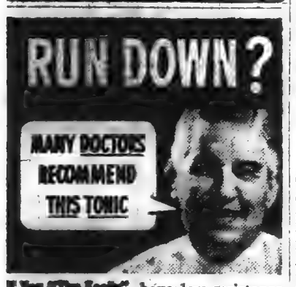
By JOHN M. LEE

Recently a soldier fighting in the South Pacific took time out from the grim business of advancing upon and wiping out the Japs to write Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of the California Eagle a letter. It was a simple, direct letter, notably free of superfluous wordage.

"It's hot here and you've got to be alert all the time," he wrote in one paragraph. "After being here for a few months, I'm one soldier in Uncle Sam's army who knows what's he's fighting for. Our fight is not against the color or religion or political belief of our enemies, but against their determination to make us live and believe as they do. That's slavery, and that's what I'm fighting against," he continued.

Near the end of the letter, he paid his respects to the home front. "I saw a copy of the California Eagle a short while ago, and I noticed that you are celebrating your 65th anniversary. That's a long time to be doing anything, and when you realize that during all those years the paper has been fighting for the rights of the little people, it's remarkable."

COURAGEOUS



In concluding, he echoed a tribute that has been paid to the editor-publisher of the California Eagle many times. "With a woman of your courage fighting for unity on the home front, I feel better about being out here facing death."

Time and again letters have come from people in all walks of life who are behind us in our campaign to add strength to the voice of the people by building The California Eagle into a powerful organ of the people.

The drive committee, under the chairmanship of the Rev. S. A. Williams, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist Church is grateful for the hundreds who weekly add their names to the lists of Eagle subscribers. They have given us determination to carry on until the full quota of ten thousand new subscribers have been obtained.

We believe that we are performing a needed service to the people of our country, and that belief prompts us to seek public support in our subscription drive. You can help by subscribing today.

Steward's Mate Is Hospitalized After Year's Sea Service

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—John McCartney, steward's mate, second class, of San Francisco, has reported to Great Lakes for hospitalization after serving on convoy troop ships in both the Atlantic and Pacific areas since his enlistment in May, 1940.

McCartney, a native of Nashville, Tenn., landed with troops at Casablanca in October, 1942. Later he was aboard ship in the Pearl and Dutch Harbor areas, and was a member of the crew of a ship which took part in the invasion of Sicily.

The husky, tall, 247-pound salt says his most exciting experience was during a routine cruise in the South Pacific when his ship ran into a large unit of the Japanese fleet. Several Jap destroyers were sunk and 14 Jap prisoners taken.

Vernon Branch Gives Bookmobile Service

For the past two years, the staff of the Vernon Branch Library has been giving Bookmobile Service to the residents of the Pueblo del Rio Housing Project and surrounding area every other Thursday afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Although this service was originally planned for the children who cannot travel the long distance to the Vernon Branch Library, parents have been permitted to share in this book service and often send their book requests by the children.

Since the summer months will give children long hours of leisure which they can use to advantage with wholesome, entertaining reading, parents are urged to send their children to the Pueblo del Rio Recreation Hall when the librarians make their next visit, Thursday, July 13, at 3 o'clock.

Community Help Needed Urgently By Women Group

Carpenters to Build a Victory House Needed

When the Eastern Columbia Outfitting Co. granted permission to the United States Treasury Department, War Finance Committee-Newton District, to use the vacant lot at 45th and Central for the location of a Community Victory House for the sale of War Bndos and Stamps, they indirectly issued a challenge to the community.

The challenge, in its first stages, was met by Surretha Gremberry, chairman of the women's division, booths committee, and her co-workers, Charlette Kimbro-Simpson, Fannie Bouttee, Elvina Jones, Pauline Marshall and Mrs. S. Gunther. They immediately rounded up all of the material needed to erect the victory house and got the promise from a member of the WADCA that she would help with the painting, but they need the services of some men now.

They needed men who could do plain carpentry work to assemble the Victory House before the opening date of the Fifth War Bond drive on June 12th. That's where the challenge to the community come in. It only took a short while to get the house assembled and volunteers came forward who did the job.

COOPERATION WANTED

There are openings, too, for women who want to work with the War Finance Committee. The cooperation of churches, trade union groups and all other community organizations is invited.

In connection with the Fifth War Bond Campaign, the Treasury Department through the Committee is seeking a photograph of a baby to be used on a drive poster. Persons having pictures to submit, or who want to volunteer for any of the work that needs to be done, can call Mrs. Granberry at Adams 0528, or Lavada Maxwell Reese, at Century 23847. Mrs. Reese is also in charge of Baby Bond sales.

Volunteer help is badly needed.

Tuberculosis Up For First Time Since 1936-37

Tuberculosis is the second cause of death in California for all age groups 1 to 45 and the mortality rate from that disease is on a rising trend for the first time since 1936-37, according to the June issue of "Facts for Action," statistical bulletin published by the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

"Of tuberculosis deaths occuring in Los Angeles, approximately 40 per cent were never reported as cases. These cases presumably go until a short time before death, spreading the disease among the population in spite of intensive case finding efforts."

Browns Abound and Help Confuse When Roll Call Comes 'Round

LAURINSBURG-MAXTON ARMY AIR BASE, Maxton, North Carolina.—First Sergeant Eddie Mitchell of Chicago, Illinois, has a good reason to fret when he calls the role of his Service Squadron. When he yells "Brown" there is almost a stampede.

A BROWN STUDY

Seven of them in all, there are two with the same first name and middle name, and a third with the same name. The men get a good laugh as the sergeant tries to "figure out" two of the men, both by the name of William Edward Brown with Army serial numbers almost alike.

The men are as follows: Leslie Brown of Portsmouth, Virginia; Nathaniel Brown of Richmond, Virginia; Alfred C. Brown of Washington, D. C.; Elkannah Brown of Washington, D. C.; William Edward Brown of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Army serial number, 33700401, and William Edward Brown of Atlanta, Georgia, Army serial number, 33795900, and William R. Brown of Richmond, Virginia.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP — Jerome Goff, 17-year-old 1944 graduate of Manual Arts High School holds the distinction of being the first colored student to win and receive the coveted scholarship offered annually by the famous Otis Art Institute, for superiority in drawing and painting. Starting next semester, the ambitious and gifted young artist, who has unusual ability and originality in creation, will take advanced studies in life delineation. He plans to make it his life's profession.

A number of Goff's canvases are on exhibition in the Leopard Room in Hollywood, and have attracted the attention of many art lovers and critics. The other winner of the two scholarships offered each year was a white classmate of Goff, Wayne Bush.

Private Lee Bowman Came Back for Second To Please the Ladies

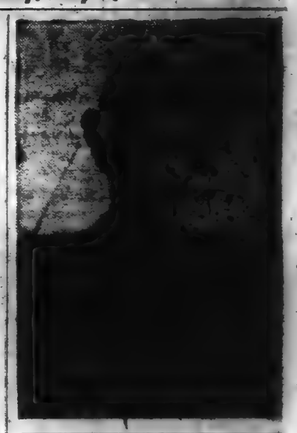
SOMEWHERE IN ITALY (delayed).—A tall ex-football end from City College, Los Angeles ('39 and '40), Pvt. Lee Napoleon Bowman who is serving with a quartermaster outfit over here that services the supply lines of the Fifth Army, earned a bit of distinction when he managed to head the line-up for "seconds" when Rose Bush of Philadelphia and Lois Berney of Fallon, Nevada, Red Cross workers, appeared with sinkers and coffee on a recent cold night.

Bowman's outfit performs a variety of vital services, not the least among which are the meals which they cook for Generals, and the hot meals which they deliver via mule back to soldiers isolated at frontal spearhead points.

It was like carrying coals to Newcastle when the American Red Cross girls reversed the proceedings and carried doughnuts and coffee to the forgotten quartermasters, but Bowman was equal to the occasion and he consumed his first helping with dispatch to return for a second helping as a flattering gesture to the ladies of the Red Cross.

Richard Wright Gets Critics' Praise for His New Novelette

Book critics throughout the country are lauding Richard Wright's novelette, "The Man Who Lived Underground," published in "Cross-Section," the collection of new American writing edited by Edwin Seaver. "The Man Who Lived Underground" is Mr. Wright's first work of fiction since "Native Son."



Two other notable stories by Negro writers are included in "Cross-Section"—"Flying Home" by Ralph Ellison, a striking story about a Negro flier, and "Low Sky" by Carl Ruthven Offord, a story about New York's Harlem.

In addition, "Cross-Section" also presents poetry by Langston Hughes, several stories about Negro life — "Trouble Keeping Quiet" by Leonard Wallace Robinson, "Oak Shadows" by John D. Weaver, and a full length play by Paul Peters, of "Stevedore" fame, "Nat Turner," a moving drama based on the life of the great Negro rebel.

In his introduction to the book Mr. Seavers states: "An astonishing number of manuscripts received for "Cross-Section" had to do with racial injustice in this country, specifically wth what we call the "Negro problem" when we want to avoid being troubled about it unduly. These manuscripts came from both Negro and white authors."

South Carolina First State to Exceed Goal

NEW YORK, N. Y.—On the basis of membership goals assigned individual branches in the nationwide campaign for 500,000 new members, South Carolina is the first state to exceed its quota. At the State Conference recently held at Sumter, more than 10,000 new members were reported. According to representatives of 14 out of 19 branches, the total will exceed the original quota by 100 per cent. In this activity, the greatest in years, South Carolina takes the lead among states of the Deep South.

LIKES FT. HUACHUCA—Capt. Mildred Osby, WAC Detachment commanding officer at Fort Sheridan, Ill., was greatly impressed with Fort Huachuca on her recent visit. Capt. Osby is from Chicago, Ill.

Pride either finds a desert or makes one; submission cannot tame its ferocity, nor satiety fill its voracity, and it requires very costly food—its keeper's happiness.

INVASION MEDITATION

The need for prayer is greater now that our boys are invading enemy territory. Death is certain for some, while wounds will make others life-time cripples.

Pray for these boys that they will hasten the liberation so that they may come back home to enjoy peace and goodwill toward all mandkind.

Not however, a selfish prayer, for we can not pray for ours, and forget the needs or sorrow of others. We must share this great burden together in order to achieve everlasting peace for all.

Prayer goes hand in hand with faith ,for it we believe in God and what prayer will do for us, we KNOW that everything will be all right.

R.T. Dear Prof Herman: Since I have been using your products, I have found peace of mind and happiness. I am telling my friends about you and your wonderful work. Look forward for another order from me soon.

E.W.B. Will I have success?

Ans. Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate that you will have a successful trip when you go to New York. Your son will be glad to see you, and this change will help you.

M.T. Does He love me?

Ans. I find that you are doubting your husband's love because of his actions, but after a careful study of your problem, it comes to me that your husband loves you, and wants you to be happy. He is planning a surprise for you, which will make you happy.

D.R. What become of my money?

Ans. I vision the money in one of your old handbags. You misplaced it in a moment of confusion.

S.S. Will we ever marry?

Ans. According to your Zodiac, marriage may be the result of your friendship with this man, and you will find the love and happiness you so desire.

T.S. Dear Sir: I have been wearing the Hindu Charm and Luck Bag, and my luck has improved considerably. I don't know how to thank you Prof. Herman for all you have done for me. Your advice has guided me to such an extent, that I will always come to you with my problems.

M.T. What should I do?

Ans: You are wondering whether you should undertake marriage again, because your first one did not work out so well. Do not let this first failure stop you from enjoying life, my friend. It does not mean that other marriages will prove to be the same. This marriage you are contemplating will give you the companionship and love you so justly deserve, so make your plans for your future marriage.

M.H. What does the future hold for me?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question, I find that your future life will be one of continued happiness and success, because you are the type of person that will go forward to accomplish your desires. A FAIR QUESTION

HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

Give This Some Thought, My Good Friends

Yes—I insure homes too, at the same rate. You can't but agree with me! Then, Call Me

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR SELLING

1. Be Agreeable. If your voice is disagreeable and your manner of speech indistinct, see specialists, and remember, I like to be sunny, but I don't want to get freckles.
2. Know your goods. And when you tell me anything, talk plainly. Most salesmen lack imagination. They cannot conceive of the extent of my ignorance.
3. Don't Argue. When you argue with a man, you are trying to push him. He may be weak and pretend to be convinced. Overnight he will change.
4. Make it plain. Get a grasp on the fellow with whom you are talking. Do not get out that little book that will only puzzle him. Answer his questions without looking at your books, charts and tables.
5. Tell the truth. By the law of average, honesty gives the greatest profits. If you are working for a concern where you cannot tell the truth, quit and go elsewhere.
6. Be dependable. If you tell a man you are going to do a thing, do it if it costs a leg.
7. Remember names and faces. Don't call me Green when my name is Crane. I am sensitive about my name. Don't call me Mister if my title is Doctor. Don't call me Colonel, Major.
8. Don't be egotistical. I am. You must not be. Don't show off. You came to sell me something, not to make a good impression. Magnify my ego, not yours.
9. Think success. Radiate prosperity. Do not mention calamities, dirges, operations, funerals. Be a Pollyanna—without however, being a bore.
10. Be human. If the company merely wanted to disseminate information, they would use a catalog—not you.

New Book, "What the Negro Wants," Comes Off Press August 26

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—"What the Negro Wants" is the title of a book which was written at the request of the University of North Carolina Press and is scheduled to come from the press on August 26. (300 pages, 5½" by 8½"). The idea back of the request for such a book was that the country, and particularly the South, ought to know what the Negro wants, and that statements from outstanding Negroes might throw light on this important question.

This book is edited by Rayford W. Logan and includes articles or chapters by Leslie Pinckney Hill, W. E. B. DuBois, Willard S. Townsend, Charles H. Wesley, Frederick D. Patterson, Doxey A. Wilkerson, Gordon B. Hancock, Mary McLeod Bethune, George S. Schuyler, Langston Hughes, Roy Wilkins, A. Philip Randolph, Sterling A. Brown, Rayford W. Logan, and Ira De A. Reid.

SOME OF THE ANSWERS

By Your War Job Counsellor

MANPOWER FOR VICTORY!

(This official government release is a part of the War Manpower recruiting program of the UNITED STATES EMPLOYMENT SERVICE of the WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION.)

"Whether you're using a machine gun or a rivet gun, you have to have rhythm." That's the explanation one of the Champion women riveters at a local aircraft plant gives for the amazing record she and her partner established of 104 rivets in 120 seconds.

Only one short year ago they were "green" beginners; yet today, their smooth, effortless movements make them challenge any women riveters to equal their score.

Without labor-saving, time-cutting "knacks" or "tricks" American production would not have been able to achieve its present all-time peak. Production superintendents are unanimous in their approval of suggestions that conserve motion, coordinate tasks properly and increase the amount of finished products without increasing the amount of work.

One seamstress makes uniforms for war workers. Her speed is astounding. "I just imagine I'm doing an old-fashioned square dance to "Turkey in the Straw," she explains. "It makes me work three times faster."

Whether it's riveting bomb bay doors, sewing war worker uniforms, assembling fuse boxes or sorting machined parts, rhythm helps get the work done faster and more efficiently.

All men and women who are now engaged in essential work would do well to get into the "rhythm" of the war movement through their nearest USES office. Job specialists at these offices will help them find jobs which are best fitted to their interests and abilities.

THE NEGRO

By Wendell L. Willkie

EDITORS' NOTE: The following is another in a series of seven articles by Wendell L. Willkie written at the request of the New York Herald Tribune, the Boston Herald, the Minneapolis Star Journal and Tribune, the Des Moines Register and Tribune, the Portland Oregonian and the San Francisco Chronicle.

Under the leadership of Lincoln, in the fires of Civil War, the Republican Party's struggle to save the Union was transposed into the great moral issue of human freedom. By the Emancipation Proclamation and by amendments to the Federal Constitution, under Republican leadership, the Negro was legally and constitutionally guaranteed exactly the same rights as every other citizen of the United States.

It is therefore strange that Republicans, year after year, yield to the old states rights argument and a narrow interpretation of federal power, to prevent the passage of federal statutes which constitute the only practical method by which the Negro's rights can be assured him.

BASIC RIGHT TO VOTE

One of these basic rights is the right to vote. Another is the right to live free of the haunting fear and the too-frequent actuality of mob violence.

The first can be guaranteed, under the circumstances existing today, only by a federal statute eliminating state poll taxes and other arbitrary prohibitions against the free exercise of the voting franchise, the other only by a federal statute making the crime of lynching tryable in federal courts and punishable by federal law.

The Republican Party in its platform and in the declarations of its candidates should commit itself unequivocally and specifically to federal anti-poll tax and anti-lynching statutes.

The Negro people of the United States understandably refuse to accept the technical arguments against cloture in the debates on anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bills, or even the sincere claims of constitutionalism which prevent such just measures from becoming law.

And the very fact that the Republican Party was the instrumentality through which the Negroes were given freedom makes them the more resentful that it should join in acts which prevent them from obtaining the substance of freedom.

WILL NOT BE SATISFIED

Nor will they be satisfied by the counsels of patience and the assurances of kindly men that progress has been made, that eventually, through fair treatment and cooperative effort, Negroes will, in some distant day obtain the rights which the Constitution itself guarantees to them.

No one who has not stopped seeing and thinking could have missed the events of the past few years that have drawn together thirteen million Americans—one tenth of the nation—into a determined purposeful unit.

In that time Negroes have known the bitter humiliation of seeing their men and women, eager to serve in the nation's armed forces, excluded from some branches of the service or often relegated to menial jobs in the branches to which they have been admitted.

They have witnessed the ugly and tragic results of race hatred and riots. They have known the brief security of good jobs at decent wages, while their help was needed in order to make the tools of war, only to be filled with deep anxiety for fear that in the readjustments of peace they will be shuffled off into unemployment and poverty.

WANT POLITICAL DEMOCRACY

At the same time, from the battlefields of Italy to the gold-star homes here in America, they have learned that there is nothing more democratic than a bullet or a splinter of steel. They want now to see some political democracy as well.

Millions of them distrust the Democratic Party which for years has deprived the Negro of his right to vote in Atlanta while seeking his vote as the friend of his race in Harlem.

But in view of the economic advances and social gains which have come to Negroes during the past twelve years, they will not leave that party for vague assurances of future action expressed in pious platitudes, or for a 1944 version of the states rights doctrine, or even for procedures which, however, legally correct, in practical effect indefinitely postpone correction of sore and desperate abuses.

Negro leaders are alert and educated and sophisticated. They know that their problem is a part of the world-wide struggle for human freedom. For their people they ask only their rights—rights to which they are entitled. The Constitution does not provide for first and second class citizens.

DUE EDUCATION

They are entitled to the same opportunity to acquire an education—an education of the same quality—as that given to other citizens.

They should receive the same per capita expenditure of public moneys for schools, housing, health and hospitalization as is allotted to other citizens.

Their right to work must equal that of any citizen and their reward should be the same as the reward of any other citizen for the same job.

Their economic opportunity should not be limited by their color.

And last, they should have the right of every citizen to fight for his country in any branch of her armed services without discrimination and with equality of opportunity.

These are merely rights that the Negro of our communities is entitled to share with other citizens. Republicans should see to it that he gets them. For all of these reasonable demands are consistent with the very principles upon which the Republican Party was founded.

All of them are a part of the freedom for which men of every color and race are dying. Our adoption or rejection of them will be the test of our sincerity and of our moral leadership in the eyes of hundreds of millions all over the world.

Police Safety Efforts Showing Good Results

Following the encouraging reduction in traffic deaths and injuries during the month of May, which established a 20-year record, police today revealed that the trend is continuing downward through the month of June.

Statistics show that 20 persons met death in traffic accidents during the first 27 days of June, compared with 22 for the same period in 1943—a decrease of 9.1 per cent.

The total number of persons injured in traffic for the like period this year was 812. During the first 27 days of June, 1943, 973 persons received traffic hurts, representing a 16.5 per cent reduction for this year.

The men are: Curtis L. Simmons, 35, 1812 McAllister St., Los Angeles, Calif.; Nelson Williams, Jr., 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Williams, Sr., 2113 O'Farrell St., San Francisco, Calif.

In The Deep South

By Dr. J. B. F. Shaw

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Natchez, Miss. has a larger colored than white population, and Dr. Dumas senior, is one of the wealthiest men in town. He owns on the main street downtown business after business building and lives in a big mansion that would make you think you were in Hollywood to look at it. Besides, he is the inventor of more than one patent gadget used in surgery.

During the recent Republican rule of the country, there were colored postmasters in Mississippi as follows: Rev. Mr. Watson at Pearlington; L. J. Piernas of Bay St. Louis; Thomas I. Keys of Ocean Springs; Mr. Perkin's, Edwards; James Hill at Vicksburg, then the largest city in the state, and the famous Mrs. Minnie Cox of Indianola, who was so stubbornly and persistently appointed by the great Theodore Roosevelt; while Thomas V. McAllister of Vicksburg was receiver of public moneys.

As late as 1883, far out of the Reconstruction Period, John R. Lynch represented the State in the Lower House of the nation's Congress, and Isaiah T. Montgomery, founder of the colored town of Mound Bayou, was a member of the State Constitutional Convention of 1890.

NOT IGNORANT

The books, colleges and universities that teach the youth of this generation that those Southern colored political leaders were ignorant and unlearned men make a totalitarian error. Hiram R. Revels the United States Senator from Mississippi was a master of arts from Knox College in Illinois; and James Lynch, secretary of state was a graduate of the University of Vermont, and all the educational and political leaders of that day were men of honor, education, culture and refinement.

One of the colored Representatives in Congress from South Carolina was an Oxford graduate. Remember, I am an eye witness; many of those leaders I have seen and known; I am a native of Mississippi. John R. Lynch was the author of "Slavery and Reconstruction," perhaps the best written book in that field, while James Lynch ranks with the great Sargent S. Prentiss as a political orator.

Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical College, whose President, William Henry Bell, a Northwestern University master of arts, ranks easily among the best half-dozen State Land Great Colleges for colored people in the United States.

Atlanta University and Fisk give accredited and recognized degrees of master of arts, and a walk across the campus of Dillard University in New Orleans, State College at Nashville, and Bennett College for women at Greensboro, N. C., would make you wonder whether you were visiting the University of California at Los Angeles or the University of Southern California.

ACCREDITED

All the institutions listed below do A-grade and B-grade work accredited and recognized anywhere in the nation:

Atlanta University, Atlanta University School of Social Work, Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Clark College, Atlanta; Dillard University, New Orleans; Fisk University, Nashville; Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta; Hampton Institute, Howard University, Samuel Huston College, Austin, Texas; Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn.; Lane College, Jackson, Tenn.; LeMoyne College, here in Memphis; Lincoln University, Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C.; Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark.; Morris Brown College, Atlanta; Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C.; Spelman College, Atlanta; Texas College, Tyler, Texas; Tillston College, Austin Texas; Tougaloo College, Mississippi; Tuskegee Institute, Virginia Union University, Wiley College, Marshall, Texas; and Morehouse College, Atlanta.

All of these schools with only two exceptions are in the South.

Last night I witnessed the graduating exercises of one of our beauty schools here in Memphis, whose students come from Ohio, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee.

These students must do sixteen hundred hours of study and class-room practice and take a rigid examination under the state board of cosmetology. There were twenty-five graduates, all of whom passed the examination of the board this year. One of these graduates, Mrs. Beatrice Smith, is totally deaf and dumb.

The address of the class was made by Miss Lucy Campbell, a long time teacher in the Booker T. Washington High School—Miss Campbell, who is the author of spiritual and devotional songs that are sung by worshippers throughout the nation — Miss Campbell, a native of Mississippi, a director of music for the National Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress, and director of music for the Central Baptist Church here in Memphis—the author of songs such as "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "Heavenly Sunshine," "Something Within," "He'll Understand" and say "Well Done," "Just to Behold His Face," and "Touch Me Lord Jesus,"—songs that will never die.

BEAT THE HEAT

During these scorching summer days, even if you're lucky enough to find a grassy spot in the shade, even the cool breeze is not going to ease the smarting heat rash, prickly heat, or itch of mosquito bites. But with Mexsana, the soothing, medicated powder, you can get relief from these hot weather miseries.

Yes, Mexsana can help you as it has millions of others. Just sprinkle it over your irritated skin and you'll be amazed at how quickly it soothes as it eases the itch right out of mosquito bites or sunburn. And if you're miserable from tormenting heat rash you'll find Mexsana promptly soothes the itch and burn. You see Mexsana often helps prevent heat rash as it has a special base that absorbs moisture on the skin, often the cause of the rash.

First Aid for Families

No wonder Mexsana is a favorite with all the family from Grandma to Junior. Mexsana can really protect your irritated skin against rubbing of collars, girdles and other clothing. And that goes for baby too.

For Mexsana not only guards against painful chafe irritation but it eases the sting and burn of diaper rash and actually helps prevent it. It contains ingredients often used by specialists to relieve these discomforts.

So do as millions have done for over 40 years. Keep Mexsana always handy as a hot weather first-aid for everyone in your home. It costs so little, even in the larger sizes, you'll want to get some right now . . . and help your family beat the heat of these miseries with Mexsana.

"NEGROES are shedding blood on every battlefield in this war. Blood is red regardless of who sheds it just as guns are guns regardless of who hold them. We've got to have guns to defend our country, and we've all, everyone of us, got to help buy those guns with War Bonds." This statement was made by Robert Smith, Los Angeles Navy Steward who has seen service in nine major battles.

We salute our Commander-in-Chief, President Franklin D. Roosevelt for his acceptance to serve us as leader for the coming four years. Mr. President, we have abiding faith in your sincerity and your ability and, above all, your faith in the people; and may we say, the people will not let you down.

As the voice of the Negro people, Sire, may I say we read history with our hearts, not with our lips. We have long since learned that lip service starts and stops with the lips. The heart is something indescribable, something within. We have watched your every move in and out of the White House. We believe that if the whole power was vested in you, you would make this country a united nation.

We are on the battlefields fighting. We are at the Blood Banks offering our blood; and we are helping to build the ships and planes. But too often our hands are tied and our feet shackled, hampering our efforts as skilled and unskilled workmen because certain individuals insist upon practices of segregation and discrimination in our war industries.

None of this shall discourage us. None of this shall turn us aside from the path that leads to the chosen goal—a complete victory over our foes, Hitler and Hirohito.

We are mindful of the fact that the Fair Employment Practices Committee was a step in the right direction guided into being by a man who realizes that victory rests, not alone in conquering the enemies of democracy in Germany and Japan, but likewise in the United States. There should be no political football played by either Republicans or Democrats in the matter of making the F.E.P.C. permanent. It was conceived in the idea of permanency and dedicated to the cause of freedom for the workers of the world.

Hence the allocation of $500,000 for the Fair Employment Practices Committee is a limited victory

$3000 Needed for Action Against Boilermakers

Committee Plans Court Action for Full Recognition

By Walter Williams

Members of the Shipyard Workers Committee For Equal Participation are determined to carry the fight to eliminate the Jim Crow A F L Boilmakers Auxiliary Union Policy to the Supreme Court of California. This determination has grown from the encouraging support which the committee has received from community business men, leaders, organizations and churches, during the past week, and throughout the long struggle for full union rights.

A campaign to raise $3000 which will be needed to cover court costs and attorney fees has been launched by the committee, and attorney Ben Margolis, one of the legal representatives, left for San Francisco this week in order to participate in the State Supreme Court hear-

Youree Dugan, 1124½ East 43rd Street, attractive actress, received an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Allie J. Dugan, in Department 12 of the Superior Court last Tuesday, July 11th, after Judge William B. McKesson had heard testimony from Mrs. Dugan and her witness, Maggie Hathaway Fleming, also an actress.

DRUNKEN RACES

Both young women testified that Dugan in fits of drunken rage tore up furniture in the household of the parties and at one time threatened to attack Mrs. Dugan with an ax. Testimony was also given that Dugan, at the time of the divorce trial, was lodged in the County Jail on a fifteen day intoxication charge. Mrs. Dugan was represented by Attorney Walter L. Maid and Porter Refused Service After Accident

Had to Walk 3 Blocks to Find A Colored Cafe

Even in the emergency created by the wreck on July 3, of the Santa Fe train, the head of Jim Crow was not bowed, for following the tragedy, Miss Lula Dunham and one of the eight Negro Porters on the train No. 19 were denied food at the only nearby cafe in Williams, Arizona, the scene of the accident. The Dining Car had been demolished, and the maid and the porter refused service at the Black Cat Cafe, had to walk three blocks to a cafe owned by Negroes to secure any food so that they might continue their work of making the passengers comfortable.

What might be termed a mere coincidence by the unknowing saved Miss Dunham from death in the wreck. Miss Dunham, however, attributes her miraculous escape to a "guiding Providence." A maid for the Santa Fe Railway for the past 16 years, Miss Dunham was on duty on the crack passenger train due in Los Angeles the morning of July 4. At 8:30 p.m. the previous evening her services were required by a woman passenger BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The 57th annual session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of the State of Alabama, closed here late Wednesday, June 28, after one of the most successful and largely attended sessions in its history.

The Grand Lodge was called to order on the sixth floor of the Pythian Temple, 310 N. 18th street, at 10 o'clock a.m. Tuesday, June 27, with Oscar W. Adams, Grand Chancellor, presiding. Army after having spent 18 months in the genito-urinary department of the station hospital at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. He was the only Negro doctor attached to that hospital and examined and treated thousands of inductees there. Dr. Robinson is a graduate of the University of California and trained while serving nia and interned at the Los Angeles County General Hospital. He practiced in this city prior to entering the Army and his many friends and former patients will be glad to know that he is back, ready, willing and able to serve them.

DENIED FOOD AFTER SANTA FE WRECK—Mrs. Lula Dunham, who has been employed as a maid on the Santa Fe Railway for sixteen years, and who charges that she was denied service in a nearby cafe which she entered after aiding many of the injured following the recent Santa Fe train wreck in which she was seriously injured.

John Kinloch Now On Invasion Front

News was received this week of the appointment of the California Eagle's former Managing Editor, PFC John Kinloch, to the Public Relations post of his unit, "Somewhere in England." PFC Kinloch is with the 557th Port Company, and from all indications participated in the Invasion.

The California Eagle is eagerly awaiting first hand reports of the war which will be sent from the battle front by PFC Kinloch. His column has not appeared for several weeks because of the mail delay due to the invasion.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Several Negro groups in Philadelphia, working in cooperation with the Philadelphia War Finance committee, are campaigning to sell $275,000 in War Bonds to finance the cost of a $125,000 ambulance plane and two $75,000 Thunderbolt fighter-bombers, according to a report to the Treasury Department this week.

"This is the first time that Philadelphia Negroes have been identified with specific objectives in their war loan activities," said Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds, chairman of the groups.

We will take our millions away,
We'll buy Bonds in another state

Extension Granted In 'Lower 13' Case

A faint glimmer of hope shone through in the "lower 13" case this week when the Oregon Court granted an 11-day extension to the time for filing a petition for a rehearing in the case of Robert Lee Folkes, convicted as the slayer of a Navy Ensign's bride.

The conviction resulted when Folkes was accused and subsequently brought to trial for murder after the woman, Mrs. Bertha Virginia James was found in her birth on a Southern Pacific passenger train with her throat cut.

With the extension granted, the petition must be filed by Friday, July 21, instead of July 10 which was the original date set, after the Court by a 5-to-2 decision had affirmed the previous conviction.

Robeson Greets DeGaulle; Colonial Freedom Is Urged

NEW YORK, N. Y.—On the day of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's arrival in Washington, July 6, Paul Robeson, chairman of the Council on African Affairs, and others associated with him in planning a memorial meeting in honor of the late Governor-General Felix Evoue, telegraphed a message of greeting to the President of the Provisional Government of the French Republic.

The message lauded the "progressive measures and outlook for the French colonies" which have taken shape under the Free administration, and declared: "We look to France to play a prominent role in the fulfillment of the democratic aims of the United Nations with respect to the colonial peoples of Africa and other areas."

NAACP Membership Drive Has 78% of Its Goal

With total reports adding up to $7,805.50 having been made to date, the NAACP Membership Campaign has achieved 78 percent of the national quota mark, it was announced this week by Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, president of the local branch and director of the membership drive.

The total reported already exceeds the amount raised last year, which was considered the best in the history of the branch. Six individual Life Memberships were reported at Tuesday night's meeting, and one Life Membership was taken by Holland Lodge, 20, A. F. and A. M. The Life Memberships are acquired by the payment of $100 cash with additional $100 payments to be made until the full amount is reached.

Mrs. Emma Spencer, leader of the Watts Area District, holds a comfortable lead over other supervisors with 52 per cent of her assigned quota of $2,500 already in.

NIP AND TUCK

A nip and tuck competition has developed between Clarence O. English, supervisor of the Westside Area and Clarence S. Smith, supervisor of the Eastside Area. The latest returns show the Westside reporting $2,126.40 and the Eastside reporting $2,088.

With 18 days remaining before the drive comes to a close, it is confidently expected that the intensified activity of the supervisors in all sections will result in having the final totals exceed the quota.

since the status of the F.E.P.C. is still undefined. What we must have is a permanent committee with adequate funds and enforcement powers which the Los Angeles Railway Company would respect.

Los Angeles is swinging into action. Chairman Malcolm Ross announced this week that the committee has scheduled a public hearing to be held in Los Angeles August 8-9 to examine numerous complaints filed with the committeee alleging employment practices in violation of the Executive Order by the Los Angeles Railway Company. The complaints, said Mr. Ross, charge that the company refuses to employ Negroes and members of other minority groups in certain categories of work because of their race or national origin.

Mr. Ross further states that the Committee is going ahead negotiating with the company to make if possible the hearing unnecessary.

The prompt response by our churches in coming to the financial aid of the Boilermakers in their legal battle to drive out Jim Crow in the Boilermakers' Union No. 92 lends hope and revitalizes our faith in the peoples' ability to pressure the Los Angeles Railway into using all available manpower regardless of national origin to do the job which it has the sole responsibility in Los Angeles of doing — getting the right man to the right job on time so that production may not for one minute be disrupted.

We are emerging victors on the blood drenched battlefronts of Europe. In order to win on the home front we must pull ourselves out of the mire of internal strife, race hatreds, and color prejudices. Then, and only then, will we sing together, work together, and live together —one nation of the world of nations.

action necessary toward realization of total peace in the post-war world for minorities, will be the main concern of all speakers and discussion leaders.

C., Bureau NAACP; Rev. Maynard Jackson, president, Progressive Voters League, Dallas, Texas; Judge William H. Hastie, former Civilian Aide to Secretary of War Stimson.

29th Spingarn Medal

Before an anticipated Sunday mass meeting crowd of 30,000, Dr. Earnest R. Hooten, eminent anthropologist of Harvard University, will present the 29th Spingarn Medal to Dr. Charles R. Drew, professor of surgery at Howard University College of Medicine.

This year's medallist won the coveted award for outstanding work in blood plasma and the establishment of the blood bank in Presbyterian Hospital in New York City, later a model for the current system of blood banks used by the American Red Cross.

son drew a gun at 38th Street and Central Avenue after having been ordered to surrender and that he fired as Jackson backed away with the gun in his hand.

Jackson, however, took the stand in his own defense and denied the officer's story and stated that he was in the act of giving the gun to the officer who had demanded it when the officer suddenly lost his head and fired, the bullet striking Jackson in the leg.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Will Stay At His Post

"....I have as little right to withdraw as the soldier has to leave his post in the line." With these words, Franklin Delano Roosevelt submitted to the request of an overwhelming number of the American people and announced his decision to serve again at the him of the Ship of State during the most momentous times in history.

Facing one of the bitterest campaigns that is has been the lot of any presidential candidate encounter, President Roosevelt has given to history some of the greatest records of statesmanship and courageous leadership ever shown.

It was his unwavering stand against aggression that bolstered the determination of England during the days of Hitler's blitzkreig triumphs. It was his clear-sighted vison that dramatized the tremendous resources of his native land into ships and planes and guns which saved the hopes of the world when hope was sorely needed.

Against this record of leadership and courage there will be opposed the reactionary hopes of the angry politicians in the nation. Only the people want his leadership. It was in answer to the call of the people that he said: "... I have as little right to withdraw as the soldier has to leave his post in the line."

Applicants must be between 18 and 50 years of age, American citizens, with high school education of its equivalent, and be of good health. Nurse's Aides are required to give a minimum of 300 hours service a year, averaging a day per week. Interview appointment calls may be made by calling Fitzroy 5261, Extension64 or 65.

Food Denied Negroes

in room No. 199. Miss Dunham arranged the passenger's hair, administered to her other needs, and made her comfortable for the night. The woman, who expressed a nervousness, then asked the maid to give her a bath. Only the fact that her services were immediately required by an elderly woman, who had been placed in her care prevented the maid from complying with this request. Miss Dunham had just left the coach when the wreck occurred, instantly killing the woman she had just served. Following more than two hours of unconsciousness, Miss Dunham worked throughout the night administering to the needs of the passengers as best she could in her weakened state. It was only when she could continue no longer that she attempted to get some food in an effort to continue her services. The Dining Car had been demolished and the maid and the porter being refused food at the nearby cafe had to walk three blocks in their weakened state.

Miss Dunham, who live when in Los Angeles, at 159 E. 47th street, is still under the care of a doctor. Although her heroic services to the other passengers, while injured herself, have gone unmentioned in all notices of the incident, she personally received the undying gratitude of those she assisted.

The last words of the train's engineer were probably to Mrs. Dunham who found him lying with his head in a pool of hot oil while he was still conscious. His, "Thank you, maid, but I won't make it," were the only words he spoke before he died.

Final Services Held For Mrs. U. J. Long

PASADENA.—The funeral of Mrs. Ursula J. Long, mother of Mrs. Savannah Reed, was held last Thursday morning at Friendship Baptist Church with the Rev. W. D. Carter officating.

Shipyard Workers

ings involving Negro shipyard workers in the Bay Area.

Prominent among these whose contributions will assist the committee to continue the struggle against Jim Crow, is the Rev. Raymond J. Henderson, pastor of the second Baptist Church, who has been a consistent supporter of the campaign, and whose congregation made a contribution of $100 last Sunday for the continuance of the committee's work.

Rueben Snadow, manager of several theatres in the community, made an outstanding contribution last Sunday night when he permitted the committee to make an appeal to the audience of the Bill Robinson theatre which netted $71 for the defense fund. Mr. Snadow has promised further cooperation with the committee.

Sizeable contributions were also received from the Rev. Lane C. Cleaves, pastor of Phillips Temple CME Church, and the Rev. E. W. Rokestraw, pastor of Wesley ME Church.

The Rev. Clayton D. Russell who has actively participated in the fight which the committee is waging from the very beginning, plans to give his support to the fund raising drive.

TIRELESS HELP

The committee is deeply appreciative of the tireless cooperation it has received from Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of the California Eagle who has left no stone unturned in her determination to assist the Negro shipyard workers in their fight to become regular members of Boilmakers Local 92 and to abolish Jim Crow Auxiliary A-35.

The Shipyard Workers' Committee meetings are held every Thursday night at 8:00 p.m., and every Sunday afternoon at 3:15 p.m. at the 28th Street YMCA, 28th and Paloma. All shipyard workers are urged to come out and help in the fight to get full union participation for all without regard to race, creed or color.

Letters of appreciation will be sent to every one who contributes to the campaign fund.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

I saw a placid lake beside a knobby hill,
Without a ripple to disturb the still
Of perfect, quiet peace:
If it were mine to know life's fondest dream
Come true, I'd pitch a tent beside this stream,
And rest 'till troubles cease!

A FIRST LIEUTENANT

Though I am a little late with the news, someone who saw our own Alfred Darby in New York a few weeks ago, wrote me that he has been promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant — our best wishes go with you always, Lt. Darby.

Mr. Darby is a member of one of Los Angeles "first families," and up until the time he was called to the colors, was a real, progressive force among the younger set of the city. He is also one of the few individuals of our race to hold a Phi Beta Kappa distinction.

THEY COME AND GO

Eagle columnist, Jeanette Cohen, is now enroute to her home state, good old New York, so we'll be missing her in person . . . but don't become alarmed, her weekly column, "As I See It," which is one of the most popular columns in our paper, will continue to appear. Her many ardent fans, I know, will be glad to hear this.

Mrs. Mae Clarence Muse, charming wife of actor Clarence Muse, is enroute to Los Angeles, after an extended Eastern tour. While in New York and other points East, she was entertained by Mrs. Fannie Robinson, Mrs. Bessie Buchanan, Mrs. Paul Robeson, and many more of her good friends.

And one of the city's most dynamic forces, in the person of Clarence Johnson, will leave soon to take up his new duties in Washington, D. C., which appointment he received recently.

Mrs. Beatrice Prentice, who left the city two weeks ago, is now visiting with her sister-in-law in Little Rock, Ark. She plans to visit in Topeka, Kansas, Des Moines, Iowa, Kansas City Missouri, Chicago, Illinois, and attend the National Baptist Convention, before returning to Los Angeles in September.

A very charming WAC from Fort Huachuca, Pfc. Anna Jones, was a visitor in the city last week. While here, Miss Jones was squired about the city by Mr. Marion Mann, the genial manager of Victory Market No. 3. Mr. Mann, it seems, is always "on time" to meet the lovely female visitors, and when he attempts to show them a good time, he really proves that he knows how.

Sidney Dones, familiar business figure of Los Angeles, has just returned from his Eastern trip and reports a very pleasant stay.

Mrs. Easter Swifty, faithful member of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, and member of the Deaconess Board, has left the city for a vacation trip to points South and East.

Mt. Zion's pastor, the Rev. F. H. Prentice, has returned from Birmingham, Alabama, where he attended the Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress. He will fill his pulpit on Sunday.

MUSICAN MAKING GOOD IN ARMY

T/5 Austin McCoy, popular leader of the Post Swing Band at Fort Huachuca has been appointed to the special training school at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. This particular institution, which for years has catered only to the blue bloods of staid Virginia's first families, was the scene of quite a furore, last fall, when for the first time in history, four Negroes were allowed to sit in its classrooms. Mr. McCoy is a talented musician, and was formerly located in Music Town on West Jefferson Boulevard.

ATTORNEY RICHARDSON ELECTED TO POST

The newly elected commander of the Benjamin J. Bowie Post of the American Legion is our efficient and energetic Attorney H. Leonard Richardson, who during the short time he has been in the city has established an enviable record. Attorney Richardson will be officially installed next week.

WESTSIDE WIDOWS CLUB

You and your friends will enjoy the Patriot Hospitality reception which is being sponsored by the Westside Widows Club on Sunday afternoon at 1937 So. Hobart Boulevard, from 3:00 to 7:00 o'clock. I say this because my good friend, Mrs. Louise A. Cook, is again chairman of this affair — and any social event which she has anything to do with, usually turns out to be something worthwhile. Mrs. Cora Frye, the president, and the other members of the club, invite you to be present. The gathering will be very informal.

TO SAY "I DO'S" SUNDAY

Well, Sunday afternoon will be a great day in the lives of charming Jacqueline Booker and popular Bob Carroll, dental assistant to Dr. H. Claude Hudson . . . for these two fine young people will become Mr. and Mrs. then. The bride-to-be has been royally entertained by her many friends during the past few days. Her mother and father, uncle and aunt, have arrived from San Antonio for the event.

On last Sunday afternoon, Miss Pernella Smith entertained in her lovely 43rd Street apartment in honor of Miss Booker.

CONGRATULATIONS . . .

To Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smart, of 2245 West 30th Street, on the birth of a lovely baby girl, July 5, at Queen of Angels Hospital. At the suggestion of the Smart's other little daughter, the baby was named Lynndle. THERE IS A VICTORY HOUSE in our community now. It is located at 45th and Central . . . so don't forget to BUY BONDS, and stamps to help the Allied cause. Until next week, 'bye.

WON BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE—Pictured above is charming Miss Jessie Juanita McDaniel who plans to take a well-earned vacation after a strenuous year of studying at UCLA where she was awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree at the recent commencement exercises. Miss McDaniel also received Public Health Nursing credentials at her graduation, marking the first time this award has been made to a Negro. While on the campus she served as treasurer of the Public Health group and assisted with the student health program. She is associated with the National Nurses Honorary Sorority, local and national health organizations and is active in Alpha Gamma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Beautiful Reception Given In Honor Of Mrs. Anne Fentress Green Recently

Several hundred Angelenos came "to meet" Mrs. Anne Fentress Green of Tuskegee and Birmingham Sunday of last week at the spacious manse of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cullen Fentress, 3621 South Van Ness Avenue.

Mrs. Fentress and Miss Clara B. Fentress were hostesses of the reception which was one of the most beautiful of the year.

Carrying out the patriotic motif of Fourth of July together with a profusion of seasonal flowers, genuine friendliness and conviviality pervaded the atmosphere throughout the early evening.

In the erceiving line were J. Cullen Fentress, brother of the honoree; Mrs. Fentress, sister-in-law; the honoree; Miss Clara B. Fentress, sister; Mrs. Clara B. Fentress, mother; Prof. and Mrs. Newell Eason of Shaw University; and Mr. and Mrs. John Tinsley.

Assisting the hostesses were Mesdames Lola Beavers, Jessica Ravarre, Vivian Hall, Daisy Brooks, Hazel Whitaker Moore, Marcia Fortier, Lula B. Evans, Misses Lois Evans, Maxine Clark, Leonelle Hutton, Ethel Boykin and Eleanor Lee.

Mrs. Green, the honoree, was lovely in blue jersey and chiffon. Mrs. J. Cullen Fentress was attired in blue chiffon and lace. Miss Clara Fentress was gowned in beige lace and chiffon. Mrs. Eason wore pink net and lace. Mrs. Clara B. Fentress was striking in black crepe, while black crepe and accessories was the ensemble of Mrs. Tinsley. All the ladies in the receiving line wore orchids.

The popular and nationally known pianist Harvey Brooks, Miss Fay Hill and a pupil of Miss Ruth Parks presided at the baby grand.

Town and Gown Club In Meeting

Mrs. Lila Bly was the charming hostess to the Town and Gown Club Sunday afternoon June 25, at 4 o'clock. Following the usual routine of business an interesting game of bridge was played. Guest for the evening were Mesdames Bertha Williams, Mabel Trince Brown, Clementine Oats and Aldena Smith. A delicious three course dinner was served.

The club wishes to thank the various clubs for their cooperation in their annual barbecue held on Independence Day, which was a tremendous success. Special thanks goes to the La Jovial Club who appeared in a group and helped to make the afternoon an enjoyable one. After having their pictures made in the lovely garden the popular club departed for the Club Plantation where they attended the matinee.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Marie Stewart, Vereachi Lockhart, president; M. L. Tarvin, reporter.

Central Section Of CACW Praised

By MARY E. REED

The central section of the California Association of Colored Women is accomplishing excellent work under the able leadership of Mrs. Billie Ashby of Tulare.

At the last reciprocity meeting of the year, all reports were gratifying. The meeting was held at the Mount Zion Baptist Church of Bakersfield with the Golden West Woman's and the Thursday Evening Clubs as hostesses. Mrs. Mabel V. Gray, past state president, was the guest speaker.

Roberts Honor Visitors From NY

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roberts of 3323 South Central avenue entertained with a cocktail party and at dinner last Sunday in honor of Mrs. Anita Reed and Mr. A. Powell, recent arrivals from New York City.

Golden West Bridge Association

By ELLIS L. VEIL

The cream of the Angel City's feminine bridge lovers turned out for the Golden West Bridge Association's third annual women's pair regional game Saturday, July 9. Fourteen pairs registered and played.

At the end of the first session of a two-session game, the standing was as follows: Viola Henry-Gene C. "GRACIOUS LADY"—The "gracious lady" of filmdom, Lena Horne, whose roles on the screen are equalled by her individual appearances to and for the servicemen, is seen in the above picture with hundreds of soldiers and sailors as she represented the public to them at the recent dedication of the new Avalon USO Barracks. The new barracks have been built to house 200 servicemen and located at 4300 Avalon boulevard. One of the first in the city that will be erected by the Housing Commission of the county. The public is invited to inspect the barracks-dormitory now in use and to direct the service personnel to them.

Miss Horne has become a legend of beauty, and "the girl of their dreams" to the men in uniform all over the nation, and any time that she can entertain them between performances, seems to be a pleasure to her. So great is her fan mail on the MGM studio lot, that her popularity has ascended from the number four "pin-up" girl to almost the top.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

People Call for Permanent FEPC

The plank which the Republican Party in its convention in Chicago inserted in its platform, calling for a permanent Fair Employment Practice Committee, was practically inevitable after the hearings held before the House Labor Committee. It was and is the sense of the American people to have a permanent FEPC. What is more, the American people want a committee with "teeth" in it, with the authority to enforce the laws which Congress passes regarding fair employment for all regardless of race, color, or national origin.

Now that the Republican Party has inserted this plank in its platform, it follows that the Democratic Party must do likewise in its convention to be held next week. The FEPC originated under a Democratic administration, so naturally it should be upheld in its convention.

The fight for a permanent FEPC grew out of the fight to preserve the present FEPC, to appropriate $500,000 for its continuation one more year. This was the smallest item in a general war budget which included 17 other emergency agencies—yet it created the greatest furore and was seized upon by the southern advocates of "white supremacy", as if it were the only thing that mattered, and the defeat of Hitler and Tojo did not count. It cleared the House by a margin of only four votes, but in the Senate, after the people of America were aroused and made known their wishes, it passed by a vote of 38-to-21. President Roosevelt signed it, and it became law at once.

Now that the principle of fair employment has been established, the fight is on for a permanent Fair Employment Practice Committee. A bill has already been introduced in Congress for such a committee—the Scanlon-Dawson-LaFollette Bill. Hearings have been conducted before the House Labor Committee, Mrs. Mary T. Norton, chairman, and will continue to be conducted when Congress reconvenes in August.

Friends of the bill are warning that unless this measure is passed not only Negroes but American citizens of Mexican nationality, and other nationalities, are in danger of being without work when peace comes. The cutbacks have already begun, it was pointed out, and the Negroes are always the ones to suffer, in spite of any seniority they may hold.

As for Mexican-Americans, Ernesto Galarza, chief of the Labor Division of the Pan-American Union, pointed out that they, like Negroes, are usually restricted to the most menial jobs; younger and less experienced "white" men are given the better jobs, and often Mexicans are paid at least ten cents an hour less than Anglo-Americans doing exactly the same work.

"Axis agents are constantly stressing this discrimination," said Mr. Galarza, "to stir up ill feeling on the part of the peoples of Latin-America towards the United States."

Said Walter White, president of the NAACP who but recently returned from a tour of the war fronts: "Wherever I went the question most frequently asked by Negro soldiers was whether or not Negroes on returning home would be able to find something else to do beside bootblack jobs."

The spearhead of the opposition, of course, comes from the South. But there are also a few AFL labor unions who insist upon clinging to the outmoded arguments that because a man's skin is black his work must therefore be inferior. They talk about the Constitution, about the "supremacy" of the white race, about states' rights. All of which is but a lot of hypocritical mouthings welling up from their damnable bigotry, conceit, and selfishness. They know as we know that it is as certain as the sunrise that we Negroes will some day soon take our place side by side with our white brothers in every walk of life. That we will work together and live together in creating a new world in which racial bigotry and discrimination will be unknown. They are simply trying to hinder the coming of that day. They know they cannot prevent it. But if it must come, so they think, let it be later when we are gone.

But we Negroes want it NOW. The fact that the Republican Party has asked for a permanent FEPC in its platform, and that under the Democratic administration now in power measures are already being taken to establish such a permanent committee, argues well that our hopes will soon be realized.

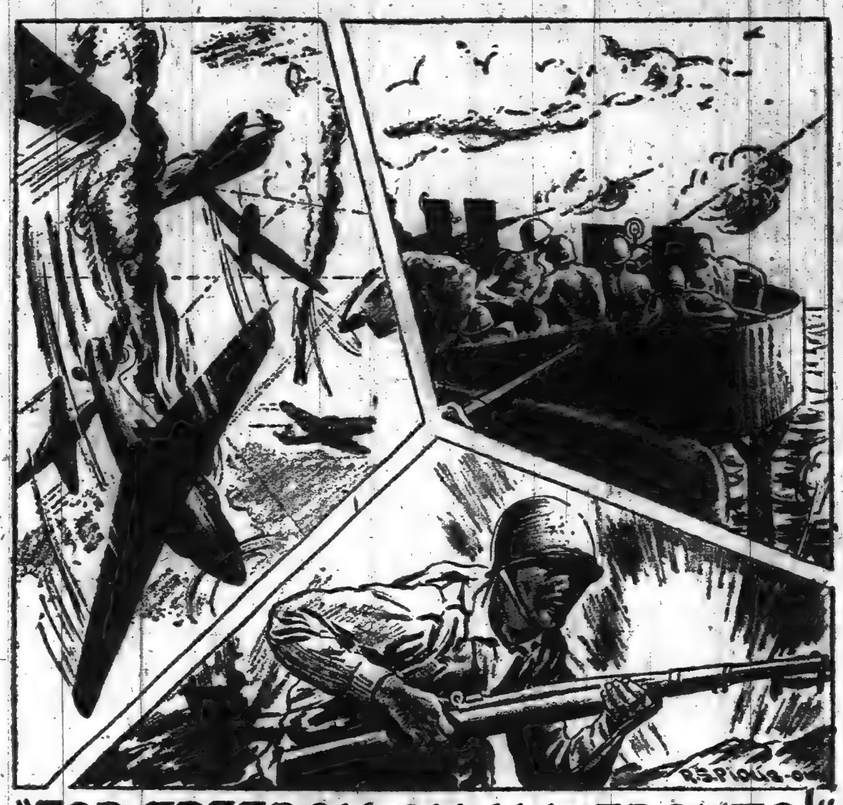
$7,000 To Fight Tuberculosis

More than the average citizen of Los Angeles realizes, the Assistance League of the Outdoor Life and Health Association is truly rendering a valuable service to the community. Over the years since the establishment of the Tuberculosis Rest Home at Duarte by the Outdoor Life and Health Association, the Assistance League has contributed more than $7,000 for its maintenance.

This small group of women, headed by Mrs. Fannie Williams, the organizer, has unobtrusively made its contributions to the welfare of the community by assuring the continuance of this sanitarium for the tubercular where excellent care is assured by the personal direction of Dr. Leonard Stovall and the Board of Directors whose chairman is Mr. John Fowler. The presentation on Sunday, July 7, of $1500 to Dr. Leonard Stovall by Mrs. Fannie Williams is the seventh such contribution and is the culmination of the efforts of the membership under the presidency of Miss Pauline Slater with Mrs. Della Williams, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; Emily Woody, First Vice President; Miss Iva Washington, Treasurer; Edna Kohn, Secretary; and Clotilde Woodard, Corresponding Secretary.

All of these women, tremendously busy in business and professional fields, have unfailingly given of their time during these seven years to see that this much needed service shall not be denied the community. With the increase in the tuberculosis rate due to the increase in population and the crowded housing conditions, this former peacetime function has become an important wartime duty, and it is the community's responsibility to do its part by supporting every effort of the group to raise funds. Plans are now under way for a mammoth variety show at the Shrine Auditorium, funds from which will be used for the same purpose.

Let's Plan Our New World!



Our attention was recently directed to a communication sent this newspaper by an individual of another racial group. The letter writer suggested that we stop resenting mistreatment of the Negro people.

The gentleman suggested that the time and space used in objecting to discriminatory practices in industry, the armed forces, and everywhere could be put to the purpose of building the things we need. His communication could have been interpreted to mean that we should build our own private armies, navies, and industries.

If this man has ever read the United States Constitution, or if he has ever stood with his right hand on his heart and said, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands—one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all," then he truly would understand the treasonable advice he offers one important segment of the American nation. This country cannot exist half loyal and half disloyal, any more than it could half slave and half free.

In our post-war planning one of the important planks adopted should be the definite elimination of racial separation on the hypothesis that a white person is superior to a black. All the churches in the world, the YWCA, the YMCA, all the religious, civic, and political organizations who lean ever so slightly towards liberality, should take the lead in bringing such a condition to pass.

They are doing this, in fact. They are working with all their might to abolish this feeling of racial superiority, of bigotry, and hatred. Then should we Negroes sit idly by, as this letter writer suggests, and let all these efforts evaporate into nothing? Forbid it, every vestige of decency. We must work—and fight—all the harder. We must match the efforts of our friends in the white race with our own, and so at last we'll bring about the day when racial bigotry and superiority will be unknown.

"FOR FREEDOM ON ALL FRONTS!"

THE WORLD THIS WEEK

DeGaulle and Us
Mandate System
Wallace's Views

WEEK OF JUNE 23 TO JUNE 30, 1944

We and our Allies are now extending our blows on a global scale and fascism is feeling for the first time the full impact of coalition warfare. Negro-Americans and other colored peoples are participating in every thrust at the Axis—even in remote Finland, where colored troops of the multi-national and multi-racial Red Army have helped to crush these agents and dupes of the super-Aryan Wehrmacht.

However, in the train of victorious Allied armies creep unresolved political problems. These now clamor for solution. How they are solved, or whether they are unfinished business for future generations, vitally affects Negro-America.

FRENCH CRISIS

It matters a great deal to us that the blood our boys spill in liberating France should fertilize the soil of freedom. Hence, the reluctance of the diehard elements of the State Department to recognize the DeGaullists as the provisional government of France is a denial of the aims for which we fight. DeGaulle is endorsed and supported by the French Underground, who are contributing heroically to their own liberation. To refuse recognition and assistance to DeGaulle is to deny the aspirations of the French people.

A parallel in our own experience was the behavior of a few Union Army leaders during the Civil War when, ignoring the efforts of the slaves in the Union's behalf, they sought to return fugitive slaves to the Confederates, and to conduct civil administration through the apparatus established by the Confederacy. The nation today is forced to carry on the tasks it inherited from those who, during the Hayes administration, subverted the process of reconstruction and allowed the secessionists to return to power. In France today, it is said, our State Department acts from similar motivations. Assertedly, it hopes to grant authority to Frenchmen neither too tainted by association with the Nazis nor too identified with the aims of the Underground. There ain't no such animal.

The Senegalese commandos who stormed Elba won't like the State Department's attitude either. At a recent colonial conference, the French Committee of Liberation, now the provisional government, adopted radical proposals on the future of the Africans and other peoples living under French rule. The proposals included such revolutionary measures as industrialization of French colonial areas, education of native populations, representation in government of the native populations. The man who made most of the proposals was the late Governor Felix Eboue. If Eboue's work is to continue, the coming government of France will have to be authorized by the French Underground the the DeGaullists. A setback for the Underground is a setback for Africa.

Accordingly, the coming conference in Washington between DeGaulle and President Roosevelt will have considerable meaning for all of us. It is hoped the President will threaten on behalf of an agreement with the French.

THE MANDATE FARCE

The steady advance of our forces in the Pacific is having some surprising results. High praise continues for Negro troops on Bouganville and other islands, where they took everything the enemy could give and then handed it back with interest. Reports from New Caledonia tell of the strong friendship growing between our men and the native peoples, who also know the meaning of "white supremacy."

Another matter of global significance to which we cannot be indifferent is the new light thrown on the mandate system. As our troops enter the Japanese-mandated Marshall and Caroline islands, the farcial nature of the whole mandate system is illumined. There it is found that Japan broke every rule in the League of Nations' covenant, flouting especially the provision for the "well-being and development" of the peoples in the mandate. The native peoples were brutalized and enslaved.

However, Japan's violations serve merely to expose the bankruptcy of the entire system, for it is generally recognized that this specific provision was ignored by all the mandatory powers, including Britain, France, South Africa, Belgium, Australia and New Zealand. The essential weakness of the system—aside from the imperialist nature of the Allied powers, who were endowed with authority to enforce it—was the fact that it vested control over the mandated territory in ONE power. Hence, it was really the old colonial system in Sunday-going-to-meeting dress.

General recognition of this error, and the resolution of a growing number of the world's peoples to avoid a repition of it, may account for the persistence with which certain British leaders (as reported in The World This Week, week of June 16-23) attack the idea of international supervision and administration of colonies. General Smuts and Lord Halifax well know what would happen if Chinese and Soviet representatives were authorized to pass upon the administration of British colonies.

Hence, we shall eagerly await British reaction to President Roosevelt's proposal for a post-war world organization to consist of (1) an assembly of all the United Nations, each nation having an equal vote in electing the executive; (2) a council, annually elected, composed of the Big Four and some other nations; (3) a world court to adjudicate disputed issues.

Such an organization would not be just another League of Nations. It would be, by inclusion of the Soviet Union and China, a guarantee against any future JOINT imperialist aggression against small nations and colonial peoples. That would not be a bad prospect for Negro-America, as well as for the colonial peoples.

ADMINISTRATION VIEW

As previously reported (see The World This Week, May 26-June 2) Vice President Wallace has been to China and Siberia, he has reported to the nation this week upon his return home. But as an expression of Administration views in regard to colonial peoples, Wallace's new pamphlet, "Our Job in the Pacific," sets forth a program the Republicans will ridicule as "visionary," but which every Negro-American and colonial subject of an Empire-state can endorse. To quote briefly:

"While the British and Dutch governments and the French Committee of National Liberation have given evidence that they recognize the need of revising their colonial policies in the direction of a larger measure of self government, there

Editor, California Eagle:

I wish to relate an accident of a few days ago that I feel should be brought to the attention of our young men and women who are employed in Los Angeles public places. I hope you will find space to print it and also hope that the young lady mentioned will chance to read and perhaps benefit by same.

Accompanied by a visiting relative from Chicago I went to an Owl Drug Store at Fourth and Spring streets to get a sandwich. Two very nice looking colored girls were behind the counter waiting on the trade—also a white girl checking the cash register.

One of the colored girls was called to the telephone, leaving the other alone to wait on the trade. As the orders were heavy, the girl that was left alone was pretty much upset at having to do all the waiting on the customers and keep the counter and dishes cleaned up, which she proceeded to show in a most definite manner; protesting out loud, blaming the girl who had been called to the telephone and bawling out the customers in general.

She slammed the glasses and dishes in the sink, pitched the orders to the customers, refused to speak courteously to the customers, all of which were white but myself and companion. To say that we were embarassed is putting it mildly. Finally, the white employe spoke quietly to the waitress and proceeded to help her.

I am wondering if that colored girl has a job today. In spite of the general conditions of things and the shortage of help it is too bad that many of our people working in places that they were not permitted to work in peace times would not take advantage of the trend toward the better in their circumstances and profit by it by trying to put their best efforts forward and perhaps after the labor shortage is over they will have made an impression that will enable them to retain some of these better jobs.

A pleasant expression on the face, a courteous manner and a quiet way of speaking can be cultivated by anyone and no matter what the circumstances will take one a long way.

If our civic and political leaders, ministers etc., would help us to be more efficient in the things we are already doing, and do less complaining about the things we have not been able to do—we would perhaps be better prepared as a group to meet the large problems that we are constantly being called upon to meet.

Mrs. Roberta Walkins

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

By JEANETTE COHEN

Here I am in the land of flying cockroaches, ants and bugs of all kinds—to say nothing of prejudice in every form and description. Texas! What a place!

I landed in Harlingen — the southernmost tip of the great state — at 9 a.m. Wednesday morning, after traveling for two days and three nights. The ride on the train—or I should say trains—is a story in itself. I won't even attempt to go into it.

My Negro friends in L. A. warned me before I left to take it easy, "just listen and don't say a word." I got all my talking in before the train reached El Paso—the Mason-Dixon line of the Southwest.

While waiting in line at the diner, I talked to a G.I. He was a southerner and had been working in Hollywood at the Roach Studios making "morale films." He was very proud of the films he helped to make—to build the morale of the soldiers of industry.

The girl with him expressed her desire to get off the train at El Paso to look around. "You won't like it," said G.I. Joe. "It's full of greasers."

I hadn't heard that term since I was a kid. I asked him what he meant. "Those damned Mexicans—I hate them—I'd almost rather eat with a good southern 'niggra' than with one of them," he told me.

I gritted my teeth and spoke in a surprisingly calm manner. "What makes you think that any Negro would want to eat with you?" I asked him.

I went on to tell him that it's too bad he hasn't learned anything from the "morale films" he's making—he ought to pay closer attention to them.

Before I got very much farther with the war and its meaning, he jumped the gun and said in no uncertain terms: "I'm fighting because I have to—and it's for my mother and family only—I don't give a damn about anybody else."

The soldier standing in back of me on the line remarked: "I'm glad we don't have too many guys like him fighting this war." I shook his hand and invited him to have dinner with me.

That was about the only incident on that train. I had a discussion with a Brownsville girl on the train from San Antonio to Harlingen. She's not so bad—didn't wince once when I told her I write for a Negro newspaper. But it's flying fast and furiously down here. I get so upset because I can't talk back, my stomach turns somersaults.

My girl friend who is in the WAC down here had reserved a room for me in a hotel. At least that's what they call it. When I walked into the room I yelled "attention!" and every cockroach stopped dead in his tracks and saluted me.

I dropped my baggage and tried to swat one of them. How was I to know the darned things fly in this part of the country!

The wife of one of the officers down at the Base, graciously offered her best bedroom to me. Her husband left town for a week and she wants company.

I accepted her kind offer, but I don't think I'm very good company for her. Her home is San Antonio, Texas. One good thing about her that's different from most of the others down here is that she's for Roosevelt.

It's a little cooler where she lives—but I never know when a scorpion will amble along and nip a piece out of me.

I expect to go down to Mexico for the weekend, if they lift the ban they put on Thursday. They are having a cotton strike across the border, but it may be over before Saturday.

I'm having a very good time as long as I can talk to my girl friend. But please believe me, whatever is wrong with California, it is still a paradise compared to Texas. Between the heat and the prejudice, I'm in a constant sweat.

THE PULPIT VOICE

Conducted by

REV. HAMILTON T. BOSWELL

Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist Church

AN OPEN INVITATION

The Pulpit Voice has appeared weekly in this paper since the first week of December, 1943. During that time, it has been the attempt of this column to present various items of interest to the community from the religious slant.

Admittedly, most of the writings have not been presented from what is generally thought to be a part of the conventional religious pattern. Rather, has the Pulpit Voice deliberately evaded such medieval orthodoxy, operating on the principle that all matters involving life are basically of religious concern. Religion is not a narrow code limited to ritual and doctrine, for in reality it is the fundamental attitude of every action and thought, good or bad.

With such a conception therefore, every thing which is done by people, and which happens to people is of religious concern. Such is not always popular, for often of necessity it must cut across the grain of vanity and selfish pride.

The proper attitude of a true ministry is evidenced by the ancient prophet Micah, who when being advised to speak favorably to the king, replied, "As the Lord liveth, what the Lord says unto me, that will I speak." The prophet would not choose his words to suit the whims of the king; he chose to speak the truth in spite of the king. The Pulpit Voice aspires to write by that principle.

APPRECIATION

Many letters and expressions of satisfaction and dissatisfaction have been received since the column's inception. For these expressions the writer has been most appreciative. At least it conveys the meaning that you are reading these paragraphs with interest.

Writing to an unseen public which remains mum is not very encouraging to a beginning amateur. Therefore, such contact which has been made, favorable and unfavorable is most welcome. It is hoped that in the future more readers will take up the pen or telephone to express any criticism or point of agreement with the materials presented here.

Personally, criticism is more than welcome, because it demands the criticized to be ever alert and sure of facts and truth. Especially is honest criticism needed by the clergy, because we often feel quite free from immediate criticism standing safely behind pulpits. As a result much preaching is sluggish and airy; a little criticism would restore the vitality of many preachers.

Instead of honestly criticizing the minister's sermons when they are disliked, all too many people simply do not return. It is to be remembered that no one is beyond criticism, and those who think they are, are but tragic victims of the Narcissus complex. Therefore, my dear readers, pour it on, it is welcome.

BOWEN ANNIVERSARY

A sense of guilt shrouds the following paragraph, because one of the convictions of the Pulpit Voice is not to be a billboard of events and programs which occur at Bowen Church. It is hoped therefore that in view of the community aspect of the event that all will be forgiven.

During the week of July 16-23 the first anniversary of Bowen Church will be observed. We at Bowen are very proud of the accomplishments which have been ours in this first year. Your attention is especially called to the "Community Night" program, Wednesday, July 79, at 8:00 p.m.

This program is in the interest of unity among the various agencies working in the community. Labor organizations, representatives of the Press, Churches, Clubs and other organizations interested in the social uplift of the people.

Because I have not met you as a Pulpit Voice reader, it to meet you there. Certainly such a privilege would be very inspiring for the writing of better material in this column.

Because the location of Bowen Church is not generally known, the following directions are given: Bowen Church is located at East 36th and Trinity streets. The best approach is via Jefferson boulevard. Trinity street is on block west of Avalon boulevard and one block east of Maple avenue. Turning south from Jefferson on Trinity, it is two blocks south to East 36th street.

On the northeast corner of Trinity and East 36th street is the Bowen Memorial Church. An open invitation is extended to all who read this column to attend this community interest program and to meet this "upstart" columnist and preacher.

S. P. Johnson Back From Baptist SS and BTU Congress as Messenger

S. P. Johnson, president-manager of Conner-Johnson Co., Inc., Morticians, and Mrs. Johnson returned last week from attending the 39th annual Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress of the National Baptist Convention, which met in Birmingham, Ala., June 20-25.

SUPERINTENDENT FOR OVER 30 YEARS

Mr. Johnson attended the Congress representing the Sunday school of Second Baptist Church of which he has been superintendent for the past 30 years. He is also president of the Western Baptist Sunday School convention of California.

The Congress was one of the greatest in its history, said Mr. Johnson, with 5,900 messengers present from all over the United States and more than 5,000 visitors. Over 250 classes were held; 520 superintendents were present, and 440 pastors and ministers.

Having completed his work as a messenger to the Congress, Mr. Johnson visited some of the largest and most modern undertaking establishments in Birmingham and Chicago. Among them was the Metropolitan Funeral Home of Chicago, the largest and finest Negro institution of its kind in the United States.

Being a close observer of matters pertaining to his business, Mr. Johnson took note of many improvements and brought back new ideas to be added to the already fine service of the Conner-Johnson Company, leading undertakers on the Eastside for the past 25 years.

Testimonal to Honor Dr. J. H. Wilson, Retiring Recorder Head

The First AME church, 801 Towne avenue, has announced through its minister, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, preparations for a Testimonial Program and Reception honoring one of the pioneer leaders in the religious development of California.

HONORED BY TESTIMONIAL—Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, minister of the First A.M.E. Church, 801 Towne avenue, is sponsoring a testimonial in honor of the Rev. James H. Wilson, distinguished churchman and retiring editor of The Western Christian Recorder, at the church, Monday evening, July 24, 1944. Rev. Wilson has, for many years, been a faithful exponent of the Christian religion and Methodism, and was a successful pastor before his days of retirement from active ministry.

The program will be held Monday evening, July 24, in the church auditorium, and the reception will follow in the church dining room. Associates of Dr. Wilson in his activities as editor, churchman, and leader in civic and fraternal activities will pay brief tributes to him for his contribution in these respective fields. Entertaining music will further enliven the occasion.

Dr. Wilson came to California about the turn of the century and as pastor and presiding elder has been identified particularly with the growth of the African Methodist Episcopal church ever since. At the general conference in 1928 meeting in Chicago, Ill., he was elected editor of the Western Christian Recorder succeeding Dr. Barksdale of Kansas City. He moved the office of this publication to Los Angeles and thus gave California its first general office in the great African Methodist Episcopal church.

At the recent general conference in Philadelphia last May Dr. Wilson retired, because of persistent ill health. His many friends however rejoice in his continued physical improvement and sincerely hope that opportunity may yet be provided him for some service in the church.

Sixth Annual "Musical Moments" Held on Sunday

The sixth annual Musical Moments program was held Sunday, July 9, at the Sojourner Truth Home. This was the beginners and intermediate classes of Miss Edith K .Owens, prominent musician of this city.

The audience responded to these little folk with much admiration. James E. Brown, electrician and business man, was master of ceremonies.

After the program, the audience retired to the garden for refreshments, in charge of Mrs. Aldora Tucker and Mrs. Emeline Brown.

Miss Owens, one of the finest musicians of the city, has just received her degree in organ from the university class of Chapman College. She is also a member of the American Guild of Organists—a national organization.

Miss Owens is ex-Basileus of Sigma chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. The community is proud of the work that Miss Owens is doing, and wish for her all success possible.

are also in these countries powerful forces which will fight for the old system of empire. Our example in the Philippines, however, together with Russia's enlightened treatment of Asiatic minorities and any steps which China may tak toward cultural and linguistic as well as political minorities, can bring tremendous pressure to bear on the whole colonial problem. By the same token, discrimination against racial minorities in our own country does incalculable harm to the cause of freedom in Asia. The force of example is greater than any number of righteous pronouncements, and the fulfillment of our own obligations, moral and legal, is more important than the assuming of new obligations on the forcing of them on others."

In other words, says Wallace, let us attend to the beam in our own eye. Which, coupled with Secretary Ickes' attack on racial bigots June 5, may foreshadow a showdown between these Administration spokesmen and the White Supremacist crowd within the Democratic Party who are attempting to incite an anti-fourth term revolt. The fight will come into the open at the Democratic national convention next month. It may be more important to us than was the Hoover crowd's defeat of Wendell Willkie's liberalism at the GOP Chicago conclave this week.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

POST WAR HEADACHE

The right to work Constitutional Amendment will be on the ballots in November. Masquerading as a bill to make it possible for workers to be employed without compulsory unionism, it is in reality the first big salvo against the very existence of labor unions. AFL leadership is organizing mass strength to bring about its defeat. According to "The Watchman" writing in Sunday's Times, "union attackers..... pretend to see hidden meanings in this proposed amendment. "He ridicules the thought. The Times is not in a happy frame of mind just now. Having second guessed shamefully in the recent primary elections, it hell-bent in its determination to prove that organized labor is a sinister force in the life political of the nation. No surprise should be evinced by its almost fanatical stand against every circumstance beneficial to the unions.

John M. Lee

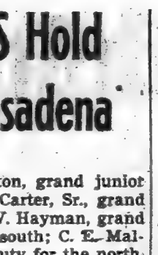
What the outcome of this bold, frontal attack will be is far from certain. The very fact that the impressive number of signatures needed to put it on the ballot were obtained at all indicates that it will take a tremendous amount of "voting against" it to send it down to defeat.

Undoubtedly, the CIO will throw its strength into the fight against this completely anti-union amendment. How successful the combined efforts of the two labor groups will be is unpredictable. It will not be easy to prevent the measure from becoming law. The advantage is presently with the backers of the amendment.

Theirs had been a victory of no mean proportions. Indications are that the campaign they have started will carry over and become one of the major problems for labor to cope with in the post war period.

A SORE THUMB

What sticks out like a sore thumb on the hand of Negro labor is the disgustingly poor record it has made in donating blood for wounded service men. Admittedly a ticklish question because of the Red Cross' policy of segregating Negro blood, there is no reason to be delicate about the vital point, and that is, blood from everybody under any circumstances is needed immediately.



If the logic with which Negroes argue against becoming donors is carried into every day life, then why ride LARY trolleys whose operators flatly refuse to consider hiring Negro platform men? That fact has been established, and yet Negroes squeeze themselves into crowded busses and trolleys every day and drop their fares into the boxes—because they need the transportation service.

When the owner of a bar or restaurant refuses service on the basis of race or color, Negroes go to court and sue for their civil rights—because they need food and refresments. When employment is denied a Negro, he calls upon the community to fight for justice—because he needs employment to get the wages to keep himself alive; but there will be no need for transportation, food, refreshment, employment—any of these things if we do not win the war, and one of the important aids to winning it is having sufficient supplies of blood plasma on hand to save the lives of the boys who are serving on the front lines.

Segregation is no longer an excuse. Negroes have had to develop and advance despite insults from the beginning of their history in this country. Surely the experience they have gained from their past struggles is sufficient to give strength enough to give a pint of blood through a Jim Crow organization to save a human life.

Richardson Is Named Commander Of Benj. J. Bowie Post Here

H. L. Richardson, a recent arrival from Oakland, California, who has started up a law practice here, was elected November of 1943, was elected Commander of the Benjamin J. Bowie Post of the American Legion, after a hotly contested election in which three candidates ran neck and neck on the first ballot and which finally resulted in a vote of 64 to 26 being cast in favor of Attorney Richardson.

Richardson

Attorney Richardson is former Commander of Colonel Young's Post of the American Legion of Oakland, California, in 1930 and 1931, and has been continuously a member of the American Legion for the past twenty years. He hopes that every honorably discharged war veteran in this community will affiliate with Benjamin J. Bowie Post, so that the Post can do a real service in the community.

Juvenile delinquency, boy scouts, jobs for the returned veterans, rehabilitation of the returned veterans, visitation of the sick, and procurement of pensions for the veterans are on the new Commander's agenda for the ensuing year.

The new Commander has also bee nelected a member of the Council of the U.S.O. of Wilmington, which place has previously been elected a member of the great deal for the benefit of the race can be done through the contacts which are being established in that area.

She is vice president of the interracial group; president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Youth Group; editor of The Flashlight, a church magazine sponsored by the Home Mission of First Colored Baptist Church, and a pledge to Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

The brilliant young student completed her high school course in three years, and plans to attend the University of Chicago.

After the Conference she will visit relatives and friends. During her stay in Chicago she will be the house guest of Miss Jodora McIntosh, whose mother is a childhood friend of her mother.

Your Baby Can Win A $25 War Bond Prize

Only a few more weeks remain before the Health and Popularity Contest which the California Eagle is conducting as a part of its 65th Anniversary Celebration, will come to an end.

It has been a profitable experience for us. The babies we have met have given us an encouraging outlook for the future, and with them, we hope to use the post war period for the building of a better world in which peace will prevail.

In the weeks that remain we plan to enlist every baby in the community in our contest. Dr. Seymour Kaufman who has been voluntarily standing by to give a free medical examination to the youngsters will keep his offices at First and San Pedro available as long as there is need for them.

A one year subscription to the California Eagle is all that is necessary to enter your baby. He immediately becomes eligible to win a $25 War Bond, and his picture will be published in the next issue.

Enter your baby now so that he can qualify for membership in the ftutre California Eagle family circle.

Sgt. Reese Writes of India and the People's Struggles

Mrs. Gertrude Settles, secretary of the Northern section of the Federated Women's Clubs received a belated but none-theless welcome acknowledgement of an Easter card that was one of many sent by the organization to the boys in the armed services. The writer is S/Sgt. Richard A. Reese, the son of Mrs. Nettie B. Reese, an official of the Eastside Settlement House. The letter follows:

S/Sgt. Richard A. Reese
3471st QM Truck Co.
APO 689 c/o Postmaster
New York, New York

My dear Mrs. Settles:

It was indeed a pleasant surprise when I received your Easter Card. I was very proud to know that I am being thought of by such a fine organization.

Being in the Jungles of India for sometime, I have experienced many things; some were gruesome, others I hope will benefit me later in life.

India is a strange, colorful land, one that relatively few Americans have seen. Customs, dress, language, color, religious beliefs and political institutions will have little resemblance to anything you have known in America.

There are two things about the Indian people you will notice almost immediately. There are a lot of them and they are bewilderingly different in their language, religion and physical appearance.

Today, one man in every five in the world calls India his home. In an area a little more than half as large as the United States there are about 389,000,000 people—three times as many as we have.

Nine out of ten Indians live off the land, farming very small patches of earth, and it is an incredibly poor living for most of them. The average Indian farmer for instance, will earn in a year, if he's lucky, about as much as we as an American soldier, are paid in a month. Indian farmers lives in small villages—there are some 700,000 of them—and often have to walk a mile or two from their homes to reach the small plot of farm land that belongs to them.

There are nearly 200,000,000 cows in India—one for every two persons—so you will see plenty of them wandering unmolested along the main streets of towns and along the highways. Compared to the cattle you see in America, India's cows are a sorry lot mainly because there are too many of them; there is not enough fodder to go around. They are no respecters of motor traffic and one does have to be particularly careful when driving along the roads. In some parts of India the penalty for killing a cow, even by accident, may be as much as seven years in jail. There are other sacred animals besides cows—monkeys and peacocks for instance. It is just as well to avoid harming any of these animals no matter where you are. The Indians worship these animals as we worship God.

I have been in Burma, and before this war is over I expect I shall have been in China. I get homesick once in a while but a letter from the homefront helps to cure that.

I often think of the people at home, I know they are really doing their part to help win this war, and we too are trying to get the job done so we can return home to our friends and loved ones.

We have very good officers over us, so you see with good officers and good men it won't be so long before this terrible was is over.

Again I say thanks for writing.

I remain sincerely,
RICHARD

"CANDID COMMENTS"

By J. T. Gipson

HAMMERIN' HENRY ARMSTRONG

Hammerin' Hank Hang up your gloves—
Your fighting days are done,
Rest on the laurels you have earned—
From victories well won.

Don't fool yourself and be a chump—
The "come-back" trail is tough,
No one has ever made the grade—
Use your head, you've had enough!

The world's great champ with titles three—
That's wha the records say,
Don't try to do a miracle—
Just let it stand that way.

The world remembers what you've done—
Don't make a fool's mistake,
Hang up your gloves, your days are done—

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK

Like Old Man River, Henry Armstrong continues to roll along his merry way. Like the proverbial well, he's bound to run dry. Armstrong, as you know, fought John Thomas at the Olympic last week. The result was so pitiful it caused tears to blind the sights of hundreds of Armstrong's admirers. His next "assignment" is set for July 14th (tomorrow night) when he fights Slugger White at Hollywood Legion stadium.

The commissioners should step in and halt that bout. It's time we stop ducking the issue and face facts. The facts, ladies and gentlemen, are these: That Henry Armstrong is through. That to continue fighting may result in the loss of one or both of his eyes. Henry's pitiful showing in his last appearance here is proof that he shouldn't be fighting anymore. He fought John Thomas last Tuesday night, and everyone knows Thomas carried Henry that night but even so, Armstrong groped around the ring as blind Sam Langford might have, if he were in there.

EYESIGHT BAD

Armstrong isn't blind yet. But the vision in one of his eyes is poor. Henry's left eye has been defective since birth. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who operated on Henry reports that the vision of Armstrong's left eye is subnormal. Manager George Moore, who boasts as if that were something to brag about, that he is the only one responsible for Henry Armstrong's comeback campaign, says Henry has been passed as physically fit by every boxing commission which has examined him as proof that there is nothing wrong with the boxer's eyes.

What Mr. Moore failed to point out (but what we knew all along) was that John Henry Lewis had also been passed as physically fit by many commissions before a doctor of the Michigan State Athletic Commission found him to be totally blind in one eye — a condition of long standing!

From confrere Dan Parker's col'm comes the report that Henry is fighting merely to get up enough money to pay his income tax on last year's earnings. In that case, does that mean Henry would have to stage another comeback in 1945 to meet his tax payments on his 1944 earnings? Dan Parker (of the NY Daily Mirrior sports staff) has presented (through his col'm) to the public what he believed to be the facts about Henry's comeback, and discouraging any attempt to foist him on New York rans after another buildup.

And because of that, Mr. Moore (who has enough money to meet his own income tax payment) said he doubted whether he'd let Henry fight in New York anymore. Mr. Parker assured him of complete cooperation on that point. And your Candid Commentator will hereafter use every key on his portable to keep Henry from fighting in California again.

Henry Armstrong is a favorite over at this desk. He's our idea of a gentleman. He's a grand little champion in every sense of the word. We love him damb near to death. We've written reams of praise about his fighting. But this is certain, the col'm will do everything within its power to keep the Little Champ from fighting again . . . And while we have our hammer out, we might also point out (in case it slipped your memory) that the time Armstrong fought Ray Robinson at the Garden, the result was so disgusting that even Moore ducked out of town after announcing that Henry was through for good.

Sam Lampe, manager of Slugger White, immediately cancelled White's match with Armstrong in Los Angeles, stating: "I don't need money badly enough to take it off a blind man!" That was nearly a year ago. It's a cinch Armstrong's eyesight hasn't improved, especially since he's had over thirty fights since then. Does that mean then, that Mr. White's manager needs money badly enough now to take it off a nearly-blind fighter? He signed the Slugger to meet him tomorrow night at Hollywood. That doesn't make sense, does it?

Every year, thousands of school kids are released from the schools for the annual summer vacation. A vacation to most of them means nothing more than the fact that between June and September there is no school. The word "vacation" to some of them is just a word. The families of too many kids don't have sufficient funds to send their youngsters off to the various camps.

Gipson Discovers Lena Horne Is Tops With Entire Crew and Cast On Set at MGM Studio

ON COME-BACK TRAIL—Nina Mae McKinney, first sepia glamor girl of the screen, is on the come-back trail to stardom. She has just completed her first picture since coming out of her retirement of several years. A number of major Hollywood studios have already indicated definite intention of using Miss McKinney in forthcoming productions.

FLYING TO NEW YORK—In case you wondered who the guy in the picture above is, he is Alex Lovejoy, who came out to the City of the Angels years ago to work in pictures and turned out owning the first breakfast club to pop up on the avenue, who will fly to New York for a two months' visit. Lovejoy was the first to hit upon the idea to operate an after-hour spot as a restaurant. Secret of his success is his widely-advertised "Big Leg Chicken." He leaves July 12, and will plane back to re-open has Lovejoy's Breakfast Club (4516½ Central Avenue) on September 8.

He's one of the best-liked guys on Central—in case the subject of "best-liked guys" ever comes up!

By J. T. Gipson,
Theatrical Editor.

Once upon a time in the chorus line at NY's famed Cotton Club, there appeared a shy, demure, sweet dispositioned little doll-like chorine named Lena Horne. A hard worker, with a winning personality and an infectious smile that made you like her right off the bat, she was adored by the Cotton Club crowd.

That, in case you're keeping records, was about ten years ago. Today in Hollywood, this same shy, demure, sweet dispositioned little girl has risen to the top of the heap. Tho now, she is an actress and not a Chorine, she is still a hard worker with a winning personality, plus the same infectious smile that has won its way into the hearts of millions. And she is adored by the Hollywood crowd.

WHAT? INDEED

What is there to be said about Lena Horne that hasn't already been said before? With that thought in mind, your hard-working mischievious little nightclub editor took his complaint to John M. Lee, our slave-driving (but likeable) City editor.

"Look, Mr. Lee," we argued trying to make him see our point, "I wanna do a narticle on Lena. But not the same type of stuff. Everybody knows she is the most beloved actress in Hollywood etcetera bla bla etc. Can't you think up another angle for me to work on?"

GET OUTTA HERE

He gave me one of those looks that needed a bath and disgustingly growled: "For your information, Mr. Gipson, that's what we're paying you for. To put YOUR OWN ideas to work. Now getha 'ell outa here and get me a story on Lena Horne."

While standing there being torn between two evils (i.e., trying to decide whether to go to work at the Shipyards or Lockheeds) a brilliant thought hit our sieve-like brain.

"Tell you what," we offered as a compromise, "I'll do the story, but let's go to Hollywood together."

Because of my many femme and church readers, I can't mention the place Mr. Lee told me to go.

"Just give me one reason why I should go with you to help do your work," he roared in a voice that could easily have been recorded in the eastern papers as another California earthquake. "Go ahead," he bellowed, "just give me one reason!"

On second though, we couldn't think of any, so we stalked out of the room with a mad on.

SHEEPISH WOLF

No sooner had we gotten into the car when Mr. Lee, with a sheepish grin on his pan of which I've seen better looking under an ice box, rushed up and said:

"Say. You're going out to MGM, aren't you? They're using plenty of pretty girls on Lena's set today, aren't they? You still want me to go out there with you, don't you?"

We answered all his queries in the affirmative.

"On second thought," he lied, "I've been promising Mr. Andy Hervey that I'd drop out and have a chat with him in regard to giving the paper an ad for its sixty-fifth edition."

With more than twenty beautiful brownskin girls (AND Lena Horne) working on the same set, imagine a guy trying to make us believe his only reason for wanting to go to MGM was to chat with a publicity director. And a publicity director who never keeps Scotch or Bourbon for visiting scribes in his office, at that.

He looked at us as though he thought we were a jerk. We looked right back at him as though we thought we weren't!

GIPSON DRIVING

Eighty minutes later we pulled up in front of the studio gate. The eighty minutes it took for the journey in no way reflects upon the durability of Mrs. Bass' car. We just happen to be careful drivers. The fact that a speed cop seemingly lurched at every street corner may have had something to do with our carefullness.

Anyway, we were greeted like newspapermen upon showing our press credentials to the officer at the front gate. And being treated like a newspaperman is something that shouldn't happen to a Westbrook Pegler.

We were directed to stage twenty-one. By this time we had figured on a new angle for our feature story of the week. So, after greeting La Horne with a couple brotherly kisses (It's nice work if you canget it—and we've got it!) we searched out a couple of members of the stage crew. The first, an electrician named Harold Reardon, we bluntly shot our first question.

"Is she well liked out here?" we asked.

"Is she well likel?" He roared in a voice almost as resounding as our city editor's.

"We love her! Just ask the Gaffer (he's our head electrican) what the boys think of her."

The Gaffer turned out to be a little bladder of a man inflated with words named G. Cline.

"There isn't anything we wouldn't do for that girl," he said, "and all because she's real peepul. She hasn't got the big head. She's still the same, sweet unspoiled little darling as she was when she first came to work here."

It seems that Lena not only has won her way into the hearts of millions. She has won her way into the heart of every man, woman and child who has worked with or around her. Which is something ususual in Hollywood, where most of the big name stars act and walk as the balancing the family three on their nose.

"Isn't that right?" we asked John Lee, who we thought was standing at our side, but who had slipped off and was holding a nice little tete-a-tete over in an obscure corner of the set with a cute little trick named Cleo Herndon.

Getting the necessary material together, we bid adieu to the guys and gals, and started the long trek back to the office to write our story. After trying tirelessly for two hours to get off a good paragraph, we finally concluded that there is nothing that can be said about the gracious and beloved Lena Horne that hasn't already been said before.

That there are actresses galore on the Hollywood screen, but Lena Horne tops them all.

Grissom and Price 'Hepsters' Delight at the Club Outskirts

Practically everybody who has visited the Club Outskirts has left with raves a-plenty over the featured attractions at "Honey" Murphy's popular South Los Angeles nitery.

On hand from midnight 'til dawn to keep things moving at a lively pace is the honey-larynxed torchants of Dan Grisson, the former Jimmie Lunceford singing star. Since leaving the Lunceford lads to branch out on his own as a "single," the well-liked Grisson has done quite well for himself.

He has a couple of picture deals up his well-tailored sleeve; he has made several recordings, and together with "Honey" Murphy he is co-owner of the Club Outskirts.

We visited the Club Outskirts, located at 97th and South Central avenue, the other two in the morning and spent a groovy knocked-out evening. And here's why the evening was such an enjoyable one: Jesse Price, often referred to as "The Mad Drummer," has a five-piece band on the bandstand that dishes out a brand of rhythm that solidly sends you (wherever it is one goes when one is solidly sent.) With Arthur Dennis on saxophone, and Charlie Davis on piano, the quintette rocks with rhythm.

Although he holds a managerial spot, the handsome Dan Grisom nevertheless steps to the microphone and sends you with your favorite numbers. He is the star of the show, with Drummer Jesse Price running a close second for spotlight honors. Here is a drummer that has just about everything!

Joynt Will Jump With Scott Songs And Flennoy Trio

The Gip Goes All Out in Praise of Casablanca Club

By J. T. Gipson,
Theatrical Editor

There'll be a hot time in the old town TOMORROW night, to modernize an old saying. The reason for the shouting and fun-raising is because of a birthday. Yes, the Casablanca Breakfast club, the cozy little San Pedro (ave) nitery owned and operated by Elihu "Black Dot" McGee, is one year old tomorrow!

The Casablanca has long been a favorite after-hour funderveous for nitelifers. It's tops in entertainment, with the mellow-voiced Mabel Scott chirping your favorite lullabyes, plus the swingy rhythms of the Lorenzo Flennoy trio, it's no wonder the Casablanca Breakfast Club has continued packing 'em in nite after nite.

A special program is lined up for tomorrow nights festivities, and there will be Hollywood celebrities on hand to do special "guest" numbers.

MABEL SCOTT-UM!

Not since the Lovejoy club first propped up on the avenue has a breakfast club taken the angel city by storm as has Dot McGee's Casablanca. There the atmosphere is the finest. Genuine hospitality prevails. The meals are prepared by the Angel City's top sepia chef, and the songs of Mabel Scott (and the exciting music of the Flennoy Trio) is worth the price of admission in itself.

The Casablanca is a low-ceiling club with lights as soft as a Wayne King saxophone chorus. It's air conditioned for your comfort, and it's one of the few clubs where you can take your wife, mother or sweetheart, and be assured of an evening of good clean fun and entertainment.

The celebration tomorrow night (the club opens at twelve midnight) will be reminiscent of a New Year's eve celebration. But then, it's new year's eve every night at the Casablanca Club on 28th street and San Pedro.

Rucker Bros. Theater Has Changed Hands

Management Still By Negroes; Only Race Owned Here

The only one of seven theatres in the Negro district of Los Angeles owned and operated solely by Negroes, the Rucker Brother's theatre has had its face lifted with a new outside Neon sign; complete remodeling inside; and is no wopen for business.

Formerly the Rucker Brothers theatre, the show is now under new management. Harvey Gatson and David Wade are sole owners of the motion picture house, and the name has been changed to The Vogue Theatre.

Darkened for many years, the Rucker Brothers, popular young Negro businessmen about town, saw a future in operating a theatre in the Negro district of the Angel City. They bought the building, cleaned it up, and started giving the customers first run pictures.

Following the death of his older brother, who was his partner, the younger Rucker brother decided to sell the theatre. Gatson and Wade bought him out, and it is still the only one of seven theatres on the stem owned and operated solely by Negroes. It's located at 1605 East Vernon ave.

Dramatic Shows to Be Held Over at Lincoln Theatre

Grandtown—

By Earl J. Morris

THANKS A MILLION !
Thanks To You and You !

The author of this column thanks you and you from the bottom of his heart for the way in which you have received this new "Grandtown" column. We didn't expect to receive so many congratulations anent this column. We trust that we will be bale to continue to enjoy the esteem to which you have given to this column. We trust and pray that we can continue to please you and you. Again we say thanks for your many compliments.

AMERICAN LEGION NEARLY ELECTS MORRIS TO POST

While we are thanking you, we must also thank the members of the Ben Bowie Post of the American Legion. We missed being a vice-Commander of the Post by just one little vote, and that was on the third ballot. We didn't know we were that popular with the Legionnaires. Jay Moss, seasoned campagner, nominated the writer on the grounds of having World War 2 vets in office. H. Leonard Richardson, attorney and past commander of a Post in Oakland, was elected Commander. Arthur Mac Clannahan refused to run for re-election. Col. Moody Staten and Norman O. Houston were both nominated but declined to run. However, a miss is as good as a mile. But just the same we feel good all over that we lost to a World War I vet by just one vote. Thanks a million.

JUDGE EDWIN JEFFERSON AND CHARLES MATTHEWS REAL AMERICANS

Downtown we have a couple of men who are doing a grand job in their respective positions. They indisputably prove that Democracy is workable. Also, they have justified the faith in those who placed them in their positions. These men are: His Honor, Edwin Jefferson, judge of the Municipal Court and Charles Matthews, Esquire, deputy District Attorney of Los Angeles County. Both are doing their jobs in the American way, without any fanfare. Thanks a million to the true Americans who placed them in their jobs. Thanks a million to Charles Matthew and Edwin Jefferson for not letting their sponsors down—thereby increasing the faith of other real Americans to open doors to worthwhile Negroes.

WE WENT DOWN THE LINE IN 5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE

The writer was chosen as a bond salesman by three groups. We are satisfied with our efforts in the 5th War Loan Drive. As always, my little wife has been a help meet. Ever by my side in every endeavor. Mrs. Earl J. Morris plunged into the bond campaign and sold $500 worth of bonds . . . for which I was given credit. 'Twas ever thus, that the wife has done her part and remained in the background and basked in the reflected glory of her man. Thanks a million to all those who bough war bonds from me and Mrs. Earl J. Morris. Thanks!

LINCOLN THEATRE REALLY GIVES YOU YOUR MONEY WORTH

Thanks a million to theowners of the Lincoln Theatre. They really give you your money's worth. The show runs about four hours. Two good films and a swell stage show. Broken up into a revue and a drama. Laura Bowman, Monte Hawley and Jimmy Basquette give you the heavy drama, while Leonard Reed gives you a nice revue with a bevy of lovely girls and Pigmeat does his stuff to make you laugh. Also, thanks a million again to the Lincoln Theatre, for employing such fine talent. They need to work, too, you know. The doorman and others are very courteous.

BITS ABOUT THOSE WHO ENTERTAIN YOU EACH WEEK

Tid-bits. Clarence Ellis, clever artist whose work is on the ofay style, leaves the Coast for Chicago. Thornton Ross, the guy with the voice from heaven, arrived here last week. Wonder why some tooth paste company hasn't grabbed cute little Bobbie Reeves for their ads. She has a million dollar smile. Patsy Hunter wants to leave the coast, with all of it's stage, cafe and film opportunities for love. She loves the guy. He is a soldier stationed in the East. That's how it is when a woman loves a man.

Met the charming Miss Jones, manager and chaperon of the International Sweethearts of Rhythm. This all girl band can certainly beat out the jive. We liked them best as they played down the show at the Club Alabam. Playing the different music of artists in a revue is the real test of an orchestra. Met Bobby Wallace, the human orchestra. He is booked by Bert Levy. He is the brother of Babe Wallace, beautiful hunk of man, now doing his stint as a service man.

Joe Morris is a guy that can certainly make us carry him around in a wheelbarrow. We once just all over him in our column. We had visited his spot. We didn't take into consideration that he was different than others — but then too, we should have known — that he being a Morris that he would have ideas for the future. Morrieses seem to have that in common, related or not.

Different Fare On Stage Is Pleasing Public

Laura Bowman And Monte Hawley Top Featured Players

By JULIE DUVAL

Fulfulling his promise to present stage fare that is really different, Leonard Reed, Lincoln Theatre stage producer, has one number that is really big-time, in his current weekly offering. His fencing number, executed by the shapely chorines in the line, complete with fencer's masks and foils, is well-night as perfectly precisioned as anything seen in these parts, and are reminiscent of the famed "Rockettes" in Radio City, New York. Much credit is due both the chorines and the producer for the work and thought put into these offerings.

The Lincoln drama, "Are the Parents Guilty," starring Laura Bowman, Monte Hawley, Sybil Lewis, Bardu Ali and James Basquette, is a stirring and intense commentary on delinquent parents and comes at a time when every city and community in America is focused on war-born delinquency problems. These Dramas are intensely interesting, as can be attested to by the interest evidenced by young and old alike.

Really getting into the "groove," the Flennoy Trio, hit of the recent "Sweet 'N Hot" show, late of the Mayan, really put the customers on the "beam." They were called back and back again on the stage to do encores for the "swing-mad" audience.

Any review of a Lincoln stage show would not be complete without mentioning the "entre acts" of Lennie Reed, who keeps the audience in stitches with his pearls of priceless humor. The crowd is with him all the way. He has the master's touch in sensing just what an audience wants.

But, as in every show in which she has appeared, the star, and what a star! that darling of the night circuits, the sole exponent of a style solely her own, Mable Scott, "brought down the house."

There is nothing that this little lady cannot sell, in her own inimitable way, and brother, that's no understatement! Bedlam resulted from her renditions of "I Want a Man!" and "Every Little Doggie has its Day." They are strictly connesseurs and collector's items! The audience was her's from the time she hit the stage!

As with every other show which has been produced by Reed, this one also sends the customers home raving. The Lincoln Theatre is truly fulfulling its promise of bigger and better shows. In the highest sense of the word!

Maxine Sullivan Is Back On Coast With 'Blackouts of 1944'

Maxine Sullivan, demure songstress famed for her singing of "Loch Lomond," returned to the coast two weeks ago for a starring role in Ken Murray's "Blackouts of 1944," the hit show at El Capitan theatre in Hollywood which is in its 4th year.

Last here in 1939 when she appeared in "St. Louis Blues" at Paramount and "Going Places" at Warner Brothers studios, Miss Sullivan for the past two years has been at Le Ruban Baleu in New York City.

Miss Sullivan sings "Cow Cow Boogie," "Millie Malone," "Easy to Love," "Milkman," and "Loch Lomond" in "Blackouts," and has proved to be a prime favorite of the SRO houses at the El Capitan.

She began her 10-weeks engagement with "Blackouts" on June 24, and may go into a local club following her present engagement.

LINCOLN PRODUCER—Leonard Reed, stage producer of the dramatic plays now rapidly gaining popularity at the Lincoln Theatre, has fulfilled his promise to present a brand of stage fare that is really different. Laura Bowman and Monte Hawley head the list of outstanding players.

Jubilee Broadcast Is the Best Of Hollywood's "Free" Shows

Best of the "free" shows in Hollywood, is the Jubilee broadcast. Always star-studded with the brighest names from the stage, screen and radio, the Jubilee is short-waved to our fighting men of the armed forces.

Written and produced by Sgt. Peter Potter, who is aided and assisted (very capably) by the handsome and popular Cpl. Baron Polan, the broadcast of Monday last had Radio City's rafter's rocking in rhythm with the swingy rhythms of the Benny Carter band.

The boys dipped their instruments in rhythm and literally walked away with all honors. From the opening number "Sweet Georgia Brown," to "The One O'clock Jump" finale, the show moved along at a lively clip with never a dull listening moment.

Jovial Ernie Whitman, Harlem's answer to Laird Cregar, MC'd the show to perfection. But then, he always MC's a show to perfection. His quick wit, and suberb timing was the essance of perfection. He can make and gag amusing. It's his style of delivery that had the customers rolling in the aisle.

On first was a boogie-woogie pianist named Meade "Lux" Lewis. Billed as the "King of Boogie Woogie," he failed to live up to his title. If what he played was boggie woogie, then I'm a dope—and maybe I am even if it wasn't.

The fact that his playing sounded the nadir of nil, was probably due to the fact that in the Benny Carter orchestra is a white pianist (Harold Scheaffer, formerly of the Ina Ray Hutton crew) who plays the hottest mess of sharps and flats ever emulated from the keys of a baby grand!

It was his piano styling we couldn't get enough of. But more about the ever-smiling Harold in a later communique. He rates a story of his own.

Savannah Churchill, the lush bundle of feminine loveliness, stepped to the michrophone and wrapped her honey-voiced lyrnx around a torchy little ditty called "I Lost My Sugar In Salt Lake City." What a singer this girl is. Some guys wanna go to heaven when they die; others wanna be stranded on a desert island with Lena Horne; but all I want in life is a quiet evening at home with a stack of Savannah Churchill recordings. She's the one singer who can sing for me anytime!

Honored and featured guest for the program was the likeable and attractive Hedda Hopper, best of the femme pen pushers. With Butterfly McQueen, borrowed for the ocasion from the Jack Benny show, she exchanged a cross-fire barrage of gags that had the guys and gals in the audience going into convulsions.

Hedda, whose column is the best to come out of Hollywood, has a terrific sense of humor. Everybody likes her, and she likes everybody. Tops is what she aint anything else but.

Benny Carter's second number was the Hoagy Carmichael favorite, "Star Dust." One of the greatest Alto saxists in the business, Benny laid his saxophone aside and picked up his trumpet to play some mighty fine trickerations. He played flawless horn.

Billed as "The Amazing Man of Music," he definately lives up to his name. He toots a terrific trumpet, and his Altoing . . . well, it's just about the hottest horn this side of Harlem.

With plenty band numbers from the Carter crew, plus the lovely lyricing of Churchill named Savannah—AND the neat wits Ernie Whitman, Hedda Hopper and Butterfly McQueen, the show solidly sent this scribe as this scribe has never before been solidly sent.

Hats off to the Jubilee broadcasts. The best free show in Hollywood.

Joe Turner's Blues Go Over In Wichita

Wichita, Kansas.—Last Saturday (July 15) when Joe Turner, who really deserves the title, "World's Greatest Blues Singer," and his great little orchestra with Charles Sherrill as music arranger, played the Rose Room here, the hall was crowded to capacity, so reports the promoter, genial Raymond Overton.

Big Joe, as he is intimately called, sang his way directly into the heart of every blues lover and dance fans in Wichita, and his added attraction, petite and beautiful Sheila Guyse, literally had the "wolves" hanging from the rafters, when she gave forth with the volcals in her own inimitable way.

King Cole Tune Flying Straight To Hit Parade

Best of the current popular novelty tunes to come over the airlanes these days, is the orriginal ditty from the pen of Nat "King" Cole titled, Straighten Up and Fly Right." Its popularity soaring the Hollywood heights.

With the Andrew Sisters adding it to their recording repertoire, and Tony Pastor featuring it in a Hollywood musical, the tune is beginning to catch on.

Written and introduced by Nat "King" Cole, it has long been an evenue Juke Box favorite. The Andrew Sisters heard it and asked permission to record it. The tune clicked so well with their listening audience that they too will use it their next picture.

The news angle of the story is this, it jumped from nowhere to eighth place among the most played songs requested by the nightclub crowds in three weeks.

At that rate, it'll make the Hit Parade.

And at the pace it's going, it'll make it in noothing flat.

The King Cole Trio, currently appearing at the famed Trocedaro club in Hollywood, lists it as their favorite.

Snookum Russell Played Poughkeepsie

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—The folks along the East coast were treated to "something entirely different in music" when the "Brown Bombshell of Swing," Snookum Russell and his Hollywood Orchestra, played several one-nighters in this vicinity last week.

The band came to this area after a successful week at the City Beach, Norfolk, Virginia and headed for the Mid-West, into Ohio and Michigan, before opening at the famous Grand Terrace Cafe, Chicago, the latter part of the month.

Robeson's Othello Is Art for Everyone

NEW YORK, N.Y. (C)—There will be no Jim Crow performances when "Othello" goes on its coast to coast tour next September for the contract stipulates that theatres must sell tickets to all comers alike.

Paul Robeson, who plays the starring role, saw to that.

Nina Mae's Return To Screen a Triumph; Offers Pouring In

Acclaimed by critics as being one of the finest dramatic actress on the stage at the top of her former career, and still fortified with a sufficiency of youth, beauty, personality, plus an abundancy of spontaniety, Nina Mae McKinney emerged from her first Hollywood film appearance since her retirement from films several years ago, as triumphant as ever. She is easily the greatest Sepia dramatic star since the late Evelyn Preer.

Miss McKinney has just completed a role in the Benedict Borgous film production, "Dark Waters," starring Merle Oberon and Franchot Tone at General Service studios. Rushes in the scenes she appeared in proved highly satisfactory. Other studio talent scouts hearing of her success in the film of the Louisiana bayou life, have urged their respective producers to secure her for their several screen roles.

According to Ben Carter, Sepia actor's agent, who has been assisting her managers, several major Hollywood studios have already indicated a definite intention to use Miss McKinney's talents in forthcoming productions.

Walter Wanger, producer at Universal studio wants Miss McKinney for the second picture on his schedule. Warner Brothers studio has a picture coming on for her, as do RKO studio and United Artists have plans to usher. So, it is, Miss McKinney the first Sepia glamour girl of the screen, has definitely launched her screen "comeback," and that in a big way.

—Down in Front—

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

The hottest fistic natural on the coast is a lightweight championship match featuring Juan Zurita and John Thomas.

Zurita, is the NBA-recognized titleholder, who has been on the shelf for the past several months as a result of an accidental shooting. A gun he was handling went off and banged up a finger.

He won the title here from Sammy Angott.

Thomas, the challenger, clinched his right to be recognized as the foremost challenger when he won a decisive 10-round decision over "Hammer' Hank" Armstrong at the Olympic auditorium last week.

In a rematch, Long John showed and convinced the skeptics that he has what it takes when he outboxed and out-generaled the former triple champ to bag 7 of the 10 rounds.

In their first bout Hank had Thomas on the floor on two occasions, gaining the decision in a torrid battle on sheer will to win, for which he is famous. At that the opinion as to the winner was split, the referee voting for Thomas, the two judges for Armstrong.

Thomas, young, quick to learn and easy to handle by his strategists, manager Bert Lewis and trainer George Tolson, in whipping Armstrong in a retake, duplicated a similar victory over Willie Joyce.

Not so many months ago John lost to Luther "Slugger" White, Joyce, Aldo Spoldi and Armstrong in a row. The longest series of losses on an otherwise almost spotless ring record.

The Joyce and Armstrong losses Thomas has erased and there are many who are of the opinion that if John met White and Spoldi in rematches he would reverse those, too.

The column shares that opinion.

Thomas is tremendously popular here; so is Zurita. The bout would do well outdoors.

The build-up angles are plentiful. Zurita is a switch-hitter. Thomas is a superlative boxer. Zurita is the harder hitter. But Thomas is the cleverest of the two, shiftier on his pins and the faster puncher.

SULLIVAN TO TEST FITZ AT OLYMPIC

Fitzie Fitzpatrick, who is cutting a wide swath in local middleweight and lightheavyweight circles, comes back to the Olympic auditorium next Tuesday night, facing Billy Sullivan of Portland in the 10-round main event.

Sullivan, a colored heavyweight of the Joe Waterman stable, is a newcomer here. Fitz, a kayo puncher, has stopped such good youngsters as Lane Hale and Willie Johnson in the few short weeks he has been on the coast.

Matchmaker Babe McCoy is rounding out his Tuesday card with a sterling assortment of preliminary talent.

Alice Coachman Wins High Jump And Dash Events

7th Championship Won By Alabama School's Women

Sprinting to victory in the 50 meters race in 6.4 seconds, Alice Coachman of Tuskegee equalled the world's record established at Katowice, Poland in 1933, and went on to win her sixth straight high jump title with a leap of 5 feet 1 5-8 inches, thus clinching the team title for her school at the Women's track and field, A.A.U. championships at Fager Field, Wiliam Penn High school, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, last Sunday.

LOST BY FOOT

In the 100 meter dash, Miss Coachman was barely defeated by the margin of less than one foot by Stella Walsh, Olympic champion who won triple laurels at the meet. The outcome of this race is equal to the results at the meet in Cleveland last year when Miss Walsh, extended to the utmost, managed to squeeze out a similar victory over the Tuskeegee star by an equal margin.

Tuskegee Institute which boasts a roster of top grade, consistent performers, has been the winner of the National title from 1937 to 1942, and last year its team finished second in a tough competition at Cleveland.

SEVEN WINS

In 1941, the Tuskegee team captured the outdoor championship of the events staged in Atlantic City, and their success this year gives them a record of seven wins since the first championship which they captured at Trenton, New Jersey in 1937.

Alice Coachman is one of the most valuable members of the Tuskegee team and her duels with the capable, highly experienced Stella Walsh will be recorded as classics in the annals of sports events.

Tuskegee has demonstrated again that the team to be watched in any of these competitions is the well-trained unit from the world-famous Alabama school.

Armstrong, White at Hollywood

What may well be one of the best fights of the year—or any other year for that matter—is slated for tomorrow night at Hollywood Legion stadium when Henry Armstrong meets Luther (Slugger) White in the 10-round main event.

The bout is for the benefit of Service Sports, Inc., an organization which uses its funds to buy sports equipment for men overseas and here at home.

Armstrong and White were scheduled to meet a year ago in an outdoor bout here under the promotion of Joe Lynch, but the fight did not come off as Hank went to New York and was beaten by Ray (Sugar) Robinson and announced his retirement.

Since then, however, Hank returned to the ring and in 15 fights this year has lost but two—to Willie Joyce and John Thomas.

"Slugger," who recently returned to the coast, has compiled a great record here. He registered eight straight wins, including among his victims John Thomas and Willie Joyce, before losing a lightweight title match to Sammy Angott, at Hollywood ball park last October.

Two months ago in Philadelphia, White dropped a 10-round decision to Ike Williams.

Hollywood Legion stadium is scaled to gross about $22,000 for tomorrow's joust.

Matchmaker Charley MacDonald has a sterling supporting card lined up.

Marine Softballers Play In Rain And Mud Of The South Pacific

By Marine Pfc. C. J. Nicholson

Somewhere in the South Pacific— (Delayed) — Overcast skies and a playing field wet by a tropical downpour the night before failed to dampen the playing spirit of the South Pacific softball league's leading Marine Special Weapon team and they proceeded to edge out a 4-3 thriller over a crack All-Star aggregation. The All-Star team was composed of players from other service teams in the league.

The game was marked with timely hitting, brilliant fielding, and excellent pitching. The two opposing hurlers, "Brownie" Brown for the All-Stars, and "Big Pete" Thompson for Special Weapons, allowed only scattered hits until the seventh inning, when the winners bunched their hits for the deciding run.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico—We now take off our hats to Bert McFarland's My Universe, the consistent seven-year-old gelding after taking into camp about the best long distance handicap horses now at the border course. Known as a sprinter but developed into a distance horse by the clever owner, McFarland, in the feature race of last Sunday's program known as the Silver Lake Handicap, and carrying 111 pounds with Jockey Johnny Deering in the saddle, the son of Universe took the lead at the break and never looked back, finishing three lengths in front of the favorite, Luroid, owned by Senator Jack Metzger of California.

The running time for the mile and seventy yards was 1:45 flat. The winner paid in the mutuels $7.80. The secondary feature was at six furlongs for three-year-olds and up. The winner was the Deer Woodstock farm's Real High, made the public choice by the fans paying $5.20.

One of the biggest dissappointments to the fans was the running of the fifth race where the public made Flying Vi the favorite, and on cold dope it looked like he would run his field dizzy, but when it was over the best he could do was to finish sixth. The winner was the longshot, Lucky Romeo, paying $33.40 to the delight of the take-a-chance players.

Generalissimo Eddie Neallis, the ever smiling director of personnel, Armando E. Verdugo, and Boss E. L. Caress, director of books and mutuels, have done themselves proud in bringing some of the best handicap horses to the border track for summer racing. Plans are under way by the three big bosses to give Caliente fans some big time racing during the summer meet.

Under the personal directions of Armando Verdugo the harmony that prevails between employes and horsemen is the warmest since Caliente opened in 1935. With a big heart and sympathetic understanding, the congenial director is loved by all. When a jockey or any other employe is hurt or taken sick, Director Verdugo sees that the best is none too good for them. what racing needs at all tracks is more men like Armando E. Verdugo.

Again this Sunday, acting stewart and racing secretary, Judge Joe Walter, has arranged an all-star card, thirteen races in all, bringing the best steeds together in sprints and distance races.

The Daily-Double paid $16.80 and the Quiniela $34.60. Well, folks, put your extra dollars in War Bonds, the best Daily-Double you can buy.

So long, George.

Southern California Open Set For This Week End at Sunset

The most important golf tournament of the summer season, the Southern California Open is on schedule this week-end at Sunset Fields. The entry list of qualifiers though not complete as this is written indicates that a fair representation of our favorites will face the starter Friday.

The amateurs and professionals of the state are entered and will do battle for War Bonds to the amount of $2,500 and par for the 72 holes of medal play should be shattered.

Pros are being allowed to play without playing qualifying rounds and some amateurs such as Dawson and McCormick are also accorded the same courtesy. Jimmie DeVoe, our well-known professional, is an entrant and two of the Riverside Stricklands, Ed and Earl have been practicing at Sunset with the idea of entering.

Leading our amateur qualifiers is Oscar Clisby of Pasadena, who last Saturday fashioned an impressive par 72 to qualify in the Championship Flight. In the 5-7 handicap group, Roscoe Jones and Marion Forsythe qualified with 74 and 75 respectively. Also qualifying were Spiller and Porter.

Women Sell $60,000 In War Bonds First Week in Newton Area

Woman's ability to get big jobs done has been enlisted by the War Finance Division of the Treasury Department in the sale of War Bonds. Women of the Newton Street area of Los Angeles are proving that it was a wise move.

Their first week of activity at the Victory House at 45th and Central Avenue resulted in bond sales in excess of $60,000. The largest single sale was $50,000 made to the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company. Bonds for babies are most popular with the individual buyers.

In charge of the Victory House is Mrs. Adele Young who was appointed by the Treasury Department to act as chairman of the Newton Street area. Working with Mrs. Young are Miss Ida Perry, AWVS bond chairman; Mmes. Beulah Arnaud, Surretha Granberry and Gertrude Birt, co-chairmen and member, respectively of the Booths Committee; LaVada Reese and Essie L. Graves, chairman and member of the Baby Bonds Committee; Carrol Moore and the Rev. Mrs. Anna L. McMillan, member and chairman of the Finance Committee.

Mrs. Jessie L. Terry, a regional director of the Women's Division of Southern California by appointment of the Treasury Department, is also chairman of the Los Angeles chapter of the Negro Women's Council, an organization sponsored by Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune for the sale of War Bonds to pay for the S.S. Harriet Tubman, the first Liberty ship to be named in honor of a Negro woman.

HELP FOR CRYING BABY

Nobody likes being kept awake all night long by a crying baby. But if your baby is fretful and restless and cries all the time because his little body is tortured and sore from smarting heat rash or diaper rash, Mexsana can help you help him.

You see Mexsana, the soothing, medicated powder, serves a double purpose; it relieves baby's misery—due to heat rash, prickly heat, diaper rash, itchy mosquito bites and other minor skin irritations—and thus it makes it possible for him to have restful sleep. For once his tortured skin is comforted—baby will rest quietly—which means the whole family can sleep.

Favorite With All the Family

No wonder then for over 40 years millions of mothers have used Mexsana to help prevent and ease the smart and burn of diaper rash. And they find it helpful for all the family too. For Mexsana will soothe the chafe on grownups as well as baby's irritated skin. It really forms a clinging coat of protection to guard irritated skin from clothing likely to rub.

Mexsana even helps prevent itching, burning heat rash. Its special base helps absorb moisture on the skin, which is often the cause of heat rash. And Mexsana contains ingredients specialists often use to relieve these discomforts. So always keep Mexsana on hand as a first-aid for all the family. You'll be surprised at how little this remarkably soothing medicated powder costs. Save even more by buying one of the larger sizes. Don't put it off. Get big family package of Mexsana.

Cornerstone Baptist Church News

By Bernice McGlover

Sunday, July 9 was Women's Day at the Cornerstone Baptist Church. It was a success. Beginning in Sunday School and running througout all the services the women had complete charge.

The morning service was highly spiritual, with Mrs. Cecelia Edwards and Mrs. Ethel Hicks appearing as solists. Mrs. Pauline Stemely was the guest speaker, and she gave an outstanding address. At the close of the morning services a repast was served in honor of the pastor's return.

At 3:30 in the afternoon, a special service was held at which the Women's Chorus rendered special music throughout the day. Mrs. M. O. Jackson directed the chorus and Mrs. E. Skonnol was at the piano.

The seven o'clock service ended the observation of Women's Day with Madame Mary Collier, Gospel singer, as guest. The speakers were: Mrs. Gertie R. Lee of the Hamilton AME Church who gave a wonderful talk on "Why I am Glad That I Am A Woman," and Mrs. Leonna Owens of Cornerstone Baptist, who spoke on "The Advantage of Being A Woman." The speakers were capable and they left a feeling of inspiration with every woman present.

The women of the church are pleased with the success of the day's program and the offering which totalled $671.36. There were capacity audiences at each service.

AT SPECIAL SCHOOL—T/5 Austin McCoy, leader of the Post Swing Band of Fort Huachuca, is now attending the Special School at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. At the school he is a member of the enlisted men's section studying special service and recreational activities. Cpl. McCoy is from Los Angeles, California.

It is estimated that 22.7% of the total national income, or $38.6 billion, was saved in 1943 by the people of the United States.

PARENT DELIQUENCY

Child delinquency begins in the home. Good christian homes usually set examples which have a definite bearing upon a child's future, and it seldom stray far from these teachings.

A Christian home, doesn't mean that the young people are unable to enjoy themselves and have a good clean fun. But it stabalizes their foundation for better men and women to come.

It is not only the mother's responsibility but the father's as well. Parents have a flock over which they are the pastor, and, for which they will some day have to give account.

Boys and girls have every right to get started on life-s pathway in the right direction, so it behooves parents to set the proper example.

E.S. Dear Friend and Advisor: Your help in the past has been the necessary link in my life and I just want to thank you for everything you have done. I am coming to you with another problem. Prof. Herman, what should I do?

Ans. I find that it would be to your advantage to take this college education that is offered to you. Major in some kind of work that you feel sure you will be able to do and also serve the human race.

Ques. C.L.B. When will he come home?

Ans. It appears to me that your soldier boyfriend will be home soon, but remember, that his plans for his furlough are subject to being changed at the last minute.

D.M. Will I find my keys?

Ans. Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate that you may find your keys. I suggest that you look in the top drawer of your dresser for them.

E. N. Does he love me?

Ans. The man that you constanly think of loves you, and he will prove to be an ideal companion for you. According to your Zodiac, you two will be together in the future, and find the happiness you so desire.

J. T. Dear Prof. Herman: I am glad that my friend recommended you to me. Since I have been using the Prayer and Meditation Combination, I have found contentment and the peace of mind that I so badly needed. I will tell my friends about your work.

D. S. Will he come back?

Ans. Your soldier boy friend has all intentions of keeping his promise to you that he will return. You should not doubt him because he has proven in the past that he loves you and wants to marry you.

J. R. Will I marry this woman?

Ans. After a careful study of your question, I find that marriage will be the result of your relationship with this woman you are corresponding with.

K. K. M. Can you help me?

Ans. I suggest that you contact the Red Cross immediately and they will give you the information you need in order to obtain the allotment.

J. B. G. Will I receive the money?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal indicates that your brother will send the money that you are expecting. You may receive it within the next month.

'Sons Of David' To Be Heard At Trinity Baptist On Sunday

Something decidely new in musical circles will be heard for the regularly Third Sunday Musical at Trinity, Sunday Evening July 16, 1944 at 7:30 o'clock.

"The Sons of David," an orchestra of professional musicians will feature classic arrangements of modern gospel songs. This group was organized by Joseph C. Liggins who composed, "Congo Thunder Storm," featured in the San Diego Exposition 1935. Mr. Liggins first attracted attention by composing his class song in high school at San Diego and later his compositions were heard in the variety shows of San Diego State College where he was a student.

Members of "Sons of David," were formally connected with leading organizations of the country including Count Basie's band. As their contribution to community morale and to relieve the stress of war times, they are dedicating much of their time to the promotion of religious music.

The orchestra is being presented by the Choral Ensemble of the Church which recently presented "The Ordering of Moses" so successfully at the People's Independent Church of Christ.

Trinity Baptist Church is located at West 35th Street and Normandie Avenue, the Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor.

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?
Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR SELLING

1. Be Agreeable. If your voice is disagreeable and your manner of speech indistinct, see specialists, and remember, I like to be sunny, but I don't want to get freckles.
2. Know your goods. And when you tell me anything, talk plainly. Most salesmen lack imagination. They cannot conceive of the extent of my ignorance.
3. Don't Argue. When you argue with a man, you are trying to push him. He may be weak and pretend to be convinced. Overnight he will change.
4. Make it plain. Get a grasp on the fellow with whom you are talking. Do not get out that little book that will only puzzle him. Answer his questions without looking at your books, charts and tables.
5. Tell the truth. By the law of average, honesty gives the greatest profits. If you are working for a concern where you cannot tell the truth, quit and go elsewhere.
6. Be dependable. If you tell a man you are going to do a thing, do it if it costs a leg.
7. Remember names and faces. Don't call me Green when my name is Crane. I am sensitive about my name. Don't call me Mister if my title is Doctor. Don't call me Colonel, Major.
8. Don't be egotistical. I am. You must not be. Don't show off. You came to sell me something, not to make a good impression. Magnify my ego, not yours.
9. Think success. Radiate prosperity. Do not mention calamities, dirges, operations, funerals. Be a Pollyanna—without however, being a bore.
10. Be human. If the company merely wanted to disseminate information, they would use a catalog—not you.

American railroads operate a tremendous number of motor vehicles on the highways of the United States. In fact, the railroads own more commercial automobiles and trucks than there are locomotives on their tracks.

"A GREAT ORDEAL... ...A GREAT OPPORTUNITY"

A message to the people of America from the report of EARL BROWDER, president of the Communist Political Association, to the Public Session of its National Convention, in Madison Square Garden, New York City

Almost six years after Europe was surrendered to Hitler in the Munich Conference the world coalition of free peoples has gone into action "from the east, west and south" to destroy Hitler and all his works.

Today nothing counts but the fullest mobilization of all American forces to back the attack with everything we have. All other considerations must be strictly subordinated to this supreme demand.

We must all learn to put our duties as American patriots above our prejudices and ideological preconceptions. We must forget old feuds. We must unite with all other Americans who place victory as their supreme guide, and we must oppose all those, and only those, who place their group or individual special interests first.

Now as never before Americans must weld the bonds of solidarity with our great Allies, and in the first place with Britain and the Soviet Union. We must indignantly reject and silence all the echoes of Hitler and Goebbels still being spread among us to rouse suspicion and hatred against our fellow fighters. We must help to solve all existing problems that still trouble relations within the Alliance.

Now as never before we must defeat all the provocations and excuses for strife between capital and labor, and relieve the tensions which have been growing up. We must dissipate all moods and projects of strikes and lockouts, and expose those who feed them as enemies of the nation, no matter what group they come from. And we must overcome those ideas, which feed wartime strikes, that once the war is over then we will settle all accumulated grievances by a great outburst of strike struggles, for these ideas exercise a harmful influence at this very moment by straining class relations unbearably. We must already now project our wartime national unity into the post-war period, and work out policies to realize this aim. Labor, strongly organized and conscious of its role as a bulwark of democracy, need have no fears of such a perspective.

Now as never before must we realize that the 1944 election period is one in which unrestrained partisanship is a luxury the American nation cannot afford.

America has entered the period of testing by fire. It is by far the most severe test of all our history. It is at the same time a great ordeal and a great opportunity. We can, by meeting this test with fortitude, intelligence, and faith, open up a more glorious period in American and world history than any hitherto known.

★ Teheran . . . guide to Victory

This was the single thought that dominated the Communist National Convention which closed two weeks before D-Day. Its aim was to arouse and direct all energies towards winning the war. Its decisions proceeded from the recognition that the central point of war and post-war is the concord of Teheran concluded last December by Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin.

For the quickest and least costly victory over Japan, we need the extension of the principles of Teheran to the Pacific. Now, at the eleventh hour, with the Japanese advance threatening Chungking itself, the time is more than ripe for the United States to insist that the Chungking government shall put its house in order with a real, not a formal, unification of all Chinese fighting forces, and their fullest utilization against the common enemy. We must once and for all put an end to the playing with the "red scare", which in China as everywhere, works for the enemy and against the United Nations.

The British-American trade rivalry is today the greatest obstacle to establishing the grand strategy for victory over Japan in the Pacific. There is a rising trend of ill-will against Britain which must be halted if there is to be a complete consolidation of the three-power alliance for victory and lasting peace. We must begin to understand British problems most intimately, and we must now begin to eliminate the threat of post-war trade rivalry for the world markets, in which the British fear that the very expansion of American industry that is doing so much to win the war will spell doom for British trade after the war. We must find a common world trade policy with the British which will lay this ghost effectively.

★ There must be no Post-War Crisis

The most disturbing influence against our national unity for victory in the war is the expectation that peace between nations will be the signal for the outbreak of great class struggles within the nation.

War needs, therefore, dictate that we shall immediately begin to lay the foundations for post-war national unity, so that this disturbing influence may be checked and if possible eliminated.

That means, first of all, that we must find a post-war program that will unite the democratic, progressive majority of the American people, from all classes, and that we shall not permit that majority to be split up and thus give the opportunity for the anti-Teheran forces to rise to power.

An economic program that meets these requirements is to be found in the general agreement that American economy must operate at approximate full capacity in the post-war period. To accomplish this aim, markets must be found for peacetime commodities equal to the war market, which, if we take the figure of 1944, is about ninety billion dollars per annum.

I have estimated that we require new post-war foreign markets of about forty billions per annum, above what we would obtain in the course of business-as-usual. Orthodox economists tell me that it is quite impossible to realize foreign markets of such magnitude, but I am unable to accept their verdict, since I refuse to accept the perspective of mass unemployment and economic crisis in the post-war period. If such markets are necessary to keep our industries in operation, then they can and will be found.

The necessary expansion of our domestic markets on an equal scale is more complicated and difficult. Yet it is equally necessary if we are to avoid a devastating economic crisis within a few years after the war ends.

In the final analysis the needed domestic market expansion can only be realized by increasing the consumption of the masses of the population, who are in great majority wage workers. That requires the raising of wage standards to the degree that we need a larger domestic market for maintaining full employment and production.

★ Basic Democracy must not be Compromised

Many conflicting views and interests must learn how to come together on the basis of compromise in order to build and maintain national unity. But there is a line beyond which compromise is not permissible. We cannot compromise basic democratic principles without seriously damaging our national unity and helping Hitler.

The shameful spectacle of the U. S. Senate blocking the Marcantonio anti-poll tax bill from coming to a vote is a typical case in point. Ten million white and Negro workers and farmers are to continue to be denied the ballot, because a group of Bourbons and log-rolling politicians threaten otherwise to sabotage the entire nation. Men who could not be elected otherwise, are thus continued in office with power of veto against the overwhelming majority of the nation. Such compromise with democratic principles is the deadliest enemy of American national unity.

So also with the whole Jim Crow system, the systematic violation of the U. S. Constitution by denial of equal citizenship to Negro Americans, which is the outgrowth of the ideology of "white supremacy", just as shameful and dangerous for America as Hitler's identical racialism proved to be for Germany and the world. Jim Crow must go if America is to stand.

A direct importation from Nazi Germany is the spreading poison of anti-Semitism in America. Everyone who spreads anti-Semitism is enlisted in Hitler's fifth column. Anti-Semitism is a crime that must be outlawed as a measure of American national security.

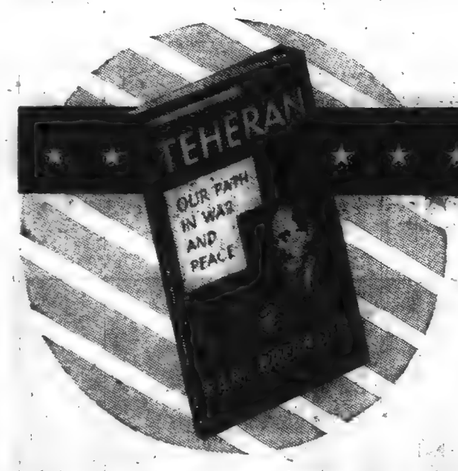
Anti-communism, the doctrine of Hitler's "Antikomintern" organization, is the most deadly of all Hitler's poisons because it has penetrated American society most deeply.

We must retire from public life, and especially from all dealings with our partners in the United Nations, all persons who are incurably afflicted with these divisive ideologies.

★ Why the Communist Party dissolved

Our country is entering the crucial hours of the war, our soldiers are entering decisive battles for the first time, with a national election on our hands.

It is no use pretending that the necessity to conduct elections this year is anything less than a dangerous strain on the national unity required for victory.



The spirit of partisanship is today a most costly luxury which America cannot afford. Our problem is how to subdue and control the spirit of partisanship, how to conduct a national election in the spirit of national unity. It is not an easy task. We Communists consider it so serious that we have dissolved the Communist Party, and renounced all aims of partisan advancement, and have formed a non-partisan organization — the Communist Political Association — through which we expect to contribute to the common cause of the progressive majority of the American people.

Can Roosevelt help the nation to unity and victory by conceding the demand of Republicans and disloyal Democrats that he announce his retirement?

A moment's thought reveals that such a step would be a disaster for our country. Our enemies in the war would be encouraged to new efforts, our allies in the war would have deep misgivings, and our own country would be launched upon an uncharted sea of uncontrolled factionalism. That is why people of all parties are joining to draft Roosevelt.

The people, and especially the largest part of the people, which is "labor", must build their own organization for political action, beginning in the neighborhoods and wards, extending to districts, towns and cities, to the States and the Nation as a whole. These organizations should be non-partisan, taking their stand on issues and judging candidates on their merits without regard to party labels.

That is the road to victory in the war and a people's victory in the election. The program of Teheran, the prospects for victory and a lasting peace, are at stake. Never has there been a greater challenge to the American people or a greater opportunity.

N.A.A.C.P. TO HOLD MONSTER MASS MEETING SUNDAY AT 2ND BAPTIST TO CLOSE DRIVE

New Record Established With 90 Percent of Total Received

For the double purpose of receiving final reports, and giving recognition to campaign workers for outstanding service, the local branch of the NAACP will hold a membership rally at the Second Baptist Church this Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

With the drive already having exceeded last year's record-breaking total by 2000 members, the rally promises to put Los Angeles way over the top in the quota fixed by the National office in its nation-wide membership drive. $9000, or 90 per cent of the total has been reported to date.

Citations will be given to the districts which make the best reports, and to the district which raises its full quota or the highest percent of its quota.

5 Districts

For the purpose of the campaign, the city was divided into five districts, namely: the Westside, with Clarence O. English superintendent, Eastside "A," William Pollard superintendent, Eastide "B," Clarence S. Smith superintendent, Bronzeville, Dr. Harold S. Kingsley superintendent, Watts, Mrs. Emma Spencer superintendent, and Hollywood, with Joe Oliver as superintendent.

The Rev. L. G. Robinson and H. A. Howard were co-chairmen of the social gifts committee.

The public is urged to attend the rally and give due recognition to those who sacrificed their time and energy so that the fight for a better democracy for all would be financed.

On the Sidewalk

by c.a.b

MOST of my friends are on the Republican side of the political fence, but I opine that many of them feel, as I do, that there is no alternative but to keep in command of the Ship of State our present Commander-in-Chief.

And I have profound respect for my friends' opinions on political matters, but I know that some of them, like myself, remember World War I and after. While the soil produced the same amount of food stuff and the mills and factories turned out sufficient to meet the needs of the American people, there was starvation in the land. This condition stretched across the years from 1920 to 1932 when America, "hardened" under Harding, "cooled" under Coolidge, and in spite of the fact that he promised "a chicken in every pail," "hungered" under Hoover. Then, as has been the case in all ages and all exegsis when a strong leadership was needed to save the Nation, God gave us Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Yes, I know, at first many of us could not see it. We said, "No good can come out of the Democratic Party." And although wanting to believe that at last there would be some alleviation for our suffering, we—chief among the sufferers from the wreck of World War I — were chief among the doubting Thomases as to what the new president's attitude towards the Negro people and their problems would be. We did not fully realize the almost unsurmountable task which Roosevelt faced and solved: that of clearing out the debris of the economic and political wreck of our past mismanagement and launching America on a course toward true economic security. Not understanding fully these things we often joined the reactionary forces in derision of the emergency measures invoked by the Pre-

Port Chicago's Death Total Is Still Mounting

Negro Personnel Is Commended For Devotion To Duty

With continuing reports estimating that the full casualty total in the recent Port Chicago disaster will reach 300 enlisted personnel dead, and 300 civilian personnel dead, authorities are making every effort to identify the bodies that are being discovered daily, many of them being washed up on shore. Identification in many cases is a difficult process, and Navy authorities have resorted to fingerprinting as the only certain means to overcome the handicap of badly burned and shattered physical features.

A "GREAT CREDIT"

In the midst of the sorrowing attendant upon the stunning catastophey, high Naval authorities have issued statements paying tribute to the Negro Naval personnel which comprises the bulk of the Port's enlisted manpower. Pointing out that the Negro personnel had

Tribute Paid Soldier For 3 Years of Service

A dinner party, honoring the 3rd year of military service for Cpl. William M. Gilliam, was given at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson D. Gilliam of 650½ East 36th Street. Present were members of the family and friends.

The dinner was a compromise, due to the fact that a birthday party had been planned, but military dictates prevented his being here for the occasion.

New Bazooka Used In Invasion Of France

BRIDEPORT, Conn. — A new bazooka has been born. This was disclosed today by the War Department and officials of General Electric.

The new gun has the same general appearance as its older rocket-launching brother, except that it is of knockdown construction and the barrel may be carried in two pieces. The use of dry-cell batteries for firing also has been elminated and a new sight greatly improves accuracy. It was designed to be used by paratroopers and saw its first action during the invasion of France.

Naval Supply Depot at Oakland Manned By Negro Blue Jackets

The job being done by 1,209 Negro bluejackets at the world's largest coastal naval supply depot, at Oakland, Calif., was described by Rear Admiral Arthur H. Mayo, USN, Supply Officer in Command, as important and efficient.

Negro sailors from all parts of the country are rendering excellent service to their country while fighting the battle of the Navy's supply lines at the supply depot, Admiral Mayo said.

Commissioned only eight days after the Japanese attacked at Pearl Harbor, this depot has been expanding rapidly to keep pace with the growth of the Navy. Wharf space, railroad yards and covered storage space are included in an area of nearly a square mile.

Marcantonio Asks Punishment For Negro Soldier's Murderer

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Secretary of War Henry Stimson was urged by Congressman Vito Marcantonio, president of the International Labor Defense, to use "every resource at the command of the Army" to insure swift punishment for the bus-driver murderer of Pvt. Booker T. Specely, a Negro soldier wantonly shot to death at Durham, N. C., on July 12.

The text of Mr. Marcantonio's letter to the Secretary of War follows:

"The news today of the wanton killing of a Negro soldier by a bus driver in North Carolina brings again into sharp relief the inadequacy of federal measures to protect the uniform of the United States Army. From the repeated incidents of murder of Negro troops by bus drivers and civil police in a number of Southern states, the impression is unfortunately gaining that there is no real desire to protect the Negro troops from homicidal white supremacist subscribers to the Nazi 'racial' theories.

"Many Negro families, I know, are more fearful of the danger to their sons in Southern states from native 'enemies' against whom they have no protection than of the danger to their lives in battle against the true Axis enemy, where a soldier dies proudly and honorably.

The Los Angeles Times Creates Racial Dis-Unity, Lawyers Say

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following statement was issued by the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Lawyers' Guild.

In June of 1943, Los Angeles was the scene of a shameful spectacle. Mobs roamed the streets and viciously assaulted persons of Mexican origin and many Negroes. The press of the city by inflammatory articles helped bring the situation into being and thereafter kept it fermenting. An aroused community finally recognizing the Hitlerian quality of the events which had taken place organized to prevent their repetition. Effective steps were taken. The newspapers largely ceased publication of articles attacking minority groups.

On last Sunday, July 16, the Los Angeles Times under the headline "Youthful Gang Secrets Exposed" published an article which if followed by others of similar character creates the real danger that the city will again be thrown into the chaos of minority baiting and rioting.

The article is based upon information alleged to have been received from "authorities of the Superior Court" with no indication of what "authorities of the Superior Court" are referred to. The very anonimity of the source of this story renders it suspect.

SUBTLE POISON

The article is not so vague with regard to the national origin of the boys and girls to whom it refers. Although no minority group is mentioned by name, the reference to Spanish slang words and to Pachucos can leave no doubt in the mind of the reader.

This article indicts the youth of a minority group as a whole because of the type of clothes they wear and the fashion of hair-do which they prefer.

CALL TO DIS-UNITY

The fact that a minority group is referred to is made clear by blaming the alleged criminal

Theodosia Jones Visits L. A.; Says Negroes Advancing in D. C.

One of the most distinguished summer visitors to this city is Miss Theodosia Jones, former resident of Los Angeles on her first visit in nine years. Miss Jones has lived in Washington, D. C. during this time where she is proof-reader in the office of the Recorder of Deeds. This important function has so closely occupied Miss Jones' time that the long planned return to Los Angeles has each year been postponed.

The guest of Mrs. Enola Chism, 1138 E. 22nd, Miss Jones has been extensivley entertained during her visit here, otustanding among which was the party given in her honor by the Los Angeles Forum on Sunday.

Miss Jones stated on interview that although the crowded living conditions are forcing many civil service employes, both Negro and white, to leave Washington, the Negro workers are steadily advancing in their job classifications and because of their efficiency are being employed in many responsible positions in many fields of government service.

Miss Jones expects to leave for Washington, D. C. today to resume her duties.

Shipyarders Reach One-Third Of Goal

By Walter Williams

Last Sunday night found the shipyard workers with approximately one third of the sum of $3,000, needed to cover legal expenses which will be incurred as the fight to eliminate the Boilermakers' Jim Crow Auxiliary is carried through the various State courts.

Contributions Needed

The Shipyard Workers Committee urges all employes of Calship, Consolidated and Western Pipe and Steel shipyards to send contributions, large and small, to assist in financing the fight against the 'Jim Crow unionism' that is now being practiced by Boilermakers' Local 92.

Negro shipyard workers in particular, who want the equal opportunity to retain their jobs after the war is won, should give financial and moral support to this committee.

You may send your contributions to the Shipyard Workers Committee for Equal Participation in care of The California Eagle, 41st and Central Ave.

Meetings are held Thursday nights at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m. at the 28th St. Y.M.C.A., 1006 E. 28th St.

The committee is very grateful to the management of the Florence Mills Theatre for granting them the privilege of making an appeal in their auditorium last Sunday night.

Cooperation Given

This committee feels that the entire community will feel highly appreciative for the interest and cooperation shown by the managements of the Bill Robinson, Florence Mills, and Savoy Theatres, in helping to solve the Jim Crow problem.

Remember, shipyarders, this is your own fight. Come to the meetings as scheduled.

The First Negro Convention for Texas Democrats

10 Delegates Are Named To Attend A County Meeting

HOUSTON, Texas. — In what is reportedly the first such action ever taken by Negroes in the south, a group of Negroes this week showed their strength and controlled the organization of a Democratic precinct. Here Harris County executive committee chairman M. L. O. Andrews asserted that he believed that the convention called by E. H. Harrison, a Negro union official and vice-president of the Third Ward Civic Club was the first ever organized in the south by Negroes.

Over fifty Negroes and three whites attended the convention which elected Harrison temporary chairman. A white woman, Miss Lottie Wallis, a precinct election judge, was named to cast the precinct's single vote at the coming county convention. Harrison said later that Miss Wallis was named because the custom is to name the precinct judge as the first delegate, "and we are only entitled to one delegate."

When asked if the action in the 25th precinct meant that the Democratic party is open to Negroes, chairman Andrews said, "This means that as a result of the Supreme Court ruling, political parties haven't got the right to say who can be a member."

Bias at U. S. Navy Drydock Creates Labor Shortage

Negro Workers Are By-Passed In Promotions

Recruiting for workers at the U. S. Naval Drydocks, Terminal Island is going on at a fast pace, but the 2000 Negro workers among the 8000 workers already employed see no prospects for their being of greater service to the Yard, for they are in the same menial jobs for which they were hired although some of them have seen more than one year's service with the organization.

15,000 workers are needed at present at the Drydocks, and it is the contention of the Negro workers there that these new employes will be hired in capacities which older Negro workers have not merited during their term of service. White workers in all classifications are sent out to recruit other workers, but no Negro has been asked to recruit other Negro workers.

These workers are being recruited from all over the country, contributing to the already crowded housing and transportation problems, while qualified Negro workers already in this area are not apprised of the job opportunities existing there in sident and participated in three presidential campaigns in an effort to defeat President Roosevelt, but the people said, "NO!"

Traditionally we are Republicans, but praise the Lord and pass the ammunition, at least some of us are beginning to see the coming of a new world. We know that never before in the history of our world have we had the promise of a "new day" until now. Under the Roosevelt administration we have a Social Security Program that insures American workers, Negro and white, against starvation when conditions beyond their control prevent their employment.

Shall we, the Negro people, help to defeat the party that gave us this? Shall we again raise our voices against the Administration that tore out the rat and cockroach infested tenement hovels provided for Negro occupancy in New York, Cleveland, Baltimore, Detroit, Los Angeles, and all metropolitan cities and gave us decent homes. That penetrated the Delta regions of Louisiana and Mississippi and not only gave the Negro people in those benighted regions homes, but equal wages with other Americans.

When, oh, when have we read this, or any other such caption on the front page of the "Times," "Texas Negro Democrats Gain Power"; and under said caption, one Democratic official said that this was the first time any such action has been taken by Negroes—the controlling of a precinct and representation at a County Convention! I quote from the morning edition of the Los Angeles Times for July 25, 1944: "With three whites and 50 to 60 Negroes attending, the convention elected Harrison temporary chairman. A white woman, Miss Lottie Wallis, precinct election judge, was named to cast the precinct's one vote at the Democratic county convention. Asked 'does this mean that the Democratic party is open to Negroes?' Andrews replied: 'This means that as a result of the Supreme Court ruling (opening Democratic primaries to Negro voters) political parties haven't got the right to say who can be a member. Churches and clubs can exclude individuals from membership if they desire but the Supreme Court says political parties cannot do co.'"

The "Times" continues, "Each precinct is entitled to one delegate for each 25 votes. Precinct 25 is peopled 96 per cent by Negroes, said Harrison, who is financial secretary of Local 2457 of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.)"

Our two most persecuted elements in the body politic, Labor and the Negro, have joined ranks in their determination to first win the war and the victory. They will not let the enemy pass.

Need For Eastside Hospital Stressed

The subject of the urgent need of a hospital in the Eastside-Central Avenue district has directed attention to the health of the people residing in that area. Since the launching of the drive for a 100 bed hospital for the over crowded area, citizens have recognized the need not only for the hospital, but also for a definite health survey.

Prominent

The drive for the hospital was launched some months ago by Dr. P. Price Cobb and several other medical men including Dr. W. J. Williams, Dr. Charles Jackson, Dr. Kyle, Dr. Jones King and others including the local medical association. The proposed hospital is to be staffed by competent medical men of every racial group and accommodations will be extended to patients of every race and creed on the basis of their need for immediate hospitalization.

Dr. C. L. Mulfinger, chairman of the Committee on Hospitals, Dispensaries and Clinics, of the Los Angeles County Medical Association and his associates, Dr. John V. Barrow and Dr. Phillip Cunnane, endorsed the plan for the hospital project for the area last November. Others who have recognized the need for greater and more facile hospitalization include W. L. Stansberry, of the Medical Diagnosis Association, Fred M. Potts of the Pyo-Gon, Hull Laboratories and Earl M. Phillips.

ONE WINNER TO ANOTHER—Congratulations! says Helen Gahagan Douglas, recently elected 14th district Congressional candidate to John Dial Jr., after he was elected Political Action chairman for Local 9, of the Shipyardworkers Union, CIO. Dial who is an electrical instructor at the Los Angeles Shipyard will have charge of political action for the third largest union local in the United States. He was in charge of Helen Gahagan Douglas' campaign in the 14th during the primary elections.

activity upon what is called "molly-coddling of racial groups." The only inference to be drawn from this assertion is that the community must toughen its attitude toward racial groups. It is a call to discrimination, to race hatred, to disunity—even to mob violence.

From this article the conclusion is to be gathered that every girl in this minority group with a high pompadour carries concealed in it a knife and a fingernail file; that every minority boy who displays a heavy pocket chain carries a concealed knife; that all minority boys and girls hate servicemen and are even ready to attack them.

All of these charges are based upon the alleged confession of one unnamed boy given at an undisclosed place at an unknown time under unstated circumstances. That these statements are untrue can be concluded from the facts that boys of this group are to be counted in the thousands in the armed forces, that there has been no increase in crime on the East side and that if the charges were true it would be possible to give names, places and times instead of the unsupported assertions set forth in the article.

What this article was directed towards is in part made clear by an editorial which appears in the Los Angeles Times of Tuesday, July 18, under the heading "Its Not a Nice Job But It Has to Be Done." This editorial calls for the most severe treatment of "youthful gangs." Again the Times tips its hand as to the object of its demand for getting tough.

FORCED LABOR

Reference is made to the proposal for requiring juveniles to work on the Santa Fe Railroad as a proper approach to the "juvenile crime" problem. Although the editorial does not so state, this plan is one for Mexican youth. This again indicates to whom the editorial refers.

Articles and editorials of this kind threaten the unity which has been in the process of forming in this community; they endanger our war effort; and they remove the essential basis for post war unity and progress.

The community must arouse itself to prevent this threat to our unity. The Times must be informed that the people expect greater responsibility of one of its leading newspapers. Inquiry must be made as to the source of the charges contained in the article and their falsity must be broadcast.

EQUAL LAW FOR ALL

Enforcement of our criminal laws there must be; but it must be enforcement with an equal hand and without ANY emphasis on minority groups. There must be no indictments on a mass basis; each criminal act must be individually investigated and prosecuted. Trial by the press and by mass hysteria must not be allowed.

The problem of juvenile delinquency as a whole must be faced not in a spirit of vengeance but with the resolve to remove the cause of such delinquency. Only thus can Los Angeles maintain its unity, make its maximum contribution to the war effort and prepare for a post war period of full employment and progress.

Thomas L. Powell Dies Suddenly

Harrison, who is president of local 2457 of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, said that precinct 25 is 96 per cent Negro.

In precinct 48, at a convention called by whites which Negroes attended, 10 white and 10 Negro delegates were elected to attend the county convention. As the result of Negro participation in the elections, voting showed a tremendous increase over 1942.

Meanwhile, in South Carolina, Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith was defeated for reelection, paralleling the fate of Senator Hattie D. Caraway of Arkansas. While Negroes participated in the Arkansas elections, reports indicate that every attempt to vote in the South Carolina primaries by Negroes was rebuffed. Spokesmen for Negro groups stated that the refusals would be the basis for future court action.

acquitted themselves with "great credit," Captain Merrill T. Kinne, USNR, said:

"Under those emergy conditions, regular members of our complement and volunteers from Mare Island displayed creditable coolness and bravery." Captain Kinne said it was difficult to single out individuals who participated in rescue and preventive operations, however, he stated that four Negro enlisted men did move boldly into a danger area around boxcars loaded with ammunition, and quell flames.

LOCAL YOUTH PRAISED

The captain praised highly the courageous and unselfish action of 200 Negro sailors from Mare Island Ammunition Depot who voluntarily worked around the clock as long as the emergency continued. Among those whom he singled out for praise is Bernard N. Clagett, Gunner's Mate, Second Class of Los Angeles.

Devotion to duty and sacrifice of life equal to the greatest sacrifice on the field of battle is the record that history will show for the unnumbered dead who gave their all at Port Chicago.

CIVIL SERVICE

All the jobs at the U. S. Naval Drydocks are Civil Service jobs, and the Negro workers there ask only that the regular Civil Service procedure for the upgrading of workers be carried out in their cases.

Specifically the representatives of the Negro workers, as yet unorganized, ask: (1) that qualified Negro workers be upgraded in all shops to mechanical or supervisorial capacities, (2) that the Negro workers be represented on the Security Police Force, in the Personnel and Welfare Departments, and in all other white collar position, (3) immediate upgrading of all workers through Civil Service procedure.

Negro Colleges In La. Get More Money

Scotlandville, La. This sum represented a substantial increase over all previous appropriations to these schools.

He Only Had a Quart Of Beer, How Could The Man Get Drunk?

Although four witnesses testified that he was driving 60 miles per hour in a reckless manner on Washington boulevard en route from Santa Monica to Los Angeles, and that when finally apprehended by police after a two-mile chase, he showed evidence of being intoxicated and walked in a stupor, La Vody C. Bell of 1403 East 23rd street was acquitted of drunk driving and speeding charges this week by Municipal Judge Aggeler after a trial in which the defendant insisted that all he had had to drink was one quart of beer several hours preceding the arrest.

Prior to the trial, upon motion of defense counsel, David W. Williams, Judge Aggeler denied the prosecution the right to file additional charges alleging the speeding on the ground that there had been ample time to file these charges when the original drunk driving charges were filed. As to the complaint alleging intoxication, it was held that the evidence was too shallow to warrant a conviction.

South Now Employing Censors to Delete Negro Bits in Films

By Don DeLeighbur

NEW YORK—The crackers are on the march again. This time they are not armed with rope, faggot, tar and feathers, but with more subtle and as cruel weapons—the censor's shears and the censor's blue pencil. They have found a new indoor sport involving the Negro and are busy in the Deep South snipping out Negro scenes out of moving picture films to keep the lilywhite audiences in Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi and elsewhere below the Mason-Dixon Line from seeing Negroes in any semblance of social equality with whites.

FRICTION—THEY SAY

They believe—or rather, give the excuse—that this action prevents friction between black and white. The local exhibitors, however, are having terrific headaches and cases of indigestion since some of the ignorant, backwoods rednecks are indiscriminately hacking out scenes in big pictures leaving blurred continutity and the entire film, confused and chopped up.

At Memphis, Variety reports, the cracker censors snipped out scenes from the United Artists film, 'Sensations of 1945," involving Cab Calloway and his orchestra. The censor declared the scenes were "inimical to the public interest." Memphis reviewers said the rest of the picture was "patched up" and "confusing."

SNIPPED OUT LENA HORNE

The censor at Memphis also snipped out of "Broadway Rhythm" all scenes in which Lena Horne was shown, although he got a bit lazy and confused and left in Hazel Scott. It has been said that Miss Horne was cut out of her last two pictures in several Dixie cities. It has been reported also that newsreels showing Negro troops have been chopped out in Southern cities. This was discovered here in New York when inquiries at home offices and newsreel companies revealed that originally such scenes were put in.

It is far more important to me to preserve an unblemished conscience than to compass any object however great.

'Performed Bravely' Admiral Wright Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rear Admiral Carleton H. Wright, U.S.N., Commandant of the Twelfth Naval District, said of the Negro sailors stationed at Port Chicago:

"I am gratified to learn, as was to be expected, Negro personnel attached to the Naval magazine, Port Chicago, performed brevely and efficiently in the emergency at that station last Monday night.

"These men, in the months that they served at that command, did excellent work in an important segment of the District's overseas combat supply system. As real Navy men, they simply carried on in the crisis attendant on the explosion, in accordance with our service's highest traditions."

He received a warm welcome from his mother and grandmother, who have given their lives for him, and they and his friends, who are many, wish for him success, and that he will make the kind of man his family and country may well be proud of.

West Side Resident Named Delegate To Democrat Convention

Hal Styles, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 15th Congressional District, who defeated Congressman John Costello in the Primary, stressed "anti-discrimination" in his campaign. Deploring racial prejudice, he pledged himself to fight discrimination of Negroes at every turn.

Today, as his first fullfillment of that pledge, he appointed Mrs. Lydia Wilson, a Negro of 1253 West 35th street, to be a Delegate to the Democratic State Convention, meeting in Sacramento on August 12th.

It has been estimated there are as many as 300 ways in which one man's fingers can differ from those of anyone else in the world.

Your Health

A DIRECT NOTICE TO MOTHERS WHO EXPECT BABIES SOON

By Dr. Seymour N. Kaufman
Eminent Physician & Surgeon of 106 N. San Pedro St.
VA. 0211

We observe quite readily that "brother stork" is busy these days, we find that it is necessary for timely discussion on instructions for expectant mothers.

On your first visit to your doctor it will be necessary for the doctor to have a complete record of your previous illnesses in order that he may take precaution against possible complications, so do not be reluctant to give the doctor every bit of information that he desires. If possible, a complete general physical examination will be made at the first visit. Also it will be necessary to take a blood specimen for a pre-natal examination and a urine specimen. This blood specimen is required by law as a protective measure to enhance protection of the newcomer and protect the mother. It is advisable that you make appointments in advance for subsequent visits to the doctor in order to avoid unnecessary trips in event that the doctor is called away. If at any time you notice any unusual symptoms or you do not feel well no matter how trivial the question is, write it down so that you will not forget it. Regular examinations of your urine are exceedingly important for often many disorders which sometimes develop during this period are detected by irregularities in the urine.

If, at any time, the following does occur, report immediately to the doctor:

1—Bleeding. Go to bed at once. Do not take any medicine.
2—Rupture of bag-of-water. This is evidenced by a sudden uncontrollable gush of fluid.
3—Persisting vomiting.
4—Reduction in the amount of urine.
5—Continuous headaches.
6—Unusual swelling of feet, the hands and face.
7—Severe abdominal or pelvic cramps.

In our next column we will discuss the general habits and exercise for the expectant mother.

Negro Cadet Nurses Form The Basis For Future Health Work

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Many of the leaders in the field of prowill come from the 434 young women now enrolled in five collegiate schools of nursing, the U. S. Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency, announced this week. These young women, as members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, will receive a good basis for preparation for administrative, supervisory and ducational positions in the nursing field, the Public Health Service said. Theirs will be the responsibility of providing the Negro nursing profession with an adequate supply of experienced instructors and supervisors.

The five collegiate schools of nursing—John A. Andrew Memorial School for Nurses, Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.; Dillard University, New Orleans, La.; Meharry School of Nursing, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., and St. Phillips School of Nursing, Richmond, Va.,—offer four and one-half to five-year courses of collegiate and professional work leading to a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

A DREAM COME TRUE

By Cecil G. McIntyre

In my travels through Bronzeville, I have found something very interesting—a young gent working all alone and keeping his secret to himself. I gradually squeezed an interview from him after no small amount of persuasion, and this is what I found out.

Mr. Gordon H. Sheppard (known to his friends as Shepp) is a man we should have met long ago. Coming to this city from Chicago 23 years ago, he has had 18 years' experience as a film technician (trick photography), worked on many of the outstanding pictures produced in Hollywood, and has had a hand in about every Negro film that has been made here.

Being a man of a thrifty nature and sober habits, he has saved his money and temporarily retired from Hollywood to go into another field hoping to satisfy you as he has satisfied Hollywood and his unknown public. We may be sure that this can be accomplished, because this young man besides having a very pleasant and winning personality, has as good a business head as anyone in these parts. Starting out demonstrating autos, he later obtained experience in photography and darkroom work from the advertising angle and from there, step by step, he climbed upward until he became the top-flight race cameraman of Hollywood.

This new venture is in the nature of a night club and cocktail lounge of such exceptional beauty and smartness as to dazzle the imagination. No expense has been spared in equipping and decorating this dream palace and it is destined to become the mecca of all pleasure seekers throughout the Southland. It would take a book to describe this marvel of beauty, but this is what the writer was able to see after successfully maneuvering a peek into the place during building operations.

Situated in a large building in the heart of Bronzeville, one first comes into a spacious cocktail lounge which has a magnificent and artistically contoured bar that is indeed a masterpiece. There is also room for many tables to accommodate a large number of people. A wealth of mirrors adorn the walls, enhancing the beauty and general smartness of the room.

We leave the lounge and are escorted to other smaller rooms, each of a different color scheme. These rooms are for small parties who wish to have their dinner served privately. On another floor approached by a modernistic, curved stairway, we come into the cabaret that is truly an expression of clever design and artistic taste. Although incomplete, one may get an adequate idea of it's splendor. The walls are done in pale green fluted sateen, set off by soft lights of the same color, which truly give the place a heavenly atmosphere.

All this is Mr. Sheppard's own design, which is a living testimonial of his talent and ability. Being centrally located, this beauty spot is easily accessible to both Hollywood and the city proper, and a shrewd guess is that the Hollywood patrons will attempt to keep it well populated. This palace of fun, in all probability, will be a number one on the hit parade of all merrymakers, and be on all visitors' "must list" while in the city. It is equipped throughout with both air conditioning and public address systems, enabling the patrons to enjoy comfort and hear the entertainment in any part of the building.

Be sure to watch for the announcement of the opening and make your reservations early as they will surely be sold out in no time at all.

The People's Paper Plans to Publish An Anniversary Edition

More frequently than we have wanted to, we have had to postpone the date of publication of our 65th Anniversary edition. Shortages in newsprint and manpower have played havoc with our intentions, but the Anniversary Edition will make its appearance in the very near future.

There are a few pages left for our advertisers and we plan to accept copy during the next few weeks so that we can begin to set the pages up. Churches, social and civic organizations should send copy for the Anniversary issue in as soon as possible in order to get choice space.

The subscription campaign which is the vital part of the drive will continue until at least 10,000 new subscribers have been signed. Our endeavor to build a strong people's paper has been successful to the extent that we have the most representative list of readers west of the Rockies.

The struggles ot create a permanent FEPC, the fight against racial discrimination, the work of building a strong post-war world, and the campaign to re-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt are some of the tasks which we have set for ourselves in the next few months.

Help Needed

Your support in participating in our Anniversary Edition and in becoming a subscriber are the ammunition we must use if we are to win our fight.

90 Day Dog Leash Law Shows Results

In its first week of operation, the 90-day city leash law has resulted in a drop in the number of reported dog bites and avoided a possible rabies epidemic, Dr. George M. Uhl, City Health Officer, announced yesterday.

"Four rabid dogs of the furious type were found during the week," Dr. Uhl said, " but are reported to have bitten no persons or other dogs. The leash law is to be credited for keeping healthy pets out of the reach of these animals and halting the spread of this fatal disease."

ASK YOUR DENTIST
Good health depends upon good chewing for nourishment; and good chewing depends upon good teeth. That's why both your physician and dentist urge regular dental care. Missing teeth and other dental defects invite serious illness. If you enjoy good dental health, spare no effort to retain it; if not, you should take immediate steps to acquire it. In either case, consult your dentist regularly.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

Blanche Groggs, who recently received her Master Degree in Social Work, has accepted a position with the local personnel of the American Red Cross. The young matron is the first Negro social service worker to receive a paid position with the organization in this city, though there are workers in several eastern cities as well as 139 paid Negro workers serving in the different theaters of the war. Blanche plans for continuing her services with the organization and taking part in the huge rebuilding program on foreign shores after the war. So it's another step forward for the gay young matron.

REAL SUCCESS

The membership dance held by the Jr. Council of the NAACP was a big success, the different clubs 'round town are taking out blanket memberships every week, not counting the individual memberships that pour in. Just judging from the output of new membership cards, the drive is going over in a big way, but it so happens that the real success of the drive is the actual addition of working members. So don't just take out a membership and call it quits, get on some real time, and attend the meetings. Believe me when I say, they are definitely on the "ball." Ike Adams' council prexy presides every Friday night at the regular meeting held at the YMCA, so why not be on hand?

TAKING IT EASY

For the past week or two, gay soirees have been checked off the list in place of weddings, luncheons and picnics which have taken the spot light. Of course the Bob Carrols stole the show when they became Mr. and Mrs. on the 16th with nothing but leading younger setters taking part in the ceremony. The popular young couple is honeymooning in Mexico, and I understand that they have a suite in one of the finest hotels the city has to offer. By the way, bridesmaids Maethilde Kenner and Paulette Dejoie returned to the Angel city especially for the ceremony, then took a quick dash back to Seeley, where they are summer counciling . . .

A week or two back, Jerry Stewart was surprised out of her wits (well almost), when her friends showered her with gifts at a surprise birthday luncheon. The affair was perfection, topped with birthday cake and the proper amount of candles. On hand were all of her deb friends, and they enjoyed a grand afternoon topped with a delightful repast.

THE GREEKS

The two under grad chapters of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority have taken to picnicing in a big way. Alpha Gamma Chapter held a back-yard frolic that was different and loads of fun. Refreshments included hot dogs, roasted over Jo Marshall barbecue pit, pop, and other odds and ends that add to an affair of this type. By the way, the chapter is still feeling pretty good over holding it recognition on the University campus. Other local Greek letter sororities for some reason or another haven't gained recognition on either the S.C. or UCLA campus . . .

Sigma chapter of the sorority held its social meeting under the swaying trees of Griffith Park, Sunday afternoon. Other sorority members were invited to the affair . . . This week-end will find most of the Alpha Women departing for the much talked about conference which is being held in Oakland.

From all indications, the Frat men 'round town are weary-ing over their sisters taking the lime light completely, so they are slowly but surely becoming active again with the material that Uncle Sam was kind enough to leave at home. See where the Alpha Delta Chapter of the Alpha Fraternity held a pretty jam up meeting at the home of Carter Lewis last Sunday. New officers include Jimmy Robinson, prexy, Arthur Trent, vice prexy, Jimmy Lewis, secretary, William Luke, corresponding secretary, Fred Lyle, treasurer, Carter Lewis, sergeant-at-arms, Roy Andrews, parliamentarian, and Reverend Hamilton Boswell, chaplain. The social committee, headed by Jack Terry, has some big plans for the future.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

The lovely damsel recently seen 'round town with Gloria Tribble is none other than Beatrice Woods, Glo's future sister-in-law. By the way, Bea is a graduate of Fisk University . . . Melonee Temple and Josephine Spearman are back from a pleasure jaunt up Frisco way. The debs had a gay time, but Jo says that the weather conditions up that way must go . . . Leola Beavers is also back in town, after a whirlwind trip to San Diego and Tijuana, where she definitely enjoyed herself . . .

Received word from Maurice Jones, and the man about town will soon be home of furlough from Boot training . . . Clyde Coffee is already enjoying his leave, and will return to Great Lakes comes Monday . . . Hear that the object of Gloria Bailey's affection is some lucky guy down Diego way. If this is true, it means that a certain local gent has a broken heart, and that's the way dame rumor has it at present . . . Pfc. Edward Greenwood is playing to his hearts content in an army orchestra down Texas way. By the by, John Kinloch, Pfc. if you please, is safe and sound somewhere in England, and he seems to be enjoying the sights in that part of the world . . . Lt. Cato Robinson is seeing what Italy has to offer now, hoping he will get a better impression of the place than he got of Ciro . . .

Old Doc stork is hovering over Priscilla (Rabi) Owens' chimney, any day now, the big event will take place. Her better half is somewhere in France, so big brother Emile plans to be on hand when the big event takes place . . . Speaking of new additions, Lt. and Mrs. Lacey (Elweis James), were blessed with a male bundle of joy . . . Sammie Gravely is keeping us posted from Asbury Park, New Jersey, the former UCLAite writes that he is definitely living the life. By the way, the two new V-12s on the Bruin campus are creating quite a discussion among the summer sessioners.

When the choo choo pulled out for Chicago last Sunday, Ella Woods threw a farewell kiss to the Angel city. The gay school marm is forgetting readin, writin, and rithmatic for a while, and plans to have a super time, while seeing what the big cities have to offer. Her twin sis, Eva, is remaining in the city until she takes her teacher's exam . . . Speaking of school, Benzell Graham who completed her college education in three years from S.C., has enrolled for the summer session to take a few subjects that she has always wanted to take, but just didn't have the time.

Edna Robinson is seriously ill and hospitalized, I understand. Here's hoping she will pull through with a speedy recovery . . . Younger setters extend sympathy to Howard and Sgt. Artis Grant, in the passing of their father . . . I'm still feeling a little over-joyed over the news of my brother, Seaman First Class Hoyt Brown's lucky escape from the horrible catastrophy at Port Chicago.

Don't forget the Council meetings.

TILL NEXT WEEK.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER—Pictured seated in the center of a happy group is Dr. Alain Leroy Locke of Washington, D. C., who was lavishly entertained at a dinner party last Friday by his friend Dr. Isadore Mitchell, shown on the extreme right. On the left is Rev. George E. Garner and Mrs. Garner. The party was given at Dr. Mitchell's beautifully appointed town house, Edgehill.

A tender conscience is an inestimable blessing; that is, a conscience not only quick to discern what is evil, but instantly to shun it, as the eyelid closes itself against the mote.

'Y' Activities

Entering its third week, the "Y"'s summer program for boys between 9 and 13 years of age is proving very successful. Eighty boys have registered for the "Summer Band Wagon" as it is called, with additional youngsters signing up every day.

The program is under the direction of Mr. James Fowler, who was brought from Oakland, Calif., for that purpose. Assisting him are Mr. Ralph A. Henderson, handicrafts, Mr. David Butler, athletics, and Elmer Douglas, swimming.

Chief among program features are: swimming and swimming instruction, crafts, softball, volleyball, basketball, boxing, croquet, horse shoes, group games, movies, billiards, checkers, ping pong and others. The program operates five days a week, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Most of the boys bring their lunches and spend the day, thereby enabling working parents to have a safe place for their boys to engage in constructive activities under competent leadership. Boys may register at any time during the day.

Mrs. Gadis Entertained Honoring Isaac Daniels

Mrs. H. R. Gadis, 1528½ W. 35th place, entertained a few of her friends at an intimate get-together last Saturday evening honoring Isaac Daniels, former Angeleno who is a war worker at Vallejo.

Bidden to the affair were the Messrs. and Mesdames James Batiste, J. Cullen Fentress, Clinton Jackson, Clarence Oliver, Mesdames Ben Watkins, E. O. Cox, Max Porter, and Mr. Bernard Andrews.

"YACS" Sponsor Youth Program

In addition to the younger boys program, the YM and YWCA are cooperating with the "YACS" (Youth Activities and Inter-Club Club Council) in sponsoring a teen-age program for co-eds on Monday and Wednesday evenings at the YM and on Friday evenings at the YW. This program operates from 7 to 10 p.m. and is for boys and girls from 14 to 19 years of age. It includes activities such as social dancing, swimming, archery, badminton, volleyball, arts and crafts, low organized games, semi-active games and quiet games.

Walter Worrill, young men's secretary on the "Y" staff directs the teen-age program with the assistance of Curly Monroe, Mrs. Corrine Asby, and Frank Davis swimming and athletics, while James Fowler and Mrs. Mabel Bishop handle quiet and semi-active games.

Yeoman service is given in many capacities by members of the "YACS" as sponsors of the program; among those who are giving of their time are: Dorothy Williams, Ozellia Williams, Anna Keyes, Dorothy McGrew, Ida Dickinson, Edrina and Lois Raphael and Elmer Douglas. The "YACS" invite all teen-age youth to register with them after 7 p.m., at the YM on Monda and Wednesday evenings and at the YW on Friday eves.

Funds making these two programs possible are being provided by the L. A. Youth Project as well as for activities in other community agencies. The Project provides the money and the agencies give facilities in a cooperative effort to offer constructive and wholesome leisure time activities for the boys and girls of our community this summer. Promotion of both the "Band Wagon" and Teen-age programs is being handled by Emory L. Cain, former boys' work secretary with the Brooklyn, N. Y. "Y" now field secretary at the 28th Street branch.

PERFUMES

In this busy war-torn age I think it better for the pretty American women not to forget to add a touch of their favorite perfume or cologne to their toilette. One of my classmates once said she would rather miss class than make an appearance without a touch of perfume. I thought I would rather miss them all rather than go without lip stick. My friend was a French girl and that probably explains her viewpoint.

As time goes on I now see what she meant and I thoroughly agree with her. If you go into a ladies lounge you will see them in front of a mirror applying makeup consisting of powder and lip stick. After that process they light cigarettes and are ready to go out and join the boy friend or husband on whom barbers have profusely used after-shave lotions, perfumed hair tonic or the males have lavished perfume or cologne upon themselves. So Girls, let's use a little more perfume or cologne. It goes along with your makeup and adds that finishing touch.

Wear a winsome perfume when you would be at your feminine cheerful best. In that manner you will stand out despite a topsy-turvy world.

HATS

Girls, whenever you buy a hat again try to buy the prettiest you ever owned. Because this season's millinery is the most beautiful ever made! There's no limit to silhouette variety so you're sure to find the most becoming lines for YOU. There's no limit either to the number of fabrics, felts and straws—or to color brilliance. These are all beautifully detailed hats, quality through and through, to still look stunning after months of year. Remember, you are not really chic unless your hat is right and fully corresponds with the rest of your attire.

Los Angeles Nurse Awaits Orders For Overseas Duty On East Coast

Lieutenant Arlayne E. Hall, A.N.C., a resident of the Westside in Los Angeles, is now on the eastern coast awaiting orders for overseas duties. Having joined the Armed Forces December 14, 1943, she was stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona.

Lt. Hall is a graduate of Manual Arts high school, class of 1933, Los Angeles City College (pre-nursing) and Los Angeles County General Hospital where she was employed at the time of her enlistment.

The attractive lieutenant is a member of the California Nurses Association, Los Angeles County General Hospital alumni, Los Angeles Chapter Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, serving as vice-president when organized, a member of Chi-Eta Phi and former Anti Bacillus.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Jessie W. Cole and granddaughter of the late Mrs. Susan A. Hutchinson of Sacramento, Calif.

We wish her God's-speed on her errand of mercy and a safe return to her home and loved ones.

Courage In Women

There is something wrong in the saying that only men may possess courage. Women for ages have demonstrated that courage is not limited to the male sex. Courage is as necessary in the small relations of life as in the large, and to fail in small things is to fail in great things.

It may be as courageous to retire as to advance and she is a wise woman who having taken the wrong turning retraces her steps. It is an act of courage to run a risk but it is an act of folly to run risk without balancing probabilities and without counting the cost. It may require more courage not to act than to act. Courage to wait is not inferior to courage to go.

To acknowledge a defect in one's self and praise a virtue in another are not the least impressive forms of courage.

Red Cross Country Club Has A View Of The Mediterranean

SOMEWHERE IN NORTH AFRICA—A very small young lady in American Red Cross uniform, with dancing eyes and black, curly hair, held open the door of her "Country Club" to visitors.

"Oh, I see you have let your hair down," said Dorothy Marsh, Red Cross club supervisor from 101 W. 5th St., New York City, now swapping Marsh Tours for inspection tours.

"Well," said tiny Ruby Mitchell Kelly, "I had to screw my hair up tight to look dignified when I first came, but now the boys know me." Mrs. Kelly, who lives at 212 Griffin St., N. W. Atlanta, Ga., was teaching at Albany State College, Albany, Ga., when she took over her present Red Cross club assignment.

The "Country Club" is the pride of the area. It began with the requisitioning of a farmhouse with a beautiful view, above the Mediterranean. Red Cross took over the management, opened rooms for music, library, lounge and food service, and the soldiers—thousands of them stationed in the area—took over the membership.

TOO CROWDED

Soon it was too crowded for the singing, play-loving Negro troops that it served and the Army built a big annex in the form of a T-shapped fieldstone lodge, half fireplace-dominated living room, and half basketball court.

"But I certainly lost my dignity the other day," Mrs. Kelly giggled, "when my brother-in-law came to see me." Cpl. Frank Donald "Dyke" Smith, Evanston, Ill., all-American quarterback from Morris Brown College, Atlanta, had pursued the trail of his Red Cross sister-in-law halfway across Africa.

G I JOY

Finally locating her at the "Country Club," he was so pleased to see her that he picked her up in his arms and carried her, protesting, into the building, to the great delight of her admiring G I public.

★ Be Friendly ★

By RUTH TAYLOR

When I was growing up, there was a popular bit of verse which seemed to appear everywhere, from greeting cards to neatly framed illuminated texts of all sizes.

"If I knew you and you knew me,
If both of us could plainly see—"

Remember it? I think Edgar Guest wrote it, but being addicted to what Henry Van Dyke called intellectual ingratitude, I am not quite sure. . . .

I suppose the present generation would say: "It drips." According to my most modern young assistant, that is the great crime in writing—particularly in mine. But drippy or not, this verse contains a practical solution for some of the troubles which too realistic—or selfish—thinking has brought upon the world.

There would be no race problems if the races took time to get acquainted. There would be no industrial problem if the workers from both sides of the office door knew each other. There would be no class problem if there were a mingling of the citizens of a community. There would be no religious problem if worshippers gave to each other's faith the respect they want for their own.

What we need is understanding and the willingness to start from scratch—without preconceived prejudices and concepts. We know facts and statistics but not people. We study all sorts of abstruse subjects. We discuss motivations and talk glibly of what is back of people's actions. But we don't take the time to learn something of the people with whom we have to deal. We are educated in all but friendliness.

I learned my lesson at the time of my mother's death when people I never even knew came to see me. I remember after the last days of her illness, a knock came on the door one night. I opened it to find a woman I didn't remember. I found she was the maid at the hairdressers. She said, "Please, I didn't have any money for flowers. Couldn't I do some cleaning or washing for you? Your mother was so friendly. She always stopped to speak to me and she even called up when my little girl was ill. I do want to do something." That is a simple story, but it struck home to me. I had never even known the woman existed. But Mother saw each person as an individual with whom to be friendly.

If we could adopt a friendly attitude in our relationships with those around us, we could solve our bigger problems because we would acquire the habit of understanding, the gift of knowing people. It would color not only our personal lives, but our community, our national and international relations as well. What couldn't we do if only we would take the time to know people as human beings with the same problems, the same joys and sorrows as our own!

Roosevelt Accepts Responsibility

The Democratic National convention, which met in Chicago last week, nominated our great commander-in-chief, Franklin Delano Roosepelt, for president of the United States of America for the fourth term. It also adopted a platform which in ringing words sets forth what this administration has already accomplished and promises to continue that work and to make even greater progress in the next four years than it did in the past.

President Roosevelt accepted the nomination in a speech broadcast from a radio station by radio from a large naval base on the Pacific Coast. The President had traveled leisurely across the continent and had reached this naval base where he was notified of his nomination. His train was parked on a siding, strongly guarded by both naval and air strength.

In simple language the President spoke of the plans the progressive leaders of America have made and carried out for a better America, and of the plans the progressive leaders of the world are making and hoping to carry out for a better world.

"You are aware of what I have sought to gain for this nation," he said, "and you have asked me to continue. It seems wholly likely that within the next four years, the world will once more be at peace, under a system, we hope, which will prevent a new world war...My decision (to accept the nomination is based solely on a sense of obligation to serve."

In just as simple language the platform adopted by the Democratic Party gave plank which will continue the progress already made in the past twelve years toward a country and a world where there shall be not only freedom of speech and of worship, but also freedom from want and freedom from fear. But the greatest plank for us Negroes and for all minority groups was the following: "We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop, and vote equally with all citizens and share rights that are guaranteed by our Constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional powers to protect these rights."

Doesn't that stir your blood? Doesn't cause you to want to shout "Hallelujah"? There is no mincing of matters in that declaration. It is like that other Declaration which says all men are created equal, and that among their rights are "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Of course that plank was seriously objected to. Of course the Southern Democrats fought against its adoption. But in this convention there were none of our Republican "friends" to help our enemies from the South, and the entire platform including this plant was adopted.

Those Negroes who are trying to make us believe the Republican Party is our friend forget that if it had not been for the Republicans in Congress who helped the Democrats from the South, the anti-lynch law, the anti-poll tax law and all other laws designed to help the Negro, would have been adopted long ago. Every student of history knows that Party is liberal. It is only the few in the about two-thirds of the Democratic South—and not all who live in the South can be placed in this group—who are anti-liberal, anti-progressive, and anti-everything that makes for human welfare.

The majority of the Republican Party, as the records show, is reactionary. Although there are some progressives in its fold—Wendell Willkie and his followers—they are in the minority. It is therefore the policy of wisdom and good sound common sense for the Negroes of the United States, and for all minority groups, to unite with the Democratic Party, and on November 7 reelect our great commander-in-chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and all progressive members of Congress to help him in his great work.

We Call Upon Unity Committee For Action!

The Los Angeles Committee for Home Front Unity will meet this evening, (Thursday) in the Biltmore Hotel to discuss further the question regarding the Los Angeles Railway Company employing Negroes and Mexicans as conductors, conductorettes, and motormen.

This question of employing Americans with skins not quite so fair as those of the Anglo-Americans has been worrying the LARY for sometime. The Committee for Home Front Unity was appointed by Mayor Bowron several months ago to try to induce the LARY to obey the demand of the Fair Employment Practices Committee appointed by President Roosevelt to employ workers regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin.

It is disgraceful that virtually all this committee has done is to discuss the matter. To adjourn to meet again to discuss it again. Surely Mayor Bowron and all law-abiding citizens of Los Angeles realize that it is dangerous to disobey and to lead others by their indifference to disobey the laws of the United States of America. Just as the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution have been practically nullified by deliberate disobedience and by indifference, so this latest law for the benefit of the Negroes and all people of the minority groups in America, is being nullified by indifference, endless discussions, promises that have never been fulfilled, etc., etc.

We need to put an end to discussion. Now. At once. The FEPC says in no uncertain terms there shall be no discrimination in the hiring of workers by any firm connected in any way with defense work. The LARY has been given priority rights in many cases because it is transporting defense workers to and from their place of employment. It has therefore put itself in the category of a firm hiring defense workers. Then why should there be any hesitancy in enforcing the laws relating to such firms?

Have done with discussion, Los Angeles Committee for Home Front Unity! Have done with discussion, Mayor Bowron! Act! Act now! Enforce the law! See that the LARY obeys the law, and employs workers to relieve the transportation congestion, "without regard to race, color, creed, or national origin."

The Calif. Eagle Congratulates Golden State

The Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company is to be congratulated upon the celebration of its 19th anniversary.

It is one of the ablest Negro life insurance companies in the country. It has assets amounting to more than $1,250,000, and has been paying dividends to its policy holders for fourteen consecutive years. It is the only Negro company which can boast such a record.

Golden State is a progressive business force in our community. Its stable policies lend reliability and confidence, all of which is so much needed in every business section. The California Eagle congratulates Golden State upon its anniversary and wishes it "many happy returns of the day."

The Negro in Latin America

"SLIPPERY FRITZ" OF THE ARGENTINE

By HAROLD BREEDE

Hitler's own personal gunman is down in Argentina helping Hitler's Argentine gauleiter, Col. Juan Peron, get ready to murder your race.

Hitler's gunman at large has hands that are red and dripping from the blood of his own betrayed, slaughtered race—the Jews. He's helped kill the people who gave him birth and he's ready to help kill your people who gave Latin America its birth.

His name is Fritz Mandl (pronounced Man-dul). Hanging will be too good for him when the aroused colored peoples of Latin America finally catch him and his low-down pal, Peron, who wants to build a hemisphere-wide empire on the sweat and blood of Latin America's Negro-Indian majority.

They used to call him "Slippery Fritz" when he ran one of Austria's biggest arms factories, the Hirtenberger Waffewerke. He paved the way for the slaughter of his own people, the Austrian Jews, by helping gangster Mussolini arm the Austrian fascist group, the Heimatwehren (or Home Guard).

When the Nazis took over Austria, some of Mandl's own relatives were killed or butchered by these beasts as hungry for Jewish blood as the Dixie kluxers are for Negro blood. But Mandl regularly wined and dined Hitler's Austrian gauleiter, the always-drunk Leopold.

Before that time, he had hidden out the leaders of the Austrian Nazi movement in his own home; had contributed large sums of money to keep that fifth column organization of Hitler's going.

GO-BETWEEN

When a man gets used to murder, he's at home only in the company of murderers. And Slippery Fritz has left a scarlet trail of murder from Austria to Argentina, where he now acts as go-between for those two pals of the knife, Adolf and Juan.

Right now, he's helping Peron arm and equip the largest army in Latin America for the eventual day, when that army will move against the colored peoples. That sort of thing comes natural to him for it was he who furnished part of the arms and equipment for the Arrow Cross fascist gang of hoodlums which operates in the territory of Hitler's ally, Hungary.

CONCENTRATION CAMPS

Hundreds of Argentine patriots—men who are workers or capitalists, Christians or free thinkers but democrats all—are in Peron's concentration camps because they are on the side of the United Nations which is the side of the colored peoples. Five hundred more were rounded up and thrown in to rot the day after British Prime Minister Winston Churchill made his uncalled-for speech, praising one of Hitler's allies, Spanish Dictator Francisco Franco.

When Peron needed advice on how to conduct a fiendishly up-to-date concentration camp, he called in his "unofficial economic expert," Slippery Fritz. For Slippery Fritz has supplied arms to the brutal guards of Hitler's concentration camps in Germany and Austria; his "salesmen" were adept at teaching these guards how to kill a man or how to make him wish that he were dead.

TORTURES

Slippery Fritz was also the man who sent guns to Hitler's Murder, Inc., training camp at Yanka Puzta, Yugoslavia, where fascist gangsters from Croatia and Macedonia were taught how to blow up bridges and cut telephone lines, how to bash out the brains of babies and how to torture venerable Jewish rabbis by tearing out their long beard, whisker by whisker.

Slippery Fritz maintains profitable "economic relations" with Bolivia's pro-Nazi government and its ruling clique of industrialists and bankers. It is said that he was in charge of the men who slipped arms from Argentina to Bolivia when the Nazi crowd staged a revolt and took over last year.

Hitler's ambassador and gunman-at-large is also working with similar pro-Nazi and lily-white cliques in Peru, Chile and Paraguay. These are the nations which Peron hopes to enroll in a lily-white regional bloc of Latin-American countries, forewarn to resist the United Nation and the far-seeing post-war policies adopted by the leaders of the United Nations at Teheran.

"You don't have to fight the mongrel democracies with guns," this gunman is whispering into the ear of his buddy, Peron. "Fight them with food."

Argentine wheat and meat will be needed to feed the starving populations of post-war Europe. Just the other day, our government short of corn, was compelled to buy a large supply of the life-giving grain from Argentina.

If Argentina can build this regional fascist bloc, it will be in a position to hold out its food and the food of its allies from the needy peoples of Europe. Thereby, so Peron and Slippery Fritz hope, the United Nations would be forced to compromise with fascism in Latin America, thus giving fascism a chance to start a Third World War.

Which is just another reason why our government should drive the present Argentina government to the wall by withdrawing recognition from it and by bottling up its ports with a blockade.

Freedom To Worship

I could sing "Steal Away" and
"Ave Maria"
On Beale street or in Carnegie hall.
I could serve an invisible God
Or worship an image of gold or brass.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH:
I could laugh with Rochester on the radio;
Disagree with the Dies Committee,
Yell for the Brooklyn Dodgers,
Or criticize the President.

And, FREEDOM FROM FEAR;
That was the greatest freedom,
For the man who has no fear
Is the only free man in the world.
I wrapped the four freedoms around me
When I put on my uniform and started south
To become a soldier to save the world from tyranny.

But, I did not know my place—
That is the crime for which I died.
I did not know where to sit,
Or how to bow low,
Or when to say "Yes sir" to Mr. George.

Guilty

By Ruby Berkley Goodwin

I did not know my place,
That is the crime for I died;
I did not know where to sit,
Or how to bow low;
Or when to say "Yes sir" to Mr. George.

I grew up with star dust in my eyes,
Star dust gathered from a million suns and moons
Revolving around the magic words, "Life,
Liberty nad the pursuit of happiness."
I cut my teeth on this hard truth:
"All men are created equal."

I was weaned on tough meat,
I was living in "a government
Of the people, by the people and for the people;"
I grew into a sturdy boy singing,
"Sweet land of liberty."

True, all was not star dust.
I remembered Jamestown, Virginia and Harper's Ferry,
But a war was fought to end the shame
Of human slavery, or so I was told
By my teachers in New York.

I became a man and I heard
Of the four freedoms;
How good they sounded to me:
FREEDOM FROM WANT;

No more breadlines,
No more Salvation Army clothes,
No more relief doles,
No more hard-boiled case workers.

THE PULPIT VOICE

Conducted by
REV. HAMILTON T. BOSWELL
Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist Church

COMMUNITY VIGILANCE

Comparable to the gigantic advance of the powerful Russian armies on the Eastern front against Hitler's armies has been the advance of Negro residents into once all white neighborhoods of local fascist, who fearing the contact with colored Americans, have fled to safer areas of the narrowing "white man's world." The mass increase of Negro immigrants in metropolitan Los Angeles has caused the original boundaries of the Negro ghetto to bulge and extend over larger areas. Many of us can remember when the whites were safe from contamination with the "black peril" living just west of Avalon Blvd. But now that line of separation has long since fallen and at the present even more western dividing lines are threatened. Our people are gradually sifting across Main Street, especially in the Vernon Avenue vicinity. That such is evident is a tribute to the fearless effort of Negroes to secure more adequate housing despite bitter opposition. This march westward leaves in its path not only homes but buildings, churches, community centers and much of the spoil abandoned by the fleeing whites. In witness of this is the establishment of Bowen Church and others which moved into the vacated church edifices of the white christians, who couldn't worship in the new community of American citizens. The present site of the USO is likewise located in a very splendid building which was once the pride and joy of Polish Americans who fled as did their brothers in Poland before the advancing German forces. The Y.W.C.A. on Woodlawn, is too, located in a building evacuated by whites, not because it was condemned for faulty construction, but because of the new atmosphere.

THE SECOND ADVANCE

Moving into these new communities have been citizens whose presence would lend dignity to any neighborhood anywhere. Their pride in the community is seen in the fresh coats of paint and well tended yards. They are esablishing homes with all the care and community-mindedness of their hypocritical predecessors. But unfortunately, lurking behind these honest home makers are dark and sinister forces which would erupt and destroy every effort for a respectable neighborhood. Seeking advantage of the change in community patterns are various commercial groups, who, thinking that all resistance and objection to factories in these areas departed with the former residents, are petitioning for enlargement of operations despite the zoning of industrial areas. With the increase of lawlessness, made possible by the abundance of money and prosperity, high-powered vice rings are establishing their vice nests in these new exclusive neighborhoods. One step behind the pioneer homemakers are the sporting house makers with their wares of lust and crime. Evidently the public service departments which are supported by taxes are also aware of the change. Whereas, one year ago, street were cleaned regularly in the Bowen church neighborhood, today, the piles of refuse reveal their conspicuous absence. On the lot on the northwest corner of East 36th and San Pedro Pdance, trash is openly burned and dumped, despite protests to the City Health Dept., and complaints to Councilman Rasmussen's office. These and many other infringements are following in the pajh of the new home owners.

Property Owners' Associations

The one thing which we, a new residents of this community might well emulate from our predecessors is the organization of groups for the protection of our property investments. Although they spent most of their energies for the keeping of the neighborhood white, neverthless, such forces which threaten us were held at bay. It is significant that the Bradley Company recently petitioned for the construction of a warehouse next door to their present location? When their request was challenged by the homeowners great surprise was expressed. They were dumbfounded to see the multitude of opposition. But whereas, we were individually alert there, does not promise the concerted alertness which is possible with an organization. In order to insure our new home it is essential that some group organization of property owners be formed. When such is effected even present disinterested politicians will heed our just demands. As a community leader in this area, I personally will assist in the formation of such an organization embracing the Woodlawn tract. Also will I help to organize such groups near. All interested persons are asked to contact the writer of this column by calling AD. 3718, or by calling at 3520 Trinity. May we well remember that we can only insure our gain by constant vigilance.

Federal Power, States Rights

By WENDELL L. WILLKIE

EDITORS' NOTE:

The following is one in a series of seven articles by Mr. Willkie written at the request of the New York Herald Tribune, the Boston Herald, the Minneapolis Star Journal and Tribune, the Des Moines Register and Tribune, the Portland Oregonian and the San Francisco Chronicle.

The Republican Party in its beginning arose from the people's urge to build a strong national government to offset the disruptive, weakening influence of the States Rights Doctrine of the Democratic Party. Paradoxically, now, in 1944, that same Republican Party is urged to dedicate itself to the Doctrine of States Rights.

In the days of the party's founding, a strong central government was necessary to prevent disruption of four political union. Today, a strong central government is necessary to prevent disruption of our economic and social structure by a variety of conflicting authorities and interests.

In that early day, federal power was necessary to make us in fact a nation. Today, federal power is necessary to enable the United States to live and lead in the family of nations.

The debate concerning the concentration of power in Washington is a recurring one. It arises to some extent in every presidential campaign and becomes particularly violent during war periods.

But the sincerity and vigor of the present protest has been occasioned by causes beyond the normal maneuvers of politics or the dislocations created by the federal assumption of necessary war powers. It arises from more far-reaching causes.

PRESENT ABUSES

The spectacle of the present administration's arbitrary use of vast authority; the caprices of a government of men grown bold and reckless with the use of power, favoring first one economic group and then another, while subjecting individuals and their rights to the judgment of whims and theories; the manifold evidences to every citizen, even in his community, of the inefficiency and reckless extravagances of federal agents—all these abuses have aroused dissatisfaction among the people which has naturally formed an issue for the opposition party. But we must not be confused as to what the issue is or where the action lies.

It is not the worn-out issue of states rights versus strong federal government. That is not an issue; that is a relic.

The states have their proper functions and Republicans should be proud that in the administrations of the twenty-three Republican Governors we have an outstanding example of competent state government.

But ever since the adoption of the Constitution, with the expansion of the country and the growth of its concerns, there has been a trend towards strong central government.

Rev. J. H. Wilson Is Paid High Honor

A stately figure left church life but not without all of the pomp and circumstance befitting someone of his greatness.

On Monday night, July 24, leading ministers and church people from this and many other communities gathered at historic First AME church, Eighth and Towne avenue, to pay tribute to the retiring Rev. J. H. Wilson of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Reverend, who is also the retiring editor of the Western Christian Recorder, was honored with a Testimonial and a reception. The auditorium was filled to capacity with the people who came to pay homage to a never-to-be-forgotten figure in the AME church.

Reverend Wilson was showered with many gifts from his many friends and grateful associates. The presentations, telegrams and messages ranged from cash to many tokens of esteem.

Some of the greatest orators the church has ever known were on hand to pay tribute to the retiring and stately clergyman. The tributes were glowing and full of sincerity, which bespoke the feeling and esteem which the ministers and people have for Rev. Wilson.

He has been in the service of the church for over 57 years, and during that time he spent 16 years as editor of the Western Christian Recorder.

When the Reverend was called to the rostrum to speak, he gave a beautiful and brilliant accounting of his stewardship. He told of his 57 years as teacher, preacher, pastor, editor and writer in the inimitable voice which has made him so well loved by all who know him.

Tributes were received from Bishop R. R. Wright of Wilberforce, Ohio; Dr. Fred A. Hughes, successor to Dr. Wilson as editor of the Western Christian Recorder; Prof. A. S. World Traveler Speaks At Baha'i Center Sunday

Orcella Rexford, world traveler, lecturer and writer, at present making her home in Hollywood, will speak Sunday, July 30, 3 p.m., at the Baha'i Center, 1709 West 8th Street, on: "BUILDING THE WORLD OF TOMORROW." Orcella Rexford was one of the delegates from California to the Baha'i Centennial held in Wilmette, Ill., May 23, 1944, and has just returned from a two months' tour of the east, where she has been the guest speaker in six cities.

Her contacts with many minds who are thinking about our near future gives an added insight into the progress that is being made in the direction of building a better world. Everywhere she went she found people searching for a program for a permanent peace and a new way of life to offer their sons when they return.

It was one of the highlights of the convention when a famous woman flyer told that she had examined two hundred peace plans but had found the most complete and workable the one offered by the Baha'i Faith. The inspiration received at this great convention which was attended by several thousand Baha'is from all parts of the world will be reflected in Orcella Rexford's handling of this vital subject. All are welcome. There is no admission fee or collection.

REV. E. A. ANDERSON above is the beloved pastor of McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, located at 802 East 40th street. Services are held at McCoy Memorial at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. on Sundays. The Sunday School convenes at 9:30 a. m.

Mt. Carmel Welcomes You To Attend Its Services

The population of the city of Los Angeles is growing tremendously large—the Mt. Carmel Missionary Baptist Church is growing proportionately. Numerically, financially, and spiritually this little-big church is experiencing a gigantic boom. What with the entrance of our new, young, progressive pastor and the influx of veteran churchmen Mt. Carmel is fast becoming the source of spiritual supply out here in the Boyle Heights area.

Under the brilliant leadership of our minister, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, every phase of the church is taking on helpful inspiration. Visit our Sunday School, under the supervision of Thomas Moore. Visit our BYPU, under the leadership of Helen S. Watson. Hear our choir, under the direction of Beulah B. Bruce. Hear our pastor preach, under the guidance of the Holy Ghost.

On Sunday, July 30th, the Rev. Clarence F. Stauffer, chaplain at the General Hospital, will be speaking at the morning worship service. The general missionary movement of the church is sponsoring this service, in fact, Sunday is missionary day at Mt. Carmel, so plan to attend all services throughout the day.

Go to some church every Sunday; if convenient, come to Mt. Carmel.

The program and the candidacy of Mrs. Hogans is being sponsored by Clarence Hargrave, the radio dramatic artist. Special Soloists will be heard including Rev. C. T. James Central Avenues' singing Clergyman and Norris J. Stokes Jr., popular baritone. There will be no admission charge.

Temple of Nimrod Pastor Honored With Bishopry

Rev. Wilette L. Mickens was crowned Bishop of the Churches of applied Christianity of District No. 1, in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Nevada, New Mexico and Old Mexico, on July 23, 1944.

The crowning of Mrs. Mickens took place in the Temple of Nimrod, 4865 Ascot Avenue, of which she is founder and pastor. The Temple was beautifully decorated with flowers of many varieties and colors, which gave a lovely setting for the occasion. The Temple was crowded from the altar to the street. Many were turned away who desired to witness this special occasion.

Music was furnished by the Four Tones, who sang most appropriate songs arranged by Rev. Violetta Winsted, minister of music for the Temple. The purple mantle, white cord and Holy Bible was presented by Dr. Lucy Johnson. Ater the laying on of hands by Pope E. J. Davis, Reverends Jane Branch, Hellen Warner, Sarah Sutton, Lillie Johnson, H. H. Smith, and other ministers, the certificate of Bishopery and Manual was presented by Pope E. J. Davis. Everyone received a special blessing who attended this affair.

At the close of the ceremony, the Pastors Aid Board presented a large basket of beautiful flowers and many beautiful as well as useful gifts. Each person in the audience donated a consecrated dollar to the service, placing it in the Bible received by Bishop Mickens. Thus everyone had a share in the crowning of the Bishop and received a special blessing as she held a silence at the close for everyone's peace, health and prosperity. The audience then blessed her with this statement: "The Spirit of the Lord goes before you, making straight, easy and plain your pathway, in the Name of Jesus Christ."

RECITAL

Mrs. Roena Muckelroy Savage, noted soprano, was presented in recital by the Women's Organization of Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church, Riverside, California, last Friday night at Irving School auditorium. Mrs. Savage was excellent in poise and composure. Her portrayal of songs of the Spanish, French and Italian were done with as much ease as was her own spirituals. The audience that filled the auditorium were very appreciative, as exhibited by undying applause. Mrs. Savage, at her best, made her parents swell with pride as they were introduced to the audience during intermission. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented, after which Mrs. Savage sang an amusing catchy number that made the audience attentive to each word. We hope that Mrs. Savage will favor her home town with another recital before leaving for the East.

The United Negro College Drive Needs the Support of Everyone

Reverend Russell and the trustees of Independent Church are spearheading a city wide drive to raise funds for the United Negro College Fund. A fund created to raise funds for the support of 27 accredited private negro colleges, some of which may be forced to close their doors unless they receive money to maintain their work, edowments having been small and tuitions not sufficient to support them.

These negro colleges are places of learning where a majority of our negro teachers, lawyers, doctors, preachers, business men and women and leaders receive their schooling, and they have been and still are, positively necessary for the purpose of furnishing better qualified, better trained, and better educated leaders; necessary to promote the betterment of the race socially, politically, and financially in our own communities, in our own states, nationally and internationally.

Those of you whose sons and daughters are privileged to attend the colleges of the west, east, and north, ought to think seriously of those thousands of boys and girls in the southern states who must, by circumstances, seek the best and closest college to him or her for the purpose of his or her training and education and who subsequently, develop into some of our finest leaders. Therefore, it is doubly necessary that your support should be 100%, as many of the various leaders and endowers of these colleges have said that out of thirteen million Negroes, we ought to be able to support all of the Negro private colleges.

John D. Rockefeller, Junior, is National Chairman of Advisory committee. Walter Hoving is National Chairman.

The local committee is asking you to support their drive with your donation. Due to the limited transportation and personnel needed to cover the city for contributions, you may not be called upon individually for your contribution. Therefore, you are hereby asked to mail a substantial contribution NOW to: Campaign, Los Angeles Committee, c/o Independent Church of Christ, 736 E. 18th Street, Los Angeles 11, California.

Bernard C. Herndon is City Chairman of the local committee. Your contributions are deductible for income tax purposes.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By John M. Lee

Second Choice

If the guys who went out on the limb can take Senator Truman for vice president, I guess I can too. Not that Truman is so bad, but prior to the second ballot, they had been saying some wonderful things about WaHace. Maybe it annoys me a little bit to hear how some of the rank and filers are giving Wallace and the whole business of his candidacy the brush off now that Harry is here. Sidney Hillman summed the matter up when he said, in effect, that the CIO Political Action Committee had never said that another vice-presidential candidate woul not be acceptable. The whole idea of the CIO support for Wallace was devotion to a man whose devotion to the 'common man' is one of the most wholesome records of the century. No one, not even Wallace himself, has to apologize for his defeat. The business of the coming election is not so much a matter of advancing as it is a problem of holding the gains already made against the threat of Republican reaction.

John M. Lee

Vice-President Wallace's humanitarianism and political honesty might easily have proven a serious liability. He had recently arrived from Russia, and anything that recently arrives from Russia, except communique announcements of gains in the defeat of Hitler, is eyed with suspicion and mistrust. Roosevelt would have won with Wallace. He should have a better chance since many of the southern recalcitrants were early riders on the Truman bandwagon.

CIO support of Wallace did not suggest opposition to Truman. With the AFL among the early backers of the Missourian, he can boast one hundred per cent labor support.

Who's Responsible

Superior Court judges are denying responsibility for having made the detailed exposition that was the basis for a vicious attack on a Mexican youth by the Times last week. Obviously some one is responsible, and that someone should be revealed. This matter should not be dropped until a thorough investigation has been made of the machinery which has been set up to disrupt home front unity.

Such devices as taking Spanish words and distorting them into threats against the peace and security of the community, and finding a sinister purpose in the style of the hair-do of Mexican girls, are insults to the intelligence of even the most rabid Times readers.

Getting Closer

After the Port Chicago disaster, it was necessary to give blood transfusions to a few of the lucky Negro sailors who escaped with their lives. The American Red Cross had plasma on hand because there are some Negroes who are not hiding behind the segregation issue, and who make it a habit to donate a pint of blood every ten weeks. A few persons can not keep the quota up however. Some of you who think you are spiting the Red Cross will have to donate if there is to be a supply available when it is needed. Incidentally, what most of us know and few of us mention — the segregation of blood is carried out on orders from the U.S. Army and not because of a Red Cross policy.

Food For Victory

The four Victory Markets operated by the Negro Consumers and Producers Cooperative Association have such a close kinship to labor organizations, that it is not surprising to find that many union families do all their shopping at a Victory Market. There should be studied support given by organized labor to these markets since from their strength will come support for future labor development.

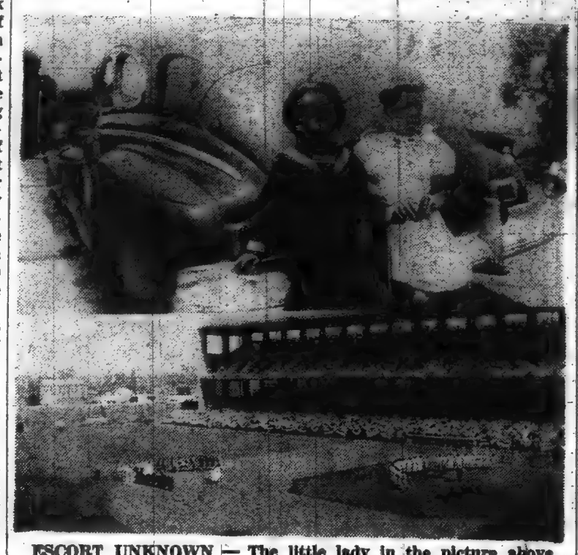
Graduate At Great Lakes Center Hear Dr. Junius C. Austin

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—Graduation exercises were held at the U. S. Naval Training Center here Tuesday for 235 Service School students in Camp Robert Smalls, one of the three Regiments at this Center devoted to the training of Negro Navy men.

The pricipal speaker at the ceremonies was Rev. Junius C. Austin, Sr., pastor of the Pilgrim Baptist Church of Chicago who was introduced to the audience made up of graduates, relatives, and friends by Capt. H. H. Harris, Commanding Officer of the Service Schools Command.



Rev. Austin gave a stirring address in which he stressed the importance of the man, as a factor in this new world whhich we are building. He said, "The complexion of a man will not be the true measure of the meaning of the word man. As men of all complexions, we are building this new world." He emphasized that the spiritual man regardless of the small part he feels he is playing in the scheme of things is important.

Negro Naval Reserve Officers Arrive In Pearl Harbor Area

PEARL HARBOR, (Delayed)—The first Negro Reserve Officers of the U. S. Navy to be assigned to duty outside the continental United States have arrived in the Fourteenth Naval District.

The Negro officers on duty at Manana Naval Barracks, adjacent to the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, are:

Ensign Jesse W. Arbor, U. S. N. R., 6220 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and Warrant Officer, Charles B. Lear, U.S.N.R., 1010 White Street, Canton, Missouri. Both were members of the first Negro officer training class graduated from the indoctrination school at Great Lakes Naval Trailng Station, May 1, 1944.

ESCORT UNKNOWN — The little lady in the picture above would not tell us her naval escort's name. She is Brender Joyce Hurd, the granddaughter of Ted Pride who sells over 600 California Eagle's every week in the Watts Area of which section he is a tireless booster. Brender and her anonymous sailor companion are watching a baseball game at Wrigley Field, the proceeds of which were directed to the purchase of 5th War Loan Bonds.

"ASH" COMES HOME — Emmet L. Ashford, former athlete and prominent sports figure, who was a member of the Municipal Umpires Association before his induction. "Ash" is due in town this week for a short furlough. He is stationed at the Naval Training School at Great Lakes, Ill.

Your Baby Can Win a $25 War Bond in Our Anniversary Contest

Every week we get inquiries about our Baby Health and Popularity Contest. Some of the parents want to know if it is necessary to sell anything in order to enter their baby and win the $25 War Bond which is offered as a prize to the winning baby. Our reply is always the same: there is nothing to sell, no conditions to meet except the purchase of a one-year subscription to The California Eagle.

The subscription entitles the baby to a full, free medical examination by Dr. Seymour Kaufman at his offices at First and San Pedro, and an opportunity to be selected by the judges to receive the $25 War Bond.

Enter your baby now. The contest, which is a part of our 65th Anniversary Celebration, will close in a few weeks.

Future GI's To Have Pre-Induction Class

Facts every future serviceman should know, for the protection of his family in his absence and for his own guidance in the military life ahead, will be given prospective G.I.s at a series of pre-induction information meetings in August, arranged by the City War Council and Selective Service.

The evening meetings will be held in all districts of the city under auspices of district war problems boards, local draft boards, and other interested gorups.

Share-The-Ride Or No Supplemental Gas

Because Los Angeles was one of the first big cities in the nation to launch its plan of aiding citizens to form car-sharing clubs, local applicants for "B" and "C" gas rations will be able to get plenty of help when the new O.P.A. clamp-down on home-to-work driving goes into effect next week the City War Council's transportation committee announced.

In a recent Washington dispatch, the O.P.A. declared that ration boards, beginning on August 1 will not issue full supplemental gas rations for home-to-work driving by motorists who are not in car-sharing clubs.

Lincoln University Audience Hears Talk On Slave Literature

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—An appreciative audience heard Dr. Nancy Woolridge discuss early American slave literature in a convocation held in Page auditorium at Lincoln University (Mo.) last Thursday morning. In her discourse the speaker reflected on the closeness of modern fiction to the writings of the 1840's and 1850's which told tales of American Negro slaves.

WORD PICTURES

She painted a word picture of the "ills men can inflict upon their fellows . . . the endurance and bitter anguish that causes the human heart to swell and yet not burst" as told in that most prolifically produced tale of the Civil War, "The Memoirs of Archie Moore" of 1835.

There was mention of the slave narrative of John Williams, later alleged to be a forgery; that of a white slave, of Briton Hammond, and "The Life of Josiah Henderson."

Wiley College Gets A Health Citation

MARSHAL, Texas—The American Hygiene Association gives special mention to Wiley College for its participation in the Social Hygiene Day observance last February. In token of appreciation for its efforts, the college will receive a year's subscription to the Journal of Social Hygiene. The programs which won this recognition were sponsored by the Department of Biology under the supervision of Mr. H. J. Long, department head, and who is doing summer graduate work at the University of Michigan.

The student leaders who helped put on these programs were Miss Edna Brooks of Meridian, Mississippi, and Miss Effie Simpkins of Shreveport, La., and both members of the May graduating class. The highlight of the programs was a play on syphilis written and directed by Misses Brooks and Simpkins. The entire class cooperated in this health week observance.

Spiegel Inc. Takes Over Entire Chain Of Federal Stores

One of the most important transactions of recent years involving retail merchandising establishments of the Pacific Coast has been consumated between A. J. Shragge, president and founder of the chain of Federal Outfitting Company stores, and Spiegel Inc., with headquarters in Chicago.

Spiegel Inc. takes over the entire Federal chain. This comprises two stores in San Francisco, four in and around Los Angeles, and the other California Federal stores, in Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose, Pittsburg, Modesto, Fresno, Marysville, Huntington Park, San Bernardino, Eureka, Oakland, and Bakersfield. Likewise the Federal in Reno, Nevada.

The history of Federal dates back to 1920. At that time A. J. Shragge, with meager capital but with ideas and ambition, launched his first store, with a twelve foot front, in Stockton. Shortly thereafter he started branching out, with a second store in Fresno, and then with the third in Bakersfield. As link after link was added to the chain, stores grew in size and new departments were added. Though originally only men's and women's apparel was carried, later furniture, jewelry and houshold appliances were featured, until many of the Federals are virtually department stores.

Same Management

A. J. Shragge has owned and managed all Federals and given the entire organization his personal attention at all times. He plans, even with the new ownership, to continue to manage the business. Federal personnel remains intact. All store managers buyers, and sales force, as well as office people, will remain in their present positions. The new operation will be continued under the name of the Federal Outfitting Co.

It will be an afternoon of jubilee, when all masonry can rejoice, that the debt on the Temple is lifted and we can turn our attention to matters which will look toward the beautification of our permanant home. A suitable program showing the results, with appropriate musical numbers will be presented. Al members of the Masons, the Order of the Eastern Star and their friends are cordially invited to attend and help us celebrate. It will be an evening you will enjoy and one which will inspire.

Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Illinois, for duty July 20, 1944. He was sworn in July 12, 1944, in Detroit, Michigan.

Economic Relief Association Fills Need of Community

(The second of a series on the Economic Relief Association).

The Economic Relief Association is just what its name implies: an organization to give relief to the economic problems facing the people of the community at any time. Although the bulk of its activity was concentrated in alleviating the sufferings of the community in the days following the depression, it still finds work for the organization in assisting the in-migrant to adjust to the community life by directing him to profitable employment and assisting him if necessary prior to such employment.

In order to carry on this work, the Association maintains a salvage depot and thereby carries out a two-fold purpose: the continuation of an organization which is ever alert for individual problems of the community and the salvaging of much-needed materials for the war effort. In carrying on its activities of salvaging materials, the Association has met many problems of space in which to keep the materials and facilities with which to work. It is felt by many citizens of this community, including representatives from the Mayor's office that in its salvaging activities, the Economic Relief Asscociation is carrying on a much needed community service equal in importance to the work of any other salvage organization and should have community support.

The work of the Association is being carried on at the present time by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves who have been active in the economic and social life of the community for many years.

Educator Says Bias Limits Facilities For Negro Students

Wilberforce, Ohio.—"The Status of Negro Education" was the topic of an address by Dr. Charles H. Wesley, President of Wilberforce University before the Rotary Club of Springfield, Ohio, at the Hotel Shawnee on July 17. Pointing out that the principles of Democracy suggest that educational opportunities were denied millions of people on account of race, color and status, Dr. Wesley stated that "Democracy's future in America was situations."

He said that segregation, prejudice, discrimination, neglect and resulting inequalities had caused a great lack of educational facilities for the Negro and yet that in spite of these limitations, the Negro population had made a courageous fight toward a more intelligent status in American life.

Bronzeville Area to Have New Playground

To provide recreational services for the children and youth of the Bronzeville district of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles city Department of Recreation has begun the installation of a playground on Central Avenue just north of First Street.

The location is on land of which temporary use has been given the Recreation Department. The playing field lies just north of the old Buddhist Temple on the corner of First and Central, a space which long has been considered as the most logical location for a playing field in that area.

"CANDID COMMENTS"

By J. T. Gipson

A HORSE PLAYER'S DREAM

He tried to get even like most of us do
When we're out for some fun at the track.
So he went for a bundle of stuff they call "moo"
With a bookie the mob knew as Mac.

His pals tried to stop him; they begged him to quit
But he scowled at them, saying, "Not me!
'Cause I've got a system I know's going to hit
For a landslide of real do-re-mi!"

In wild desperation he laid in a "grand"
On a long shot that paid 12 to 1.
He parleyed the roll on a skate called "Last Stand."
Now his bag full of dough weighed a ton.

He broke every bookie and put them in hock
And his take at the tracks was immense.
The mob called him Midas, for gold was his stock—
He won millions through common horse sense.

This story reads lovely: I wish it could be
Just as true as the poem may seem.
But it's all the baloney. Yes, take it from me,
It's only a horse player's dream!

JUST DATA . . . BUT WHAT'S THE MATTA WITH DATA?

Walda Winchell (Walter's dolling dghter) is interested in the Bette Davis type of script for her moom pickcha debut. Keep your eyes on her. Places is where she aint going anywhere else but. Her screen name is Joan Eden . . . Whatever your opinion of Sportsman Boyd Pinkston is, you can't accuse him of not being a gentleman. The other two in the morning a corner-lounger heckled a cutie in passing in front of the Dunbar Hotel. BP, always the polite one, tipped his hat to the lady, then neatly laid a right cross on the chin of the heckler. Excuse me for saying it, Mr. Mayor—but what Central avenue needs is more Boyd Pinkston's! . . . Starlet June Horne (no relation to Lena) will change her name to Cooper. She'll wed Jackie sometime in Feb. . . . A cutie took Playboy Andy Russel to dinner the other evng. If that aint proof of a man-power shortage, then I'm a dope—and maybe I am even if it isn't! . . . Mrs. Sinclair Rogers (pip's the dawncer) is learning how to sing lullabyes. Her little doll is due in October. Pop hopes it'll be a boy. Now aint that just like a man! . . . Harry Bigelow, Esq., went into a resturant and ordered Roast Beef. It was so tough he complained to a waitress. "This must be Horse meat!" he growled. . . . "Well, everybody's eating Horse Meat since the war," she teased. . . . "Yeah," yeah'd Harry, "but next time you serve it to me, be sure you take his harness off!" . . . Aside To Hedda Hopper, Hollywood: Thanks, darling for the wonderful letter. All the swell things you said about the col'm made me blush . . . Lillian Randolph, the sweligent actress, is just beginning to get the breaks her acting deserves. She'll make good in Hollywood, if you ask me and even if you didn't . . . Someone should teach Police officer number 194 a lesson in How To Deal (and talk) With People. He's gonna give Newton Street a bad name. One of the reasons some folk say, "I hate Cops," his manners are the nadir of nil, and the attitude he used last week during his patrol duty of the Avenue surely wasn't taught him in Officer's training school. If it was, then I have definately over-rated Officer's training school. Someone someday will resent his arrogance. Civilians holla about soldier's who take advantage of their uniform. Some Policemen from Newton Street (thank God, just a few) take advantage of theirs. Especially the Police officer who wear badge number 194 . . . Nathaniel Harris (whoever he is) called me a Jew-lover. Probably because I love God—and Walter Winchell! . . . Marva Louis (Joe's wife) wrote some of us that she's "tired of NY." Tiny Davis Will Headline Revue With Bradshaw

June Richmond to Be Featured in Next Week's Show

With three fully equipped bars open to take care of the expected business, the long-awaited arrival of Tiny Bradshaw and his famous orchestra, fresh from a record breaking week at the downtown Orpheum Theatre, will take place tonight when the famous Harlem Maestro (who clicked so solidly with the Babe Wallace hit "Chicken Aint Nothing But a Bird") brings his group of star-studded swingsters to Joe Morris' new Plantation for an eight-week engagement beginning tonight.

The Bradshaw boys have a fine following of hepcats and hepchicks who like their swing pure and unadulterated. Tiny and his boys dish it out in the hottest vein. They swing out with the best of 'em. And that includes any of the so-called "greats" in the kingdom of swing.

With the driving swing of eighteen stellar instrumentalists, sparked by the handsome leaders piano-pounding, the Bradshaw band should prove to be just what the Doctor ordered for the swing fans who frequent the Plantation. And then too, there is Billy Ford's husky-toned Trumpet which sorta sounds like Armstrong's, which doesn't hurt any horn-tooters reputation.

For the new show, that goes in tonight, the dapper Mr. Morris has secured the services of two dancing demons of New York's Harlem known as The Two Esquire's. Tiny Davis, the hefty hunk of feminine muscles who toots a mean Trumpet, was held over for the new show, with June Richmond coming in as featured attraction next Thursday night.

Handling the intermission assignment well, Clara Lewis plays terrific Piano for your listening pleasure. She should have a featured spot at the club. In the show, we mean. She's that good!

But then, with Tiny Bradshaw, Tiny Davis, the Two Esquires, and June Richmond coming in next week, that's enough show for any man's money.

Especially a columnist who gets in on a reporter's pass!

Count Basie Set For Orpheum, August 1st

Count Basie and his famous band are booked into the Orpheum Theatre for one week, beginning August 1st.

The Count and his band have been away from Los Angeles for one solid year doing record-breaking business at New York's Lincoln Hotel and the Roxy Theatre, and needless to add, Southern Californians will give the popular Basie a royal reception at the Orpheum.

Featured with the Basie band are his popular entertainers, Jimmy Rushing, Earle Warren, Jo Jones, Thelma Carpenter, and the Jump King himself, Count Basie at the piano.

PLAYS FRIDAY — The handsome mustache wearing gentleman in the picture above is a Carter by the name of Benny. He brings his swingsational aggregation of star-studded musician's to the Elks hall Friday night, July 28th, for a victory dance engagement sponsored by the Defense Workers.

Gipson and MGM's Andy Hervey Discuss Arthur Lee Simpkins

By J. T. GIPSON
Theatrical Editor

"Jay, we have a wonderful idea for that fellow. He's Hollywood's next singing star, and he's going places but fast!"

That, guys and gals, was Mr. Andy Hervey, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Big Wig talking from behind a cigar that cost at least three dollars (no fifty-center has such a distinctive, agreeable fragrance of odor), and the fellow he was talking about is a singer we've been talking about for weeks, Arthur Lee Simpkins.

Arthur Lee Simpkins (surely you know him by now; he's made the headlines with amazing regularity) is the handsome chap with the Jimmy Stewart-like frame who contributes even more than his share to the delicate art of tinsel tonsilling.

Nine Months

Now going into his ninth month at the famed Florentine Gardens, Arthur Lee has the distinction of, during his weeks engagement at the Orpheum, getting more encores than any other act that has played the theatre in recent months. That in itself is something for Mrs. Simpkins little boy Arthur to shout about, in view of the fact that in recent months some pretty prominent people have appeared at the Orpheum. Jimmy Lunceford, Lena Horne, The Ink Spots, Ella Fitzgerald, Bill Robinson, Henny Youngman, and Tiny Bradshaw, to name but a few. But it was the sweet singing of Arthur who had the chicks screaming and swooning all over the place.

"Why," we wondered out loud to Mr. Hervey from behind a tall glass of scotchandsoda he mixed for your corpulent and collapsible correspondent, "isn't Arthur getting the breaks he deserves?"

"Jimminy Crickets!" he exploded, then quieted down when it suddenly dawned on him that we were from the press, and not one of his dollar-a-yes men. "He's under a seven year contract, and you can take my word for it, he's going places in pictures, that guy! We won't rush him along too fast."

N. Y. Date

In the meanwhile, Arthur Lee isn't letting grass grow under his feet sitting around waiting for things to happen. In his pocket already is a contract signed, sealed and delivered for his appearance at the Capitol Theatre in New York in August. The attendance record there is held by

Snookum Russell Band Makes Good In Detroit

DETROIT, Michigan—Snookum Russell and his band after a short tour of the East before opening at Chicago's Grand Terrace Cafe July 28, is making good with dance fans throughout the Wolverine state. Russell is going heavy in the vocal department having added a male quartet (made up of members of the band) to back up the solo work of Iona Wade and the maestro himself.

Joe Turner Will Be In Columbus

Slated to appear at the beautiful Lincoln Ballroom under the promotion of Henry L. Prillerman and Bill Mallery on July 21. Blues shouting Joe Turner aided by beautiful and talented Sheila Guyse and the musicians of Little Beau and his band launch their bombardment of swing here, continuing a rhythm canvas of the middlewest states.

To Appear Again Near Labor Day

Featuring his new find, "Willard Black," sensational vibraphonist before 2,000 dancers who packed Forest Park pavillion to overflowing capacity, Bob Womack, the drumming leader from Indianapolis way has signed for a return date possibly around Labor Day according to promoter Hank Durham.

Protective Improvement Association Gives Tea

The Protective Improvement Association, Incoporated, held a Garden Tea and Musical on the afternoon of Sunday, July 16, 1944, from 3:00 to 7:00 o'clock at the Casa Rafael, 453 East Adams Boulevard, to which the publich responded.

This association is formulated for the purpose of assisting in the child delinquency program of our great city, and is striving to acquire means with which to assist in the housing situation so greatly needed in our midst. It has received the endorsement of some of our largest civic institutions.

THEY ALSO SERVED, LIVED AND DIED AS GALLANT HEROES

The big blast at Port Chicago, blotting out the lives of hundreds, and maiming thousands for life was probably the worst disaster of its kind in our history. These brave men knew the danger of handling ammunition. That alone took courage. These boys, who got a crack at the enemy by sending ammunition to those on the fighting front—were blown to bits on the beach in their own country. Army officers are estimating the losses by counting noses found. The majority of the navy personnel and workers were black. To you, the dead, we the living, pledge ourselves to carry on. The cause of the explosion probably will never be known. As well as the many individual heroes, who in all probability futilely tried to save their comrades. Their stories of heroism will never be told.

JUST A FEW BIGOTS KEEP NATION STEWING

Our Democracy at work Dept. The writer has contended all along that it was not the great mass of people who caused most of the world's ills, but the more or less reactionary ones. A few bigots, many in the high places and many in the lower brackets of life. It is these few who inflame the others. The great bulk of people do not like trouble. The bigots know this weakness and many injustices are thrust upon the victims of these bigots. But this pillarist feels that credit should be given to those who defy the reactionaries and in their way make Democracy workable.

COUNTY CLERK J. F. MORONEY A REAL RED BLOODED AMERICAN

As stated above, we have many who whenever possible adhere to the true principles of Democracy. Such a man is J. F. Moroney, County Clerk of Los Angeles. Step into his offices on the fifth floor of the Hall of Records. It will make you feel good, to see American girls of all colors and races. They are there as file clerks, typist, and messengers and what have you. J. F. Moroney has unquestionably as well as the public who have business in the county clerk's office, that Americans can work harmoniously together.

MR. REGINALD HARANGUE

Further proof of County Clerk J. F. Moroney's Democratic ideals can be seen in Reginald Harangue. Mr. Harangue is in charge of exhibits and records in the Record Room on the 6th floor. It is true that the public does not know the racial identity of the efficient Mr. Harangue, but his entire office knows it. There was never any attempt to hide, or "pass."

Mr. Harangue is a prominent member at the 8th and Towne A.M.E. church. He has earned an enviable record as a singer. Mr. Harangue is efficient, courteous, neat. Neat, down to the grooming of his fingernails.

ROSES TO YOU PEOPLE FOR DOING NICE THINGS

Our Rose Department . . . . Roses to Dr. Albert C. Johnson of the D.A.'s office for suggesting a civic committee for Monrovia. Roses to Mrs. Pearl Mitchell and the citizens of Monrovia for putting Johnson's suggestion to work. And roses to Le Roy S. Hart of this publication, for telling the world about it. More Roses to Erna P. Harris for authoring a swellegant piece on the Rev. Glenn E. Smiley of the Fellowship of Reconciliations.

OUR WAR, TOO!

In case you didn't know Negro banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions purchased over $20,000,000 worth of War Bonds.

There are three high-minded gentlemen around the City Hall. You probably have seen them. They swing from the windows on every floor of the building. They are window washers Edward Roane, Herman M. Burts and Mose H. Hardy. These human flies have a combined service record of 45 years.

Lincoln Theatre To Feature Clean Fun Starring Tim Moore

The Lincoln Theatre announces that beginning Friday, July 28, howls yells and plenty of laughter wil be in order, because on that date, the inimitable Tim Moore will begin an indefinite stay at the popular playhouse. Tim will be ably supported by New York's favorites; Crackshot Hackley and Vivian Harris.

After much negotiation, Jimmie Marshall, former manager of Harlem's famous Apollo Theatre, finally convinced Tim, crackshot and Vivian to make the 3,500 mile trip, and dispense their clean brand of comedy at the famous Los Angeles Playhouse Tim. Moore, crackshot and Vivian Harris have for the past two years been convulsing the patrons of Harlem's famous "Apollo Theatre" with their clean, wholesome brand of comedy. We feel certain that Los Angeles will love these celebrated comedians.

Also starting Friday, the lovable, dramatic star, Cleo Desmond, whom you will remember as the stars of the famous Lafayette players, will be supported by James Baskette, Sybil Lewis, Roy Glenn and Betty Washington in the dynamic drama "The Worm."

The musical portion of the show will feature Tim Moore Crackshot Hackley, Vivian Harris, Leonard Reed's beautiful dancing girls, Tiny Davis, the blues and trumpet gueen and other pleasing acts, also our own Bardu Ali and his sweet and hot music.

THANKS, FANS—Louis, Jordan, recording star who heads the famous Tympany Five, is genuinely appreciative of the support accorded him in the purchase of his waxings by California and West Coast fans. He made this clear last week backstage in his dressing room at the Orpheum Theatre when he said, "The folks in sunny California, and in other parts of the coast have sure been swell to me in this respect. My recent hit tunes have all sold like hot cakes out here."

Jordan further commented that his personal fan mail from civilian and servicemen had been most gratifying.

On nationwide tour, Jordan and his band played ten weeks to capacity crowds at the Trocadero in Hollywood, a week at the Orpheum, entertained servicemen at Hollywood Canteen and following a series of one-nighters hereabouts, will return east.

"Marine Raiders" At The United Artists Downtown Theatre

A fine bit of entertainment emerges from the film "MARINE RAIDERS" now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway downtown Los Angeles. It rates as one of the best war stories to hit the screen.

With emphasis on the character portrayals, the direction is sympathetically and evenly controlled throughout, whether it be in the action sequences, the handling of the tender love interest, or the comedy relief offered by Frank McHugh and Barton MacLane.

Savannah to Sing With Amazing Man of Music

With the lovely Savannah Churchill returning to the bandstand as featured vocalist, the charge of the swing situation tomorrow night, (Friday) at the Elks hall when they play for the big Victory dance given by Defense Workers.

CARTER PLEASES

Carter, who wrapped things up at the swing club during his stay there, is no newcomer to Angel City swingdom. Having played a previous dance at the Elks, he packed 'em in. And he'll pack 'em in tomorow night, for his is the kind of swing that seems to satisfy the guys and gals.

A former New York swing favorite, Carter plays saxophone and trumpet equally well. He has a fine band, and promises to take the cats and chicks present at tomorrow night's dance on a real non-stop flight to swingdom.

No change in popular prices, and the dance gets under way promptly at nine o'clock.

SAVANNAH—DON'T!

Lovely Savannah Churchill, known for her snug-tight Fisher-body strapless gowns (as well as her seductive toying with the ditty "Hurry, Hurry") will be on hand to solidly send the swing enthusiasts with her torrid torchanting.

With Benny Carter on the bandstand, and lovely Savannah Churchill handling the vocals, it's a dance you shouldn't miss for love or money.

In the interest of science, I'll be there.

Katherine Dunham Is Box Office Draw

If the overstuffed condition of the tills at the Hollywood Bowl box office is a fair indication, over forty thousand people will have seen Katherine Dunham dance by next weekend. The fascination of personality and material, that "fantastic blend of anthropology and antic" with which she endows the stage, has insured forever her place in the theatrical Hall of Fame.

Down in Front

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

Californians will be pulling for Albert (Turkey) Thompson tomorrow night when he faces Lee Q. Murray in Madison Square Garden. Both are rated among the best heavies in civilian ranks.

The column has not seen Murray in action, but we have seen "Turkey" many, many times. And since we like heavies who can punch we'll string with Th' Turk tomorrow evening.

We got a good look at a darn good heavyweight prospect Friday night out at Hollywood Legion stadium.

The gent we saw was Al Jordan, weighing 188, who scored an easy, lopsided decision over J. D. Turner, 224.

Managed by Duke Holloway young Jordon has one of the best left jabs we have seen a heavyweight toss. It's really the goods. We'd like to see Jordan go often.

The Olympic auditorium comes up with next week's most outstanding fistic attraction when heavyweights Elmer Ray and Perk Daniels collide in a bout which may well fill up the place with paying customers.

Both have met Albert (Turkey) Thompson, Daniels with the better results.

It's Ray with the sock, though, and the match figures to be hard-fought all the way—and that may not be very far.

Homestead Grays To Face Newark Sunday

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Experts who have been doping out odds for the past three years in Homestead Grays contests will be forced to figure closer next Sunday, when the Champs meet Newark Eagles in a double bill at Griffith stadium, Washington, D. C. The Manleyites are no longer pushovers, even thought the record might indicate as much.

True enough, the Grays walloped the "kids" ten straight, starting in Washington in April, then on through six North Carolina cities, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh. But Newark turned around and began to fight back in Harrisburgh on June 19th, downing the Champs 9-2, repeated the following night in Washington 6-1. In their next clash in Newark on July 2nd which went 11 innings, the Eagles won theopener 11-7 when McDuffie homered with the bases charged full.

Tiger Sheppard Wins Heavy Title at Juarez

Texas Hurricane May Prove Tough Foe for Watson

By TEDDY COLE

The heavyweight champion of Mexico is a Negro hurricane from Houston, Texas, 185 pound Tiger Sheppard. His recent win over Lotario Ramirez was no trick of fate. Ramirez, Mexico's Mexican champion, was knocked out in the second round before a capacity crowd at the Juarez bull ring last week. This was their second meeting. In their first bout, Sheppard also scored a knockout over the popular Mexican boy.

3 Out of 89

In 89 starts, Tiger Sheppard has lost but three bouts. He has never been knocked down or out. Under the management of Buddy Garcia, the slugging Sheppard is being carried along carefully and slowly in an attempt to build the boy up into a number one fighting machine. With the kind of record he has chalked up already under his fighting belt, Tiger Sheppard is already a number one fighting machine.

His next fight is with Watson Jones, Coast favorite. Jones, recently discharged from the Army is out to prove to the boys (especially the boys who scribble about sports) that he is serious about his training this time. In Sheppard, he picked a tough customer to prove his come-back seriousness on.

It wouldn't surprise the boys who frequent Boxers' Row if the dapper Mister Jones meets his waterloo in the up-and-coming young Tiger Sheppard.

AUGA CALIENTE, Mexico. — What looked to be the best bet of the day at Caliente last Sunday was marred by the disqualification of Blue Pennant, the odd on favorite in the feature handicap of the day. Taking the lead at the break and holding on gamely until the stretch where Gold Armor made a bid for the lead, Jockey Lasswell sharply pulled his mount over on jockey Rodriguez and the fight began between the two riders with their whips, as Blue Pennant crossed the finishing line, first the stewards posted the inquiry sign and called both jockeys into the stand. After hearing both jockey's statements the stewards disqualified Blue Pennant and gave the race to Gold Armor who finished second and placed Blue Pennant second. It was the rankest foul seen in many days at Caliente, and the officials informed the jockeys that Caliente would not stand for anything like that and that racing must be kept clean, but jockeys were also fined $25.00 apiece.

The secondary feature was won by the odd on favorite, Crystal Torch, paying $3.20 out of the fourteen races six public choices greeted the judges. Long shots players also had a fair day as six horses whose odds were better than six to one outfinished the favorites. The best and most exciting race of the day was the second when three horses made a blanket finish. The camera showed Beau Brummel, the winner, Shasta Hill, second and Camp Spur, third. The winner paid $12.60 which was the first half of the daily-double. The old favorite of Caliente fans, Fern Creek, took the third which was the second half of the double which paid $86.20. The nitecap known as the Quieniela paid $66.60 with the winning combination of Amy's First-Saradia both fairly longshots. Good news will be coming to the horsemen as well as the lovers of the sports of kings very soon when Generalissimo Eddie Nealis announced the new summer stakes books. Always wanting the very best horses that he could lure to Caliente, our Generalissimo the man that dared, but came took a chance when more obstacles were in his way than any time since Caliente was built is being congratulated by the highest racing officials in the country who have been the guest of our generalissimo. The breeders of California are also high in praise for Mr. Nealis, as it was he that has kept Southern California in the limelight for lovers of the sport of kings. And we must not forget that congenial and ever smiling director of personnel, Armando E. Verdugo who shares the honors with the generalissimo in re-opening the track and putting it over in a big way. His untiring efforts with trials and tribulations sleepless nights was one of the main factors of this gigantic enterprise now providing relaxation for the civilians as well as the men and women in service. The latter two, who are guests of the management every Sunday with admission free. A new position was created last Sunday by director of personnel Verdugo. He named your writer, George A. Ramsey, to be ambassador of good will. His duties will be to visit the jockeys and other employes who are hurt at the track while performing their duties. Although more jockeys are hurt than any other employes, and most of the jockeys that are hurt are injured while schooling horses in the a.m., he will see to it that while confined their wants will be taken care of, and report to director Armando Verdugo. This is the first time in the history of any race track that a position of this kind has been created, and it is hoped that other tracks will follow the example set by our director of personnel Verdugo. Also the honor goes to a race man for the first one serving in this capacity.

So that brings to a close the happenings of the world's greatest Sunday race course in the past week. Yes folks, for you that have never visited beautiful Auga Caliente located just south of the border down romantic Old Mexico way, where that friendly atmosphere seeks, meets, and greets you, the thrills of the galloping thoroughbreds will inspire the tiring nerves of the most fastidious. So now folks while enjoying this don't forget to make every day bond day. Yes, buy more and more bonds. The boys and girls over there are depending on us over here. Are we going to let them down. The answer from all of us should be a great big no. If you haven't bought a bond do so now, and own some part of this great and grand America. It's really a quiniela. So keep smiling, have a little fun and be glad that you are living in these good old United States with the privilege of visiting your neighborly country, Mexico, without the fear of tyranny...so until next week, so long, George.

Lincoln University G. I. Joe's Top Team in Fifth Army Finals

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The spur-of-the-moment entries in the Fifth Army finals in Rome last month recorded fourteen of the sixty participants to be Lincolnites, walking off with the six firsts and 23 points. The MP outfit arrived the night before the finals, with no knowledge of the scheduled event. They hurriedly made their entries and came out on top.

Team manager, Bob Wheeler of Kansas City, spoke for his sixty men, more than half of whom have college background. A non-Lincoln man, Pfc. Zimerle Cox, University of Wichita, took first in the 100-yard dash, 220 low hurdles and led the MP relay team to victory.

According to the release from the Rome site Lincoln MP point winners were: Cpl. Maurice Harris, St. Louis, second in the 220; Cpl. George Thompson, St. Louis, third in the 100; Pvt. Simon Willets, St. Louis, relay; Pvt. William Varnado, Urbana, Ill., second in shot put; Pfc. Odell Sylvester, Kansas City, relay; and Sgt. John Lawson, first in the shot put and second in the high jump.

Pfc. Fred Homas, Rockaway, L. I., took the 880 and ran on the winning relay team. He was an Industrial Arts major at Tuskegee. A freshman varsity football and track star from Yankton, S. Dakota, Cpl. Frazier Blandon, grabbed the 220 in 24 flat.

Everything Except!

The M.P. detachment's commander, Capt. John F. Groom, Wichita, Kansas, is reported to have told the Fifth Army athletes "we'll take them at anything. . . except chasing Germans." This group, it will be remembered, triumphed in last winter's PBS basketball.

Louisiana Track Star Shines in GI Contests

Scotlandville, La., (SUNS) — Sergeant Robert Smith, Ocean Springs, Mississippi, grid luminary and track star of Southern University during the 1940, 1941, and 1942 seasons, has been reported by the Associated Press as winner of the shotput, in the allied Track and Field Championships staged last Sunday at Rome, Italy, in the "Mussolini" Stadium.

Smith, who received honorable mention as end on the Negro All American Football Team and also named All-Southern conference End, while he was performing with the Southern Jaguar Cats, tossed the shot for a distance of 44 ft. 8 inches to cop his event over American, French, and British athletes, representing every branch of the military service.

A member of two championship Southern track squads, "Smitty," as he was familiarly known, still holds the Southwestern conference mark of 42 ft. 9 inches in the shot put.

Boxing Going Strong With Armed Forces In South Pacific

Somewhere in the South Pacific—(Delayed)—It took Joe Wright, 137 pounds, only two hectic rounds to hammer diminutive "Lefty" Crook, 134 pounds, island lightweight and welterweight champion, into submission at the Navy boxing show here recently.

Wright gave the crowd a hint of what to expect in an excitement-filled first round that saw him pitch everything in the book at the orthodox southpaw. Crook held on and fought back gamely, but his one-handed offensive couldn't cope with the two-fisted bombardment of his lanky opponent. The end came after one minute and 25 seconds of the second round.

RADIO IS LEARNING THINGS . . . . . .

When a fellow like N.Y.'s favorite announcer, ALAN COURTNEY can come across with programs bursting with inter-racial good feeling over the HARD heads of some of Radiodom's big wigs. This compliment isn't just being paid because I was a guest of his recently and broadcasted for one SOLID hour but because I've been watching the work of this young man with the mike for the past couple of years.

Beginning with a typical disc-jockey type of program, Alan is first in these parts to admit and demonstrate the power of the radio to REALLY serve the MAN IN THE STREET. There is good psychology in Mr. Courtney's innovation of program entitled "TOLERANCE THROUGH MUSIC," which true to name endeavors to present weekly programs with guests representing ALL colors, creeds and religions as well as races to preside over a period of discussion on the inter-racial problem as viewed today.

Then there's the program revealing to the man-in-the-street the wealth of American Culture existing particularly in the realm of JAZZ. It was on this program that I took part with several records from my personal library. 'Twas truly a privilege!!!

Furthermore, Mr. Courtney goes ALL out to recognize persons of ability and never ho much as indicates the individual's race as an identifying mark. This is a lesson that many other announcers, commentators, etc. could HEED.

Radio is definitely in for LEARNING SOMETHING from this mild-mannered young man who in his sincerity is doing more than is being noted in bettering race-relations.

ANOTHER PROGRAM STEPS OUT . . . . . .

As a sidelight, the recent airing of "MR. DISTRICT ATTORNEY" included a Negro playing the role of a white Forest Ranger in the person of MAURICE ELLIS . . . . . So-o-o-o-o-o you SEE, RADIO CHANGES . . . . . SOMETIMES ! ! !

BUT . . . . THERE'S ALWAYS A BUT ! !

Radio went down in the BLACK pages of History with a bit of the juiciest RED-BAITING I've yet to hear. WHAT WITH a guy by the name of HENRY J. TAYLOR spouting through the guise of "Commentator," information on the "PINK" activities of such personalities as PAUL ROBESON, ORSON WELLES, BELA LUGOSI, CHARLES CHAPLIN, and REX STOUT!

The dishonorable Mr. Taylor, whose authority I question, made the statement among MANY OTHERS . . . . . .

"Now why, do special thinkers like Earl Browder, Paul Robeson, Bela Lugosi, Sidney Hillman, Orson Welles, Charlie Chaplain and other comrades like this have to be so coy about sitting up and pulling an oar for all these institutes of international democracies, etc. . . . None of these people have nerve enough to say what they really stand for . . . The answer is their ideas are trading on the word 'Democracy' and a lot of people might not believe their pamphlets with introductions by Orson Welles in stirring defense of the Los Angeles Zoot Suiters or believe any of their advertisements if they smacked of any Communist flavor . . . Instead of fooling around, I don't know why these people don't just move out bag and baggage, leave us alone with the sins of our Republic and settle down in Moscow, where they can at least put up the right and true sign on their door . . . Just for a starter, there is Rex Stout, who collects plenty from the American reading public . . . Can we unload him? . . . (Blah Blah Blah etc.)"

This is what the GOOD MR. TAYLOR SAID . . . . . AND PERSONALLY I THINK HE HAD SOME (censored) NERVE to say and the RADIO STATION WJZ of NEW YORK is NO LESS TO BLAME FOR EXHIBITING NERVE ! ! !

Thus was what persons who listened HEARD on JULY 14th from a groggy mike-man . . . . . WONDER IF THE GUY . . . . . AND I DO MEAN MR. HENRY J. TAYLOR, KNOWS SENATOR BILBO, et al? or NEED I ASK?

THE "ALARMING" SITUATION . . . . . .

That hoodlums and tin-horn Pimps, gamblers, etc., have brought to New York's once high-rated 52nd Street of Niteries has brought out the local gendarmes en force to prevent another "RACE-RIOT." Situation has come to the point where white sailors are being thrown out in the street for fighting Negroes who are with mixed couples and putting down the "heavy-play." As a result the better type of club-owners, managers, etc., are showing signs of putting on the SQUEEZE-PLAY, with the Negro patrons being sacrificed, or the Negro musicians being squelched.

For those who don't KNOW, the 52nd sector I refer to is just off the SWANK FIFTH AND PARK AVENUE section of Manhattan and is where the HIGH-BROWNS meet the LOW-DOWNS, the PENT HOUSE Debs covort with HARLEM SPORTS and the OFAYS jive the GRAYS or vice-versa. This vest-pocket description comes from knowing the section when HAZEL SCOTT first played the HICKORY HOUSE up to ART TATUM'S present reign at the THREE DUECES . . . . The place has REALLY changed in these reporter's eyes since 1938 BUD!!!

What it will all lead to can't be predicted as many of the club-managers owe their existence to colored entertainment and Sepia patronage and FURTHERMORE as one manager said . . . . "I'm fed-up with these Southern men in uniform who think THEY are IMPORTANT . . . . WE DON'T GO FOR THAT SOUTHERN PLAY UP NORTH!!" So judge for yourself as to the outcome dear reader and more exclusive news about it NEXT TIME!!

SOME STARS ALWAYS SHINE . . . . . .

EDDIE HEYWOOD continues to amaze customers at the local UPTOWN CAFE SOCIETY with his interpretation of BEGIN THE BEGUINE.

DUKE ELLINGTON will play the APPOLLO come Thanksgiving week with a guarantee of about $9,500 to say the LEAST!! . . . Will be a first in about a GOOD FIVE YEARS at this particular house for the DUKE!!

THE EDWARDS SISTERS after having completed a successful stint with GENE KRUPA in BOSTON . . . . rest up a bit while Gene packs 'em in at the CAPITOL on Broadway . . . to later join him at the HOTEL SHERMAN in N.Y. THAT IS if TOMMY DORSEY relinquishes his new radio deal for a new ROAD TOUR and bids them come on while the FIVE YEAR CONTRACT with TOMMY is ON!!! . . . .

HAZEL SCOTT has a new version of playing "TEA FOR TWO" and "I'VE GOT YOU UNDER MY SKIN" at the SAME TIME that SHOULD be recorded even if record companies tell me that there're are TOO MANY "TEA'S" ALREADY on the platter-market!!!! . . . . THIS WOULD OUTSELL 'EM ALL!!

Aside to Joe Bostic's Column in New York's People's Voice . . . . THANKS for the COMPLIMENT!

AN' to YOU AND YOU . . . AND YOU!! BUY MORE THAN BEFORE . . . WAR BONDS . . . I MEAN!!! Then maybe HITLER AND HIS GANG will DO LIKE TOJO . . . RUN FOR COVER!!!!

a long lost brother of ours, "the fifteenth amendment to the constitution guarantees equal rights to White and Colored peoples, I just returned from the war zones, and a dirty soandso across the street from Westlake park refused to serve me in his cafe because I was Colored. And that's the kind of sonofagun (Eds note; only he didn't use the word "gun") I went to give up my life for!"

That's how we feel, bub, when Rankin, Bilbo, and other loudmouths in Washington rant and rave about "white supremacy." We don't use the col'm to argue "social rights" for Americans. We believe that every person (regardless of face, creed or color) should be entitled to choose his or her own company. And we'll peck at our portable 'til the keys drop off in fighting fascism and other "ism's" that keep the Negro on his knees to so-called "white supremacy." This, they tell us, is a war for Democracy. How can it be, when we don't even have Democracy at home? People who live in tin houses shouldn't throw can openers. Here's an example of so-called "democracy" that needs probing.

DEATH—BUT NO EQUALITY

In one of the United States (North Carolina, if you wanna be exact) a bus driver shot and killed a Negro soldier in uniform! Imagine how you would feel, Herr Rankin, if you were in training to go overseas to die for your country and picked up a paper to read where one of your people were shot and killed—because his skin was black! That's exactly how we feel, too! Then too, whether you're in uniform or not, if you have a black skin you can't even get a cup-pacawfee in a restaurant in the south.

If a "furriner" isn't satisfied with conditions in America, they tell him to "go back where you come from." We, thirteen million Afro-Americans, aren't satisfied, but they can't tell us to go back where we came from, because THIS is our country. So, they think they make us feel good by telling us "Someday there will be equal rights for all."

Oh sure, and someday I'll be as pretty as Betty Grable!

It's flapjaws like Rankin, Bilbo and others who disgust us with Democracy. May you and I live to see the day when all men who are created equal will have equal rights. Until then, we'll go on taking it—but not liking it!

Maxine Sullivan to Sing at Elks Saturday With Franklin's Ork

In her first local eastside appearance since 1940 when she popped in port for a singing spot in the flicker "St. Louis Blues," the wee bonnie lass, Maxine Sullivan, will appear in person at the Elks Hall, Saturday evening, July 29th.

HER FANS ARE WAITING

It's welcomed news for all La Sullivan fans, of which there're millions, as all in the Angel city vicinity have long awaited the date when their singing favorite will appear in person, giving her many fans a chance to enjoy the subdued torchants of the lass who made "Loch Lomond" famous, or vice versa.

It's a dance date that should be listed as a "must" on your calendar, if only for the reason that Maxine Sullivan headlines the bill for the evening. But, as an added extra attraction, Leon Hefflin has secured the services of the popular Sammie Franklin orchestra for your dancing pleasure.

No change in prices, and dancing gets under way about nine o'clock.

You can count your mischievious little niteclub editor in on this dance date. La Sullivan is one of our favorites, and we like Sammie Franklin's band more than somewhat.

Bismark, N. D. — Back in the limelight and going great guns, after a temporary leave of absence, King Kolax and his NBC Orchestra invade the great Nortwest with his sunburst of harmony and riot of swing to open at the Dome Nite Club here. The deal was consummated through Ferguson Bros. Agency, Inc., Indianapolis and calls for a 12 weeks stay.

Duke Ellington. We'll bet all the tea in Harlem the Duke's record is shattered within three days after Arthur Lee Simpkins' arrival.

Broadwayites will go for his style of singing. He has one of those sweet-singing voices that sends chills up and down your spine. Never has a male singer (and that includes Harry Lillith Crosby) appeared on the musical scene with so much on the ball as has Arthur Lee Simpkins. He sings arias, ballads, opera. Anything the customer calls for. And he sings each well.

The devotion of his fans was well illustrated at a dinner given at Florentine Gardens in his honor. He was awarded "The Great Seal of The State of California," for outstanding services in behalf of racial unity. The seal, only six of its kind having been given so far, was presented at the United Welfare Fund Dinner by Assemblyman William H. Rosenthal.

For doing such a terrific job of singing (and in Jewish too, mind you) the yiddish favorite, "Eli Eli," he was presented with a solid gold wrist watch, and a new Buick automobile. The gifts were presented in appreciation form the B'nai B'rith organization.

To get any place, Arthur Lee Simpkins realizes a jerson has to work, and that is his mode of living. The guy works hard at his job of singing. Forever striving to give the best that's in him, he sings encore after encore in his nitely appearance at the Florentine Gardens. He studies five and six hours a day. He knows what he wants and he's out to get it. That's a successful career in singing.

Without the help of an astrologer, we predict that Arthur Lee Simpkins is going places.

"Aint that what I said in the opening paragraph?" asked Mr. Hervey. We looked back at the beginning of the article and agreed that it was.

Thus ends an interview with Mr. Andy Hervey, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Big Wig.

Broadway Composer Enters New Field

NEW YORK CITY.—The newest but perhaps the most promising addition to that section of Broadway known the world over as "Tin Pan Alley" is the Duo Music Publishing Corporation, headed by one of the "streets" best known and most prolific songwriters and arrangers, Chappie Willet.

Ten years ago, with his worldly possessions consisting of a big idea and a B.S. degree in Music from West Virginia State College, Chappie, as everyone on Broadway calls him, opened his first venture—a music clinic and recording studio—at 156 West 44th Street.

The Duo corporation will offer as its initial presentation two hit ballad numbers, "A Rainy Sunday," written by Lucky Millinder, and "Darlin'," composed by Frances Kraft and Lucky Millinder.

According to Walter Winchell, the first mentioned song is soon to have an airing over the blue network and Lucky Millinder has already recorded the second for Decca Records.

Down in Front

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

Californians will be pulling for Albert (Turkey) Thompson tomorrow night when he faces Lee Q. Murray in Madison Square Garden. Both are rated among the best heavies in civilian ranks.

The column has not seen Murray in action, but we have seen "Turkey" many, many times. And since we like heavies who can punch we'll string with Th' Turk tomorrow evening.

We got a good look at a darn good heavyweight prospect Friday night out at Hollywood Legion stadium.

The gent we saw was Al Jordan, weighing 188, who scored an easy, lopsided decision over J. D. Turner, 224.

Managed by Duke Holloway young Jordon has one of the best left jabs we have seen a heavyweight toss. It's really the goods. We'd like to see Jordan go often.

The Olympic auditorium comes up with next week's most outstanding fistic attraction when heavyweights Elmer Ray and Perk Daniels collide in a bout which may well fill up the place with paying customers.

Both have met Albert (Turkey) Thompson, Daniels with the better results.

It's Ray with the sock, though, and the match figures to be hard-fought all the way—and that may not be very far.

Homestead Grays To Face Newark Sunday

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Experts who have been doping out odds for the past three years in Homestead Grays contests will be forced to figure closer next Sunday, when the Champs meet Newark Eagles in a double bill at Griffith stadium, Washington, D. C. The Manleyites are no longer pushovers, even thought the record might indicate as much.

True enough, the Grays walloped the "kids" ten straight, starting in Washington in April, then on through six North Carolina cities, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh. But Newark turned around and began to fight back in Harrisburgh on June 19th, downing the Champs 9-2, repeated the following night in Washington 6-1. In their next clash in Newark on July 2nd which went 11 innings, the Eagles won theopener 11-7 when McDuffie homered with the bases charged full.

Tiger Sheppard Wins Heavy Title at Juarez

Texas Hurricane May Prove Tough Foe for Watson

By TEDDY COLE

The heavyweight champion of Mexico is a Negro hurricane from Houston, Texas, 185 pound Tiger Sheppard. His recent win over Lotario Ramirez was no trick of fate. Ramirez, Mexico's Mexican champion, was knocked out in the second round before a capacity crowd at the Juarez bull ring last week. This was their second meeting. In their first bout, Sheppard also scored a knockout over the popular Mexican boy.

3 Out of 89

In 89 starts, Tiger Sheppard has lost but three bouts. He has never been knocked down or out. Under the management of Buddy Garcia, the slugging Sheppard is being carried along carefully and slowly in an attempt to build the boy up into a number one fighting machine. With the kind of record he has chalked up already under his fighting belt, Tiger Sheppard is already a number one fighting machine.

His next fight is with Watson Jones, Coast favorite. Jones, recently discharged from the Army is out to prove to the boys (especially the boys who scribble about sports) that he is serious about his training this time. In Sheppard, he picked a tough customer to prove his come-back seriousness on.

It wouldn't surprise the boys who frequent Boxers' Row if the dapper Mister Jones meets his waterloo in the up-and-coming young Tiger Sheppard.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

AUGA CALIENTE, Mexico. — What looked to be the best bet of the day at Caliente last Sunday was marred by the disqualification of Blue Pennant, the odd on favorite in the feature handicap of the day. Taking the lead at the break and holding on gamely until the stretch where Gold Armor made a bid for the lead, Jockey Lasswell sharply pulled his mount over on jockey Rodriguez and the fight began between the two riders with their whips, as Blue Pennant crossed the finishing line, first the stewards posted the inquiry sign and called both jockeys into the stand. After hearing both jockey's statements the stewards disqualified Blue Pennant and gave the race to Gold Armor who finished second and placed Blue Pennant second. It was the rankest foul seen in many days at Caliente, and the officials informed the jockeys that Caliente would not stand for anything like that and that racing must be kept clean, but jockeys were also fined $25.00 apiece.

The secondary feature was won by the odd on favorite, Crystal Torch, paying $3.20 out of the fourteen races six public choices greeted the judges. Long shots players also had a fair day as six horses whose odds were better than six to one outfinished the favorites. The best and most exciting race of the day was the second when three horses made a blanket finish. The camera showed Beau Brummel, the winner, Shasta Hill, second and Camp Spur, third. The winner paid $12.60 which was the first half of the daily-double. The old favorite of Caliente fans, Fern Creek, took the third which was the second half of the double which paid $86.20. The nitecap known as the Quieniela paid $66.60 with the winning combination of Amy's First-Saradia both fairly longshots. Good news will be coming to the horsemen as well as the lovers of the sports of kings very soon when Generalissimo Eddie Nealis announced the new summer stakes books. Always wanting the very best horses that he could lure to Caliente, our Generalissimo the man that dared, but came took a chance when more obstacles were in his way than any time since Caliente was built is being congratulated by the highest racing officials in the country who have been the guest of our generalissimo. The breeders of California are also high in praise for Mr. Nealis, as it was he that has kept Southern California in the limelight for lovers of the sport of kings. And we must not forget that congenial and ever smiling director of personnel, Armando E. Verdugo who shares the honors with the generalissimo in re-opening the track and putting it over in a big way. His untiring efforts with trials and tribulations sleepless nights was one of the main factors of this gigantic enterprise now providing relaxation for the civilians as well as the men and women in service. The latter two, who are guests of the management every Sunday with admission free. A new position was created last Sunday by director of personnel Verdugo. He named your writer, George A. Ramsey, to be ambassador of good will. His duties will be to visit the jockeys and other employes who are hurt at the track while performing their duties. Although more jockeys are hurt than any other employes, and most of the jockeys that are hurt are injured while schooling horses in the a.m., he will see to it that while confined their wants will be taken care of, and report to director Armando Verdugo. This is the first time in the history of any race track that a position of this kind has been created, and it is hoped that other tracks will follow the example set by our director of personnel Verdugo. Also the honor goes to a race man for the first one serving in this capacity.

So that brings to a close the happenings of the world's greatest Sunday race course in the past week. Yes folks, for you that have never visited beautiful Auga Caliente located just south of the border down romantic Old Mexico way, where that friendly atmosphere seeks, meets, and greets you, the thrills of the galloping thoroughbreds will inspire the tiring nerves of the most fastidious. So now folks while enjoying this don't forget to make every day bond day. Yes, buy more and more bonds. The boys and girls over there are depending on us over here. Are we going to let them down. The answer from all of us should be a great big no. If you haven't bought a bond do so now, and own some part of this great and grand America. It's really a quiniela. So keep smiling, have a little fun and be glad that you are living in these good old United States with the privilege of visiting your neighborly country, Mexico, without the fear of tyranny... so until next week, so long, George.

Lincoln University G. I. Joe's Top Team in Fifth Army Finals

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The spur-of-the-moment entries in the Fifth Army finals in Rome last month recorded fourteen of the sixty participants to be Lincolnites, walking off with the six firsts and 23 points. The MP outfit arrived the night before the finals, with no knowledge of the scheduled event. They hurriedly made their entries and came out on top.

Team manager, Bob Wheeler of Kansas City, spoke for his sixty men, more than half of whom have college background. A non-Lincoln man, Pfc. Zimerle Cox, University of Wichita, took first in the 100-yard dash, 220 low hurdles and led the MP relay team to victory.

According to the release from the Rome site Lincoln MP point winners were: Cpl. Maurice Harris, St. Louis, second in the 220; Cpl. George Thompson, St. Louis, third in the 100; Pvt. Simon Williams, St. Louis, relay; Pvt. William Varnado, Urbana, Ill., second in shot put; Pfc. Odell Sylvester, Kansas City, relay; and Sgt. John Lawson, first in the shot put and second in the high jump.

Pfc. Fred Homas, Rockaway, L. I., took the 880 and ran on the winning relay team. He was an Industrial Arts major at Tuskegee. A freshman varsity football and track star from Yankton, S. Dakota, Cpl. Frazier Blandon, grabbed the 220 in 24 flat.

Everything Except!

The M.P. detachment's commander, Capt. John F. Groom, Wichita, Kansas, is reported to have told the Fifth Army athletes "we'll take them at anything. . . except chasing Germans." This group, it will be remembered, triumphed in last winter's PBS basketball.

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC INSTRUCTOR — Sgt. Theodore Simms, of Houston, Texas, is now stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. His special assignment is that of an assistant to the Post Athletic Officer. Since the Post Athletic office supervises such a wide variety of athletic and recreational activities, Sgt. Simm's duty is an important one.

Louisiana Track Star Shines in GI Contests

Scotlandville, La., (SUNS) — Sergeant Robert Smith, Ocean Springs, Mississippi, grid luminary and track star of Southern University during the 1940, 1941, and 1942 seasons, has been reported by the Associated Press as winner of the shotput, in the allied Track and iFeld Championships staged last Sunday at Rome, Italy, in the "Mussolini" Stadium.

Smith, who received honorable mention on and on the Negro All American Football Team and also named All-Southern conference End, while he was performing with the Southern Jaguar Cats, tossed the shot for a distance of 44 ft. 6 inches to cop his event over American, French, and British athletes, representing every branch of the military service.

A member of two championship Southern track squads, "Smitty," as he was familiarly known, still holds the Southwestern conference mark of 42 ft. 9 inches in the shot put.

Boxing Going Strong With Armed Forces In South Pacific

Somewhere in the South Pacific—(Delayed)—It took Joe Wright, 137 pounds, only two heetic rounds to hammer diminutive "Lefty" Crook, 134 pounds, island lightweight and welterweight champion, into submission at the Navy boxing show here recently.

Wright gave the crowd a hint of what to expect in an excitement-filled first round that saw him pitch everything in the book at the orthodox southpaw. Crook held on and fought back gamely, but his one-handed offensive couldn't cope with the two-fisted bombardment of his lanky opponent. The end came after one minute and 25 seconds of the second round.

SPREADING HAPPINESS!

It doesn't matter who we are, or what our position is, we can spread happiness if we try. Our day dreams are never more pleasant than when they take the form of what we can do to help others.

Money is not the only source of help that we might share with others. For money has been the source of evil and much sorrow for many of us.

Jolly spirits, lofty ideals, tender understanding and sincere sympathy are more truly our own possessions than money could ever be, and, since they are a part of ourselves can be shared with others so easily.

The possessor of hope, optimism and faith is never poor. Instead of regretting that you cannot give away great material things, open your eyes to your own riches within and learn the joys of sharing them with others.

P.L.M. Dear Sir: I have been reading your column weekly and find it very interesting. Now I have a problem. What became of my cigarette lighter?

Ans.: I am very sorry to relate that your lighter was stolen and I do not vision your getting it back. I would like to help you with some other difficulties you are having if you will write in for a private reply, will be glad to advise you.

C.B.C. Will this present quarrel mean a permanent separation?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you will come to an understanding and resume your former state of friendship. But, you must try to avoid these misunderstandings as they do lead to other things.

E.L.J. Will I get married this year?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet, indicate some changes in your life, and one of them will be your marriage. I vision your being very happy, as the young man is a very fine person, and loves you dearly.

Mrs. R. G. Why doesn't she want to live with me?

Ans. It seems that your daughter likes to live alone. She doesn't want to be a burden, and where she is living now, she is able to work and take care of herself. Don't worry, just plan to visit her at your earliest opportunity.

D.V.C. Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column and am very much interested in your advice to others. For sometime I have been wondering about my own future and intend to send for a Horoscope soon. But will you answer this question in the paper. Will I ever marry?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you are now 36 years old and are wondering if you have missed your mate and whether you will ever marry. It is evident that you will find true love and companionship in your later years. You are the type of person that likes to be alone, hence the delay in your marriage. I would like to explain this to you more fully, if you will write in for a private reply.

G.B. Will he write to me?

Ans. I find that your cousin that you helped raise, thinks of you often but doesn't have your address. If you are able to obtain his, by all means do so, and write to him. He would love to hear from you . . . remember they all like to receive mail over there, so go right ahead and write him.

E.J. What does the future hold for me?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals many interesting things in the near future for you. You are destined to be quite fortunate in financial matters during the latter part of this year, if you manage carefully. You will also make many friends. Your working conditions will improve and your home life will become more pleasant.

M.L.R. Will I make the trip?

Ans. A trip is indicated in your reading, my friend. And it will in all probability be to Detroit as you have in mind. You will enjoy yourself and get a much needed rest.

Watts USO News

Many of the servicemen have expressed keen interest in the Amateur Show which will take place at the club this Friday evening, July 28. Some of the men who have signed up are STm/2c Henry Mason, Chicago, Ill., Pfc. John Kelly, New York City; Sgt. Thomas King, New Orleans, La., and several quartettes from the different Naval bases.

The Twilight Hour Round Table discussion for Sunday, July 30, will be on the topic "Rights of Servicemen." Those who took part in the discussion led by Rev. J. J. Hicks last Sunday on "Thrift" requested a forum on the above mentioned topic.

The weekend guests included George Phillips, Marshall Sykes, John H. Bennett, E. W. Router, Wesley E. Mann, and Pealey Davis. Fenk Maja, Cleveland, Ohio, and Dean Henderson of Dayton, Ohio, were also guests.

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

The Peoples Independent Church Enlarges Service To Local Youth

Peoples Independent Church of Christ has enlarged its services to youth. The Los Angeles Youth Project, through the Church Federation of which we are a member, has given us great help. The worker for the Church Federation, Mrs. Therese (Terry) Jenkins, has organized and coordinated our youth program with gratifying results. The Youth Project has also employed additional workers who will be placed in our church daily, Monday through Friday, to serve the young people of the community.

The following clubs are already organized: Sophisticated Sepians, a group of boys and girls, ages 14 to 16, who are under the leadership of Lonnie Cole.

Senior Social Club — Young people, ages 16 to 18, and boys and girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Maupin.

The Girl Commandoes—A craft class of girls, ages 7 to 9, under the leadership of Mrs. Mary L. Parker.

The Boys Business Club—boys 14 and above, who have the qualities of sincerity and dependability, and a sense of responsibility. We report 100 per cent employment, a wide community interest in these boys, and continuous new offers of jobs with a future. The club is ready to accept new applications for membership.

A Peoples Soft Ball Team — ready to join the Soft Ball League now being formed among the Churches.

We are now organizing:

A Girls Career Club—for girls who need directing toward future careers. Employment opportunities are open for such girls.

A Drama Group—for young people with histronic interests, to provide training and experience in radio, public speaking and dramatics.

A Youth Festival — where youthful talent and ability may be displayed.

A Wood Working Class — for boys.

A Youth Band—for all interested.

A GENERAL RECREATIONAL CENTER — is being supervised by the Church Federation and offer among others, the following activities daily: basketball, volley ball, badminton, table tennis, arts and crafts, weekly supervised outings to playgrounds. This program is being extended by the Youth Project, with at least one evening activities tentatively set on Wednesday evenings.

WE NEED:

The services of a man who knows how to use tools and who is willing to pass on some of his knowledge to boys.

The help of a woman, conscious of youth need for the social graces and refinements to inculcate these qualities in our young people.

The services of a man and a woman who have some knowledge of dramatics, and a few hours a week to donate to youth.

A man who likes boys, and will help them in activities designed to develop in them strong bodies and clean minds.

In other words, a donation of a small bit of your time, and a sharing of your training and experience with our young people—your pledge for volunteer leadership.

Your donation of mattresses, quilt pieces, tools, games, crafts materials, art materials, finger paints, etc. Our young people are learning to use the materials discarded from your homes.

Glass coffee jars are being asked for by our young people to sell for two to four cents each.

We would like to establish a fund for youth from the spare change you carry in your pockets.

WE HOPE TO RECEIVE:

The moral, financial support, and active participation of the church and community.

Above all, the blessings of Christ who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

This is the People's Church. Our every resource belongs to the community. We invite any young person to join in with our activities which are interracial and interdenominational. You may indicate your desire to participate in any activity or club mentioned. Call between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily the following persons: Mrs. Ruth Fowler, clerk, at PR. 7-9633—Graham Johnson, recreational leader at PR. 5800—or Mrs. Therese Jenkins, church federation at RO. 9107. Or, you may drop by the church and register in the annex with the director during the same hours. We welcome the participation of both the youth and adults of the community—we invite your suggestions.

Time and service are as valuable as the material gifts you make. For the youth activities in your church leaders are needed. Please fill out the following blank and mail to Mrs. Therese Jenkins, Church Federation, 3330 West Adams Blvd., L. A. 16, or drop into your offering plate next Sunday morning. This, too, is your offering.

BAY REGION NEWS

By D. G. Gibson

BERKELEY—The Alameda County branch of The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, C. L. Dellums, president, closed the most successful drive in all its history at a report meeting, July 3, at which time a partial report of $3,850.00 was made at the Lindea branch YMCA, Oakland.

FINE COOPERATION

Mrs. Terea Hall Pittman, popular Negro In The News radiocaster, directed the drive in the National campaign. A fine spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm on the part of churches in this area greatly facilitated the success of the landable effort. Beth Edena Baptist church Dr. J. P. Hubbard, pastor, and North Oakland Baptist church, Rev. A. O. Bell, pastor, both of Oakland, took out life membership. The Progressive Baptist church, Rev. Edward Stovall, pastor, this city, donated $50.00 in the name of the church.

Many business and professional men of this area made substantial cash donations. The Masters' Barbers Association donated $50.00; Sydney Scott, Ponce Barrios, Frank Wright, barbers, led the drive among barber shops which netted $283.00.

The A. Phillip Randolph team, under Major Harry Payne, reported $1,017, Major Lulu Chapman reported $589.80; the Mary McLeod Bethune team under Major Pearl Garret, raised $434.00; Walter White team under Major Aubrey Hackshaw, raised $334.

The three largest individual amounts were raised by W. A. Dean of the White team who reported $206.00, Mrs. Eva Jones, who raised $142.00 and Mrs. Martha Kimbrough, who brought in $109.00, both of the Randolph team.

Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and Delta Sigma Theta sorority subscribed $50.00 each. August 20, a recognition meeting honoring the winning team and workers in the drive will be held.

The all guest choir, comprising well known residents of the East Pay none of whom are pledged to any musical aggregation here about, was featured at the evening services of Mt. Pleasant Baptist church, Sunday, the 9th., which proved a major attraction in church worship. Dr. Fitzroy E. Young, was guest pianist, while Aramis Fouche also guest, business man, both of Oakland, proved adept with the baton.

The personnel of the choir for the occasion included Mesdames Lucille Hurd, Marie Tyre, Alicia Hinds, Ruth Williams, Zelia Mae Tatum, Freda Franklin, Elizabeth Brown; Messers Rodney Williams, Bill White, Claude Claude Ledford, Tory Springs, Booker Blabeney. An inspiring sermonette delivered by Rev. J. D. Wilson, pastor of the church, completed the services.

BUFFET DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Iverson Williams on Julia St., were hosts at a lovely dinner buffet party, July 4, which feted the birthday anniversary of R. Hill, uncle of Mrs. Williams. A decorative color scheme of white and green carried out in detail, enhanced the lovliness of the party.

Felicitating with the honoree were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Allen, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown, New Yorkers, Mrs. M. L. Starks, Mrs. T. R. Majors, Mrs. R. Hill, Mrs. V. Smith, T. Brown, USN., Mrs. E. Full and Mrs. W. C. Dixon.

YMCA BUILDING PLAN

The ground work for the big building fund program of the North Oakland branch YMCA began with the announcement made several weeks ago of the possibility of a modern edifice to meet the increasing demands of the community at large. As things began to take form enthusiasm was engendered by a mere reference to the idea; small wonder then that the "Campaign kick off" meeting went over with a bang, Monday evening, July 10, at the Central branch YMCA in Oakland.

The agenda included encouraging remarks by Hon. John Salvich, Mayor of Oakland; Fred L. Dye secretary of Central PMCA, Robert Loet, chairman of the board of directors, were the principal speakers. Mr. Symonds of the Oakland War Chest, brought greetings, pledging his cooperation. Attorney John Drake gave the history of the North Oakland branch. Attorney George Vaughns chairman of the North Oakland branch Campaign committee, persided during the ceremonies which began with the National Authem, James Vaughns at the piano, and invocation offered by the Rev. Charles Warren of Taylor Memorial Methodist church, Oakland, Joshua Rose executive secretary of North Oakland branch gave a detailed outline of the building program—$75,000 is the goal with $26,000 already subscribed.

PROUD PAPA

Patricia, infant daughter of the genial Kenneth Levy in Garrison st., who made her arrival July 5, is doing fine, O him, meaning Daddy Levy, he is also doing fine, still passing out the proverbial cigars.

Mrs. Ina Mann of Houston, Texas, is the house guest of her sister and 6 family, Mrs. Minnie Oubre, in Ashby ave., where she arrived July 10. Mrs. Mann is one of the staff of public school teachers in her home city.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

The joint birthday anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Williams were the incentives for a lovely dinner party, July 2, when the Don Lee Deans were hosts at their beautifully appointed home in Market st., Oakland. The Williams', amiable Berkeleyans, are home after a week's sojourn in Los Angeles where they went July 5. There they were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Bryant, 403 E. 43rd st. There also they were the guests at extensive entertainments, of of which further feted their natal days.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bland of Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Angel of New York City, are house guests of the popular Deans.

GARDEN TEA

One of the season's major social events, which assembled more than 200 socialites of Metropolitan Oakland, was the recent tea celebrating the 15th anniversary of the Out Door Garden Circle.

The beautifully appointed home and grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Garrett, 1715 Carleton st., provided the ideal setting for the brilliant fete. A delightfully arranged musical program, directed by Mrs. Sarah Rogers, accentuated the loveliness of the affair. The club, comprising 25 vivacious members, is staffed by Mrs. Clara Patton, president, Mrs. Lyda Offord, vice president, Mrs. Pearl Avery, recording secretary, Mrs. Rose Scott, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Pauline McCoy, treasurer, Mrs. Sarah Rogers, program chairman.

VISITOR

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis of New York City, are house guests of Mrs. Cora McNeil, 1074 10th st., Oakland.

AKA'S MEET

Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority will hold its Western Regional Conference in Oakland, July 28-31, inclusive. Alpha Nu Owega and Rho, local chapters of the sorority, will be co-hostesses to the conference. Delegates are expected to attend in large numbers from Washington, Nevada, and various parts of California. Mrs. Mania Hudlin Smith of Los Angeles is Regional Director.

Mrs. Mary Mayfield, Berkeleyan, was elected general chairman of the conference sorority, in the June meeting of the sorority. Special committees for the occasion include ways and means, Mrs. Elsie Rumford, chairman; program, Miss Ida Jackson, chairman; entertainment, Mrs. Alice Long; registration, Miss Carolyn Carrington, publicity, Mesdames Elnora House and Inez Lawson, co-chairmen; courtesy, Miss Muriel V. Anderson, who is also chairman of the joint chapters in this area; housing, Miss Lulu Chapman and Beulah Moody, co-chairmen.

SOCIAL FEW CLUB NOTES

The original Social Few Club met July 1, 1944, with Mrs. Lena Wills, 5711½ Hooper Avenue. The first part of the evening was devoted to discussing plans of giving a benefit for the club, the date of which will be announced later.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge. Guests present were Mr. George Broach, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and Mr. Andrew Wills. First guest prize was won by Mrs. George Smith; second by Mr. George Broach. The first club prize was won by Mrs. Undine Dixon; second by Mr. Preston Davis.

On July 15, the club met with Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Lemon, 719 E. 33rd Street. This being social night, business was dispensed with. The members always look forward to going to the Lemons' because there is never a dull moment. Sgt. Leroy Black is an honorary member, and Mrs. Leroy Black is a member of the club. It was good to have Sgt. Black present.

The evening was spent playing bridge and pokeno. Guests present were Mrs. Mary Wright, Mr. William Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton White, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. Andrew Wills, Mrs. Nettie B. Reese and Miss Bessie Coleman, a teacher from San Antonio, Texas, attending summer school here. The first club prize went to Mrs. Lillian Gaines; second to Mrs. Rose Marshall. First guest prize was won by Mrs. George Smith; second, Mrs. Hamilton White.

On Sunday, July 9, in the lovely garden of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mr. Usher Crawford and Miss Exie Newman became husband and wife. A host of friends were present to shower them with best wishes and lovely gifts. The club members wish them much happiness and success.

Please address all correspondence to Mrs. Lillian Gaines, 751 East 33rd Street. Mrs. Lena Wills is president, and Mrs. Barbara Davis, club reporter.

BERKELEY BRIEFS

By D. G. GIBSON
1229 Carrison St.

BERKELEY. — The Mississippians and The Gospel Five, were featured in the monthly songfest at the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, Sunday, July 2, during the evening worship at which time the Gospel Singers of that church were hosts for the occasion.

The program was directed by Mrs. Bessie A. Mack, the church director of music. The Rev. J. D. Wilson, minister, made the closing comment.

Miss Bessie Osborne, who heads the Extended Child Care Center of Longfellow Grammar School, reports a large enrollment for the summer session. Miss Osborne and her two assistants are placing emphasis on folklore. Mexico began the series, climaxing with a pageant which revealed much talent among the young enrollees.

MRS. A. CRAIG

Following a protracted illness in Fairmount hospital, Mrs. Augustine Craigg, Berkeleyan, well-known club and church woman, succumbed, July 1st. Impressive final rites were held for her July 5 at the St. Paul AME Church, of which she was a member, under the direction of Charles Baker Mortuary.

A native of New Orleans, La., Mrs. Craigg came here as the bride of the late John Craigg whom she survived by a number of years. They made their home in Ashby avenue for years; they were numbered among the pioneer residents of Berkeley.

She was a charter member of the California State Association of Colored Women, a member of Fanny Jackson Coppin Club, the oldest club of colored women in the state, and of the Berkeley Civic Study Club. Resolutions were read on behalf of the fore mentioned organizations as well as from the church and friends, during the rites. The Rev. M. L. Hawkins, minister of the church, delivered the eulogy. Surviving relatives include a daughter, Mrs. Ethel January, son-in-law, Jimmie January, three grandchildren, and cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Martin.

Miss Lettie Mae Channell, public school teacher, of New Orleans, who is vacationing in metropolitan Oakland, is the house guest of her nephew-in-law and niece, Mr. and Mrs. R. Marshall, on Fairview street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ames Dunnemes, Miss Mary Corrine Buchner, Thaddeoue Peterson, all of New Orleans, and Mrs. Margaret Edwards of Chicago. All relatives and house guests of the Marshalls are vacationing on the West Coast.

STATE WOMEN MEET

The fourth reciprocity meet of the State Association of Colored Women, this section, convened July 5, at the First AME Church, Oakland, of which the Rev. L. Bryant is pastor. Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, state president, presided. Mrs. Beulah Patten, president of Mary Church Terrell club, was chosen chairman of prisons work. Memorials were held for deceased members including Mrs. Thelma Harris led by Mrs. Bowens; and for Mrs. Fannie Walls and Mrs. Augustine Craigg, led by Mrs. Marsh. A representative delegation from the reciprocity attended the rites for Mrs. Craigg.

Regular Dances

The Wednesday and Saturday night dances are still drawing large crowds that swing out to the tunes of the "Earls of '44" and the Camp Ross "Rhythm Syncopators" on these nights respectively. A theme usually sets the atmosphere for these dances. Wednesday night's dance will be a contest affair in waltz and jitterbug, while Saturday night with the added attraction of a crooners' contest.

Director A. C. Kitchens has expressed appreciation to the many volunteers, both senior and junior, for the part they are playing in making the entire program of the USO a success. Many letters have been received from men overseas in England and the South Pacific expressing their satisfaction with the cordiality received when they were here and a desire to return in the not too distant future.

HELP FOR CRYING BABY

Nobody likes being kept awake all night long by a crying baby. But if your baby is fretful and restless and cries all the time because his little body is tortured and sore from smarting heat rash or diaper rash, Mexsana can help you help him.

You see Mexsana, the soothing, medicated powder, serves a double purpose; it relieves baby's misery—due to heat rash, prickly heat, diaper rash, itchy mosquito bites and other minor skin irritations—and thus it makes it possible for him to have restful sleep. For once his tortured skin is comforted—baby will rest quietly—which means the whole family can sleep.

Favorite With All the Family

No wonder then for over 40 years millions of mothers have used Mexsana to help prevent and ease the smart and burn of diaper rash. And they find it helpful for all the family too. For Mexsana will soothe chafe in grownups as well as baby's irritated skin. It really forms a clinging coat of protection to guard irritated skin from clothing likely to rub.

Mexsana even helps prevent itching, burning heat rash. Its special base helps absorb moisture on the skin, which is often the cause of heat rash. And Mexsana contains ingredients specialists often use to relieve these discomforts. So always keep Mexsana on hand as a first-aid for all the family. You'll be surprised at how little this remarkably soothing medicated powder costs. Save even more by buying one of the larger sizes. Don't put it off. Get big family package of Mexsana.

GRANT POLICE BRUTALITY VICTIM NEW TRIAL

EXECUTIVE Order No. 8802—reads—"I do hereby reaffirm the policy of the United States that there shall be no discrimination in the employment of workers in defense industries or government because of race, creed, color, or national origin, and I do hereby declare that it is the duty of employers and of labor organizations, in furtherance of said policy and of this order, to provide for the full and equitable participation of all workers in defense industries without discriminaton because of race, creed, color, or natonal origin . . . Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President of the United States of America. The White White House, June 25, 1941.

On August 10, in this fair city of the wingless angels, the Los Angeles Railway Company will have another opportunity to state its case before government officials and the people as to the reasons for its refusal to obey this government order. In its defiance of No. 8802, the Los Angeles Railway Company, even when it was granted the top priority in the nation, has been notorious in its attitude of revolt against full mobilization of our manpower. It has aided and encouraged discrimination against minority groups in essential war industries.

Hence, it is guilty and should answer for two crimes: First, for hampering transportation by not using all available cars to get war workers to and from the defense industries in the quickest possible time; and secondly,

Full FEPC Committee to Hear Complaints On Hiring Policy

Recognizing the seriousness of the problem created by the refusal of the LARY to hire Negroes as operators and conductors on street cars and busses here, and thus eliminate the transportation bottleneck which has hindered war production, the full committee of the Fair Employment Practices Agency will come to Los Angeles and sit for the hearings on the company's employment practices August 8 and 9.

The hearings which will be held in the California State Building beginning at 10:00 a.m., are open to the public, and they are expected to create a wide interest since thhe failure of the LARY to fully utilize all available manpower resulted, recently, in the rescinding of its 1-AA-1 manpower priority by the War Manpower Commission.

Shipyard Workers To Meet At 28th St. Y.M.C.A.

Shipyard workers will meet Thursday night, 8 p.m., and Sunday evening, 3 p.m., at the 28th Street Y. M. C. A., 28th and Paloma streets, to receive copies of the brief presented by their attorneys at the hearings of the State Supreme Court.

These briefs contain the arguments and evidence tending to prove that the executives of Boilermakers Local No. 92 and the International Union discriminates against Negro boilermakers by compelling them to belong to a separate, inferior auxiliary local A-35.

Come to the meetings; read the briefs, yourself, and participate in the program to raise the balance of the funds needed to continue this struggle until a favorable decision over Jim Crow is obtained.

REUNION AFTER 40 YEARS—Stephen Stors, (on crutches), and his sister, Sallie Nelson, (standing next to him), were separated over 40 years ago and did not see each other until last week when they were united here in Los Angeles. They were brought together by Mrs. Dorris Simmons (on the left), daughter of Mrs. Nelson, who traveled from her home in Cleveland, Ohio, to Alabama to bring her mother from her home to Los Angeles to visit the uncle she had never seen. Standing next to Mrs. Simmons is Willie Stors, a brother of the reunited couple. The group is shown together in the People's Independent Church where they attended services last Sunday morning. The pastor, the Rev. Clayton D. Russell, is bending over behind Stephen Stors. The visit of Mrs. Nelson and her daughter will be extended indefinitely.

New Liberty Ship Honoring Edw. A. Savoy Is Launched

The 36th Liberty Ship to be launched at the Bethlehem Shipyard in Baltimore, Md., was the SS EDWARD A. SAVOY, named for the Negro who spent 64 years in government service, and was chief messenger to 22 Secretaries of State. The launching took place recently.

Mrs. Edward Savoy Morgan, daughter of the man for whom the ship was named, was the sponsor. She resides at 503 - -24th Street, Washington, D. C.

Prior to the launching, a delightful luncheon was given the sponsoring party and friends at the York Hotel in Baltimore. D. B. Purnell, leader in the Labor Department of the shipyard, acted as host for the Bethlehem-Fairfield Company. At the luncheon, messages in praise of the useful career of the late Mr. Savoy were read and his life extolled by relatives and friends.

He was born in Washington and attended Howard University. In 1869 he became page boy to Secretary of State Hamilton Fish, starting a career of service which extended over a period of 64 years. President Woodrow Wilson, on recommendation of William Jennings Bryant, who elevated Savoy to the rank and salary of clerk. His work was largely confidential and he numbered among his contacts many distinguished and famous personages. When he retired in 1933, he was called to the White House by President Roosevelt and thanked for "faithful and unique service to the Government and people of the United States."

Following the launching, Mrs. Morgan was presented with a diamond and ruby-studded wrist watch on behalf of the shipyard as a memento of the occasion.

Civic Unity Council Delegates Adopt A Five Point Program

Nearly 200 delegates attended the Council for Civic Unity session held at the Biltmore Hotel last week, to hear Dr. E. C. Farnham, council president, outline the future plans of the organization. Plans to incorporate the council were announced and proposed by-laws were read by executive secretary, Everett Wile. They will be submitted to the next meeting for approval after suggested changes have been made.

Dr. Farnham proposed that the council divide itself into five working sections on post-war economic security for minorities, press relations, cultural projects, educational patterns and finance and membership.

Phillip M. Connelly, CIO Council executive, pointed out the extreme importance of the section on post-war action, and he urged that a major part of the Council's efforts be channelled in this direction.

High Court Says Force Was Used By L. A. Police

Daily Beatings Administered To Force Confession

SAN FRANCISCO.—Granting a new trial to Preston S. Jones, 17-year-old Los Angeles Negro youth, the State Supreme Court Tuesday said that he had been beaten unmercifully by police to compel him to confess to murder.

The court delivered a scorching opinion on Los Angeles and San Diego methods in obtaining confessions.

"Law enforcement officers must understand," the court said, "that the rights of persons suspected of a crime must be respected."

Jones was arrested in Los Angeles and returned to San Diego on suspicion of murder in the killing Oct. 5, 1942, of Tom Din Toy, a Chinese, in a San Diego hotel. He received a life sentence. Charles I. Bas, also convicted of murder, was sentenced to death.

The court said young Jones was beaten twice a day for at least four days by Los Angeles and San Diego police.

6000 Transportation Workers Out In Philadelphia Racial Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Irresponsible elements and hoodlum disturbers, taking advantage of the confusion caused by the walkout of 6,000 transportation employees here, injected racial clashes with resultant personal and property damage, into a strained situation. An estimated million and a half persons are reportedly affected by the tie-up. The pleas of Army and Navy officials to the struck employees to return to work in the interest of the war effort fell on deaf ears.

Union officers who implored the men to return to work were booed roundly, reflecting the result of the opposition to the FEPC directive ordering the upgrading of Negro workers, which was offered by both the company and the CIO union. The FEPC had ordered that promotion of Negro employees to platform workers, effective Monday.

BLOCK AREA

The clashes, which bore little relation to the strike itself, broke out in residential districts and a major incident was reported at its efforts to destroy the peace at a time when we are fighting the biggest war in the history of the world by putting one race against another on the proposition of race superiority.

Tre Los Angeles Railway will have an opportunity to answer these charges on August 10, and to make retribution for same.

From now until the November election everything that is said and done will take on a political flavor. It will be interesting to watch the political pot boil.

A couple of weeks ago the Los Angeles Times, our most potent Republican newspaper prop, was flamboyant in its editorial and news attacks on minorities. As a matter of fact, the "Times" reached back into the graves and dug up the "zoot suit" riots in a supreme effort to inspire hatred against Negro and Mexican youngsters.

As the campaign for the election of the president heightens, it is a somewhat strange turn of events for the "Times" to follow the example of its columnist, Westbrook Pegler, in spreading race hatred. This demonstration places the "Times" in top rank with our hypocritical Republicans who pat Negroes on the back with one hand while using the other to smear them in the press and the Southern members of the Democratic Party who build their political causes on the wrecks of the Negro's political aspirations.

The two elements will be foremost in the coming months instructing the Negro how to vote for president. When I think of the brazeness of these ruinous rulers and my own political kith and kin who will become the dupes in their hands, I realize that we have a two-fold fight of enlightening the people on the issues at stake in this election and of continually telling the Negro people, my people, that the Republican Party is still smiling in our faces with a knife in our backs. Be ye not deceived.

YOU'RE Last IN LINE

That's right. After the war workers, you come first. By war workers, we mean the men and women who are driving the rivets, building planes and doing many other essential things fast and furious to get the men and women who wear Uncle Sam's uniform into Berlin and Tokyo. Nothing must hinder the Eisenhower or MacArthur timetable.

We will try to get you wherever you want to go as quickly and as comfortably as possible.

But we think war workers should come first. What do you think?

Mexican Consul Says Sleepy Lagoon Fight Is a Public Service

LOS ANGELES — Additional evidence of the significance of the Sleepy Lagoon case was shown last week by a letter from Coronel Vicente Peralta, Consul General of Mexico to the Sleepy Lagoon Defense Committee. In full, the text of the letter follows:

"Permit me to congratulate you for the magnificant work that you have been performing in behalf of a group of Mexican boys who were sentenced by the local courts to a prison term.

"This Consulate General has been watching carefully your work and feels that your efforts to reverse the convictions of these boys has been a valuable service to the community.

"Your work serves to show our people that the majority of citizens of this great country are sincerely interested in the welfare of the Spanish-speaking people.

"Assuring you of my sincere wishes for success in your worthy propect, I am,

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) Cor. Vicente Peralta C. Consul General de Mexico."

The Sleepy Lagoon Defense Committee, headed by Carey McWilliams, is working to reverse the convictions of 12 of the Mexican and Mexican-American boys who were convicted of murder in January 1943 and sentenced to terms ranging up to life imprisonment.

the scene of a Negro lodge carnival. One area, covering seven blocks was littered with broken glass, the result of the hurling of milk bottles through automobile windshields and store windows.

Details of regular and auxiliary police, mostly Negro, were called into the trouble area, and stood guard throughout the night.

Obviously inspired from disruptive sources, the walkout further aggravates conditions in this traffic burdened city. The employment of Negro transportation operators was calculated to relieve much of the pressure.

With FEPC hearings scheduled to begin in Los Angeles next week, the walk-out of the employees here is being watched with keen attention. Union spokesmen there have threatened a similar demonstration if the FEPC orders the employment of Negroes as bus and trolley operators.

American Youth for Democracy Are Being Falsely Represented

A recent news release from San Francisco reported a naval official as charging a number of organizations, including the American Youth for Democracy, with causing confusion among servicemen about their voting rights. Nothing could be further from the truth. The only way a California serviceman can vote in the coming elections is by applying for a State ballot.

If he applies and fails to receive a State ballot by October 1st, he is then eligible to use the Federal ballot. Many servicemen do not understand this. If he does not apply for the State ballot, he cannot use the Federal ballot.

The American Youth for Democracy, a new, national, nonpartisan, educational organization, established in October, 1943, together with many other patriotic organizations, has, therefore, issued a simple application card for a California absentee ballot. This card, when properly filled out and returned to the Registrar of Voters, entitles the applicant to a State ballot.

Registration Cards

As reported, the Navy official in effect stated that sending these cards had confused servicemen, and resulted in the invalid ballots. It is difficult to understand how he reached this conclusion. Far from confusing, these cards serve to clarify for the "G.I." his voting rights, and actually to prevent such invalid balloting.

Every American wants those who are fighting for our democracy to vote in that democracy. Any action which helps guarantee the serviceman's vote, as this act does, is laudable. The American Youth for Democracy deserves the highest praise for its patriotic effort.

4—To enlarge the committee to include all civic-minded individuals or organizations for the purpose of furthering this work.

The club will invite guests from city agencies to speak on this subject at its meeting of Thursday, August 3 at 8 p.m. at 215¾ So. Spring street.

M-Sgt. Clairborne D. Knighten Is On His Way Home From India

INDIA.—They are coming home! The permission has been granted, the farewells said and they are under way; 16 of America's Negro soldiers will soon be saying, "Hello, America!" The men are part of the initial contingent of U. S. troops which set foot on Indian soil in May 1942. They are the first able-bodied ground personnel to be returned to the United States from the China-Burma-India theater of war.

M/Sgt. Clairbourne D. Knighten, 937 W. 35th St., Los Angeles, one of the returning men and organizer and leader of the CBI's topflight Negro orchestra, "The Jeeps," could hardly keep the tears from his eyes as he received a beer mug as a gift from the American Red Cross for his contribution to entertainment of the men both in the club and in other parts of the theater. He handed the band over to T/5 Ovie Allen of 2032 E. 16th St., Erie, Pa., who has been with the band since its inception.

Your Health

A DIRECT NOTICE TO MOTHERS, WHO EXPECT BABIES SOON

By Dr. Seymour H. Kaufman
Emminent Physician & Surgeon of 106 N. San Pedro St.
VA. 0211

(Continuing the discussion for expectant mothers, I will now discuss General Habits.)

Pregnancy is a normal condition, not a disease. Do not let your condition worry you. But do not, on the other hand, expect to participate in other activities on a par with women who are not pregnant. Late hours, crowds, poorly ventilated rooms should be avoided. Regularity of habits is to be considered a virtue. Regular periods of rest are essential, and during the week that corresponds to each menstrual period it is best to be as quiet as possible. Alcoholic beverages and liquor during pregnancy is not advisable. To some the question of smoking seems to be paramount . . . it is advisable that you question your doctor concerning this. The old bugaboo of sudden fright or unpleasant experiences will mark their baby in any way seems to be prevalent amongst most mothers. There is no truth in this belief. Sexual intercourse is permitted during the first 7 months of pregnancy providing there is no abnormal vaginal discharge, and after the baby is 6 weeks old. It is best that intercourse be avoided during that time when the normal menstrul period will have ocurred. If there are any definite reasons why this act should not be indulged in your doctor will explain the same to you.

EXERCISES:

In consideration of exercise the most important thing is to avoid exhaustion. The most useful form of exercise is walking. Violent exercise such as swimming, riding or dancing is harmful. Bathing is permissable during the first six months providing the water is clean and not too cold. Public beaches should be avoided. Fresh air and sunshine is the best form of medicine we can take. Ordinary household duties will not have to be forgone if one follows the rule that whenever she becomes tired take a rest period. The use of treadles, climbing ladders, painting, carrying heavy objects, ringing clothes, etc., are dangerous during the early and latter months. In short, one may say that the amount of exercise you can take will depend a great deal upon what you have been accustomed to prior to pregnancy.

The Youth Council Promotes Race Unity And Understanding

Showing signs of increasing strength and influence, and serving as a much needed outlet for youth activities and guidance, the Youth Council of the NAACP is broadening its program to include every force in the community.

Working diligently to promote better racial relationship throughout the city, the Council plans a post-war program dedicated to better understanding in a world at peace.

Recently the Council sponsored a membership dance and cabaret party at the Club Plantation at which time more than three hundred new members were added to the rolls. Jimmie Lunceford donated his and his orchestra's services for the occasion, and Mantan Moreland, though ill and unable to attend the dance, arranged a floor show that added sparkle to the highly enjoyable evening.

Council president, Ike Adams, encourages all members to attend meetings which are held every Friday night at the 28th Street YMCA. The Council recently voted its appreciation to the Los Angeles Sentinel, The California Eagle, The Los Angeles Tribune, The Neighborhood News, Joe Morris, who donated the Plantation Club for the dance, the Musician's Protective Association, Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra, Monette Moore, the Jiveadeers and the Four Mellow Tones.

Communist Political Club Will Discuss Housing Shortage

Three outstanding speakers will discuss the acute housing shortage in Los Angeles at a forum on Thursday, August 3, at 8 p.m. at 215¾ S. Spring St., sponsored by the 44th Club of the Communist Political Association.

Patrick McDonniel of the War Housing Center; Charles L. Senn, Sanitation Director of the Los Angeles Board of Health and Pettis Perry, vice-president of of the Communist Political Association of California and chairman of the Los Angeles CPA will discuss various aspects of this pressing question.

Los Angeles is now the outstanding critical area in the national program of war housing activity, according to Earle S. Draper, Deputy Commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, who completed a field survey of the Los Angeles area last week.

No one knows better how critical the housing situation is than Negro families who not only face the generally crowded condition of the commiunity, but also meet the color bar in much of the housing that is available.

Bronzeville Area

The housing shortage particularly as it affects citizens of the Bronzeville community; what can be done to eliminate discrimination in housing; high rentals and sub-standard dwellings and other questions will be discussed.

DRESS SHOP

A business which was inspired by the local Victory Markets, that of Ancrum's Ready-to-Wear Shoppe, is now showing fine results. Mrs. Ancrum, the mother of Timmie Rogers Ancum, first started Ancrum's Uniform Service to provide uniforms for the employes of the Victory Market, the first such business of its kind for Negroes here. Later she expanded the shop to what it is today, a worthwhile race project.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

THE HEART TOASTS!
Let love be just a shining star,
To guide my steps to where you are;
And life be just a jerky song—
Not too sad, and not too long.

HUSBAND FETED ON BIRTHDAY

btesODAY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Price, 408 East 43rd Street, was the scene of a gay party on Saturday night, July 29th, when Mrs. Price entertained some fifty guests in honor of her husband's birthday. A delicious buffet dinner, of much spice and variety, was prepared and served by Mrs. Pearl Goodwin, the mother of Mrs. Price; and an enjoyable evening of music and dancing was participated in by all present. Mr. Price was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, among which were a handsome wrist watch and Masonic ring, presented to him by his charming wife. Among those sharing the courtesy were:

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Withers, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Branch, r. and Mrs. Huley, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Hockey, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, iss LaVaughin Martin, Mrs. Willa Mae Henderson, Mrs. Elijah Morrell, Susie Caldwell, Walter Holmes, Clifford Lockhart, Helen Blane, Helen Sailes, Ruth Tucker, Willamenia Perkins, and many others.

A MAN AND HIS GUITAR

There is another promising young star on Hollywood's horizon. He is known as the "Tan Troubador," Herman Odom, by name, and he hails from Denver, Colorado. Mr. Odom, who for some months has been touring the country as a single act, has a soothing baritone voice and plays his own guitar accompainment to his music. He has many original compositions which he hopes to find a market for during his stay on the Coast. At the present time, Mr. Odom resides with a brother-in-law at 1284½ East 54th street, in case any interested party party would like to contact him. This writer had the opportunity of hearing him give out with a sample of his wares at a local club, the other night, and he does, without a doubt, have "something on the ball."

DELTA RHYTHM BOYS AT ORPHEUM

This week's bang-up show at the Orpheum Theatre will give to theatre-goers an opportunity to hear that up and coming young singing group—The Delta Rhythm Boys—who are, even now, an unbeatable combination. These young artists do a neat performance in the current film hit, "Follow the Boys" in which they give a beautiful rendition of Earl Robinson's "The House I Live In." We feel that a great future is in the offering for the Delta Rhythm Boys.

FATHER OF THE BLUES WRITES BOOK

Veteran musician, W. C. Handy's new book "Unsung Americans Sung," is just off the press and already causing considerable comment. Handy, Margaret Bonds, Alain Locke, Spencer Odom, Lucky Roberts, Abbie Mitchell, George W. Schuyler, and numerous others.

REV. BOSWELL AND FAMIL ON TRIP

Rev. Hamilton Boswell, his wife and small daughter, Jeri Lynn, left Tuesday for a three weeks' visit with Mrs. Boswell's parents in Portland, Oregon. While there, Rev. Boswell will t in the organization of a church, of like faith, in that city. "The Pulpit Voice," one of the most widely read and appreciated columns of the California Eagle, is edited by this progressive young minister, who is the pastor of Bowen Memorial Methodist Church, East 36th and Trinity Streets. Rev. Boswell's column will continue as usual.

SAN DIEGO VISITORS RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Robinson, who have been houseguests of Miss Maude Blair, 622½ East 50th Street, left the city Sunday afternoon after spending a pleasant two weeks' vacation with friends. The Robinsons are prominent members of the Bethel Baptist Church of San Diego, where Mr. Robinson is one of the trustees of the church. Friends wished them 'bon voyage," and hope they will soon grace our city again.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

FLASHES FROM BAY AREA . . . The Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority definitely took this section of the country over last week end when it held its 14th Annual War Western Regional Conference. The business sessions of the conference were held at Stevens Union on the picturesque campus of the University of California in Berkeley, with Alpha Nu Omega and Rho chapters as hostesses. Highlights of the session included an address by Rev. Kingsley of Pilgram House, and a panel discussion of the Three Front theme. The sessions were well attended by members of the different visiting chapters. Took note of Edith Jones Boyd in a striking gray suit, taking in the Saturday business session, long with Gwen Simmons, Euvolda Morris, Clothilde Woodard and other sorors from the angel city.

Highlights along the social end of the conference included a Cocktail Party given by the Pari Hellenic Association. This affair served as a grand starter off for a perfect Saturday night. Following the cocktail party the Soros arrived at the Sanobar Semi-formal on the arms of escorts, by the way, the hostess chapters aranged for each visiting sister to have an escort. The dance was a gay affair, Corrine Jones dressed in a glamorous yellow creation was swinging along with Ed. Allen (Alpha), Jo Marshall was with a civilian, also an Alpha man, Gloria Ford and Sgt. Clarence Wright seemed to find the evening a very enjoyable one, Howard Grant, spent most of the evening greeting his LA pals, Jackie Wilson and Sgt. Pitts, were cutting a few fancy capers, as were Mary Coleman and Cliff Eggleson (Omega). Benzell Graham dressed in a peach creation of net and lace danced every dance as did Hortense Ellis Alewyne and Elizabeth Craig.

Following the dance, Beulah Moody, a very charming Berkeley matron, arranged for an after party, that was definately on the ball. Caught a glimpse of Velma Becks, and Juanita Lemmons, new sorors, chatting with Lt. George Moore, and all the local under-grads falling in line with the fun. Following the after-party a group of the Alpha Gamma undergrads crossed the bay to San Francisco, and enjoyed a wee hour breakfast on popular Fisherman's Wharf. By the way, Gloria Ford and Sgt. C. Wright, Josephine Marshall and Ed Allan, Mary Coleman and Cliff Eggleson and Sgt. Ruddy Duff (Kappa), were among those putting the final cap on the evening. After seeing a bit of Frisco, the group headed for Oakland by Ferry.

Sunday found the sorors attending the Sunday Public meeting at First A.M.E. church, where Regional Director, Manila Hudling Smith gave a speech that will long be remembered by the sorority. This marked Manila's finale address, after serving as Regional Director for three terms.

A closing Dinner Banquet at the North Pole Club, served as the final affair of the conference. At this affair gifts were presented to Manila Smith, and final speeches were made. All in all, the whole conference was a top thanks to the hostess chapters.

LOCAL HIGHLIGHTS

Local events have for the past few weeks been centered round honoring visiting out-of-town guests. Friday evening found the Blue Berry Hill home of Doctor and Mrs. Bailey as the setting for a gay soiree honoring Miss Carrol Carney, Ethel Water's God-child. Carrol is a recent graduate of Aimes College in Detroit, and a member of Delta sorority. Other out-of-town guests attending the affair included: Quintell Thatcher, from Kansas City, Deloris Bell, New York City, Chestine McBess, Irene and Margurite Saunders, visiting nieces of Doctor and Mrs. Carr, and Alice Fields of Detroit. The girls enjoyed playing games led by Mrs. Portwig, and Jessel Reid, who were assistant hostesses. Other guests included: Algretta Holmes Waters, Heroldine Browning, Heroletta Garrison, Ann Cunningham, Marilyn Williams, Anita Hippard, Josephine Spearman, Sylvia Perry, Connie Fortier, Gwen Taylor, Adelaid Barker, Yvonne Cummings and several others who completed a list of twenty-five guests . . .

CENTER AISLE

June is the month for brides, but after looking over recent announcements received, I can only say, August is trying to take the honor. Popular Phyllis Kelson and Sergent Ernest Holloway will say their I do's on the 9th at historical Phillips Episcopal Church. On the 5th, Phyllis is holding her attendants luncheon at the Cocoanut Grove. Those expected will include her matron of honor, Mrs. Dorothea Kelson, and maides, Puffy Houston, Jean Brown, and Bobby Dean Dennis, the bride-elects mother, Mrs. John Kelson, and the future mother-in-law, Mrs. Holloway. Following the wedding Phyllis and Ernest will steal away on a two week honeymoon.

Bride elect, Betty Yarbrough arrived by choo choo Tuesday. The date is the 29th for her big event, so until that time, she will be feted by her sorority sisters and friends. Gather that her bridal party will include Anita Beverly, maiden of honor, Hortense Alewyne, matron of honor, with Helen Jane Stewart, Corrine Jones and Melonee Temple, maids. Betty and John plan to make their home here in the Angel city.

Paulliete Coleman is honoring Leontyne (sis) Taylor with a shower on the 6th. Sis and Clifton Russell will take their vows on the 9th at a private ceremony with only the two families in attendance.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

The William Lloyd Owens (Pricella Raby) were blessed with a bouncing Junior last week . . . Doris Booker plans to remain East until the latter part of September . . . Maurice Jones (Champ), arrived in town yesterday on a brief furlough . . . Latest info from across the blue, has it that Lowell Steward and Alton Ballard are now first Lieutenants, and are flying P-51 Mustangs now . . . Congrats go out to the gents . . . Bobby Lambert is taking it easy this summer behind a private desk, and the Bruin coed likes the job very much.

Enjoying what Val Verde has to offer as a vacation spot, Helen Jane Steward, Weni Allen and Mary Williams returned to the city sunburned and with much chatter about a super time. Evidently Joyce and Jerry Steward reconsidered, and decided to take their trip to Mexico this summer, instead of the coming spring, for the popular sisters departed via air Tuesday . . . Learned that James O'Neal will go back on the Police force in September . . . Received a very clever letter from Albert Hicks, who seems to be hob knobbing with the elite while stationed down in North Carolina. By the way, he lets me in on a little information, but begs for it not to be publicised until later. So until than, my lip is zipped . . . Gather that Johnnie Weems has a girl friend living in Ohio . . .

Roy Hart is no longer in the record business. Wants his friends to stop calling for "oldies but still goodies" . . . Jack Kelson will arrive in LA, in time to stand as best man in his sisters wedding. He is still stationed at St. Mary's College, and has been acting as Band Master for several weeks . . . Wouldn't be surprised one bit if news comes out that Kay Hartsfield has joined the Dunham troup, she's taking dance from Dunham . . . The last and most surprising info of the week is the marriage of Mildred Mingleton and Austin Burchett. Gather that the ceremony was performed last week. Congrats are in order.

TILL NEXT WEEK.

LOUISE BEAVERS, popular motion picture actress, played canteen hostess to a group of convalescent men who attended a swimming party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gleason, of motion picture fame, in Beverly Hills, recently. The party was the first of its kind in the Los Angeles area and was arranged through the USO Home Hospitality Committee. USO junior hostesses from the Avalon USO helped entertain the patients from Birmingham General Hospital.—(Otto Rothschild photo.)

On the stairway of famed Campanile Tower at California University in Berkeley, charming members of Alpha Gamma Chapter pose prettily for E. F. Smith W. Green, president of the Los Angeles Forum with his committee, A. D. McMurray, Mrs. Ailey and Mrs. John Pitts held a lovely home-coming Sunday evening honoring one of its favorite members, Miss Theodora V. Jones, one of America's most brilliant and well-informed business women. Miss Jones has served for the past nine years in the office of Recorder of Deeds at Washington, D. C.

Miss Ailey, the very charming secretary, presented Miss Jones with a beautiful basket of flowers showing the respect and admiration the citizens hold for her. On account of the Hatch Act affecting government employes, Mrs. Enola Chism, one of our prominent matrons, gave the main address for Miss Jones. Mrs. Chism spoke on our young people who have made good in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Chism also gave reports on things in Texas as they appeared to her. Her talk took in the moderate trend of the political situation in the state. The decreasing of tenant farming; also how the flood worked havoc over the farming area. Yet she contends it is one of the most beautiful sections of the country to travel over.

RE-ELECTED—Mrs. Vivian Osborne Marsh of Berkeley, above, was re-elected as State President of the California Association of Colored Women at the 38th Annual Convention of that body which closed sessions at the Independent Church of Christ last Thursday evening.

FASHIONS ON MAKEUP LOVELINESS

Come what will, woman's loveliness goes on forever, when the world is most weary of its burden and when the human spirit flags and flattens, then it's woman's charm, as though rising to a challenge, flashes forth in new brilliance.

There is mourning in many a heart for a world gone mad, yet never has a lady's lips been so gay, so bright, so daringly red. This is the spirit of woman's loveliness.

This loveliness of yours must be guarded and cherished, your smart hair-do, your clear skin, your flawless makeup, your correctly groomed nails, it is left to you whether you bloom or wither.

It is so easy today to keep beautiful when trained minds are at your service. Skin care chases away the "bogey man of age."

Even grandmother's loveliness outshines all the youngsters.' Eyes focus on her gleaming white hair kept so lustrous and lovely.

The beauty industry is one of the six largest industries in the world, which certainly proves that the women of the world want beauty.

They want either to make the most of the beauty God gave them or to find the beauty he forgot to give them.

We Want Full Employment Now and After

Wendell L. Willkie offered the Republicans a plan for full employment after the war, but it was rejected at the Chicago convention.

In our post-war planning our chief concern should be stabalizing full employment by eliminating ups and downs in economic activities.

The editor's visit to Lockheed last Sunday gave first hand information that production at that plant was being maintained at a high level. In order to avoid inflation after the war our production must be on a basis with our increased population. To insure peace and happiness to our nation not only should the high standard of production be maintained, but likewise the standard of distribution to employer and employe. The greater the production of the country the better are the chances of improving the social condition of the people.

The highly important task of the American people at the present time is to win the war. But in winning the war we have a great after-the-war duty to perform—that of keeping the peace at home as well as policing Europe to see that no more Hitlers are born.

Harold L. Ickes, in the August issue of the Negro Digest, said, "The global conflict has had another effect. It has opened greater and newer opportunities for work to all elements and segments of the population."

Without referring to the racial question necessarily, it surely is evident that "all elements and segments of the population" includes black Americans as well as white. We have been struggling for many years to the goal where we Negroes may take our place beside our white brothers for full recognition as citizens of the United States. To the place where "all elements and segments" includes us without any question or doubt, in every political, economic, and social aspect of American life.

There can be no question or doubt but that we have made the greatest advancement towards that goal during the past 12 years than we have ever done in the history of our country. We have made that advancement under our great commander-in-chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt. To continue to advance we must, beyond any shadow of doubt, re-elect President Roosevelt for a fourth term. We must not only re-elect him, but we must give him, to help him in his great work, a corps of liberal leaders in Congress, in the U. S. Senate, and in every office, high and low, in the country.

People Call For Complete Unity

Complete unity among the United Nations on the battlefront is drawing the net closer and closer around Berlin. Only a few hundred miles more to go! Not as far as from Los Angeles to San Francisco!

The Red Army of the Soviet Union is setting the pace. It is forging ahead like a steam-roller, overcoming every obstacle, flattening out every hurdle. This Red Army which once was ridiculed by the skeptics, has now become the admiration of the world. The fighting spirit of its soldiers is the inspiration of our own heroes everywhere.

From whence comes this indomitable spirit which refuses to be conquered? Which has urged the Russian people as well as Russian soldiers to endure hardships which can scarcely be imagined, to keep on fighting when all seemed lost, to fight until victory has been wrested from the very jaws of defeat?

There can be only one answer to that question. The fighting spirit, the morale of both the citizens of t he Soviet Union and of its glorious Red Army, comes from the perfect freedom those citizens and soldiers enjoy in the country they are fighting for. They have virtually perfect social and economic freedom. There is no racial question in the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union is comprised of more than one hundred different nationalities, each one speaking a different language, many dark races among them. The Iraks, the Mongols, the Kurds, the inhabitants of the little countries bordering Turkey and India do not have white skins. They, too, are "colored people." But their beliefs, their creeds, their racial characteristics are respected by the government of the Soviet Union. They have been made part of the large family of the Soviet Union, and have been made to feel they are an important part of that family. Is it any wonder that every citizen and soldier of such a family endures and fights as the citizens and soldiers of no other family of nations on earth endure and fight?

We Negroes, too, are a part of a great nation, the United States of America. To us the good old U. S. A. is the greatest, the dearest, the best nation on earth. Our soldiers have given their lives on the battlefront to preserve this nation. Our people on the home front have suffered and endured hardships, and have given their blood for the blood banks to preserve our men, white and black, on the fields of battle.

But we must fight on the home front, as the people of Russia do not need to do, for a real part in this government, that should be a government which includes every individual, just as a family includes every member. This battle on the home front must be won by ballots, not bullets. We are grateful for the glorious opportunity of fighting, of expressing our opinion at the ballot-box, of forging ahead and conquering our enemies, and the enemies of this government, even as the Red Army is conquering its enemies on the battlefield.

During the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt we have been given more and better weapons to fight with and to extend our victories than we have ever had before. We must be alert and active in using them—the privilege all Negroes, including those in the deep South, have been given of choosing those who shall rule over them; the privilege of being employed without discrimination in all government controlled works.

Now that the war is beginning to break, now that the tension seems to be easing, we must be more alert than ever. For now comes the insidious propaganda put out by those who would divide our ranks, the Fifth Columnists who would stoop to almost any means to win here what they could not win in the field of battle. These Fifth Columnists are agents of Hitler. They are American Fascists. They would not hesitate to destroy our government itself—just to keep us Negroes "in our place," to defeat that "Man in the White House" who is our friend.

The Hearst press is especially active in this kind of propaganda. It is being ably assisted by other newspapers and agencies. How shall we combat this propaganda? Check on everything that is written, on everything that is said against President Roosevelt, against the administration of our friend. You will find about nine-tenths of the stuff that is written and told about him is deliberate falsehood. The other one-tenth is only half-truth—which is worse in a way than a lie. Don't believe what you hear. Don't believe what you read. Check on it. Prove it is false. Then tell others it is false. And help win this war on the home front against the Fifth Columnists, which, if lost, will lose all we have fought to gain in battle.

But Again We Say--"So What?"

At the next general election in November citizens of California will be asked to decide whether or not the State Constitution shall be amended to provide extra funds from the State for elementary school districts. The amendment, if adopted, would increase the school funds by about $14,000,000.

The California Taxpayers' Association, under Ronald M. Ketcham, has issued a bulletin denying the need for such an increase in the school funds. The bulletin shows how this state rates among the other states in the Union in expenditures for schools. Indeed there are several states where the average cost per pupil, and the average salary for the elementary teacher is much lower than that of California.

But—so what? California is one of the richest states in the Union. Our schools should rank high among the schools of the nation. Our teachers, our school buildings, the equipment for our schools, should be the very best. There should never by any stinting in any manner for the education of our children. The average cost per pupil was $105.99 in 1940-41. This cost has continued to rise—as has the cost of living—until now in some districts it is as high as $124.15.

But again we say—so what? A trifle over one hundred dollars per year is not too much to educate your boy and girl, to equip them for a real start in life. So, we believe when November 7 rolls around, the majority of the citizens of California will vote "Yes" on this amendment to provide sufficient means for the education of our children.

W. J. Wheaton Says—

Members of the Bahia Faith held the sessions of Summer School at Geyserville. The spot at which the sessions are held is in one of the most beautiful sections of California. Being in the heart of the fruit district makes it the more enjoyable. Members of the Faith were from all sections... Foreign and local... Indeed there were members from Persia, Canada, Alaska, Central America, and representative from Spain. The fact that so many racial groups as well as the national representatives was evident that the "World is one country, and Mankind its citizens." The unity of spirit which was evident in every sense, is a visual objective that a solution of group problems is not an utopian dream but a practical and workable fact. Among the outstanding speakers and teachers attending the sessions were Dr. Jose L. Pinela, Honduras, C. A. Pasqual Espalt, Espanta, Miss Calla, Alaska, and may we mention that Miss Calla, altho totally blind is possessed with a superb intellect and a most pleasing personality .The members of the Persian colony were interesting as well as instructive.

There were attendants from the various states, Washington, Arizona, Utah and Oregon. Of course: California was best represented. There was the dynamic Marion Holly, Shirley Warde and Marcia Gail, both writers of note and whose trenchant pens have proven their worth to the cause. Leroy Ioas whose logic in the presentation of his subject seems indisputable . . . In passing, may we add that his address on "God and His Creation" was a masterful effort. For diction, logic, and rhetoric, it was a gem. Then Mary Lou Gordon, her of the golden voice, who entranced the throng with her music, the J. B. Shaws, pioneers in the Faith, Louise Gregor, whose voice carries conviction over the radio, Louela Cranshaw, leader and teacher of youth. Anthony Cerio and the Mrs. Anthony is one of San Francisco's leading attorneys. Amire Bananie, who delighted with his tales of Persia. The amiable Florence Hacke and Winnie Bernnell, diplomatic Arthur Dahl.

We could go on and on but neither time nor space will permit. Suffice it to say that the Faith of Bahai is a living and potent factor, in the solving of problems that have for centurles perplexed the world. It is a "New Order" which will unify the world and make an "Utopian Dream" come to pass. It is the Beacon of Civilization; the Light of the World. From what we learn: It does not conflict with other religions but exemplifies what most religions gloss over, "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man." The Baha'i religion teaches those principles both by precept and example.

The convention of the National Democratic party is a thing of the past, and it has chosen the men whom they hope will lead them to victory. We have had no chance ,as yet, to read and analise its platform. Therefore we will defer comment until that task has been performed. As usual, Texas and the backward state of S. Carolina, had to show their ignorant intolerance and racial baiting and racial prejudice by their venomous mouthings. Texas left the hall, but not the premises, during the reading of the platform. They were wise enough not to leave the premises. Their exit reminded of the incident in the Republican convention of "96" at St. Louis, Mo., when the silver question caused the break in the Republican ranks. The silver delegations, headed by Senator Teller of Colorado marched from the convention hall to the tune "We don't care if you never come back." The silverites hoped to so split the party that it would serve to elect Bryan, the apostle of 16-1. Well: that is past history and as we know, McKinley won an overwhelming victory at the polls.

The disgruntled Dm's threaten to bolt the party and throw their electoral vote to the Republican candidate. Little good it will do: It is really funny, and it seems ridiculous to watch to what ends professional politicians will go to achieve an end. This communistic scare, which the Republicans are trying to make an issue, is ridiculous. First it was Harry Bridges who California picked out as a figure with the spiked tail, a pitchfork and horns. Poor Harry! If ever a human being was maligned and smeared with the venom of the "Interests" it was Harry. Now the Republicans have singled out Sidney Hillman. Sid is depicted and accused of every crime under the calendar, from organizing the Garment Workers to being a working official of the CIO. Of course there is no beam in the eye of any GOP satellite, but they readily see the mote in the eye of another.

Roosevelt has said that he will run as the choice of the people, and if the people want him they will elect him. From all indications the people do want him and will elect him. Time will tell. It is a foregone conclusion that the people of the Fourth Congressional District want Franck R. Havenner and will elect him as their representative. Tom Rolph has proven his ineptness and will be relegated to the political has beens. His fling in the arena of national politics has proven his inability to cope with the serious problems of the time. So the voters of the district have come to the conclusion that he can not be trusted to help solve the more serious problems that will ensue in the post-war period. Of course: They are trying to tie Harry Bridges, as the "Albatross" around the neck of Havenner, but this time Harry is not the bird of "Ill Omen" and the opposition is seeking to win him over. Strange things happen in politics.

On August 9, 1940, the Tuskegee Army Air Field will celebrate its third anniversary as a training base for Negro pilots of the Army Air Forces Training Command.

Winchell Reads The California Eagle Too

Walter Winchell, reporter for and of democracy, recently broadcast the report of the refusal of a restaurant near the scene of a wreck on the Santa Fe, to serve food to a Negro maid and a Negro porter. The California Eagle did an exclusive on that story, and we are happy about the amplification that ace reporter Winchell gave it.

Letters To The Editor

Battery B,
207th AAA (AW) Battalion
APO 928, % Postmaster,
San Francisco, Calif.
19 July, 1944

"Somewhere in New Guinea."

Dear Mrs. Bess:

It was nice hearing from you yesterday, and plase accept my thanks for your thoughtfulness.

Since my letter to you, I learned that Sgt. Hawkins had been transferred to Camp Haan, California, when Camp Wallace (Texas) became a boot school for the Navy.

Things here are about the same. Life is just one dreary day after another, so I have chosen an easy way to help break a monotonous and dull existence in the land of the jungles. I have been pretty successful so far, and hope to keep it up as long as I possibly can, that is my correspondence with the mainland. I now receive an average of from 270 to 350 letters per month, and succeed in replying to each and every one, within 48 hours after their arrival.

Something else that will make the time go swiftly by, is my recently being accredited by GHQ of Gen. MacArthur's HQ's. as a certified news-correspondent for the SWPA, as of 10 June, 1944.

ChcycuGo(

My unit is an all-Negro Anti-aircraft Artillery (AW) Battalion, with about 30 per cent of the officers, personally known to me for more than ten years. In New York City, I was a member of the New York National Guard(then the 369th Inf.) and my commanding officer was Capt. DeMaurice Moses of NYC. Today that Capt. is now a Lt. Col. and the Battalion Commander of my outfit. My battery commander is Lt. Clarence Davenport of Detroit, Mich. a graduate of the '43 class at West Point. A few weeks ago (sometime in June) the Pittsburg Courier had him as "killed in action"... a mere error... the "Davenport" killed was an efiear in another unit in another part of this huge jungle.

Two things here are what the men really need; the first and principal one is the receiving of mail from their homefolks, and the next is the receiving of Negro weeklies, which slowly get here. Sometimes one or two of the boys may get a copy, and to see the other fellows eagerly grab at it, is unbelievable. There are many white organizations that send dailies to the Chaplains over here for the men, but, sorry to say, Negro organizations are far behind in this worthy and appreciated effort.

My regards to all, and best wishes always,

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

My very first column for a New York paper was written in Washington, D. C. At that time there was a campaign on to break the discriminatory policy of the Capitol Transit Company. Sometime later my girl friend wrote me that the Company was forecd to hire Negroes.

I'm back in Washington now. I don't know what happened to the enforcement of the law in the case of Capitol Transit, but I haven't seen any Negroes driving the buses or streetcars.

Washington is more surprising to me on this second visit. I knew that Jim-Crow flourished in this town, but I never realized its scope. I'm learning though.

Here in the Nation's capitol—the home of Democracy—Negroes are not even permitted to go to the same movie house with the whites. No restaurant in the downtown area will serve them. The only semblance of democracy is found in places controlled by the Government.

I suppose it may sound foolish to you that I am surprised that such things happen here. It's true I have heard and read a lot about it, but it is different when you come face to face with it.

In the government offices in Washington, Negro and white work side by side. Yet, when they leave the office, many of the whites will not sit next to a Negro in the bus. Several times I boarded a crowded bus. It seemed peculiar to me that people were standing when there was an empty seat in the bus. I realized when I took the seat and people stared at me, that it was because a Negro was sitting there.

I visited Mrs. Morgan, the sister of my friend Cora Holder. Mrs. Morgan has four lovely children. She was born in the South and her husband was born and raised in Washington, D. C. They told me they are moving to New York, because they don't want to raise their children in this city.

Mrs. Morgan told me: "When I take the children downtown they see the people in the drug-stores and restaurants having ice cream and sodas. They want some too. I tell them they can't go in those stores— I can't tell them they have no sodas, because they can see through the windows. They don't understand. I know New York is still no paradise, but it is certainly better than Washington."

Well I guess I haven't gotten out of the South yet, but I'll be glad when I do. Some day I'm sure the South will be different —they've made a start already— "Cotton" Ed Smith was defeated in the elections in South Carolina. A move like that was as valuable as the Allies gaining ground against the Nazis.

I listened to the Democratic National Convention on the radio when they nominated their candidate for Vice President. Personally, I was hoping they would nominate Henry A. Wallace again. He has done a splendid job alongside of our Commander-in-Chief. He has a keen understanding of the problems of the minority peoples. He is a lover of Democracy.

Senator Harry S. Truman was nominated. President Roosevelt said he "will be glad to run with him." Truman has a good record as a Senator. He will have to keep up that good record and make it even better if he is to carry on the fine work of Wallace.

As far as I'm concerned Franklin D. Roosevelt is our next President. He'll need a good man by his side to carry on his wish the war program. I hope Truman is that man. And I hope you will be at the polls on election day to vote for President Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman to carry us on to Victory.

A Salute To Real Americans

Several weeks ago it was my duty as a lover of justice and right to expose the fascist act of a property owner in this neighborhood who posted rental signs, "for white only." Also you may remember the other incidents which transpired and were written in this column. The story was about the little man who owned the little house and sought to rent it guided by a little mind and a little soul. Today, Mr. Bill Ham, the man in mention has rented his little house, and is living in a neighborhood far from this neighborhood of his fears. Evidently he feels that as a result the problem of race has been solved; at least he no longer lives around Negroes although some are in his Labor Union. As do frogs, he has found a pond where there are none but his kind, and in such isolation can feel as big as he can. This is remarkably in contrast with the positive attitude of one of Mr. across the street from the little house for whites only. Its not simply the renting of property to Negroes by whites which gives significance to this story. For it is that this is very common tihng, attested by th fact that much property is owned by whites in the so-called Negro ghetto. Whereas it is said that renting property to Negroes decreases the property value still it is true that some of the best income property is that rented to Negroes. Rather is there a more significant something other than the commercial to be found in the following words.

MR LLOYD DOW, A REAL AMERICAN

Lloyd Dow is not the kind of individual who would be outstanding in a crowd. He is just an unassuming, humble man who faces life honestly. It is his type that is representative of the liberty loving character which American poets dramatize in glorifying the American spirit. Lloyd Dow is not a politican who speaks or acts solely to win votes. He is not an executive whose signature determines the destiny of millions. He is rather, just Lloyd Dow, the man. I came to know him in the following way. Walking down Trinity on the 4th of July, I saw a rental sign posted at 3617, ironically enough it is directly opposite the little house mentioned above, as though it were pointing an accusing ringer in the face of discrimination. Inquiring as directed, the owner who lived in the other duplex unit was contacted. At once he and his wife agreed to rent to a Bowen Church member, badly in need of a house. I did not have to be told that the Dows were about to experien evidently for the first th living in such close proxim with a colored family. What impressive was their readin for this adventure which is demanding in todays world it would be sincere in the c flict to destroy fascism. To the Dows still live in their and their new neighbors in other, a fine example of unity of the American peo As the weeks have passed th neighbors have discovered each other qualities such kindness, friendliness and nei borliness which is better to had than ties of blood or race.

A CHALLENGE TO WHITE AMERICA

The adventure of Mr. and Lloyd Dow is a challenge those die-hard white Americ who yet insist on holding to patterns of discrimination segregation. This ordinary gentle man, unknown in higher circles of his country race, could by his example struct the professors and so-called authorities on the question, concerning worka race-relations. Our armed for could increase their military fectiveness if the bigwigs high places would but dare be genuinely democratic as the Dows. America could ind become the home of the free the land of the brave if wh America would approach race-question with the sa earnestness of this humble m When the record of real democrater is written by the h of truth, the name of this m will be high on its scroll.

Contrast this man and practical democracy with called friends of the race, with honeyed words and sup ficial mannerisms express after line of belief in democra but the daring to put such i action is wanting. There those who will invite you dinner and other social functio involving safe distances, but all ends there. Here is a m undoubtedly who never had Negro guest in his home, not because he wouldn't, but becau his socializing was limited even with his race. But this same m who perhaps knows little of interracial groups, when fac with the realities of a mix neighborhood dared to adve ture, because he believes lite ally and not for diplomat reasons that all men are creat equal. It therefore is a privile to salute a man who has prove himself to believe that closing phrase of the salute to the fla "One nation indivisible, wi liberty and justice for ALL."

Bishop Bray Urges Rural Churches To Push Wartime Food Production

Bishop James A. Bray, who recently retired as president of the Fraternal Council of Negro Churches in America, urged in his annual address before the Council that rural churches take a more active part in encouraging increased wartime food production.

He pointed out that the rural church has an excellent opportunity to offer effective support to the food production program so that our fighting men and our allies may continue to be well fed and kept in good fighting trim to carry the drive for victory to the enemy's door. Said he, "The soil building program of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency which has helped to maintain the fertility of the land at maximum production levels has been an important factor in assuring adequate supplies for our armed forces, and also in raising the standards of living of farm people. The continuation of the AAA program in the post-war era will go a long way toward assuring economic freedom for Negro farmers."

The Fraternal Council has organized a program among the rural churches for promoting increased food production. Some of the churches are growing gardens, others have organized staff of workers to assist farmers in their production efforts.

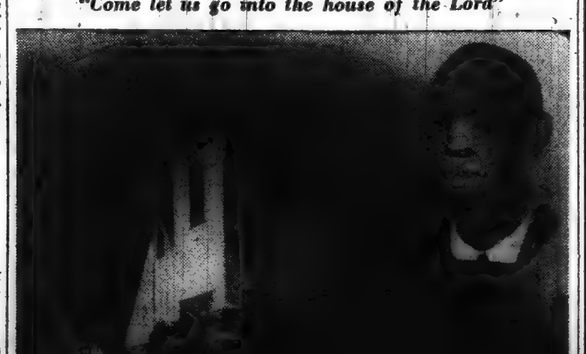
Rev. Marshall Named To Head District Youth Council Work

REV. P. M. MARSHALL



The Rev. P. M. Marshall, minister of the First A.M.E. Zion Church, has been recently appointed district chairman of the committee on children and youth in wartime by the war council. The impact of the war upon children and youth is one of our vital concerns. The function of this committee is to study this problem and to organize the community for local action.

"As we realize the many problems created by the war effort, with the shift of the theater of war to the Pacific, and the increasing challenge which faces this community, it is our duty to go all-out as we attack this most vital problem," Rev. Marshall said.

Rev. Marshall comes well qualified for this task, having served while pastoring at Des Moines, Iowa, as the director of the East Side Community Center, Playground and Adult Education. He was appointed by the mayor of that city. He served also at the Fairgrounds Army Camp, as civilian chaplain and morals officer, along with his pastorate, and director of the community center for that area, catering to the youth and soldiers at Sacramento, Calif.

He is graeful in having the opportunity to serve in this capacity. Much can be done and just be done to help those busy parents who are in the war industry. Their children are left unguarded to care for themselves. We must remember that the goodness of our post-war world depends upon the wholesome guidance given the children and youth of our present day. They are to be the citizens of tomorrow. Some of our most civic-minded citizens have been asked by the chairman to serve. Much assistance is needed in solving this vital problem.

Roena M. Savage Thrills Large Audience With Golden Voice

When Roena Muckelroy Savage came to Riverside last week to sing for the benefit of the Women's Day Ralley at Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church many Riversiders recalled the young California soprano who went East a few years ago to win fame with her golden voice.

The singer, now visiting her mother in San Bernardino, laid the background for her musical career in that city and in Riverside. It is interesting to note that two musicians prominent in Riverside musical life have been her instructors; Annie Mottram Craig, a former soloist at the Mission Inn, was her first voice teacher and later Marcella Craft, opera singer, who now is artist director for the Riverside Opera Association, was an instructor.

Miss Savage graduated from the University of Southern California, won the grand finals of the California Eisteddfod Contest and left California to become a member of the music faculty of Lincoln University.

She included in her varied travels singing in many sections of the United States in concerts, operas, on radio broadcasts and with symphonies. She also appeared in New York as a principal in the company which staged "Adia" and was prima donna soprano in Pinkard's "Symphony Fantasy." Miss Savage has been featured in a series of broadcasts of French, Negro and Spanish folk songs and was soloist for the 20th and 25th anniversary meetings of the association for the study of Negro Life and History, held every five years in Chicago.

Mrs. Ann Moore is general chairman of the committee which will stage her recital at Irving School Auditorium. Mrs. W. G. Williams, captain of the Women's Day Rally of the A.M.E. Church to be held the third Sunday in August. Dr. J. L. Glover is pastor of the church.

Miss Savage included in her varied program last week a group of Italian operatic numbers; a group which featured "The Russian Nightingale" by Josten, telling of the night long singing in the Ukraine of millions of birds; an aria from the opera "Semiramide" by Rossini; a group of spirituals including "By and By" by Burleigh, "Hold On" by Hall Johnson and "I'm Gwine To March Down To Jordon" by Eva Jessye; also a series of novelties concluding with "Let My Song Fill Your Heart" by Charles and "Oh, No John."

She held her audience spellbound with her grace and poise and they gave her an overhelming response. Truly she left a deep impression on the large attendance who heard her.

Pastor Williams St. Paul's Baptist Will Return Sunday

Last Thursday, Pastor S. A. Williams, of St. Paul Baptist Church, left for Sacramento, Calif., where he is scheduled to deliver the Anniversary sermon in the Shiloh Baptist Church, commemorating the 10th year of pastoral service of Dr. J. T. Muse, one of the outstanding Baptist ministers in this state.

After the services at Shiloh, Sunday, Pastor Williams is to go to Berkeley, Calif., where he has been especially called to perform the nuptials for a very good friend of his who is home on shore leave from his ship and who believes "that marriage vows made in the presence of Pastor Williams are seldom broken."

Pastor Williams will be home next Sunday for our regular first Sunday services. During his absence, however, St. Paul is marching on under the capable leadership of Associate Pastor J. L. Branham. This is shown clearly by the following figures for the month of July: accessions, 88, including 5 for baptims; finances raised, $2,877.00. We are pleased to note the spirit of missions existing in our church in that out of the $2,877.00 raised, $792.15 was allocated for home and foreign missions.

If you are without a church home in Los Angeles, come with us and we will do thee good.

California Baptists State Convention

By Rev. G. J. Wildy

The California State Baptist Convention met in annual session with the Metropolitan Baptist Church of Los Angeles, California; Rev. J. E. Pius, Minister. A pre-convention session was held Wednesday evening, July 12, 1944; consisting of a program put on by the local church. This session closed with a splendid freewill offering. ($35.15). Many churches and delegates enrolled.

Thursday morning the Convention opened with President T. M. Davis presiding. A very inspiring devotional period was conducted by Rev. J. H. Davis, of McCloud, California. The business hour was followed by a presentation of the general theme: "The Church for Such a Time as This." The visitors to the Convention were then introduced by Rev. B. W. Wade, of Los Angeles.

Dr. J. P. Hubbard delivered the introductory sermon, using as a theme, "What the Church Is Facing." He pleaded for steadfastness and aggressiveness in facing the task. Dr. Hubbard stressed seven (7) phases of the task as follows: 1. World struggle. 2. Armed might. 3. Skepticism. 4. Race hatred. 5. Human passions. 6. Spiritual famine. 7. Moral decay. This sermon was delivered in the 'power of the Spirit'.

In the afternoon we were led through an inspiring devotional service by the Rev. Daniel Hill of Merced, California. This was followed by reports from the Secretaries (Dr. J. P. Hubbar, Recording Secretary, G. J. Wildy, Cor. Sec'y.) and Treasurer, Dr. J. E. Pius. The president, Rev. T. M. Davis, gave his annual message. In this message the president outlined "Manner of Approach" for the important task of bringing about unity in the Baptist ranks: first in our District Associations, our State Conventions, and the great task of again uniting our two Negro National Conventions with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn. This message stirred the hearts of the entire Convention assembled.

The Nominating committee made its report recommending the re-election of its present officers. This recommendation was adopted.

The report of Penal Institutions was called for. Rev. George J. Wildy, our colored Protestant Chaplain, gave a report emphasizing his endeavors to present Jesus Christ to the men behind the prison walls. He stated that since our last Convention, the beloved State Chaplain, Dr. M. S. McKericher, a man of God, and beloved by all that knew him—yes, the men in San Quentin of every race—had been called to his great 'reward.'

This, of course, necessitated the selection of a successor. The protestant Chaplain association was requested to suggest the successor. Bishop Block, the President, appointed a Committee of five (5) to interview the applicants. Chaplain Wildy wos one of the five (5). That committee and all concerned are happy to have Rev. Harry C. Warwick to fill the place of Dr. McKericher. Chaplain Warwick is a lover of men, and is not hampered by 'race perjudice.' A fine, Christian gentleman, highly educated, and is rendering a fine service to our group without partiality.

The highlight of the evening was a spirit-filled gospel message delivered by Dr. L. B. Moss of Riverside, California. His subject was "A Changeless Christ in a Changing World."

Friday Morning Session — (Women's Convention) Theme: "Paths of Service."—Theme song, "I'll go where you want me to go."

The meeting was called to order by President, Mrs. C. R. Pius. Mrs. I. Perry, of Woodland, the vice president, led the devotional period, singing, "Amazing 4: 1-26.

After a very fine business session, the remaining part of the A.M. service devoted to "Panel discussions" was enjoyed by all, from the following subjects: "In the Service with Jesus," "Personal Word," "World - Friendliness," and "Resignation to His Will." The following persons participated: Mrs. S. G. Mimms of Pittsburg, Mrs. V. V. Taylor of Willmington, Mrs. B. Hedges, Corcoran, Mrs. A. W. Ross of Los Angeles, and others.

In the election of officers, President Mrs. Pius was re-elected, also Vice President, Mrs. Perry, and Secretary, Mrs. Cora Holt. In the afternoon the officers were installed by Mrs. E. D. Crawford of Oakland, Calif. (Mrs. Crawford is the president of the women's department of the General Baptist Association of Northern California.)

Friday evening, the Chorus of the Metropolitan Baptist Church rendered some very outstanding music. Dr. A. Wendell Ross brought to us a "soul-stirring" message, subject: "But If Not." This was taken from Dan. 3:18. Dr. Ross painted a beautiful mental picture—we could see the scene enacted. It was a wonderful ending of the Women's Convention.

Saturday Morning was given over to the Young Peoples' Work: The Church School and the Baptist Training Union.

This session was presided over by Mr. Julius Hall. The young people presented a very timely program. Mrs. Alice B. Johnson was in charge of the little children ranging in age from five (5) years to nine (9) years old. They gave the "salute" to the Christian flag; sang, "Yes Jesus Loves Me"; and recited the 23rd Psalm from memory.

The program as given by the young people was quite refreshing, following the heavy work of the general Convention. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. J. C. Hall; V. President, Miss E. Simmons (Woodland); Secretary, Miss Lillian Hubbard (Oakland); Asst. Sec'y, Miss Elsie E. Hunt, (Los Angeles); Cor. Sec'y, Miss S. Hickerson (Merced); Pianist, Mrs. Cleo Lindsay (Willmington) and Mrs. O. J. Pedescleaux (Fresno); Directors of Music, Mrs. M. E. Rozier (Los Angeles) and Miss Eunice E. Wildy (Oakland).

Saturday afternoon the executive board of the Convention met to finish up some business affairs that were left for the Board. The total amount of money at the disposal of the Board (collected from all sources) was money we were able to represent in the National Baptist Convention that is to meet in September in Houston, Texas, to defray the expenses of the President, Rev. T. M. Davis, and Mrs. C. R. Pius. We were also able to represent in the Young People's Congress. We gave to our Chaplain to help with his work at San Quentin, sixty dollars ($60).

Sunday morning, President T. M. Davis brought the message for the entertaining church and the "lay" delegates. The visiting ministers from the North were assigned to different churches throughout the Los Angeles area.

We returned to the First Street Baptist Church building for a mass meeting and the final phase of the Convention. Rev. George J. Wildy brought the closing message. Subject: "The Righteousness of God Revealed in the Gospel." It was said to be a fitting climax for the Convention.

CLOSE ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION—The Temple of Holy Light located at 2626 South San Pedro street, closed their third anniversary celebration on Thursday, July 27, with Rev. Ora Cannon in charge of the Holy Feast. This year's celebration was a grand success, with thirteen churches participating in the cause of saving souls. Everything was very beautifully arranged. Rev. C. L. Carner was the speaker of the evening. The churches were well represented for the thirteen nights, with the following ministers officiating: Rev. M. B. Mitchell, Willing Workers Temple; Rev. Maddox and John Gipson, School of Music; Rev. Welletta Mickins, Temple of Nimrod; Rev. S. A. Jackson, Temple of Divine Truth; Rev. Mary Oliver, Friendship Temple of Truth; Bishop M. B. Williams, People Temple; Rev. H. L. Morgan, Liberty Temple of Truth; Rev. Helen Werner, School of Light Mrs. Burke Bertha, Temple of Holy Light. May we radiate love and comfort to all mankind as we step into this year of success. In the above picture are seen some of the ones who have received help through God and the Temple of Light. Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday, August 6, 11 a.m., Candlelight Service; 6 p.m., Bible Class, Sunday night, 8 o'clock, service with Rev. Ora Cannon. Program in charge of Mr. John Gipson. NAACP Urges New Red Cross Head Reverse Blood Policy

New York—In a congratulatory message to Basil O'Connor, newly appointed President of the American Red Cross, Walter White, NAACP Secretary, urged immediate reversal of the current segregation policy between Negro and white blood plasma. Asserting it has done more than any other act to depress the morale of American Negroes and of many white Americans, Mr. White pointed out that "Our Axis enemies have used this policy of segregation to convince colored peoples of the world that our country is not sincere when it says that it is fighting against the racial theories of Adolph Hitler while at the same time it practices a similar master race theory."

Commenting on the increasing need for blood plasma at this time, Mr. White said, "Courageous action by the Red Cross in reversing its present policy will, we know, result in the immediate donating of blood by many hundreds of Americans, Negro and white, who want to do their utmost but who have been stopped by the segregation policy of the American Red Cross, the Army and the Navy."

Mr. O'Connor, who is Trustee and Executive Chairman of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, and a senior member in the firm of O'Connor and Farber, was the law partner of President Roosevelt from 1925 to 1933.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By John M. Lee

Lee Notes and Observations

Now they're calling Sidney Hillman "a naturalized citizen who was born in Lithuania." The CIO and the National Citizens Political Action Committees are called "pressure groups," set up to rule an election. No reference is made to indicate that either Hillman or both of the Political Action groups are American citizens who are determined to hold the line against the threatened advance of post-war facism. Who are these special kind of Americans who write their superman drivel in the columns of the Los Angeles Times every time they get a glimpse of real democracy in action? What are the qualifications they possess which makes them believe that they are the ones to define the manner in which a group of citizens can act to elect the candidates of their choice?

John M. Lee

Political Action is no mere slogan invented as a rallying cry. It is the seethe and movement of the people — naturalized, and otherwise American enough to want to enjoy full democracy in a world at peace. These people are Poles, Chinese, Lithuanians, Czechs, Slavs, Mexicans, Turks, Greeks, Arabians, Hungarians, Germans, Italians, Englishmen, Canadians, South Americans, Filipinos — Americans all, with the good old American right to vote.

Sidney Hillman is leading an educational movement to let them know that they have the right to vote, and to give them the records of the candidates so that they can vote with a purpose. Only the dishonest need fear such a program. Only the reactionary will distort its purpose.

SHADOWS

Are Negroes becoming Anti-Semitic, or are they just acting that way? In either case there are signs that something is out of gear in the race relations machinery. This is certainly not the time for a disaffection between minorities. The idea that minorities will hang together out of fear that they will hang separately, is taking things for granted a little too much. As this column suggested before, there should be an education of minorities about minorities, and it should be based on something more solid than a patronizing attitude from one group to another. Perhaps the cultural will be a more successful common denominator than the social has been.

SINCERITY

An award of some kind should be given to Walter Wiliams for his steadfast struggle to break down the Jim Crow policy of Boilermakers Local 92. Through the Shipyarders Committee for Equal Participation, Williams has struck blow after blow for democracy in trade unionism. Presently he is engaged in raising a $3000 fund in order to carry the fight to the Supreme Court. What he is doing will benefit every man and woman who works. What you can do is send a dime or a dollar, or as much as you can spare to the Committee in care of the California Eagle. You have never given to a worthier cause.

SEAMEN ARTISTS

The Second Annual Art Exhibition by Merchant Seamen of the United Nations will close Sunday at the Los Angeles County Museum, where it has been on view since July 9. There are many notable paintings to be seen, but the spirit of the exhibition is exemplified by a placard which reads, "This section is dedicated to the memory of Carl G. Hill, gentleman and artist, lost at sea in the service of his country, January, 1943." Carl was a Negro.

HUMILITY

Christ shed his blood, painfully, on the cross that we might live. He was despised and spit upon by those who did not understand, but he gave his blood so that all men —even those who hated and crucified him—migh live. Negroes cannot afford to be less forgiving than Christ. Blood from all men, the despised and the despisers, is needed to save the lives of the soldiers who are dying that we might live in peace.

Dr. Alain Locke Addresses Town Hall Group on Racial Question

Speaking before an audience gathered at the Town Hall luncheon held at the Biltmore Hotel Monday, Dr. Alain Locke, noted Negro writer and scholar, told his listeners, "It is high time we solved, at least collectively, the race question, which is no longer a backyard question."

Dr. Locke is professor of philosophy at Howard University at Washington, D. C., and also the author of several books on Negro culture.

"Our practice, as against our theory in this matter, more and more is affecting our relation to the whole world." "In the race question I include social and economic restrictions on the rights of Jews, American Indians and Negroes.

"It is the key of our relations with Latin America, which has such a great proportion of Indian and Negro blood. Thus far we have dealt mostly with an official and upper-economic class, which is mostly white, but as those countries progress the Indian and Negro bloods will be more and more in evidence.

"We have sent a Jim Crow army into the seven seas, which is the worst advertising this country has had in two generations. The chief reason that Mohammedanism is increasing more rapidly than Christainity in some parts of the world is the racial equality in practice among Moslems as contrasted to the wide variance between Christian doctrine and practice in this regard.

"It is likely that India and several other oriental nations, perhaps including China, will prefer Russia to the United States because of the Russian accomplishments in solving the race question. As a matter of fact, the Russian bogey is not Russian communism but Russia's potential leadership in this regard."

Negro Farmers Help Production

Wash., D. C.—In four Southern Regions where approximately 90 per cent of the Negro FSA borrowers are concentrated, their 1943 production of direct food and oil crops over 1942 contributed immeasurably to the total increased production of all FSA borrowers in these Regions as follows:

Milk, from 2 to 34 percent, chickens, 29 to 134 percent; eggs, 30 to 38 percent; dry beans and black-eyed peas, 6 to 80 percent; Irish potatoes, 34 to 79 percent; sweet potatoes, 5 to 19 percent; total pounds meat (dressed weight) sold, 32 to 56 percent; total pounds hogs (liveweight) sold, 15 to 62 percent; soybeans, 15 to 19 percent.

3 Major Companies Help Enlist Nurses

The makers of Pepsi Cola several months ago, started running a series of advertisements in the Negro press urging Negro women who qualify to join the Cadet Nurse Corps, to relieve other qualified Negro nurses for military service.

So encouraging were the results from this campaign that the War Advertising Council, working with Interstate United Newspapers, publishers representative for most of the Negro newspapers in America, succeeded in interesting other manufacturers in endorsing this patriotic campaign. Interstate was successful in securing a special intensive campaign from the Schenley Distillers Corporation, Drug Division, which runs through the end of August, then to be expanded if the need still exists on an even larger scale, and the Cellucotton Co., makers of Kotex.

Captain Hall To Be Honored

On Thursday, August 10, Captain Charles B. Hall, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, and the first Negro airman to be credited with a Nazi plane, will be the guest of the Army Air Forces radio series, "Salute Soldiers with Wings," over the Blue Network at 10:30 p.m. EWT from Washington, D. C. He will be interviewed on the scope of training received at this station, and the accomplishments of the Tuskegee-trained pilots in combat.

CIO Representative Fights For Employment of a Negro Cashier

In a statement to the press today, Helga Weigart, Southern California Representative of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO, termed as clear-cut sabotage of President Roosevelt's Fair Employment Practices Act the refusal of the Bank of America and the Securtiy First National Bank to hire Negroes for clerical and cashiers' posistions.

Color Bias

Referring to the recent complaint filed by Mrs. Verna Bean with the Fair Employment Practices Committee, Miss Weigart stated, "The sincere desire of the people of Los Angeles to respond to the call of the War Manpower Commission for the fullest utilization of all available personnel has received a slap in the face by the refusal of the Bank of America at Twent-third Street and Central Avenue and the Security First National Bank at Avalon and Vernon to hire Mrs. Verna Bean, an experienced cashier, because of her color.

"The insult was aggravated by the fact that the banks, both located in the Negro community, pleaded through advertisements for employees even without experience.

"The well known undemocratic practice on the part of business establishments to refuse to give employment to the very people who represent the backbone of their clientelé in Negro communities must be done away with at a time when equality on the fighting front must be matched by equality on the home front.

"The United Office and Professional Workers of America," Miss Weigert continued, will use all its influence in exposing this action as one obviously intended to disunite the people of this city in their effort to help win the war!"

The United Office and Professional Workers of America, located at 206 So. Spring St., organizes clerical workers in industry, banks, and general offices.

David Rivers, Texas Farmer, and the FSA

David Rivers, 52, of Fayette County, Texas, worked for 14 years as a farm laborer before he got a loan from FSA in 1938 to buy his 127-acre farm for $3,350. He has whittled this debt down to $1,500 and plans to pay 01,200 on the balance this fall.

NO COTTON

Rivers is not growing any cotton, either. He concentrates on poultry and livestock and has planted 35 acres of corn for his feed. He will have 40 hogs ready for market this fall and his 700 layers produce 45 dozen eggs a day. He hopes to increase his laying flock to 1500 by the end of the year.

Rivers is considered as one of the most progressive Negro farmers in Region VIII (Texas and Oklahoma). He is a member of both the Negro Farmers' War Production Committee of Texas and the State Council of Negro Farmers.

Defense Worker Acquitted of Battery Charge

Although he was knocked almost into insensibility by a blackjack in the hands of a policeman while he was attempting to assist his wife who had been assaulted and was bleeding profusely, while another officer was dragging his sister through the street and calling her unprintable names, Stanford Patterson, defense worker of 3515½ McKinley Ave., was jailed along with his sister and wife on charges of battery and resisting and officer, and the three were taken to the police station bleeding from their wounds and protesting their innocence.

This happened on June 25th, but last Friday afternoon, however, in Judge Charles P. Johnson's Court, Patterson was acquitted of all charges and the police officers who arrested him were roundly scolded by Judge Johnson after the testimony had been taken.

Defense Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, representing Patterson, bitterly scored the two police officers and announced that he would file suit against them for damages. The Attorney told the Court that it was a crying shame and disgrace.

"CANDID COMMENTS"

By J. T. Gipson

GIPSONNET . . .

Have you forgotten the promises we made
And how you thrilled me with the lovely things you said?
Now I'm alone in misery—
Won't you somethimes think of me?

Think of the hours that we two spent apart,
Praying to God to ease our aching heart.
When love was fresh and grief was yet to be—
Think of that . . . Then think of me!

True, you're with me every night, dear—
Tho only in a dream . . .
Even tho it's just a dream,
That dream to me is heavenly.

I'll forever cherish the mem'ries so sweet,
Maybe again someday we two, by chance, may meet.
Maybe we'll meet . . . and you're not free!
Still, won't you sometimes think of me?

SCANNIN' THE NEWS TICKET TAPE

The above Gipsonnet was written by a Gipson named Jesse. Some of his lovely poems will be set to music and recorded by Nat "King" Cole, and other stars. The lyrics in his repertoire tugs at your heart. You'll applaud some of them on to the Hit Parade! . . . Betty Scott, our best critic and severist friend, is on the sick list.

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S DIARY

Sunday, 9:00 a.m.: Telephone chat with Lena Horne who, when I started the conversation off with "Hi, Angel Puss," retorted with "Hi, married man!" Her most abiding interest in life just now is the club date (Chi) she's booked for next week. She left for the Windy city (accompanied by pianist-arranger Horace Henderson—and he gets paid, too!) Sunday evng. I finally tear myself away from the phone (after bidding her goodbye, good luck and all-that-sort-a-thing) and hightailed it over to Jess Gipson's who wanted me to hear his latest lullabyes . . . With the ear-pleasing songs of Jesse's still tingling in my ears, I dash over to the Downbeat to meet Elihu McGee who tells me Mabel Scott is packing 'em in at the Casablanca brkfst club . . . After chatting over a scotchand soda with McGee with the Elihu handle, I remembered a previous engagement with Agent Tony Zinelli, who takes me by his latest singing protege's apartment for an introduction. Only eighteen, she has a baby face, and one of the prettiest smiles of any gals in town . . . After nibbling on a handful of hors d'oeuvre's, we took off like a B-19 and made a mad rush by to see Vivacious Velma Miles, the bee-yoo-teee-ful girl with the Pepsodent smile, who is confined to her home with a case of Flu. (About the only thing of which you can get a case of, nowadays). We put people on the pan for a coupla hours, after which I taxied back to the Pig'n The Pit barbecue rotisserie for a sandwich (and a chance to gaze on the loveliness of Manager Mildred Gladen, whose attractiveness upsets your appetite) . . . Later that evng I go to Maxine Sullivan's apt. to hear her toy with a piano. (I like her singing better) . . . On to the club Alabam for a matinee to hear "Dimples" McGee (no relation to Elihu) sing "More Than You Know." She's with the Swoonhearts of Rhythm band . . . Standing at the bar with a glass of Milk (Yeah! So What?) in my hand, who should wave her pretty little hand at me in a fond hello but Helen Sane, the Sexaphonist. She beckons us over to the bandstand, but a bartender (who simply wont keep his nose outuve other peoples business) reminds me that I'm married, so I decline the invite . . . Back home to await a telephone call from John M. (for mean) Lee, my slave-driving but like-

We made lots of promises about what to expect in this year of grace and the Number Twenty anniversary of M-G-M.

One of the promises was "The White Cliffs of Dover". And from the success of the opinions, guess we've a right to say—promise fulfilled.

★ ★ ★ ★

Another—and what another!—is Pearl Buck's "Dragon Seed". This is the picture of pictures, the super of supers, the colossal of colossals.

★ ★ ★ ★

We mean, brother, it's good.

★ ★ ★ ★

Just cast an eye on the comments of the critics who caught it at the Radio City Music Hall where it's now breaking records.

"A memorable motion picture!" said Howard Barnes, N. Y. Herald Tribune.

★ ★ ★ ★

"One of the finest!" said John T. McManus, PM.

★ ★ ★ ★

Walter Winchell put it in his Orchid Garden and praised the "cinemagic" of Katharine Hepburn, Walter Huston, Aline MacMahon!

★ ★ ★ ★

We'll add our cheers for Akim Tamiroff and Turhan Bey. And the direction of Jack Conway and Harold S. Bucquet. And the screen play of Misses Roberts and Murfin. And, of course, Pandro Berman's production!

★ ★ ★ ★

"Dragon Seed" sheds glory on all!

Bathing Beauty Is Lavish Production At United Artists

"Bathing Beauty" now playing at the United Artists Theatre, downtown Los Angeles, is lavishly produced in technicolor. An MGM top-flight musical, it should register very well with the cash customers. With the production handled by Jack Cumming, and George Sidney directing, it provides Red Skelton with an opportunity to display his varied abilities as a comedian; supplies the shapely and lovely swimming star Esther Williams with a chance to perform both as an actress and mermaid; and presents the musical talents of Harry James and his Music Makers and Xavier Cugat and his orchestra. Lina Romay of the Cugat crew, Helen Forrest of the James jivester's and organist Ethel Smith are also featured.

WATER BALLET

Unlike musicals prior to this one, Metro has invested in beautiful sequences. Water ballet costumes by Scharff, and the water ballet, produced under the supervision of John Murray Anderson, are memorable. One sequence with Miss Williams swimming in a pool, and water sokets gushing high, is climaxed by the appearence of torches of flame between each water spray, the water then being turned off and quenching the flames. It is unusual in every respect, probably the most ingenious water ballet sequences ever filmed.

Esther Williams displayed her aquatic and acting abilities in this role, and she is a pretty picture indeed. Red Skelton at his best, is his usual effervescent self.

Bathing Beauty is well worth the price of admission. It's one of the best shows to play United Artists theatre in years.

"You've got the greatest trio in the world. You rate a whole garden of orchids!" is what Walter Winchell is saying to Nat "King" Cole in the picture above. Winchell, on one of his night-club visits, dropped out to the Trocadero club the other evening to dig the King Cole trio. He spent the evening in the front of the bandstand, and the next day in his widely read column wrote raves aplenty about the King Cole Trio.

That's the Trio Eagle columnist Gipson has been raving about for months!

Bradshaw's Band Keeps Things Jumping at Plantation

Current show at Joe Morris' Plantation club with Tiny Bradshaw headlining, stacks up as the best crowd-pleaser in nite life circles. The other night the little woman and I fought our way thru the heavy traffic and spent a rather enjoyable evening at the cozy club, owned and operated by Jovial Joe Morris.

Tiny Bradshaw, without a doubt, has one of the most entertaining aggregations in the field of swing. He is one of the most colorful bandleaders in the business, and the show caught by this reviewer was played to perfection by the Bradshaw blowers.

TWO ESQUIRES CLICK

Brought here from Chicago for the Plantation show, two neat in appearence dancers known as the Two Esquires clicked solidly with intricate tap routines. In spots they remind one of the famed Nicholas brothers, which doesn't hurt their reputation at all. Theirs is a smooth act that rated applause aplenty from the guys and gals in the audience.

June Richmond came in for her share of the spotlight when she opened with a little number titled, "You Made Me Love You." She sounds like Martha Raye—or vice versa. She danced, sang, and clowned her way into the hearts of the hepcats and hepchicks present. Her version of "Hey Lawdy Mama" brought the house down.

HOLIDAY FOR STRINGS

With the Two Esquires, June Richmond and others featured at the Plantation club, you'd think someone would stop the show. Well, they did! The someone getting the credit for show-stopping this week is eighteen gentlemen of riffs known as the Tiny Bradshaw band. They played Dave Rose's "Holiday For Strings," and what they did to Holiday for Strings is something that should happen to other arrangements of Holiday for Strings. Every other bar had the customers stamping, whistling and shouting in approval of the rhythm-rocking arrangement of Holiday For Strings. That number, featured by the band, stopped the show!

THE COUNT OF BASIE—Harlem's mad man of music leads his super-swingsters on a non-stop flight to swingdom this week at the downtown Orpheum theatre. Also on the bill are Earle Warren, Jimmie Rushing, The Delta Rhythm Boys, Thelma Carpenter, Patterson and Jackson and many others.

Sixteen Lena Horne's Lovely to Look At

With the debut set for September at a San Francisco theatre, the Clarence Muse production, "4 and 20 Blackbirds," now in rehearsal, is gradually shaping into the kind of show you see only on Broadway! The sixteen honey-colored cuties he picked for the ensemble, are lovely to look at. He calls them "Sixteen Lena Horne's."

They are Vivian Stevens, Almarie Ross, Thelma Lee Wallace, Agnes Lloyd, Mary Ellen Britt, Erma Small, Bettye Quincey, Jean Herndon, Maggie Hathaway, Vera Sado, Terry Savoy, and others whose names our rambling reporter forgot to jot down. With Dorothy Donegan, Mantan Moreland, The Sweethearts of Rhythm all-girl band, and Ben Carter in as featured stars, the show should be an instant click.

Jimmie Durante Held Smellbound

Jimmie Durante and June Allyson were doing a scene for MGM's "Music For Millions." Jimmie kept forgetting his lines. Hopelessly he flopped his arms, and said to Director Henry Koster:

"I'm mortified. It's humiliatin' that I can't remember dis dialogue. June's perfume has me smell-bound. And don't forget, I have twice as much nose to smell with!"

In his last personal appearance before embarking on an eastern theater tour, Nat "King" Cole, the pianist with the educated fingers, will bring his sensational trio to the Elks Hall for a one-nighter tomorrow (Friday) evening, August 4. The King and his kats have chalked up some sort of a record during their stay at the famed Trocadero club in Hollywood. They played to capacity crowds nitely. Every night at the Trocadero is New Years eve when the King Cole trio is playing. They're Harlem and Hollywood's favorites.

Their recordings are played more than any other instrumental groups on the juke boxes. "Straighten Up and Fly Right," a swingy little ditty written by the King himself, jumped from nowhere to eighth place on the Most Played Songs In Juke Boxes list. The Andrews Sisters recently recorded it in their latest picture.

If you really like the King Cole trio (and who but an icky doesn't) then, you'd better be on hand Friday evening at the Elks hall when the King and his boys take to the bandstand for their last appearance before taking off for points east on a theatre tour throughout the country.

And then too, the rhythm rocking arrangements of Sammie Franklin will also delight the hepcats and hepchicks in the audience. His band was picked to handle the music for your dancing pleasure.

The King Cole Trio and Sammie Franklin's orchestra.

A combination that's hard to beat for a dance date.

And the date is Friday, August 4, Elks hall.

Your last chance to hear the famous King Cole Trio in person.

Gail's Chinese Cafe Attracts Attention

Notably distinctive and unusual during a period when the unusual is the mode of the moment, is Gail's Chop Suey Cafe at 1893 West Jefferson boulevard, just west of Western avenue.

Originally operated by Japanese, the cafe is now Negro owned and operated. Every dish on the menu is prepared expertly by Gail herself in the manner which she learned from the former owners.

Her Chinese patrons, of whom there are many, frequently compliment her on the authenticity and taste of her dishes which are prepared in a spotless kitchen.

The variety of popular Chinese foods on the menu is always available, and it is served in ample portions with a minimum of waiting. The next time you feel like eating a good Chinese meal, try Gail's which is open daily from 4:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., excepting Saturdays when the hours are 2 p.m. to 2 a.m., and Tuesdays when they are closed all day.

TAKE IT EASY, LITTLE HONEY
TELL ME THE TRUTH, YES NOW!

Short, short story... She was just a chorus girl doing three shows a night in a Chicago cafe. He was a piano pounder, but good. Only at that time, Fon seemed to think so. But the chorus girl thought he was great. To make a long story short. She married the guy. It was love at first sight. He needed her. She knew how to make him think he was one of the great piano players of the city by the lake. Of course, his idol of the ivories was Earl Hines. He liked the Hines technique.

FAITH DID IT

She had the two of them "signed up" with a road show. By the time the show reached Los Angeles—it was stranded. She danced here and there and put bacon on the table. They lived with her aunt. She never once lost faith in her man. She backed him all the way. Needless to say, he came in way ahead of the others. Today, this young pianist has captivated Hollywood.

He is now in the big time. He has made good, but definitely. Little Nadine, that is her name, has seen the name of her husband in lights, on the screen and now on a great banner in large letters outside the Trocadera in Hollywood, it reads, KING COLE AND HIS TRIO.

Street Scene... Swooning crowds standing around a juke box—anywhere, listening to the haunting "I Wonder."

AH! WOMEN

Women's dept.... we don't feel that the women will return to the kitchen in the Post War era. Not unless, it becames unpatriotic to remain on the job. Women, it seems to me, are seeking more equality of the sexes. They want to take a place along side of the men. And brother, they are doing alright in the war industries and in the armed farces. More and more women are entering politics and business—seeking more liberation from conventions. They seem definitely charted on a course to a port, which will have no designated place for them.

We mean that they ultimately will kick over the traces of traditional phrases as "a woman's place is in the home!" or "she can't fly a plane because she is a girl." Also, hot papa, the little woman will (is) put the time worn phrase "Sauce for the gander, is sauce for the goose."

Big town scenes... Sgt. Kermit Brown of the Police Juvenile squad dashing madly to pay a talkie bill. John Hawkins, chain hotel owner, growing fat on the land. Officer Frank Cleveland, vice squad, hunting a place to park at 42nd and Central avenue. Atty. Ivan H. Johnsan, the Third, feeling in a scrappy mood after he and the wife attended the Republican confab in Chicago.

The personable Gaynell Taylor of Pasadena felling sad, because Uncle Sam had priority over her husband three weeks ago. It seems that Walter Gordon and Curtis Taylor are dividing the criminal cases between them. Walter Fuller, who holds sway at the "Last Word" has the last word when it comes to singing "Rosetta." Danny Whitley, beer sipping, while Jimmy Marshall, Harlem stage manager, dines at Morris Bar and Grill.

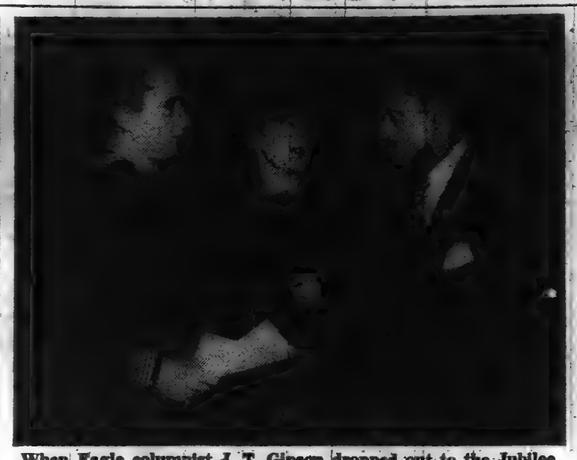
The Law-Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy is on active duty. Capt. A. C. Jewel, one of the swellest guys you'll ever meet has taken over the reins of the Sheriff's Department. Capt. Jewel is one of a multitude of Americans, who believe definitely in the Bill of Rights and above all Captain Jewel practices it. He is a jewel.

IT HAPPENED ONE DAY

All Dugan, erstwhile horticulturist, landscaper, gardner, etc., invented his own plan to get rich in a hurry, by closing his eyes to ethics. The Astute Mr. Dugan approached Mr. R. C. Gartz of Altadena, and said, "Let me sterilize your female date palm trees?"

"How much," queried Gartz.

"I charge the movie stars two bucks, but I will do it for you for only ninety cents."



Mr. Gartz rapidly made mental calculations. A buck ten is a buck ten saved, he mused. "Okay, go to it," he ordered Dugan.

Dugan clambored into the trees and out and up again, he sliced and whacked right and left. After 47 minutes he appeared to Gartz and presented a bill for $110.47. Almost $2.50 a minute. Gartz almost fainted. Dugan and Gartz argued back and forth. It nearly came to fisticuffs, when Atty. Chuck Beardsley arrived on the scene. He became judge pro tem and Dugan accepted $33.00. Meanwhile Mr. Gartz had the faint feeling all over again.

This is A. C. Jewel's little boy. Earl J. Morris, until the Sheriff returns, who can be reached at 5013 Wall Street, ADams 7010.

Josephine Baker Coming Back To Play White Theatres Only Arrives "Home" End of August

By J. T. Gipson, Theatrical Editor

Josephine Baker, the St. Louis girl who jumped from the chorus line of Lew Leslie's "Blackbirds" show into the arms of several rich French Counts, is being brought back to this country by Consolidated Radio Artists for a theatre tour in non-colored houses only!

Her lovely figure, "still lovely as ever" (press agents quotes, not mine) is still "the breathless kind that never fails to get a long low whistle from the guys in the audience when she steps out onto the stage."

What the Press Agents forgot to add to their story, is that it has been many a moon since Miss Baker has stepped out onto a stage.

True, she has made somewhat of a name for herself during her stay in Algiers, but not from her singing or dancing. She made the headlines only by marrying rich French Counts with foreign sounding names and titles. She's Harlem's answer to Peggy Hopkins Joyce. But remembering the adage "It's no matter how you get in the papers; as long as you get in the papers," we compliment Miss Baker on the amazing regularity with which her name found its way into the headlines.

The last part of the opening paragraph is why she'll continue to make the headlines. Someone really thought up a neat scheme to get the dimmed-out star back into the limelight again.

AMEN

They sent out a release that "Miss Baker will play white theatres only! If that doesn't grab for her plenty of space from the more than three hundred Negro newspapers throughout the country, then I'm a dope—and maybe I am even if it doesn't!

In the first place, every paper will write paragraphs of protest because she is being booked into white theatres only. In the second place, that's what her agent was thinking about when he sent out the releases in the first place! If every paper rants and raves protestingly against her appearing in white theatres only, just think how much free publicity that will give Miss Baker. And if you think that isn't what Consolidated Radio Artists had in mind, then you'd better hightail it to the nearest Psychiatrist—'cause crazy is what you ain't anything else but!

The last line of the press release sent out by Consolidated states: "She will be offered for theatre-bookings in non-colored houses upon arrival the end of August."

That's the line that will grab for her more publicity than she can shake a hip at.

As Alfred E. Smith would say: "Let's look at the record."

Josephine Baker is an average dancer. Josephine Baker is an average singer. Josephine Baker has an average face and figure. Josephine Baker is about 30 or 36 years old (and that's giving her the best of it). Josephine Baker—oh, heck, we could rave on endlessly telling you why she will need all the publicity she can get to prove 'box-office' draw in any theatre. And if publicity is all she needs, she'll get it!

And here's why.

She is being booked into White theatres only.

And the Negro papers will go to town on that.

Personally, I have nothing against Miss Baker. I hardly know the gal, but with so many young and beautiful Negro girls bidding for fame today, plus Lena Horne, Nina Mae McKinney, Marva Louis, and the sixteen "Lena Horne's" Clarence Muse picked for his forthcoming revue, Miss Baker will have to be able to do more than just step out onto a stage to hold her own.

In fact, about the only chance she has for a successful "comeback" is to go out-gypsy Rose Lee!

OUTSTANDING ACTRESS of Stage, Screen and Radio, the charming Vivian Harris, shown here, is another reason why the current show on the stage at the Lincoln Theatre rates an orchid. Along with the brilliant and talented Miss Harris appears Tim Moore, Crackshot, Marie Bryant and many others on hand to make a visit to the Lincoln an enjoyable one.

Absent Four Years, Cleo Brown Will Return to Swing Kingdom

Boogie Woogie piano playing Cleo Brown who, in 1934-35 was the sensation of the nation with her intricate riffs and marvelous left-hand work on the keyboard, is attempting to make a "comeback," after working the past couple of years in a Chicago Defense plant.

Music Publisher Jack Robbins is issuing this fall a portfolio of Cleo Brown's original boogie woogie compositions. She plans to invade Broadway on her "come-back" campaign. As Don DeLeighbur wrote: "Fifty-second street, the Village and Broadway belongs to anyone who makes the honest sincere effort to try for them." That, is Cleo Brown's intentions.

PROTEST OF COLUMNIST

Cleo, daughter of a well-known Chicago minister who was trained from girlhood in classic and religious music to be the Organist in her father's church, is said to be the protege of columnist Dan Burley, who has guided her step by step to the top spot on the ladder of success in her early days of toying with the Baby Grand. There are many who will argue that there is no boogie woogie pianist on the national scene who can touch her for sheer interpretative power of the mood and background of that kind of playing. And this, they argue, includes Hazel Scott, Donegan with the Dorothy Handle, Maurice Rocco and others. "Cleo Brown," writes columnist Don DeLeighbur, "plays boogie woogie strictly eight to the bar with the melody on top!"

MANAGERIAL DISPUTES

After riding the crest of the popularity wave, she suddenly dropped out of the limelight. Some think her manager, Sam Beer, owner of the Three Deuces Club in Chicago where Cleo got her start, managed her into obscurity. Others contend that Cleo, herself lost. Whatever the case may have been, Cleo's Boogie Woogie slipped quietly into oblivion. And there it has stayed for more than three years. But the news that the beloved little girl will try for a "comeback" is welcomed with open arms.

So superior is she to other pianists, that she'll be back in the limelight soon.

Mrs. Louis Jordan Forms Own Band

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Following in the footsteps of her famous bandleader husband, Mrs. Louis Jordan, affectionately referred to as the "Queen of the Blues," has organized her own jump crew. Presiding over the musical background is radio's famed 4 Riffs. Somewhat on the order of her husband's entertaining crew, Mrs. Jordan's outfit dance, they sing, they swing, and entertain.

They're currently appearing at the Sunset Terrace, a cozy club in Indianapolis.

WHERE ARE THEY?

Most people think that after a musician is inducted into the Army that unless he's in the Special Service Division with a big-publicity connection the public soon forgets his existence. This may be true, but it's the public's fault. Even WARTIME is NO EXCUSE to forget those who in civilian days were the backbone of many of our top-notch orchestras.

YES... of course we miss them when we see replaced chairs in JIMMY LUNCEFORD's, COUNT BASSIE'S and even the MASTER ..; DUKE ELLINGTON'S ORKS .., but DO WE ASK ABOUT THEM??? No!... we nonchalantly assume, "OH, HE MUST BE IN THE ARMY"... and let it go at that.

ONCE IN a while some info leaks out that this one or the other has been INDUCTED into a "SAM SESSION"... or is overseas, or is in a LAUNDRY UNIT, but other than that we are too inclined to forget THEIR MUSIC, THEIR MUSICIANSHIP, THEIR DELIVERY OF SOCK CHORUSES or INIMITABLE SONGS. CALIFORNIA EAGLE SPORTS

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE
SPORTS EDITOR

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

BY EDDIE BURBRIDGE

HELLO FOLKS—This Scribe who gets around a bit rapidly is might proud to announce that he is now dispensing sports for the CALIFORNIA EAGLE, the oldest and most respected Negro weekly on the entire West Coast. We shall attempt to live up to the traditions of this grand publication. Now to get on to sports.

DID YA KNOW?—Henry "The Hammerer" Armstrong, as persistant a battler who ever laced on a mitten, is just a little tired of the game. He confided to yours truly, who bared his shell-like ear eagerly, that he (Hank) would like to get away from it all for an indefinite period and darn it if he had anything to do with it he intended to do just that, in the near future. Denying that physical handicaps troubled him Hank said that after so many years of boxing ears he thought that the time had come for a let-up. He has purchased quite a bit of real estate and could lay back and collect rentals until the cows come home if he so desired, but not our Hank. He has purchased a hunk in a night spot and wants to stop fighting in an effort to ascertain what people do that own night spots. I couldn't enlighten him, never having had the pleasure of plunging my hand in the cash register of an establishment of this kind. I did give him my opinion, value unknown. I agreed with him that the time had come to hang 'em up for good for he is a likeable chap and far be it from me to watch him battling imaginary will-o-wisps in the dark in the not to distant future, as he and any other battler will surely do unless he quits in time. However I happened to be spieling with an intelligent guy. He knew this already and rather than find himself standing on his head in clothes closets in a couple of years he has decided that his time in the ring is decidedly limited insofar as he is concerned. His managerial staff might think otherwise but that's neither here nor there. With no reflection on Henry's mentors I have seen money-managers who have let their boys fight so long that they'd have to be guided into the ring and turned to face their opponents. Since Hank is my friend I wouldn't want to see that happen to him. Let's let well-enough alone. He has compiled a record that no one will ever come near to touching. He has a lot of good memories, a great many souvenirs of his conquests and a load of honors already conferred upon him. A period should be placed at the end of an amazing fistic scroll. Let's let the great little warrior put away his spear and rest upon his laurels.

I'M TELLING YA—Turkey Thompson dropped the duke to Lee Q. Murray last Friday night at Madison Square Garden and Boy, did the welkin' ring on the "Stem" Guys whom I had heard ledge undying faith in the Turk before his "D-Day" in New York were waxing loud and long on how they were certain that Murray was going to cut the Turk a brand new frock coat. If the Western destroyer had won they would have been just as emphatic that they knew Turkey was going to gobble Murray. Well, the fans are as fickle out here as the unpredictable California weather so I'll just pause a bit and comment that the fight was close, that Turkey put up a good fight and we hope that he gets another call to the Garden soon. The fact that the fight was close proves that Turkey belongs in the company he was keeping last Friday night.

I'M ADDING that I hope that Kenny Washington plays pro football this coming season. We want to see the kid in action again before he loses that well-known zip. However on an off day Kenny is 99 and nine-tenths better than the average pigskin handler . . . The Bert Lewis-George Tolson fight stable has been pestered with ailments lately. John Thomas had a slight attack of ptomaine poisoning and Bobby Yaeger hurt his hand while training. At this writing I'm glad to say both boys are apparently okay. Speaking of Thomas the ballyhoo is beginning to be heard on the possibility of him battling Juan Zurita, the present champion, for the N.B.A. world's lightweight championship in a monster outdoor show here during the month of September. As I've said before, if the match is made, John will pin the ears of Juan back and win the crown. This is as certain as death and taxes . . . John Donnelly is slated to face Fitzy Fitzpatrick, the Irish kayo artist, at Wilmington on August 9 . . . Fighters to watch in the future are in the order of their ability—Major Jones, Roy Miller, Bert White, Torpedo Reed and Sonny Hill.

IN CLOSING this Scribe wishes to ask all followers and participants in sports to keep me informed as to happenings in the game. I'm only human, I'll miss a lot, but if you'll shoot the dope into our office at 4075 So. Central Avenue addressed to the Sports Editor I assure you that it will be published.

Marshall in Easy Win

CLEVELAND—Lloyd Marshall of Sacramento, disregarded the handicap of weight and age to win an unanimous nod over 22-year-old Pfc. Joe Maxim of Cleveland in their 10-round bout at Cleveland Stadium last weekend.

Marshall gave away 21 pounds to his 187-pound opponent, but floored him twice and won as he pleased.

HE'S READY!—All set to erase a previous defeat administered some time ago by Aldo Spoldi, New York Italian, John Thomas, above, classy West Coast lightweight, will again meet Spoldi in a 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night. Thomas, who is in the pink of condition, says that he will reverse the decision and local boxing fans have already installed him the favorite.

John Thomas and Aldo Spoldi Set for Encounter at Olympic

John Thomas, dubbed "Long John" by some newspaper scribes, will attempt to erase a defeat suffered some months ago by Aldo Spoldi, New York Italian, when the two boys clash again in a ten-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night, August 8th.

In his last important bout Thomas gained a decisive decision over the one and only Henry Armstrong and boxing experts claim that he has definitely improved since his previous meeting with Spoldi.

Meanwhile the Italian punch artist insists that he can beat Thomas every time the two put on the gloves. All in all it should be an interesting bout and for Thomas an important encounter. Rumor has it that Thomas is being considered as one of the principals in a monster outdoor show in September, perhaps for the lightweight title. Should he lose to Spoldi it will put a decided crimp in future plans.

Despite his defeat by Spoldi the local boy will probably enter the ring Tuesday night as the favorite.

L. A. Heavyweight Loser by Close Nod to Top-Flight N. Y. Fighter

NEW YORK.—Turkey Thompson, ace West Coast heavyweight, highly ranked among the nation's fighters, last Friday dropped a close 10-round decision to Lee Q. Murray of New York after a rather dull bout at Madison Square Garden before a small crowd. Thompson weighed 207½ to 206¼ for Murray. It was the Manhattan debut of Thompson.

The bout was a battle of clinches with not many effective punches being landed. Turkey crowded Murray all around the ring, resting his head on Murray's shoulder while both threw light punches to the tummy.

Murray, wearing a mustache and sideburns which reached below his ears, turned from a right to a left-hand stance at times and once or twice Thompson tried it but they were no better that way.

After four slow sessions, during which hardly a punch was landed except some left-handed flicks by Murray to Thompson's face, Referee Arthur Donovan warned 'em to "get in there and fight or I'll stop it," and the action stepped up a bit the rest of the way.

There was no semblance of a knockdown, but the highlights came in the ninth and tenth. In the ninth Murray whammed a left hook which missed, and he soiled the seat of his trunks in the resin as he slipped and fell. The crowd roared at the unexpected action.

In the tenth Thompson slipped and fell, and the crowd yelled again.

There was little to choose between the scrappers, but Judge Bob Cunningham gave Murray five rounds, Thompson four and called one even. Judge Jim Hagen saw it five for Murray, three for Thompson and two even, while Donovan gave each boxer four and called two even.

Track Man A Visitor Here

George A. Ramsey, known as the "Ambassador of Good Will" of the Caliente Race Track at Caliente, Mexico, and a much read columnist of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE, was in Los Angeles this week to straighten out a few matters regarding the track.

Golden Gloves Sensation Here

BOXING BRIEFS

WATSON JONES has been matched by Matchmaker Babe McCoy for an August 22nd date with Fitzy Fitzpatrick, sensational Irishman who has been knocking 'em kicking around these parts. In three bouts Fitzy has chalked up three one-round knockouts, a record of some kind. Many experts think that Jones is just what the doctor ordered for Fitzpatrick. Take this or leave it.

THE BOUT between Bobby Yeager and Chuey Figueroa at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday is a toss-up. Both boys have won a bout apiece. Figueroa won his by a decision. Bobby annexed his via a third-round technical kayo. Even money is being quoted by the gambling fraternity.

Lige Drew Loses to Bobby Claus In Battle at Hollywood Stadium

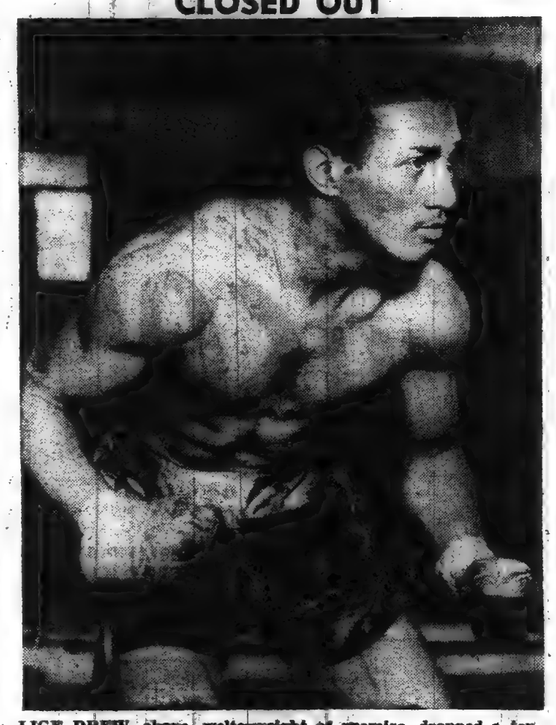
By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

It was far from bank night for Lige Drew at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night when after holding a comfortable lead going into the tenth heat he ran into a stiff right hand delivered enthusiastically by one Bobby Claus and lost a ten-round decision.

Drew who weighed 145½ to 152 for Claus had the visiting fighter somewhat groggy himself during the battle which was marred by too much clinching by Bobby. However, Lige failed to put his man away and when the bout swung in to the tenth Claus copped the nod by dropping Drew for a short count. This knockdown lost the bout for the local boy.

In the companion ten, Joe Barnum, 142½, scored a technical kayo in 1m. 50s. of the tenth and final round over Billy Tierney, 147. Up to the dramatic end the bout between Barnum and Tierney had been fairly even. Then Joe uncorked a terrific counter-punch that put Billy down for a count of four. When Billy tried to rise he fell on his face. He regained his feet before ten but was so woozy that Refreee Jack McDonald stopped the bout and raised Barnum's hand.

In the preliminaries Baby Gonzales, 127, scored three knockdowns over Ralph Lara, 125, and captured a four-round decision while Lou Bernal, 131½, and Spider Hewitt, 134, fought to a draw and Augustine Rodriquez, 112, registered a t.k.o. over Joe Iller, 115.



OCEAN PARK fights Monday night found George Robles, 116, defeating Elwood Romero, 117, via a decision in ten-rounds. In the semi-windup Ray Acosta, 170, nodded Russ Metcalf, 180.

Tackles—Ray Elder, Bill Fall, Dean Hilmick, Tex Mooney, Bill Paulino, Milton Pollack.

Guards—Dick Agee, Guy Batesele, George Bernhardt, Bill Boone, Paul Brunner, Joe Case, Frank Darroh, Bob De Armitt, Nick DePalo, Haromon Forte, Ben Putman.

Centers — John Barrett, Clem Cerra.

CLOSED OUT

LIGE DREW, above, welterweight of promise, dropped a ten-round decision to Bobby Claus when the visiting fighter caught him with a hard right in the tenth stanza at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night putting him down for a short count. Up to the knockdown, Drew had been leading the bout.

Quarterbacks—Al Dean, Bernard Dean, Bob Libbee, Bronco Smiland, Wade Willey.

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico. — When it comes to setting records, Caliente has had the pleasure to rank first. Yes, Caliente is the champion. Last Sunday more than 19 claims were put in for one horse by the name of Kantaka, made odds on favorite by the public. The daughter of Mate Island Dress looking all over a winner at the eight's pole let Jockey C. Beckmann on with us come through on the rail to win by a good head. The winner paid $11.60. Wood and Coughran were the lucky ones in the shake of dice for Kantaka; the claiming price was $900. Also for the first time in many Sundays the form players had a bad day when only two favorites out of the 13 races reached the payoff stand. Paula's Streak in the first race paid $2.60 and Blue Pennant in the feature race known as the Oakhurst Handicap valued at $1200 won paying $6.000. It was invaders' day as three horses that raced in Mexico City with success scored at good odds. War Cadet in the second paid $16.40, Pompin in the fifth paid $13.80 and Gay Jacket in the ninth returned $12.40 for the two dollar mutuel. The daily-double combination with War Cadet-Bornallo paid $151.20 while the quinella payoff was from Chief Picken-Veiled Ace, $86.40. Ring Boss E. L. Caress laid good odds on all horses, and was in one of his best moods, the popular master at price making was dolled up in a sport combination that was the last word in class. Caliente has the distinction of having about the finest price layers of any track in the world. Such fine gentlemen who take your bets and pay you with a smile are Johnnie (the Clark Gable smile) Nealis, Jack Malley, Eli Crutch, Al Brown, Lee (Green-tie) Corthann, Dennis (Plunger) Gormann, Harry Nelson and Andy Nealis.

Bolanos Gains Nod Over Lewis

In a boxing card riddled with knockouts Tuesday night at the Olmypic Auditorium, Pee Wee Lewis, 124, was the only loser to go to the full route, but the youngster took a thorough ten-round pasting at the hands of Enrique Bolanos, 126, of Mexico City, losing every round and kissing the canvas for a count of seven in the fourth heat.

Pee Wee came up battling after being slapped down with a left hook by the Mexican youth. During this bout, the main event, spectators enlivened proceedings by staging a free-for-all battle which was halted after a couple of bloody noses had been massaged. All the prelims ended in knockouts.

In the semi-windup Art Barron, 139, stopped Chick Lawes, 139½ with a right to the chin, in the second round. Lawes was out cold, and had to be dragged to his corner.

In the prelims, Ray Miller, 159, was awarded a t.k.o. over Speedy Cannon, 152, in the second round; Art Aragon, 131, scored a t.k.o. over Louis Salas, 131, in the first; Torrito Ramos, 137, knocked out Ray Vargas, 138, in the second round; Aniceto Madrid, 128, won by a three-round knockout from Pete Pachero, 125, who twice claimed foul, and Bob Ferris, 149, registered a t.k.o. in the third over Al Fernandez, 151, on the orders of the stadium doctor, Dr. Lloyd Mace.

Our generalissimo Eddie Nealis is always at the finishing line and can tell the first, second and third horses before the camera photo desides the winner in those blanket finishes. Director of personnel Armando E. Verdugo and the well-liked Ruben Verdugo, director of the auditor office, had the pleasure of seeing their good horse Secret Flight beat the favored Barging Lady in the sixth race. We understand that they had a nice wager on the son of Sun Beau. For those who wish to visit the Caliente races the California Eagle will issue passes every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Until Sunday, keep cheerful—GEORGE.

Fight Trainer To Sue R. R. For $100,000

Charles Kelson, well-known fight trainer, who was formerly on the training staff of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, and who also trained Holman Williams, topnotch welterweight, and Cecil Hudson, Los Angeles welter, through Attorney Walter L. Gordon this week is reported filing suit for $100,000 against the Santa Fe Railroad Company.

According to Mr. Kelson after learning of the sudden death of his brother in Baltimore, Maryland, he phoned for reservations to that city on the Santa Fe which were granted. However when Mr. Kelson arrived at the ticket office for said reservations he alleges that the officials after noting his color became insultingly rude and refused to give them to him, using abusive language, he stated.

Norman Saunders Is Manager of Two Fine Prospects in Jones and Reed

One of the top fight trainers of the West Coast, Norman Saunders, who serves in that capacity for Henry Armstrong, the former triple boxing champion, has gone into the managerial business in a big way. Saunders has under contract two lightweights of promise in Major Jones and Torpedo Reed. He also manages a good heavyweight, Yancey Henry, who is presently fighting in the East with more than average success.

Major Jones is an 18 year- old youth from Kansas City who is the current National A.A.U. Golden Gloves champion in the featherweight and lightweight divisions. The lad has had 69 amateur fights of which he only dropped one and that the first bout he engaged in. Jones made his professional debut at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night and is also booked to fight at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. Great things are expected to be accomplished by Major, who is a southpaw.

Torpedo Reed traveled to the East with the Henry Armstrong fight stable recently, acting as sparring partner for Hank and successfully appearing in the semi-finals of the Armstrong bouts. The Eastern newspapers call Reed the second Beau Jack. Torpedo is also carded for Hollywood Friday night. He battles Ray Vargas.

As trainer for Hank Armstrong Saunders has kept the former champion in marvelous condition which enabled the "Hammerer" to compile an amazing new record. The efficient trainer also was the former manager of Terry Gibson, a good welterweight, who enjoyed success in the ring until he changed managers.

In closing it is fitting to advise fans to watch this kid, Major Jones, who has all the earmarks of a coming champion.

Health Conditions in Area Of Bronzeville Improve Daily

Since the thorough investigation of the City Health Department by Dr. George M. Uhl, City Health Officer appointed by the Mayor of Los Angeles, the people of Bronzeville, wish to congratulate Dr. Uhl on his investigation of this District. Since he has done this and cleaned out the undesirable places, conditions are improving daily. Of course this does not destroy disease and sickness and the Health Dept. still wants everyone to take their treatments to get well. In this district we have two outstanding physicians, and the Health Dept. wishes everyone to visit them. Those people who oan't get in on account of working hours, are asked to please go to your doctor. Recently a number of persons came to this office and reported that they were told to go to a certain doctor or clinic by the City Health Dept. The people complained about this as some could not afford to pay big prices and others did not want to make a change. The Editor of this paper, on behalf of the people called on Dr. Uhl personally to investigate and found many untrue facts. First, Dr. Uhl said, I want the people to go to their own doctors. Today in the United States mail we received this letter from Dr. Uhl, which we are pleased to publish.

In answer to your questions regarding the patient-physician relationship in venereal disease control, the following is a statement of our policy:

The private physician plays a very important role in the control of syphilis and gonorrhea. By the routine blood test, which everyone shoud have at least once a year, syphilis will eventually be eradicated. The two things for all persons to remember are, (1) they should go to their doctor or health department for a blood test; (2) if found infected, to remain under treatment until the doctor says they are cured.

The responsibility for qualifying physicians who are to treat patients with syphillis or gonorrhea, belongs to the State Board of Medical Examiners and State Board of Osteopathic Examiner. Any physician and surgeon they license, is enabled to treat these diseases and to give tests to diagnose them.

All referrals to private physicians made by this division, are without bias and allow the patient to choose among doctors in his locality.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE M. UHL, M.D.
Health Officer.

Director Venereal Disease Control.

Now, Folks, it's up to you. Be well, be treated, a sick man or woman canot help win the war. Our war efforts are to be well as you won't miss a day of work in our war industry plants. Go to your doctor today. The Editor of this paper is going to call on the doctors and find out how many are treated and keep in touch with them daily. We want a healthy Bronzeville Section, and its your fight as well as Dr. Uhl's to make Bronzeville the cleanest and healthiest section of Los Angeles. Remember, if you are not ill, and your neighbor is, report him, if you don't the disease spreads to you and your children. So let's all get together and fight for a healthy Bronzeville.

See the doctor in the district today.

BURNING ISSUES

Nearly all of our troubles would become trifling ones and seem unworthy of our notice if we would look to the more important issues of life. Oftimes circumstances and conditions take on a most gloomy aspect. They may even be of such a nature as to call forth the query, "Oh, heck, what's the use?"

Then it is necessary to note there may be a worthy act that needs our attention. Some relative, child or friend may be in distress, or some duty that we are neglecting, in the pursuit of this miserable side issue, needs attention. All of this we leave unnoticed because of our concentration upon the smaller things of life.

E.H.W. Dear Prof. Herman: I read your column in the paper every week and find it very interesting. Would you please answer this question for me. Does this boy care anything about me?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates this young man as being very fond of you. It is true he has other girl friends but you are both quite young and should have many associates and friends.

Miss M.W. Which of the two men would make me happy?

Ans. It appears to me that one of these men lives out of town and he is the one that interests you the most. I am sorry that your question has been delayed, but due to the limited amount of space in the column, I am unable to answer all questions sent into me.

A. McC. Will the boy that is overseas return so that we can get married?

Ans. Due to the nature of your question, I suggest you write in for a private reply.

L.W.M. What happened to my check?

Ans. It seems that the postman found no one at home to leave the allotment check with, so took it back to the postoffice. It was then returned to the treasury department. It takes quite a while to check these matters, hence the delay.

Dear Sir: Your kindly letter received sometime ago and I have purchased the Prayer and Mediation Combination and having prayer every day. Not only is my mind more contented, but it is surprising the change it has brought in my home.

I.M.G. What should I do regarding my future activities?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you are in love with a man, and are not so sure as to his feelings for you. But he is very fond of you, and since you are planning to remain there, I feel that you will be quite successful with your plans.

L.L.B. Will I ever get a chance to talk to my friend?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that circumstances have prevented your talking to your friend which could not be helped. But I do vision an opportunity presenting itself whereby you will get a chance to not only talk to him but see him.

J.H. Will I be successful in the case in court?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your getting a just decision regarding this matter, which will be in your favor. It would be wise to check everything, however, before this case comes up.

able City Editor, who bellows in the phone: "Ev'ry week it's nothing in your col'm but Lena Horne. Now get out and get me some NEWS!" . . . After listening in silence for a full ten minutes (while he uses langwidge unbecoming to a gentleman's ear) we tell him: "Take that back, or I'll go to work for the some other paper!" . . . He takes it back, and I rush pell mell back to the typrewriter to finish paragraphing this "drivel" (Arthur Henry Blankford's quotes, surely not mine!) . . . That "I'll go to work for the Sentinel" bluff never misses . . . I never stop to think what would happen should Mrs. Bass or Mr. Lee tell me someday: "Okay! Go to work for the Sentinel!" . . . After lounging around the house reading Dick Tracy, we drop out to our favorite nitery to dig the Tiny Bradshaw orchestra. The evng is gala with lots of celebrities from Hollywood. It's a star-studded show at the Plantation, but Tiny's superb showmanship is what gets the raves from the chicks . . . Back home to listen to Lena Horne recordings (Okay Hardwick, move over!)

Backstage

WHAT THESE MEN ARE DOING and WHERE THEY ARE.

THE MELODY LINGERS ON

We all remember JAY McSHANN, who not so very long ago set the PLANTATION rocking . . . WHERE IS HE? . . . AT CAMP STEWART in Augusta, GEORGIA, when last heard of a few weeks back . . . playing for the boys and REALLY doing a JOB!! . . . Then there's the former BASS player . . . name escapes me . . . also at the SAME place. NOT to forget HAROLD FRANCIS . . . the man at the piano, once upon a time, with TINY BRADSHAW who is rocking the 88's at CAMP STEWART, also in Georgia. . . . At CAMP GORDON you'll run into a former trumpet side-man of BENNY CARTER'S!

Even DOWNBEAT magazine sent out a call to locate DOC WHEELER and Yours Truly forwarded the information to the coast-to-coast edition that DOC was heading a U.S.O. UNIT IN THE PACIFIC that is TERRIFIC!! . . . We all remember Doc's band as the one with the MAD trumpet feature of "HOW 'BOUT THAT MESS"!!

In a camp near CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA, WILLIE RANDALL, former EARL HINES side-SAX man and hubby of MADELINE GREEN, has his OWN band that KNOCKS 'EM OUT!! . . . WE ALL REMEMBER TONY MARTIN—well, HE'S in a southern Camp, too, and MAKING with the MUSIC!!

Every now and then I'll give you the inside on where the Musicians in khaki ARE, so you'll remember the grand music they were once able to give us . . . LEST YOU FORGET . . . NOW they're with UNCLE SAM and that INCLUDES STANLEY FACEY who once accompanied KENNETH SPENCER who was last known to be in CAMP LEE, Va. . . . but then the BEST isn't TOO GOOD FOR UNCLE SAM!

ALONG BROADWAY

ELLINGTON holds forth at the ROXY despite badly cut hand as result of ELEVATOR ACCIDENT on opening day!! . . . THE DUKE manages to play a few bars preceding the numbers WHICH are STILL TOPS!! A chorus of DAYDREAM really GOES! In fact ALL NEW YORK is trying to see him at ONCE, it SEEMS!!

GENE KRUPA packs 'em in at the CAPITOL minus the EDWARDS SISTERS due to LONG, LONG PICTURE. IMAGINE the stage-show is JUST 25 minutes!! . . . ALLOWING FOR NO ACTS AT ALL!! . . . AN' GENE . . . HE DON'T LIKE IT!!

FINAL BAR

For WILL MARION COOK, who can be remembered for his numerous song-compositions in earlier years with such notables as JAMES W. JOHNSON, etc., died recently at HARLEM HOSPITAL, after an illness. Mr. Cook was in his 80's and is noted for his work he did when BERT WILLIAMS and FLETCHER HENDERSON were parallel with the BEST in ENTERTAINMENT. His widow, divorced, ABBIE MITCHELL is the noted woman dramatist of the stage, having completed "CRY HAVOC" in a production recently under her OWN direction also handling a leading role!! HERE IN GOTHAM TOWN!!

MAIL BAG

Some fan mail after appearing for one hour over a local radio-hookup with JAZZ RECORDS from my own collection!! THANKS, FOLKS!! . . . Didn't KNOW New York folk would refrain from turning the dial when Yours Truly started.

A card from the EDWARDS SISTERS thanking me for an article on their behalf.

Mail from a U.S.O. UNIT on traveling conditions and a nice little note from Mrs. Bass!!

HEAT WAVE

The newest album of FATS WALLER is TERRIFIC!! . . . DITTO for the re-issue of COLEMAN HAWKINS' "BODY AND SOUL" . . . THE MELTING POT of Manhattan's 52nd Street STILL TRYING TO BOIL OVER! . . . MILDRED BAILEY . . . the Rockin' Chair Lady with HER OWN RADIO SHOW featured TEDDY WILSON recently! Mildred can chant for me any ole time . . . especially when she does some of the SPIRITUALS!!

ELLA LOGAN listening with RAPT attention to HAZEL SCOTT at CAFE SOCIETY a while back!!

AND THE YANKS CHASING THE NAZIS AND JAPS IS THE HOTTEST-WAVE YET!!

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

Give This Some Thought, My Good Friends
Yes—I insure homes too, at the same rate. You can't but agree with me! Then, Call Me

Norman Houston, Dr. Bloom Speak At Race Relations Conference

Mr. Norman O. Houston, Executive Secretary of the Golden State Life Insurance Company shared the platform with Dr. Leonard Bloom, U.C.L.A., Saturday afternoon at the joint meeting of the Pacific Sociological Society and the Alpha Kappa Delta in its conference on "Race Relations" held in the Law Building on the campus at U.S.C. Mr. Houston, speaking on "Negro Migration to Los Angeles," stated that every indication points to the permanency of the newcomer into the state and into Los Angeles as well.

Discussing at length the report of the Interim Steering Committee of San Francisco on the migration of Negroes to that area, Mr. Houston further stated, "The migration of Negroes into California is a statewide problem with the population more than doubling during the past two years. Los Angeles with a Negro population of 122,600 has not made the progress toward integration of these people into community life as have San Francisco and other areas such as Chicago, St. Paul, and Kansas City.

Dr. Leonard Bloom analyzed the most outstanding arguments for the exclusion of the Japanese people from California as presented by the Japanese exclusion Society. "Although California is the last place that the majority of Japanese want to return, most of the arguments for their exclusion are racial arguments, not political ones," he stated.

In Memoriam
June Cobb

Who departed this life July 31, 1942.

"I cannot say, and I will not say
That she is dead,—She is just away!
With a cherry smile, and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It need must be, since she lingers there.
And you—O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,—
Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here;
Think of her still as the same, I say:
She is not dead—she is just away!

James Whitcomb Riley

We miss you each and every day, June.

ROUND ROBBIN INVESTMENT COMPANY

4113 So. Central Ave. Los Angeles 11, Calif.

ADams 3231 or 9033

The Round Robin Investment Company, 4113 South Central Avenue, Los Angeles 11, California, offers 19,999 shares of its capital stock, par value $5.00 per share, to the investors who are interested in placing their savings in the investment of real property.

Because these securities are believed to be exempt from registration, they have not been registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, but such exemption, if available, does not indicate that the securities have been either approved or disapproved by the Commission or that the Commission has considered the accuracy or completeness of the statements in this communcation.

These 19,999 shares are offered for a 100% cash consideration of $5.00 per share.

The proceeds shall be deposited in escrow 100%.

There will be no underwriters, and no underwriting discounts and commissions.

All expenses of advertising, office rent, phone service, mailing, clerical and stenographic services shall be paid by the membership of the Round Robin Cooperative Civic League, Inc., a non-profit membership corporation.

The aggregate estimated expenses are $250.00 and estimated per unit expense is .01¼ cents.

The $99,995.00 secured from the sale of these 19,999 shares of securities shall be used in the following manner:

1. The primary purpose for which the funds will be used will be to purchase homes costing from $1000.00 to $6000.00 for cash to be resold to purchasers for a small cash down payment, the balance like rent.
2. If any surplus remains after making the above investments in small homes it will be used to make sound investments in income producing real properties upon sound, sensible and appropriate business procedure such as now used by sound mortgage concerns.

It is believed that this program will afford large numbers of citizens who have $500.00 or more an opportunity to purchase a home on terms which will enable them to pay for the same like rent.

IMPORTANT

To all prospective home owners, the sooner you and others purchase from 20 to 50 shares of these securities, the sooner we shall be able to purchase your home.

If you have $1000.00, take $250.00 and purchase 50 shares of these securities and save the balance to make your down payment on a home and pay the balance like rent.

Be an investor of the concern which if this program is carried out will hold the security on your own home.

The Round Robin Investment Company Offers:

(a) Thrift saving—with confidence.
(b) Home ownership opportunities.
(c) Sound investment opportunities in income producing real properties.
(d) This is an organized system to create purchasing power for the benefit and profit to home owners and others.

Because Real Estate touches the life of every man, woman and child, because it is the fundamental foundation of all wealth, there is a very definite need for an investment in real estate. Ownership of the Home in which you live stimulates the inherent qualities and rights of a person, and affords a thorough opportunity to obtain a basic knowledge of the most important subject on earth, "HOME"—which is the backbone and foundation of the community in which you live, and the nation at large.

VACANT—MOVE IN

Grand Lodge and Grand Court Of the K. of P. Convened Here

The Grand Lodge and Grand Court, California Jurisdiction, Knights of Pythias held their grand sessions in the City of Angels, July 23-25, guest of the local lodges and courts.

Grand Chancellor, J. Allen Reese, and Grand Counsellor, R. Beatrice Sellers had their meetings well planned, present war conditions demanded abbreviated sessions and each was highlighted by a program of purpose and precision.

The Memorial Services at New Hope Baptist church, Sunday evening, were befitting, and a memorial indeed, to the officers and members who have been called to the Grand Lodge Above. Eulogies were rendered by Past Grand Chancellor W. A. Payne and Past Counsellor Carrie Taylor, and a beautiful solo by the Grand Juvenile Matron Theresa Bailey was a feature of the program.

R. Beatrice Sellers

Grand Chaplain T. A. Patterson delivered a very impressive message and remarks by the Rev. Lively were appreciated by all present, as were the well rendered selections of the church choir.

The reports of the various officers showed the Grand Jurisdiction in excellent condition and the trend of discussion throughout the session was for greater activities and an extended program.

Education and leadership were subjects of much concern and several recommendations by the Grand Director of Education W. A. Payne were unanimously adopted by the Grand Session, the granting of two scholarships for the school year 1944-45 and the financing of same was heartily approved.

A survey showed that members of the Grand Lodge had invested heavily in War Bonds, and the Grand Court approved the purchase of another $1000 War Bond. The Endowment Dept. report, by Secy. T. S. Dawson, showed all claims paid, no legislation pending against the department and several thousand dollars additional funds be invested in Liberty Building & Loan Ass'n. was adopted by the Grand Lodge.

The administration of Sir Oscar Adams, Supreme Chancellor, was endorsed and resolutions were unanimously adopted to assist in the program to enlarge the Hot Springs Bath-house and Sanitarium, also the liquidation of bonds on the Chicago Pythian Temple.

NAACP Plans To Prosecute Slayer

NEW YORK.—Assurance that NAACP attorneys will aid in the prosecution against Herman Lee Council, white bus driver indicted by the Durham County Grand Judy for the slaying of Pvt. Boker T. Specely, July 8, was given this week.

An argument over the enforcement of the State's Jim Crow bus law was the cause of the pistol slaying of the Camp Butner soldier.

OUTSTANDING LEGAL MINDS—Maceo Hubbard, who presented the case against the LARY at the hearing early this week is shown conferring with Charles Houston, one of the five FEPC members, during the high point of the session just before the presentation of Hubbard and the fair but searching questioning of Houston drew the admission from J. Stuart Neary, LARY counsel, that the company had practiced discrimination against Negroes.

Transportation Union Head Says His Men Will Quit

Chief witness in the hearing called by the President's Fair Employment Practices Committee in the State Building Tuesday and Wednesday of this week was Mrs. Cortez Strange, Senior Placement Interviewer for all referrals to transportation jobs by the United States Employment Service of this city.

Presenting statistics showing the number of whites and non-whites referred to the Los Angeles Railway Company, Mrs. Strange said that records showed that in virtually all cases where whites and non-whites were referred, only white workers were hired.

The only instance of the hiring of Negro workers in preference to white was when 39 whites and 74 non-whites were referred for jobs as car cleaners and 22 Negroes were hired. Also when the United States Employment Service referred a white woman for the job as car cleaner, the company refused to hire her on

Duarte Man Is Accused of Slaying Negro Manager of Water Company

By EDW. BURBRIDGE

A coroner's inquest Tuesday morning resulted in the verdict that Charles Williams Adams, 76-year-old Negro manager of a water company in Duarte, had come to his death from an internal hemorrhage caused by gunshot wounds of the abdomen and thorax last Friday night and recommended that Elmer H. McDugle, 69, white, be held on a homicide charge.

Information gathered by this CALIFORNIA EAGLE reporter who attended the inquest revealed that on Friday night between 6:30 and 7 p.m. Mr. Adams accompanied by a Mr. Pleas Busby were walking in the [illegible] house at 1240 Filbert avenue when McDugle presumably thinking that Adams had come to turn the water off turned a hose on him. Busby testified that from his position he couldn't see Adams at the time but he did see McDugle pointing a shotgun in Adams direction. Hearing a shot and running up

Judge Wilson Denies Relief In Shipyard Workers Case

Even as the president's fair employment practices committee opened hearings yesterday to decide whether shipyards must secure full union membership rights for Negro employes, a state court decision gave "no" as the answer.

Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson sustained demurrers of four shipbuilding companies to an injunction suit brought against them and the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, AFL, seeking to compel them to admit Negro shipyard workers to unrestricted membership in the union.

Judge Wilson upheld the contention of the companies that they had no control over the union by-laws which relegate Negroes to membership in segregated auxiliaries.

This eliminated California Shipbuilding Corp., Standard Shipbuilding Corp., Western Pipe and Steel Co. and Consolidated Shipbuilding Corp. as respondents to the action.

This ruling, while it means that the state of California will not require the shipyards to secure equal union membership treatment for their Negro workers, did not halt the FEPC's proceedings to determine whether the federal government should not compel them to do so.

The court ordered local 92 of the boilermakers union to answer the suit, which was filed by Andrew Blakeney and five other members of a so-called "Jim

Powell Victory On Both Tickets Hailed By Sidney Hillman

NEW YORK.—Sidney Hillman, CIO Political Action Committee chairman, hailed Adam Clayton Powell Jr.'s victory in both the Democratic and Republican congressional primaries here as "a tribute" to the Negro leader's "consistent and courageous work on behalf of the people of Harlem."

In his congratulatory message to Powell, Hillman stated, "The victory is a demonstration that your constituents realize that the cause of liberation will best be served through the election of progressive Congressmen committed to the support of President Roosevelt's leadership."

POST-WAR PLANNING and peace proposals are being discussed everywhere. And this is as it should be, but before much progress can be made toward the realization of these plans, it will be necessary for America to take stock of and amend it past behavior towards Negro Americans and members of other minority groups.

I am aware that it has become the mark of a "red" or radical to protest such unlawful acts as the posting of signs, "For Whites Only" on eating places near army camps. On the outskirts of Riverside, where hundreds of Negro soldiers are in training for war service, one will find this sign. I mention the following incident with the hope that it will at least clarify my contention:

In one of our large southern cities an American Japanese went into a cafe, sat down at the counter, ordered food, and was served. As he was about to enjoy his meal, his attention was attracted by the entrance of a Negro porter employed in a hotel across the street. The Negro American timidly approachd the counter and asked if he might have a cup of coffee—to take out. The white waiter, turning an icy glance at the Negro customer, remarked, "I am afraid I can't serve you." Another white man seated at the counter — and no doubt

Sleepy Lagoon Defense Body Congratulated

Colorful Jack Danciger, the wealthy oil man from Fort Worth, who is honorary consul for the Mexican government in his state, congratulated the Sleepy Lagoon Defense Committee today for "the splendid and patriotic work being accomplished" by the committee.

Danciger, in a letter to the defense committee, revealed that material on the Sleep Lagoon case was incorporated in a brief by his attorney in the "Rodriguez versus Terrell Wells Swimming Pool" discrimination case now before the Supreme Court of Texas involving Mexican nationals and Mexican-Americans barred from using the pool.

Philadelphia Transit Walkout Is Ended By Army Intervention

Dramatizing its determination to restore and maintain order in the Philadelphia transportation system, the Army, early this week dismissed four leaders of the union responsible for the strike, and had trolleys and busses running on a 100 per cent normal schedule with soldiers guarding the operators and the vehicles. Frank Thompson, James M. McMenamin, William C. Dixey and Frank P. Carney, who led the walkout of some 6,000 transportation workers when eight Negro employees were upgraded to platform men, are free on $2,500 bonds to await hearings on charges of violating the Smith-Connally anti-strike act.

Major General Philip Hayes, who took over for the army, notified the strikers that any man who failed to report for work at the stated time would be dismissed without an availability certificate, thus making it impossible to him to work any-

D. C. Has Largest Co-Op Food Store

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CLNS).—To the tune of a brass band and the tapping of some five hundred pairs of feet, the largest and most modern co-op foodstore in the nation's capital threw open its doors to a clamoring public at a gala celebration, recently. The Frederick Douglas Co-op had emerged from its modest "Toad Lane" beginnings to become a 20th Century, 1944, super-market worthy of the tradition of the Rochvale weavers, but eager to set the pace for the coming "cooperative century."

The Frederick Douglas Co-op now has over 300 members and expects to do a weekly business of between $4,000 and $5,000. The store is located at 2101 Alabama Ave., S.E., and Harry Terry, in whose 20x20 basement the buying club grew up, will be manager.

The Board of Library Commissioners announces that all branches of the Los Angeles Public Library will be closed for two weeks, beginning August 21 until after the Labor Day holiday, September 3, in order to grant vacations to the library staff. This is made necessary by the difficulty of getting substitutes for the vacation period.

Will anyone knowing the whereabouts of Ada Odem who formerly lived on East 45th street, and was lately reported living in the 1100 block on Irolo Street, ask her to contact Ben Ellison at the Avalon USO—Ad 4123. Her son, Jimmie Knight, whom she has not seen in nine years, is here on a short leave from the armed forces and is expected to be called into service again soon. He wants to see his mother before he leaves.

Wins Case As To Tenants in Home

How many people live at 3230 Central Avenue? Who are tenants of the owner? This was the question which could not be decided in Municipal Judge Ida May Adams' court last Friday morning. Philip Tuso, the owner, says there are nine, but the defendant, Mrs. Adolphus Washington, says there are only five. Under the O.P.A. regulations a landlord can charge $5.00 per month for each person more than the number who originally rented the place.

Mrs. Washington says there are only five people who live in her house, and when the landlord attempted to charge her for nine by bringing a law suit, she engaged Attorney Curtis C. Taylor to represent her. She won the case.

5th Victory Market Opened By Negro Consumer Cooperative

The Negroes (Producers and Consumers Cooperative Association justifying the faith of the handful of persons who started it, payed off last week when Victory Market number 5 was opened at 1803 East 103rd St. in the Watts area.

The Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Cooperative president who has long seen the vision of thriving Negro owned and operated business enterprises supplied from stock and sources that are also Negro controlled and operated, has been the moving spirit in building what will soon become one of the strongest chains of Negro markets in the country.

Having begun with the market at 4235 Central, the Association has opened markets at 4307 Avalon, 5528 Hooper and 5502 Long Beach in the past few months. The markets, a people's enterprise, are well-stocked with the finest in groceries, fruits, vegetables, and meats, and are under the general management of Theodore Albritton.

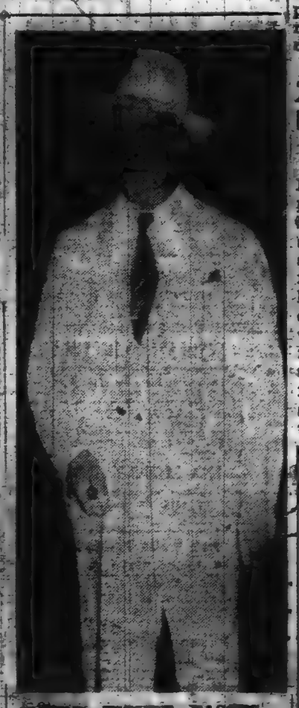
Dr. William Thompkins Passes After a Prolonged Illness



Washington, D.C.—Dr. William J. Thompkins, Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia for the past ten years, died last Friday at Freedmen's Hospital following a prolonged illness. His funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Metropolitan A.M.E. Church, with Bishop James Gregg, officiating.

Born July 5, 1884, at Jefferson City, Missouri, Dr. Thompkins was educated at Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Missouri. He attended The University of Colorado and was graduated from The Medical School, Howard University, Washington, D. C. in 1905. He interned at Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D. C., then went to Kansas City, Missouri to practice Medicine in 1906.

In 1915 he was appointed the first Negro Superintendent of General Hospital No. 2, Kansas City, Missouri, serving for two years. In 1918 he was reappointed Superintendent of the Hospital, serving four years. In that period the hospital was improved from Class D to Class A and was recognized by The American College of Surgeons, The American Medical Association, and The National Hospital Association as one of the best equipped and best managed hospitals in the country. In Oklahoma, he operated hospitals in the cities of Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Okmulgee, and Muskogee.

He was appointed Recorder of

Zimmermans In Divorce Court

After six years of married life, Mrs. Vergie Zimmerman whose pretty face is familiar in night life circles and who is affectionately known in Los Angeles Cafe society as "Pal," has filed suit for divorce against her handsome husband, Lester Zimmerman, charging cruelty. The complaint which was prepared by the office of Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, states that Zimmerman's action for the past few years, has been such that she could endure his treatment no longer.

from further down South — looked up saying, "Where I come from it would be, 'Get out, Nigger, you know we don't serve you, period'!"

The Japanese-American pondered over the incident and remarked to a friend, "I don't understand. I am an American because I am born in this country, but this black man has been here three hundred years and he is not yet an American."

And such was the reasoning of a Japanese American.

I visited the hearing held by the Fair Employment Practices Committee in the State Building Thursday morning and heard testimony after testimony setting forth the unfair practices of the Los Angeles Railway Company in refusing to hire qualified Negroes as streetcar motormen and conductors. The testimony that impressed me most was that of a 26-year-old Negro girl who stated that she was a native Californian, had been educated in the public schools of Los Angeles, and had had experience as a conductorette for one year in San Francisco.

This young woman was neatly attired, and I should say her IQ was high. When asked if the San Francisco passengers resented her presence on the cars, she responded in a low cultured voice, "Instead, they say that Negroes are more courteous than whites."

San Francisco and Los Angeles are the two chief cities of California, but the little Negro conductorette had a very different experience from that of San Francisco when she applied in Los Angeles, the city of her birth, to the Los Angeles Railway Company for the type of job she felt prepared to do. She was not given the regular application blanks which are handed white applicants and was sent home to wait until she heard from the company. It has been nearly a year since she first applied for work, but for that particular job she is still waiting.

And the Negro people of Los Angeles are still waiting for the Los Angeles Railway Company to recognize their right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. In Philadelphia where a Fascist element which did not represent the heart and soul of labor tied up traffic on street cars and buses in their resentment of the upgrading of Negro workers, our government took a stand unprecedented in the nation: WORK OR FIGHT!

Of course, on numerous occasions under other administrations, the government has said, "You can't," but the Ku Klux Klan and other kindred organizations DID. They did what the Fifth Columnist-Hitler inspired agents planned to do in Philadelphia.

I believe President Roosevelt has a clear undefiled vision of the course this nation should take in its post-war planning. He knows that America can no longer offer itself as an example of democracy to the rest of the world while holding in semi-bondage some 15 million black Americans.

The hundred and twenty-five thousand Negroes in Los Angeles will use battering rams of intelligent preparation in the arts, sciences and industry, plus an intelligent use of mass pressure to break the back of discrimination by the Los Angeles Railway Company, and in this fashion help our president and all the agencies work for the establishment of a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

According to Websters' Encyclopedic Dictionary, Columbia Edition, a Democracy is that form of government in which the supreme power rests with the people ruling themselves directly or indirectly through representatives.

Negroes by the thousands have answered the call to the Army, the Navy, in the air, and in defense industries to make democracy a reality — a living reality.

Duarte Slaying

he discovered that Adams had been shot.

Mrs. Adams, wife of the dead man, asserted in testifying that there had been bad feleing before the tragedy over the matter of water. The Adams lived at 1517 Duarte Avenue close to the McDugle residence and Mrs. Adams stated that she heard the shot.

Adams died at the Monrovia Hospital, Monrovia, California. The weapon used according to authorities was a .12 guage shotgun.

Also testifying was a 13 year-old girl who lived near the McDurgle residence. According to this girl, Secora Hernandez, she saw McDugle turn the hose on Adams and then saw McDugle walk toward the house. She stated that she next saw McDugle with a shotgun in his hand and heard the shot. Miss Hernandez stated that she thought she saw a wrench in the hand of Adams and another witness testifying for McDugle, who did not testify, stated that McDugle said that Adams had a rifle in his hand. Busby however, said that all Adams had in his hand was a pair of gloves.

Mr. Adams was a native of Tennessee.

It is good discretion not to make too much of any man at the first, because one cannot hold out in that proportion.

Plans for Inter-Racial Hospital Are Revealed

Plans for an inter-racial hospital in Los Angeles were given a large group of citizens last Thursday at the Villa Arlington. The dinner meetings attended by fifty or more persons, including the Press, was called by the Rev. Father H. Randolph Moore, who briefly traced the movement for an inter-racial hospital in Los Angeles from 1939, and emphasized the desperate need for such an institution in our community. This need, and the opportunity, was further stressed by Drs. Ruth Temple, George Uhl of the City Health Department, and Mr. George A. Beavers, Jr.

Father Moore introduced Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of the Los Angeles Episcopal Diocese who outlined plans calling for the expenditure of $1,000,000.00 or more for erection and equipment of the hospital, guaranteed interest of certain citizens, including Mr. Harvey Mudd, and announced that he had received the first gift of $50,000.00 toward the project.

Miss Margaret Wherry, Superintendent of the Hospital of the Good Samaritan, delighted the group with an explanation of the sketches and an excellent model of the 200 bed proposed hospital, and Mr. Colin Gair of the Good Samaritan Hospital Board, and the Rev. Father Thomas Marshall, spoke of the opportunities to be given for training of interns and nurses.

In the general discussion the following persons made contributions: Messrs. George Beavers, Jr., L. M. Blodgett, Charles Matthews, Paul R. Williams, S. P. Johnson, Sr., Thomas Griffith, William Nickerson, Jr., the Rev. Frederick Jordan, Judge Edwin Jefferson, and Drs. R. S. Whitaker, G. D. B. Gordon, A. A. Foster, W. E. Bailey and others.

George A. Beavers, Jr., was selected by the group as Chairman of the Committee To Erect An Inter-racial Hospital. He appointed sub-committees and announced that the model of the proposed hospital will be on display in the near future so that it may be viewed by all interested persons.

where for the duration. Only thirteen men failed to show up and it is believed that all or most of them can produce doctor's certificates in explanation of their failure to report.

The walkout was reportedly unauthorized by the union, but union leaders had joined with company officials in stating that the elevating of Negroes to operators and conductors would result in a strike.

Racial friction and clashes which grew out of the strike disorder were kept at a minimum, the greatest toll having been suffered by property which was destroyed in the first frenzied moments of the walkout.

Upgrading Continues

The plan to train and upgrade the eight Negro employees will be carried out, according to announcements, and the army will maintain cotnrol of the transportation syste mas long as conditions warrant.

Hugh M. Gloster Appointed USO Executive in Atlanta

Hugh Morris Gloster, Professor of English at Morehouse College—a professor on leave—has just taken over as Associate Regional Executive, in charge of USO services to Negroes in Region VII. The announcement was made by Mark L. Entorf, Regional Executive, at USO headquarters in Atlanta.

"We are fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Gloster," said the Regional Executive when interviewed in his office concerning the appointment. "His record as a student and educator also as program director of a USO Club in Huachuca, Arizona during the past year have eminently qualified him for his present position."

And Mr. Gloster's record is outstanding. A graduate of Morehouse College, he later attended Atlanta University where he earned two scholarships along with a Master's degree. Achievements which paved the way for post graduate work at New York University and for the Ph. D. he received at that institution.

A General Education Board fellow during his years of work, 1938-1939, for the Ph. D., Mr. Gloster, in the summer of 1940, was an Alpha Phi Alpha research fellow. Throughout his graduate study, too, he maintained a straight-A average in his field of specialization.

Always interested in literature and languages, this young man, whose father and mother, Professor and Mrs. John R. Gloster, were pioneers in Negro education in West Tennessee, founded and became the first president of the Association of Teachers of Language in Negro colleges.

Frederick S. Furbert, principal, the Berkeley Institute, Pembroke, West Bermuda, arrived at Southern University last week, to begin a two-day inspection of the institution.

PASSES

Miss Bessie Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Scott of 3011 Boulder Street, Boyle Heights, passed away on August 3, 1944. Her death came as a shock to her many friends, despite the fact that she has been ill for a year and five months. The family is formerly of Topeka, Kansas.

Services were held from the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church, 3064 East 1st Street, Tuesday, August 8, 1944.

Shipyard Workers

Crow" auxiliary union associated with it, seeking to compel the brotherhood to admit them and 5000 other Negro shipyard workers to unrestricted membership in local 92 itself.

In the FEPC hearing, the companies' contention that because the union makes its own rules, the employers are blameless, did not find such ready acceptance as it did in Judge Wilson's court.

Chairman Malcolm Ross of the FEPC conceded that the international union at its last convention had failed to provide for the full and unqualified admission of Negroes to membership, but declared the committee is still negotiating on the question with the international.

The committee heard G. I. Copeland, supervisor of employment at Calship, testify that his company relaxed or disregarded aptitude tests of welders in the case of Negro workers, because they often turned out to be perfectly competent welders despite a poor showing in the tests.

Copeland said Calship now employs 5128 Negroes out of a total of some 35,000 workers, a proportion of about 14 per cent compared with 8 per cent three years ago.

Gordon Johnson, attorney for Calship, then began his argument for dismissal of the proceedings with respect to his company.

Waiting to present the case against the shipbuilding concerns on behalf of the Negro workers was Ben Margolis, attorney for the Shipyard Committee for Equal Participation organized by members of the auxiliary union.

Sitting with chairman Ross are FEPC members Charles Houston, Boris Shiskin, John Brophy and Milton P. Webster.

All shipyard workers and their friends are urged to be present Sunday, at the Y.M.C.A. at 3 p.m. to hear the above attorneys present the latest facts in the case.

Truman's Voting Record Favors Anti-Poll Tax

Vice-Presidential nominee Harry S. Truman's voting record during the last sessions of Congres indicates that he favored passage of the anti-poll tax bill and was for the unrestricted right of soldiers to vote in the Presidential election, according to an analysis made by the National Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Senator Truman, who is chairman of the Senate Committee to investigate the national defense program, twice voted for cloture on fillibusters against the anti-poll tax bill—once on November 23, 1942 and again on May 15, 1944.

Deeds for the District of Columbia in 1934 by President Roosevelt. There are about 85 persons on his official staff, divided about equally between the races.

Dr. Thompkins had served longer than any previous recorder, and had more distinguished accomplishments to his credit than any other. He was publicly acclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt for totally liquidating in 6 years the deficits of previous recorders which totaled $201,202.92 when he assumed office.

The Congress recognized the value of his advice on political matters when it specifically excluded him from the prohibitions contained in the Hatch Act. Dr. Thompkins, as recorder of deeds, was the only Negro Government official permitted under the Hatch Act to participate in political campaigns.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jessie F. Thompkins, two daughters, Mrs. Helen Simmons and Miss Marion Thompkins, and one granddaughter, Barbara Simmons.

The OPA reminded motorists last week not to throw away the covers of their used "A" gasoline ration books. These covers are to be turned in when applying next month for the new "A" gasoline coupons, which become valid September 22.

Fun at the Plantation

Spent a gala evening at Joe Morris' delightful Club Plantation and ran into three of my brother scribes . . . Earl Wright, Jr. T. Gipson and Amos Black. Tch! tch! can't I go anywhere without running into you boys?

Don't let anyone fool you about Tiny Bradshaw's Band. They are not only jump and jive artists, but they are real musicians and execellently tutored. I was prepared for the jam session, for Tiny's band is noted for that type of music (remember "Jersey Bounce"), but their rendition of the popular semi-classical ballad "Holiday for Strings," was indeed an eye-opener, or maybe I should say "ear-opener." It was, however, simply wonderful and left nothing to be desired. Besides being a talented musician, Mr. Bradshaw, himself, is a Number One showman, and when he sang the blues he reminded me a great deal of our own Wynoni Harris, now rated as the country's top blues singer.

The Navy Was There

Men in the uniform of the U.S. Navy seemed to predominate the club, and handsome Bill Amory, U.S.N., Port Hueneme, California, was the honored guest at our table. Bill, who hails from Peekskill, New York, is a sort of combination sportsman, writer, and hoofer. He made quite a record for himself during his school days back East as a basketball player and since being in the Navy has done a bit of scribbling about various sports events, which rated some attention. Besides that—he dances. He is slated to do a specialty dance on one of the camp shows in the near future. Bill, too, is an incurable golf enthusiast and plays a very good game. In addition to all this, as a Navy man, he has done quite well for himself and his race by earning a commendable rating.

Getting back to the Plantation, everyone had a good time. The whole show is excellent. Our girl, June Richmond, turned on the old personality as usual.

Luvenia Nash Group Wins New Laurels

Last Friday night, the Nash Singers made a series of recordings for the Army Command Forces, which will be broadcast to the fighting men overseas on the Sunday morning programs. The recordings were made at NBC studios in Hollywood. The singing group have also been invited by Major Wilson to appear on the Jubilee program which is broadcast each Monday night to the men overseas. Watch for the announcement of their appearance and don't fail to listen in on this fine choral ensemble, which is destined to go far under the competent direction of Mrs. Luvenia Nash.

Celebrate With USO

The Avalon USO will stage a mammoth picnic celebration at beautiful South Park on Sunday afternoon and you . . . you . . . and you are invited. Many entertainers have promised to be on hand to do their bit for the boys, including the Nicholas Brothers, Marie Bryant, Archie Savage dance group, Lorenzo Flennoys Trio and Hattie Noles. We can never say too much for Mr. Ellison and his staff for the fine work they are doing at the USO Center. Congratulations and best wishes to capable Jimmie Robinson who, we learn, has been appointed the official publicity director for the Avalon USO. Mr. Robinson has, for many weeks, done volunteer work in this field, and his earnest endeavors have been rewarded. Good luck, Jimmie!

Hazel Cornish, agent for the Golden State Life Insurance Company, and Marion Mann, manager of Victory Market No. 3, stepped out together on Sunday afternoon, going first to the Orpheum to take in the Count Basie show, which they say is fine. After that, they dropped into one of the chop suey restaurants in New Chinatown to partake of fried shrimps, chop suey, et. al. It looks like somebody's been snooping, or how would I know all this . . . huh?

A gala party to welcome the return of Alyce Key, popular Sentinel columnist, was held at the Villa Arlington Club Saturday night. Most of the theatrical crowd, friends of Miss Key, and many members of the press were in attendance.

Real Estate Broker, A. P. Dourreasseau, his wife and small son, will fly to Mexico City for a vacation trip soon.

We hear champagne was plentiful at the gay birthday party given for Alfred Sharpe on Saturday night. Sorry I missed it Al, but happy birthday just the same.

Alex Boldin, Red Cross worker stationed at Fort Huachuca, is in the city on a short furlough before his unit shoves off to parts unknown.

Miss Althea Jones, popular younger-setter from Northern California, and Miss Dorothy Carr of Los Angeles, were having the time of their lives the other evening, making all the spots. They were escorted by Eddie Mitchell, Storekeeper first class, and Jimmie Bagby, Switchboard Operator, first class, respectively, both of the San Pedro Naval Base.

The little precious remembrances from my friends, like the lovely sentiment from Sam Morgan and the lovely pencil drawing of Cape Cod Bay, Mass., from Dottie Pergues, where she is spending her vacation. So nice of you to share with me, Dottie dear. 'Bye now.

The James Guy Dawsons Entertain With Tea

With more than thirty guests present, the James Guy Dawson's entertained lavishly with an afternoon tea on Sunday last at their spacious Westside home.

Honoring Mrs. Clara Bunn Simmons, of Kansas City, Missouri; Mrs. Ruth Elliott of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Dorothy Island, of Phoenix, Arizona, the guests gathered at the palatial Dawson home to attend one of the most charming social affairs of the season. It was an afternoon of fun and merriment. The personification of "southern hospitality" prevailed at the Dawson residence, 1542½ West 35th Street, and the gracious hostess and popular host spared no expense in making the occasion one of the best on the season's social calendar. There was never a dull moment, and the charming hostess looked stunningly chic in a maroon Fucia skirt with a light green flowered turquoise blouse.

Musical selections by Andrew Green highlighted the evening with classical selections played expertly on the piano by Mr. Green. The guests were also entertained with the showing of motion pictures of the wedding of columnist J. T. Gipson, and the lovely Debutante, Miss Gertrude Estelle Lomax.

Those attending were Mrs. Clara Bunn Simmons, Mrs. Camille Ross, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sanchies, Mr. Andrew Green, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mrs. Ed Morgan, Mrs. Billie Harper, Mrs. Luvenia Billings, Virgie M. White, Mrs. H. Winford, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lynn, Miss Bettye Scott, Mrs. Darlene Robinson, Mrs. Jessie Jackson, Rev. and Mrs. Grant Harris, Miss Doris Latimer, Miss Lillian Lee Lomax, Mrs. Ruth Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Oevia Harrison, Mr. and Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gipson, Mrs. Estelle Lomax, Willie Scott, and many others.

The lovely hostess, Mrs. Ada Guy Dawson, one of the city's most popular modistes, received "thanks" for a sweligent time from the many guests attending.

As Walter Winchell would say: "An Orchid to the James Guy Dawson's for a sweligent affair."

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

With gay summer months drawing rapidly to a close, detailed plans of activities for the coming season are being outlined by local clubs. The Bruin University club met last Saturday evening at the home of Connie Fortier, and new summer students were honored. The newly organized advisors group of the Woodlawn branch YWCA will soon hold a meet in order to prepare a schedule for coming high school semester. Understand that Miss Lois Mann, Girl Reserve secretary, will not be filling that position this coming club season however, the fine program she has set up will be continued. The youth Jamboree club formed for early teen-ages last April is back in the swing of things. with the opening of high school not so far in the offering. The group held a gay party in the patio of the Y. W. C. A., last Wednesday night.

WEEK-ENDING

The calendar for last week end was chuckful of showers for brides to be, and gay house parties honoring furloughing younger setters. High light event was the Maurice Jones welcome home party. The affair definitely had all the earmarks of a post war house party, the only thing to bring minds to the present times were the "blues" worn by Jones and Wallace DeCuir, who are both furloughing from boot training at Great Lakes. Here and there in the crowd, I spotted Clara Fentress, having a fine time, Joe Knight, dancing along with one of the glamorous new additions to the city. William Cockrell also with one of the new additions, Boots West, in another exciting draped dress, Sam Marlow, putting his jive down with the diferent glamour girls, Jackie Wilson with a Lt. humming the new Gant specialty "I Wonder." DeCuir greeting his deb gang in the usual manner, Sarah Lumpkin and Cornelia Lumpkin Scott, chatting about coming trip to Frisco, Maxine Clarke greeting her guests with that pleasing smile, Maethilde Kenner running over her camp experience with the gang, and Edgar Bishop taking all the teasing that came his way, in the usual jocular manner. The party was a top knotcher.

Understand that on returning to Great Lakes, Maurice will be sent to Hampton institute to take up special naval studies. Walace on the other hand, will be Memphis bound, where he will study some special machine. The local gents left for their destination, Sunday afternoon.

Elmer Roberts, also a navy man, made his entry in LA last Sunday and has for the last few days been looking his old home town over, long with Connie Monroe. The usual combo when Elmer gets into town.

When this grand month of August comes to an end, popular Marion Leopard will be in that realm of new matrons. The gay sophisticate is being honored with a shower Sunday, 13th, and the following Sunday she will be receiving congrats at her reception. A month or two later, she will be bound for the Eastern Coast, to see just what it has to offer.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Charlesetta Strange is back in town after spending quite some time in New York City. The local deb is still free, single and disengaged, so that means dame rumor was a little off the ball in recent chatter. By the way, Saturday night will find her local chums welcoming her home at a fine party given in her honor... Puffy Houston says that she and LaMarr Hill will say their I do's as soon as Uncle Sam sees fit to give the lad a furlough... By the way, Pauliette Coleman is sporting a pair of silver wings from Frank Edwards with all his love... Thats sufficient chatter along Dan Cupids line, so we leave there.

Wenifred Smith has a cousin visiting from New York City, so last Saturday was spent showing her the highlights of LA, the "Last Word" was definitely on the line up . . . The San Diego group of sailors are still on a little time with the LA coeds, for each week they come and enjoy living. Saturday night Faye Hopkins had a gay little get-to-gether for several of the gents, that ended up with a spaghetti feed... Keeping that trim figure, long with a group of other debs Mildred Gouthier who takes to bike riding in a big way.

A little on the patriotic side, and doing something about it are Juanita Lee, and Annette Marshall, who for the past few weeks have been spending quite a bit of time rolling bandages for the Red Cross... The cute little Peaches Coleman has big plans for entering Wilberforce University folowing her graduation next semester from Manual Arts high . . . Marcella Monroe might be taking on a new handle next year. Hear that the glamour deb and a certain Eastern figure, stationed with the Navy up north, are headed for the middle aisle in a big way... Emma Milhouse and Margurite Lewis were co- hostesses Sunday afternoon at a shower honoring Sarah Palode who is also making ready to take that step... Learned that Maxine Clarke was voted the most beautiful girl on campus during her high school days in Oklahoma. Wise voting me thinks . . . Charles Matthews enjoys life best of all, when he is able to pin the stem in front of the Dunbar... Ballet and modern dance seem to be quite the thing with the local femine group. The latest class has been opened by Miss Collins for USO hostesses on Thursday nights. The class is quite large and the hostesses are having a great time getting and keeping figures in line...

Edwin Sneed will soon be leaving for Dental school in the East he tells me. Matter of months and the Kappa man will be on his way. Good luck chum. Jospehine Spearman has added a grass skirt to her collection from some admirer stationed in the South Seas... Hear that Rena Ann Marlow will head for the UCLA campus in November ...Melonee Temple starts her life as a school teacher next month, she will be teaching art to Junior high school kiddies...

Clori Ann Young is extra smart this summer, besides studying anatomy at LACC, she is also putting in time for defense at Lockheed... Harry Jones is making the best of it out at UCLA with the rest of the summer sessioners. Hear that the birthday party honoring Jean Watkins will start off as the regular dancing party and wind into a mid-night supper at the Kemps residence...

Till Next Week.

Lone Wolf Social Club Gives Dance

By JOHN D. REYNOLDS

Again the Lone Wolves went howling down the beautiful Masonic Ball Room last Wednesday night with their usual annual affair. Of course, we changed our routine this year to a real honest-to-goodness Sport Dance. We must pause here and give some credit to our business manager, Mr. Reins, and his assistants for such sweet music and some real old, honest-to-goodness punch.

We missed our members in the armed forces very much. Each was represented by a star in our club colors.

Music was furnished for the occasion by Sammy Franklin's orchestra and a grand evening enjoyed by all.

Fete Clubwoman From Oakland

Mrs. Ellis Oliver of Oakland, a delegate from the Rhododendron Club, to the California Association of Colored Women, was the recent house guest of her cousin, Mrs. Viola Pollock, of 1471 W. 36th Street. Mrs. Oliver is also very active in the various religious, civic and fraternal organizations of that city. Her work in Parks Chapel A.M.E. Church is outstanding as Chairman of Ways and Means.

Those who extended courtesies during her 10-day stay and made her visit enjoyable were: Messrs. and Mesdames Martin, Joseph Cooper, Bryant, Sing, T. J. Pollock, A. Spann and Mesdames C. Baker and L. Bufford.

BARBECUE PICNIC

The outstanding affair of the season was the barbecue picnic given last Sunday by Mrs. Robbie Brownlee in the patio of Mrs. Haskins' home. More than one hundred guests were served a delicious barbecue dinner, with everything that makes a southern picnic real pleasure.

The event was one of a series of Sunday afternoon parties for soldiers stationed at nearby camps.

Socialite Returns to Los Angeles

Mrs. Marie Sheffield returned home last week from an extensive trip which included the National Baptist Sunday School and Training Union Congress at Birmingham, Alabama., where she taught a junior class in the B.Y.P.U. Dept. during the session.

At the close of the meeting in Birmingham, Mrs. Sheffield left for Alexandria, La. to visit her mother, Mrs. Alice Stafford, a brother, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stafford, sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Harvey and daughters. She was highly entertained by old friends.

On the 16th of July Mrs. Sheffield arrived in Oakland, to attend the Grand Chapter of the O.E.S., being the house-guest of the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Vivian Osborn-Marsh. She was re-appointed Grand Chairman of the Juvenile Dept.

En route home she stopped off at Fresno, to visit her brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Sheffield. Many social affairs were given for her.

Upon her return home, many courtesies of welcome were extended this socially prominent lady. The first was given by the St. Paul Baptist Sunday School, of which she is Superintendent. On the Second Sunday in Sept. the Administrative Council of the O.E.S., of which Mrs. Sheffield is president, will honor her, with a reception.

The Automobile Club of Southern California today stressed the importance of increased ride-sharing and car-pooling by Southland residents if essential private transportation is to be maintained for the duration.

The Economic Relief Association Plans To Expand In Its Work

(Third in a series of articles)

The Economic Relief Association under the sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves is constantly active in the interests of the community. Not satisfied with meeting the immediate needs of the community, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves in their planning for the future are in the process of developing many useful projects; such as a nursery, experimental poultry breeding, and remaking of old furniture.

Looking to the future also, the Economic Relief Association is planning for its part in the rehabilitation of the returning veterans.

The Economic Relief Association has been carrying on its salvage activities since the beginning of the war and has been under attack because of the lack of facilities for storing the items salvaged until they are disposed of. The City Planning Commission which has been investigating the situation made the report that the salvage work carried on by Mr. and Mrs. Reeves has met the sanitary conditions imposed upon all such activities in the city of Los Angeles.

Because of the social nature of the work carried on by the Economic Relief Association, it is felt that this organization should enjoy the protection and support given by the city to other organizations, such as the Salvation Army, which are engaged in similar activities.

COURTESY

A combination, of politeness, kindness and good breeding to some people, courtesy may seem a lost art, little worth bringing back, but it is not. For the rise of many a man and woman or business has been stocked with it. Take time out to be courteous. You cannot succeed without it. Courtesy is an asset of more power than money or influence.

Take time out to be courteous. Courtesy lightens the burden of toil. Courtesy demands respect. Any man or woman who reaches the top owes his or her career to courtesy. Take time out to be courteous.

Courtesy is the little brother to opportunity and follows her around through the busy hours of the day. The courteous clerk, the courteous manager, the courteous leader are models to emulate. Who ever heard of such people not growing, not climbing into greater things? Think over these things.

For it is tremendously worth while to take time out to be courteous, whether it is for service, for a fee or gratis.

Remember, courtesy leads a man or woman higher.

Take time out to be courteous.

EDITORIALS AND COMMENT

Make Nothing Look Like Something!

Believe it or not, the big question before the American public now is some disposition of the so-called race issue which was untouched by Mr. Dewey in his fourteen points governors' conference held recently in St. Louis.

According to Frank Observer in the Daily News this conference was "the year's greatest struggle to make nothing look like something." The twenty-one Republican governors gathered there, besides Dewey and Bricker, sat down around the table in a downtown hotel and plunged into the job of what they called "ending the open warfare between state and federal government." Dewey himself, however, gave the tip-off when he said the question they were really considering was "who's to do it" rather than "what's to be done."

The subjects they considered were: postwar jobs, public works, highways, national guard, veterans, public lands, agriculture, insurance, labor, public expenditures, social welfare, taxation, unemployment compensation, and water resources.

All of these subjects have already been the object of legislation under the Roosevelt administration. In some of them, like social welfare and unemployment compensation, President Roosevelt was a pioneer from the very beginning of his first term of office, and was balked in every attempt to make them a reality in our lives by the very governors who at that conference criticized him for not doing more.

But the greatest question which confronts our nation now—that of the race issue—was entirely ignored by the Republican governors gathered in St. Louis. It was not even mentioned. Yet Governor Dewey is trying to persuade the big bloc of Negro voters—13,000,000 of us—that the Republican party is our friend. They still point to Abraham Lincoln who freed us from slavery—more than eighty years ago! But they fail to mention that since that time the Republican party has done nothing to make that freedom a reality in our lives.

And today, when all races of mankind everywhere are bending every energy to bring forth that new world where neither race nor color nor creed shall be needed to enter the door of opportunity for all, when we Negroes in the United States are beginning to feel our power and are determined to arise in our might and demand that freedom which was granted us on paper almost a century ago—the Republican party says nothing. It does not know we exist. It still thinks it can cajole us into voting for its candidates by pointing backward to our sainted Lincoln and by making a few election promises, the same kind it has made and broken every election year.

"The question," said Dewey, "is not what's to be done, but who's to do it."

Well, we have a leader who thinks primarily of WHAT is to be done, and not so much WHO does it, provided the job is done well. He has been doing this for the past twelve years. And for us Negroes he has given the tools to make tremendous forward strides. No, we did not get all we asked for. We did not get all we were entitled to. But the legislation that has been adopted, much of it opposed by the Northern Republicans uniting with the Democrats of the South, has put a sword in our hands by which we can and must fight for even greater victories.

The Free Employment Practices Act, which ends all discrimination in employment, the fact that Negroes were given the right to vote in the South for the first time since the Civil war, are but two of the many laws which have been adopted under the Roosevelt administration. With these we can win almost any battle. And these laws were adopted in this present century. Today. They are promises of even greater things in the future.

Shall we then forsake our friends of today to pay tribute to one who has gone almost a century ago? What would that friend of yesterday say to us if he could be with us and advise us today? He would tell us in words of no uncertain sound not to let ourselves be fooled again and again. "You can't fool all the people all the time," said Lincoln. Today, if Lincoln were here, he would say, "Hold to that which is good, which you already have, and don't be fooled into throwing it away by believing promises which have never been kept. Vote in the November election for the friend who has done more to make good the freedom I gave you than any other man. Vote for FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT and for all who will help carry out his program."

Fifteen Votes Helped Elect Powell

The California Eagle is a small part of the "Hallelujah Chorus" that is singing the people's praise in the nomination on both the Republican and the Democratic tickets of Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., in the new 22nd Congressional district, and Congressman Vito Marcantonio in New York. Being nominated on both tickets means a virtual election in November, since they will have no opponents in that election.

We knew the number of our subscribers in New York was small, but we did not know how many we had in and about New York until our own May 16 primary election, when one of our local contemporaries advised that we had only fifteen, and made some unpleasant remarks about our long-distance vision support of the New York candidate when we had four Negro candidates and some three or four white contenders in our own 14th Congressional district bidding for support.

We saw in Powell then what we see in Powell now, a voice of the people. And we knew also then, as we do now, that in Congress the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., would not be the voice of the New York Negroes alone, but he would be a sentinel on the watchtower of time calling the stop and go signals on all acts and issues in the Congress of the United States that deal with the race question.

Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., comes of sturdy stock. Like his sire, there is neither fear nor compromise in his make-up. And we, the Negro people of New York and of the entire United States, know that now we have at the bar a man who can not be bought by the highest bidder, or sold down the river for the price of thirteen million black Americans.

Vito Marcantonio, winner in the 18th Congressional district of Manhattan, who carried the ball in the anti-poll tax fight in Congress single-handed, received what was justly due him—the support of the people.

No doubt Powell and Marcantonio will form a Congressional team that will gain the respect and esteem of every member of Congress.

Sarah Pelhom Speaks, Rev. Powell's opponent, is one of the race's most outstanding intellectuals. She is an astute politician, but ill-advised. In the 1940 Willkie campaign, the editor of this paper had the pleasure of working with Mrs. Speaks and recognized her ability as a leader and a faithful student of Republican politics. But the people spoke. They had naught against Mrs. Speaks, but they will not continue to be deceived by the element she represents, and they will not heed the voice of these same forces as they rip and snort up and down the nation telling or trying to cook up reasons to defeat the fourth election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Now, brothers and friends on the Pacific and the Atlantic, if with our fifteen New York subscribers we helped in any small way to elect Adam Clayton Powell and Vito Marcantonio, we are mighty proud. Selah!

The Negro Voters

The pro-Roosevelt forces, whether in the Democratic Party or such independent organizations as the National Citizens Political Action Committee and the trade unions, have a special duty to make an effective and nonpartisan appeal to the Negro voters. A moment's consideration will make clear that the mass of the Negro voters will not choose strictly between the GOP and the Democratic Party, being dissatisfied in varying degrees with the performance of members of Congress of both parties. But the mass of the Negro voters do want the reelection of President Roosevelt. They will support the President's reelection even where they will not support the Democratic Party as such.

The fact that in the ballot booth (except for isolated cases as in New York) the voters will have to vote for Roosevelt under the Democratic emblem should not conceal the fact that many will be voting not as traditional Democrats but as supporters of the President. In fact just because such is the case the nonpartisan appeal must be kept uppermost throughout the campaign.

★ THE LETTER BOX

Charlotta A. Bass, Editor,
California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Speaking on the question you asked me, "What can we do to stop the children from being bad." Not speaking for myself, although I am a child, we can do nothing at this time but the mothers can do a lot. I will tell you why we can do nothing. We did not bring ourselves into the world and therefore it is up to the persons who gave birth to the children to see to it that they are brought up right. The way to do that is to watch your child more carefully, visit their schools when they don't know you're coming, stop cursing in front of them, cease drinking in front of them and stop smoking in front of them. The mothers and fathers are the ones they love the best and they try to do everything their parents do. Don't send them to the shows just to get rid of them.

I think the mothers and fathers should be in my place to see the bad words they write and say. It wouldn't take them long to work on their bottoms, no not long. I am telling you the truth because they curse and fight and carry on so the teachers don't know how to stop them. You know the teachers look back and say, "What kind of mother and father has he?" and most likely add, "The mother and father must carry on the same way he does."

Maybe it isn't the child. Perhaps it is the children he plays with that teaches him to be bad and steal. Mrs. Bass, that is the reason for bad children and to the mothers and fathers, this may not have meant much to you but I'm going to tell you something. Will you watch your child? Don't let him curse because one time he might curse you out. Don't drink in front of him because one day he might drink in front of you. Be the best and kindest mother you can be. Reason with them and tell them what it means to be good. Let's all help to make our children better children.

Yours truly,
Frank Kent, Jr. (Age 10).

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I am writing you to express my appreciation for the favor granted me a few weeks ago. I wrote asking you to run a personal ad in your paper so as to help me locate a friend of mine. The ad brought very good results. I received a letter from my friend recently.

It was very grand of you to help me as you did. I can see that you and your paper is 100% for us soldiers. In closing I thank you again with all sincerity.

Respectfully yours,
N. Albert Clark.

April 3rd, 1944

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Brown:

It is indeed a pleasure to write these few lines to let you know that I have met your son Staff Sgt. John Brown, also to assure you that he is quite well and happy. Of course I can't tell you about his activities over here, however, he has been to my house for a chat on quite a few occasions and he enjoys our company very much and I assure you we enjoy seeing him and do our best to make him as welcome and comfortable as possible, so there is no need for you to worry about him. Now about myself and family, we are just three, myself, wife and daughter aged 10 years. We are ordinary British citizens trying to make all your boys as welcome and cheerful as possible in a strange country. We think John is a very nice boy and will do our best to make him happy over here. I promised him I would write you, so would be pleased to hear from you at any time.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. E. Mitchell and Elsie

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE
LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

Dear Sirs:

On behalf of the men in the South-West Pacific area, I want to thank you, the press, the organization, and the men that are doing so much toward race relationship. We who are unable to do, but one job at a time are proud of you.

According the change in the movies we feel that it is worthwhile job that you and your staff have accomplished, and we like it. We like it so much that I am sending in a request, and hope that you see, that it is in the right hands. That is, if it is in your power to do so.

The entertainment for most of us here is the movies. Each night proceeding the main picture of the evening, there is a short, showing the work of great men and women of the world. This short is Mr. Nasbitt Passing Parade, and Speaking generally for our entire group we enjoy these shorts very much. There is something lacking about it, though, it is through no fault of any particular person. We would enjoy very much a film featuring the life of some of the great men and women of our race.

We have two men in question: One the eniment Dr. Carver, the great scientist and the other Crispus Attucks, the great leader. If one or both were protrayed in the Passing Parade it would serve to enlightened many individuals engaged in the scientific and military work of our present day. I would appreciate it very much; as I know it will also serve as an incentive toward the upbuilding of our race.

The "MISS SEPIA AMERICA's CONTEST, caused more enthusiasm among the soldiers of our Company (585th Engineers Company) than the latest mail call. We can hardly await the outcome—We know that only one can win, yet, we wish all of the participants Good Luck and Godspeed.

Your Sincere Comrade,
Willie McNair

No man can be provident of his time, who is not prudent in the choice of his company.

Of One Blood Came All Men

Herman Johnson, the 21-year-old Negro victim of osteomyelitis, a bacterial infection of the bone tissue, whose story was published in the California Eagle last week, has had his life saved by a blood transfusion offered by Ensign A. L. Short, a navy officer from Louisville, Kentucky.

Ensign Short, who is an up-from-the-ranks commissioned officer, returned from Saipan two weeks ago. He knew from experience how important blood plasma is to the boys overseas. When he heard that Johnson needed type three blood, he called the Madison hospital, Hollywood, where Johnson is a patient, went out to have his blood typed, and returned the next day for the transfusion. Just one minute after the blood was taken from the veins of Ensign Short, it was put into Johnson's veins.

Johnson is a photographer's helper who came to Los Angeles in February from Michigan. He first contracted the dread bone disease through a fall on the ice while skating eight years ago. He has had many attacks since then, and since the last attack is being treated with penicillin which it is hoped will eventually cure the disease. He needed the new blood to build up his strength and to furnish red corpuscles which his body was unable to manufacture.

Ensign Short is a white man. From Kentucky. But this fact did not seem to enter his head. He had been overseas and had seen white and black Americans fight together and suffer together for the same cause. All racial discrimination was driven out of him in this melting pot of experience.

"Any service man would be glad to have his life saved by a Negro boy," said the ensign, apparently unaware that the Red Cross has been asked to segregate the blood of Negroes and whites. The two met at Johnson's bedside and shook hands, while Johnson thanked the donor of blood for helping to save his life.

✦ AS I SEE IT! ✦

By Jeanette Cohen

Before I left Los Angeles everybody who said "farewell" to me added "you'll be back." Oh no, not I. I was determined that with all its faults, New York was home to me.

On the train from Washington, D. C., I made friends with a Negro couple, Mr. and Mrs. Banks. We talked for three and a half hours and they were the most interesting people I had met on my entire trip East.

We rode on the Congressional, a well equipped train. It was air-conditioned and quite comfortable, in spite of the heat outside. The Banks and I were sitting a few seats from the water-cooler. We noticed that there was a steady stream of people to and from the cooler. It couldn't be that so many people were so very thirsty all that time. The three of us came to the same conclusion, that it was not the water they wanted but rather to view the "rare spectacle."

Mrs. Banks thought perhaps I was uncomfortable having them stare at me. I assured her that I couldn't possibly be as uncomfortable as our "sightseers" were.

When the train pulled into Pennsylvania Station, I got somewhat of a thrill. I was home! I felt sure that when I walked out into the street I would know every passerby. Why not, this is my home town! I walked up 34th Street with a broad smile on my face, and I'm sure people thought I was crazy. I wanted to greet everyone I saw, to tell them I came home. Surprisingly enough, there wasn't a soul I knew. I guess it's quite a lot to expect with 7 million people in a city.

I didn't let anyone know I was coming to town and so there was no one to meet me. I just had to talk to someone and so I went to a corner stand for a hot dog—the kind you don't get in Los Angeles. I greeted the salesman as though he were a long lost friend of mine and told him all about Los Angeles.

At the moment, L.A. seemed to me the most beautiful place in the world. I never appreciated it until I left it. I had forgotten about the humidity in New York, but it soon came back to me when the heat came up from the sidewalk and practically smacked me in the face. I bragged that nothing like that happens in L.A.

I can remember my complaints in Los Angeles about all the stores closing so early in the evening. I used to tell my friends who had never been to the Big City that you could get anything you wanted at any time in any place. Is my face red now!

Ie went to the show on Sunday with my sister. When we came out I wanted a great big chocolate icecream soda (just to keep my girlish form). I was just drooling with the thought of it. I remembered a place on the Concourse where they had especially good icecream. When we reached there at 11:30, it was closed. So was every other place for at least ten blocks. I gave up in disgust and settled for a glass of water at home.

I came to New York, because I though things were different. I apologize now to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for all the cruel things I said about that City.

One thing I can say for New York though—it is teeming with political activities. I was in town two days when they had me working in the Vito Marcantonio campaign. In the headquarters there were at least 150 people of every nationality and color. They had been there from early morning and were determined to stay all night if necessary to get the mailing out to the voters before primary elections.

You have to be a good guy to get so many people to volunteer their services—and that was only one of his headquarters. Marcantonio is the kind of congressman who really works at his job—365 days a year. He is a man of the people and works for the people.

As I write, the results of the primaries have not come through—but it looks good for Marcantonio—and for Rev. A. C. Powell too. The people refer to them as the "fighting team for Congress." We certainly need them there to help us win the war.

Words Without Music...

An Apostrophe to The Southland

By Eva Carter Buckner

Sunny Southland, Sunny Southland,
Can you answer, will you tell—
Why is all of this migration
Of thy dusky sons and daughters
From the home they love so well?

How they love to boast about you,
Of your hospitality;
Of the beauties of the Southland—
Hills and bayous, fragrant flowers,
Wealth, . . . aristocracy.

Youth, like young trees when transplanted,
Easily take root and grow—
Change, perhaps, just adding new life.
Bunt the old folk like the old tree.
With them 'tis not always so.

But they're leaving gladly, sadly,
Going North . . East and West,
With no thought of e'er returning.
Sunny Southland, Sunny Southland,
Why all of this unrest?

In his talk of March 12, 1944 "Time to Stress Unity"—Dr. Emmerson Peddick read this poem, written by a white soldier at the battle front in the Pacific.

(Ed. Note: I have permission to use this).

Makes You Think Christ Was Black

"Many a mother in America
When the busy day is done,
Sends a paryer to the Almighty
For the keeping of her son,
Asking that an angel guide him,
And bring him safely back—
Now we see those prayers are Answered on the Owen Stanley track.

Though they haven't any halos—
Only holes slashed through their ears,
And their faces marked with tattoos
And their hair done up in smears;
Bringing back the badly wounded;
Just as steady as a hearse,
Using leaves to keep the rain off,
And as gentle as a nurse.

Slow and careful in bad places,
On the awful mountain track
And the look upon their faces
Makes you think that Christ was black.
Not a move to hurt the wounded,
As they treat him like a saint,
It's a picture worth recording,
That an artist's yet to paint.

Many a lad will see his mother,
And husbands see their wives,
Just because the Fuzzy Wuzzys
Carried them to save their lives
From mortar or machine-gun fire,
Or chance surprise attack,
To the care of waiting doctors
At the bottom of the track.

May the mothers of America
When offering a prayer,
Mention those impromptu angels
With the fuzzy-wuzzy hair."

FUTILITY

By Edward DeJolo Burbridge

If I fail to see eye to eye with you
And persons who bear your word,
If I break my heart upon a hardened stone,
Disdaining pleasure to atone
For deeds placed against my name,
If I fetch pail after pail of water
To scrub my black face
And still it remains the same,
Blame me you then if in my anguish,
I throw my body on the sand anew,
And cry, "I don't want to be white,
I just want to live like you."

Baptist Temple and Pastor Celebrate Anniversary

Baptist Temple and its Pastor are in the midst of their anniversary celebration, which began Aug. 3rd with the great Cornerstone Baptist Chuch and choir, whose pastor, Rev. D. C. Austin delivered an inspiring sermon. May it be said here, that Rev. Austin lives up to all his name implies—the name Austin being derived from the Latin Augustus—meaning exalted. Rev. Austin is a great christian with a great church. Baptist Temple will not forget this excellent pastor and his progressive church.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, other pastors, their choirs and congregations will come to us. Our anniversary continues thru Aug. 20th. We invite friends, sister churches, and visitors to come and look on us at 620 E. 48th St.

Unity Stressed At Institutional Baptist Church

There must be a oneness, not individual security, but collectiveness, a program for better living. Come to Institutional Baptist Church, 4113 South Central Avenue. Sunday School each Sunday morning at 9:30; morning service at 11:00 o'clock; Baptist Training Union at 5:30 p.m., and evening worship at 7:30. Rev. D. D. Livingston is pastor; Miss L. L. Leblanc, secretary.

Our immediate aim is a department store. Our survival and postwar security rests in the development of this program for better living. We are seeking the cooperation of all churches, civic organizations, fraternal and benevolent associations, and all civic minded citizens to form one solid line of support for this much needed program. A united effort will obtain the desired results.

China is gradually coming together. A united China, backed by a Christian education, would bring about a new order in Asia. In countries like South America where the Negro is given equal opportunity to rise or fall, according to his ability, there is small need for Negro solidarity in a militant sense. Until the Negro sees the light, he will always grope in the dark.

'Our Lord Has Come' Is Baha'I Subject

Mr. Winston Evans, whose lectures have been favorably received in the east and south, as well as locally, will speak Sunday, August 13, at the Baha'i headquarters, 1709 West 8th Street, on: "OUR LORD HAS COME." "A cardinal teaching of the Baha'i Faith," he says, "is the oneness of religion and the validity of all the prophets who have brought successive messages to mankind in accordance with the capacities of the peoples of the age.

"Each of the great prophets has brought holy writings, or scriptures, which have renewed and revivified religion and been the foundation of an ever-advancing civilization."

The first impression, made on a mind which is attracted or repelled according to personal merit or demerit, is a good detective of individual character.

Why did God place a curse on the colored people? Mrs. E. J., Fresno, Calif.

We know of no place in the Bible that speaks of a curse being placed upon the colored people. This idea is held by many. But there is no Bible support for such an idea.

Possibly you have in mind a verse in Genesis 9:25. In this verse Noah is quoted as saying, "Cursed be Canaan, a servant of servants shall he be to his brethen."

Canaan was one of the sons of Ham. The descendents of Canaan became the servants of Shem as stated in Genesis 9:26. When the descendents of Shem (the children of Israel) entered the land of Canaan they subdued the Canaanites and made some of them "hewers of wood and drawers of water."

However, the Canaanites, especially those enslaved by the Israelistes, were not described as being a dark-skinned people. We have no descendents of those Canaanies in existence today. So that curse is not in force today.

There is absolutely no Biblical grounds for the attempt that some make to say that a curse rests upon the colored people. God has made of one blood all the nations of the earth, and God is no respecter of persons.

What does the word "Gentiles" mean?—L. B., San Francisco.

In the Bible the term "Gentiles" is used to refer to the nations which are not Jews. In the sight of the Jews, everyone who was not a Jew was a Gentile. The term has reference primarily to foreign nations.

Please tell what a patriarch is?—Mrs. M. Y., Los Angeles.

"Patriarch" means father-ruler. In the ancient Hebrew family in the days of Abraham, the father was the head, or ruler, of the family. He was also the representative of God to his family. The family was to be instructed of God by the father. The father was to represent God to them in his character—by deed as well as word.

The father was the priest of the family. He officiated at all the worship services of the family. Each day through sacrificial services he consecrated the family to God.

Recently I read something in my Sunday School lesson that was taken from the Book of Canticles. I can't find Canticles in my Bible. Where should I look for that book-S. A., Monrovia, Calif.

Canticles is another name for the Old Testament book commonly known as the Song of Solomon.

I am reading my Bible through. In Leviticus I read about a meal-offering. What kind of offering is it?—C. J., Vallejo, Calif.

Meal-offerings were vegetable offerings of grain-flour cakes. They were usually accompanied by other oferings. Ordinarily a handful was burned on the altar, and the rest was for the priests.

We are more sociable, and get on better with people by the heart than the intellect.

Shiloh A. M. E. Zion Church of Monrovia

The annual women's day observance Sunday, August 6, was another great success, both from the standpoint of attendance and finance. Rev. Mrs. L. Beard preached the inspiring Woman's Day sermon at 11 a.m. Special soloist was Mrs. Louise Walker of Phillip's Temple Choir.

At 8:00 p.m. the pastor spoke to the women and Mrs. Clarine Cruezat of Hamilton M.E. Church was the soloist. Mrs. Roberta Walkins also rendered a vocal selection. Mrs. Bedney presided at the piano at both services.

This effort was a part of the $1000 radio program which closes Sunday, August 13.

A good man is the best friend, and therefore soonest to be chosen, longer to be retained; and, indeed, never to be parted with.

Churches Of Christ Meet In National

Delegates from all sections of the United States will gather in Chicago next week to attend the 48th annual session of the Churches of Christ which convenes at the Christ Temple church, 44th and St. Lawrence St. The church in Chicago is making great preparations, under the leadership of acting pastor Rev. McGarrah, who has been in charge since the death of Bishop Caver, to entertain the hundreds who will be in the windy city for this great meeting.

The Churches of Christ was founded and is presided over by Bishop C. P. Jones of Los Angeles, who is internationally known as a song writer and hymnologist. He has composed more than 1000 songs that are sung around the world. He has been in Chicago two weeks meeting with leaders and laying plans for the conventions which promises to be one of the most important ones ever held. In this meeting many changes are expected to be made and the elections promise to be lively. Among the offices to be filled by election or re-election are: National Evangelist, Editor of Truth Messenger, vice president, and president of the board of Education.

Due to the death of Bishop Caver last March, it will be necessary to fill his place as pastor of Christ Temple in Chicago and as presiding bishop of the Northern Diocese. The filling of his place promises to be extremely difficult for he was one of the ablest men in the church. Among those being discussed for the position are Bishop Wm. A. Washington, Bishop J. Gordan Hay and Rev. Conic.

Bishop Jones, who is the Senior Bishop and is nearing his 79th birthday is expected to preside over many of the sessions and to urge changes that will insure continued growth of the church. He is to the surprise of many, well and active although given up to die by specialists in March.

Night Sunday School At 8th and Towne

Mrs. Pinkie Wilson, chairman of the committee for this quarter's Night Sunday School at the First A.M.E. Church, 801 Towne Avenue, announced that all preparations are completed for this Sunday Evening's meeting. Mrs. A. W. Jordan will be the superintendent; Mr. A. A. Thomas, song leader; and more than twenty competent teachers are organizing classes for the occasion. The Lesson Subject, "The Priests In the Life of Israel" is provoking widespread interest.

The session will be preceded by the Hymn Sing of the J. E. Edwards Choir at 7:15. The staff of the choir has recently been augmented and now consists of Miss Pauline Whitaker, director; Miss Gloria Roberts, organist, and Miss Maurice Edwards, pianist.

SALVAGE TO WIN

"Salvage To Win" is the subject for the sermon announced by the pastor, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan for this Sunday morning. The Senior Choir of the church is receiving many compliments for the fine quality of performance being achieved under the direction of Miss Robert V. Edwards who has been serving as organist-director for the past several weeks. The Welfare Club's Annual Tea featuring "Modes of Charm" will be held at the Casa Rafael, 453 E. Adams Blvd., Sunday afternoon, from 4:00 to 7:00.

The Quarterly Conference of the Church last Tuesday night presided over by Dr. F. A. Harris, Presiding Elder, revealed that the church is in a splendid condition both spiritually and materially. Nearly a hundred accessions were recorded for the past quarter. Two new classes were formed. The Savings Program of the church continued uninterrupted in spite of an expenditure of nearly $2000.00 for decorations and repairs of the properties. The Quarterly Conference added its approval to the program of the Trustee Board for the increase of the church facilities by building an addition to the present structure on the vacant lot south of the church.

Pilgrim Baptist Church Services

Rev. B. W. Wade

Great services were held last Sunday at Pilgrim Baptist Church, corner 45th and Wadsworth. Just before the 11:00 o'clock message, the large congregation was held spellbound by the unveiling of the baptismal. If you have not met Jesus, come and see him praying in the Garden of Gethsemane. You will receive a blessing, as our pastor is calling sinners to repentance.

Rev. B. Franklin delivered the morning message, taking his text from 1st Samuel, 4th Chapter and 1st verse. The spirit was high and a great message, delivered by a great man of God, was enjoyed by all present. Eight members were added to the church.

Sunday, August 13th, at 7:00 p.m., the Gospel Choir is sponsoring a musical program. Come out and feast on these gospel songs. This will be no ordinary program. You will miss a great treat if you fail to come.

Mr. Henry P. Markham is directing both the gospel and senior choirs, while Mrs. E. Alley is on her vacation. Brother Ancy Brown, president; Rev. B. W. Wade, pastor; Henry P. Markham, director; sister L. P. Graham, clerk.

A crowd is not company, and faces are but a gallery of pictures. —Francis Bacon.

Prominent Pastor Men's Day Speaker

Dr. Paul L. Offenhiser, minister of the University Baptist Church at the University of Illinois at Champaign, Ill., who was a former minister of the First Baptist Church at Palo Alto, Calif., will be the Men's Day speaker at First A.M.E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma, morning and evening Sunday. Rev. Paul M. Marshall is pastor of the church.

Dr. Offenhiser has been long a friend of the ministers of the Zion Church and a champion for justice towards all men. He is a member of the NAACP and a close friend of Walter White. He is a graduate of the University of California and the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

Mr. J. Louis Johnson, screen celebrity and noted baritone, will appear as Men's Day soloist. The choir under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Allen, will present special musical renditions for the occasion morning and evening. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

CLOSE ANNIVERSARY—Israel Baptist Church, its pastor Rev. H. G. Higdon and his faithful wife, closed a successful Ninth Anniversary Celebration on Sunday, last, and are grateful to all friends who helped to make the anniversary a memorable occasion.

Dewey Expose Reaches 50,000

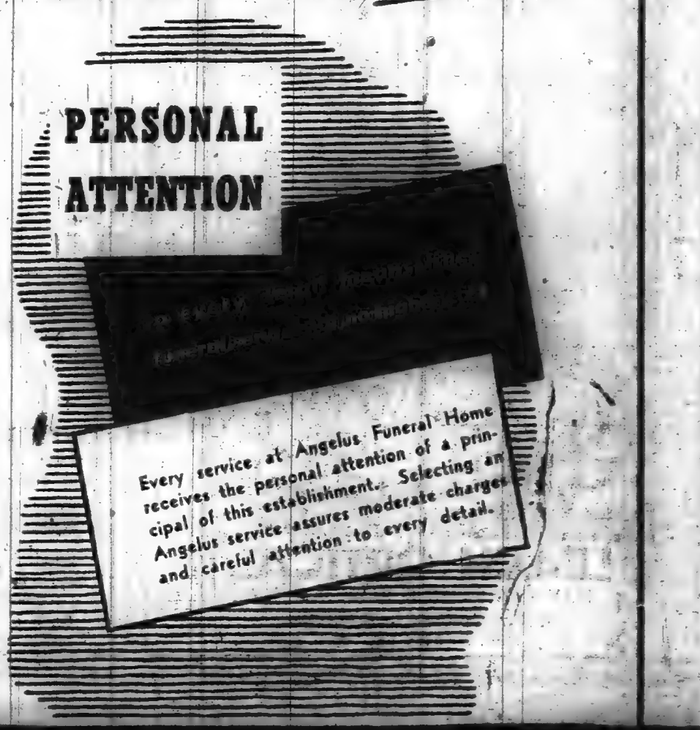
NEW YORK, N. Y.—National Negro Congress officials announced here last week that distribution of the article "Dewey Is Unfit To Be President," by Dr. Channing Tobias, has already reached the 50,000 mark. On the basis of present indications, the goal of 100,000 will be reached within the next few weeks. The reprint also carries Dewey's record on minorities.

Throng Attending Musical Program Laud Seth Toney

SETH T. TONEY

That music hath charms to soothe (also) milling thousands was proven to us again last Sunday, August 6th, at the Family Day celebration of The California Shipbuilding Corporation's musical program, which brought and stupendously impressive bass voice of one of its employees, a certain marine electrician known as Seth Thedford Toney.

There we were, mingling with some fifty or sixty thousands of other employee-hosts and guests of the day, goodnaturedly jostling each other about and becoming more and more convinced that maybe too many people had come to view the many interesting sights in this vast and productive shipyard. Babies were crying, grownups were overheated and impatient, sharp remarks were exchanged and arrogant glances displayed as the picnic goers wore upon each others tolerance. Bands played to ears that heard without listening and consideration over the loudspeakers that delivered the program to the remote corners of the spacious plant.



Then it happened. People nudged each other and motioned for silence. Faces, lighted with rapt attention, nodded their emphatic approval of a voice that had taken control of the amplification system of this modern monument to man's ingenuity, and was soothing them, entreating them not by words, but by the more subtle language of the sympathies of mankind. The songs chosen were old and familiar but that voice, the ampleness of it, the completeness of it, the depth and humanity of it had hold of the crowds.

And gradually we became aware that we were glad, sincerely glad that so many, many people were present.

In a subsequent interview, Mr. Toney, our soloist, attributed his vocal progress to his training under Valdemar Banke and J. A. Gray of the Gray Conservatory of Music. To the query as to whether he had made his voice available to the motion picture industry, he answered on the affirmative, Seeing & Hearing, Inc.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

THE RECORD ALERT

The Associated Press reached deep into the wastebasket last week in an attempt to create a racial incident unfavorable to organized labor. The Philadelphia strike which was the subject around which the press service attempted to weave a fine pattern of racial antagonisms is a strike of misguided men against the best interests of the nation. It is small and petty and a means of comfort to the enemy, but it is not by any stretch of imagination, a race riot. It is the most unpatriotic demonstration of selfishness and personal interest that has yet come to light on the home front, but there is no evidence to indicate that the six thousand strikers perpetrated an attack upon the Negro populace.

John M. Lee

That widely separated and disjointed attacks were made is an indication that Hitler's helpers are alert and waiting to create trouble that will keep us so busy fighting on the home front, that we will be unable to employ our full united strength on the war fronts.

The CIO union of which the strikers are members can clearly be absolved of any blame for attacks upon Negroes, but it stands indicted on two of the most serious and disturbing charges the Negro worker can make against organized labor today—insincerity and race prejudice. No lasting progress can be made in plans to integrate Negro workers into the ranks of organized labor until a guarantee of full equality can be made and kept under all circumstances.

Again it becomes clear that the philosophy of "hanging together lest we hang separately," is breaking down. The leaders of organized labor must recognize that patronizing attitudes and token representation on important committees is not the way to win the support and confidence of the Negro worker. He, like his brother unionists, wants economic security, which will only come when he gets full equality and equal opportunity in employment.

The spectacle of the leaders of the striking union pleading with the men to return to work when they had predicted a walkout if Negroes were allowed to operate buses and trolley cars, and then did nothing to prevent it, is a sad one.

SECURITY, NOT SOCIETY

One of the outstanding faults of American democracy is its, "now you see it, now you don't," quality. In too many instances, organized labor has used this changing process to define its relationship with Negro workers. If the stakes are big enough for one, they're big enough for all. To hell with social equality—what we want is jobs and a chance to hold them in the post war period. There is no substitute for that desire either.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

The newspaper vendor who works on the northeast corner of 5th and Hill was giving a fair, albeit an exaggerated, interpretation of the Los Angeles Times' editorial pages last Saturday night. "Read the truth about Dubinsky, Stupinski and all the foreigners who run the political action works," he shouted incessantly. A lot of people bought papers—how many because of his salesmanship, we'll never know.

HELP WANTED

Some of us have an appointment at the Blood Bank for Saturday morning, August 26, at 11:00 p.m. We'd like to make it a special occasion by having a good-sized representation go with us and add a few pints to the bank's supply. This is a case of practising what we preach, and we'd like to have some witnesses on hand to watch us do it. We'll be happy to include you if you'll call AD. 9770 and leave your name.

Incidentally, ask some of the boys who are home from overseas what they think of the Red Cross in action. They'll tell you that they are treated with the greatest of fairness and consideration by the Red Cross. The army, they'll add, discriminates whenever it gets the chance, yet they go on fighting. Maybe, following their example, we can give a little blood despite the army's policy which makes it necessary for the Red Cross to segregate Negro blood.

93,000 military vehicles were shipped to Allied forces during the first three months of 1944. These shipments included 3,000 tanks, as well as tank destroyers, trucks and jeeps.

HAVE NEW HOME—Happy again since their misfortune, a short time ago, when their home burned down, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Neal and family are situated in a new home at 1523 East 99th Street, and will hold open house for their many friends, neighbors and acquaintances, who were so kind to them, Saturday and Sunday, August 19 and 20. All friends are cordially invited.

Bronzeville Leaders Protest Opening Of Liquor Store Close To Pilgrim House

According to civic-minded citizens in the Bronzeville District, formerly known as "Little Tokyo," who have been trying to clean house ever since Negroes in large numbers started moving in, a serious situation is now facing the district. Liquor stores and juke box night spots have infested the area in ever increasing numbers assuming such proportions as to cause a course of action among leaders who desire to make Bronzeville a clean and decent place in which to live.

The latest affront which created a crisis in the matter was revealed this week when it was learned that the opening of a liquor store was planned at First and San Pedro streets, about 100 feet from Pilgrim House, a community center, of which Dr. Harold Kingsley is the director. Small children play and receive training at Pilgrim House and opposers feel that a business establishment offering liquor for sale is detrimental to the correct upbringing of the children. A committee has been formed to combat the evil and to hold down to a proportionate figure the liquor stores and breakfast clubs in the Bronzeville District.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE learned Wednesday that Rev. L. B. Brown of First Street Baptist Church; Rev. M. L. Brown of New Jerusalem Baptist Church and Dr. Harold Kingsley of Pilgrim House had filed a protest with the Liquor Control Commission to stop the establishing of a liquor store at First and San Pedro streets. Dr. Kingsley told this publication that there would be no more liquor stores in Bronzeville and that ministers of the district would meet with him today (Thursday) on that matter and others concerning the betterment of the community. He concluded with the statement that for some time in conjunction with the ministers in Bronzeville an open fight had been waged on bad influences in the area. However this marked the first time that they had contrived to stop the opening of a detrimental business in Bronzeville.

HUGH M. GLOSTER, whose appointment as USO Assistant Regional Executive, in charge of services to Negroes in Region VII, was announced today by Mark L. Entorf, USO Regional Executive.

"Let My People Go"

Freedom Road

By Howard Fast

"At last! The Great American Novel—The book that will send every American to the polls—to vote."

There is every indication that "Freedom Road," a new book by Howard Fast, will be the most talked of novel in 1944. This book is to be released on August [illegible] by Publishers, Duell, Sloan & Pearce.

Howard Fast will best be remembered as the author of the current best seller "Citizen Tom Paine." Mr. Fast's forceful style seems to have reached its apex in his latest work, "Freedom Road."

Many books have been written about the Negro but his story is written about things that you probably thought no one would write. It attacks the very foundations of "Lip Service Democracy" and gives us a frank portrayal of what actually happened in the South during the days of "Black Reconstruction."

"Freedom Road" is fiction of the highest order. . . . The story of a Negro named Gideon Jackson who fought on the side of the Union during the Civil War. This character is an embodiment of all the fine qualities of Negro Legislators, duly elected immediately after the Civil War. Through him is shown the conflict of the North and South, the struggle between land owner and share cropper, and struggle of races for adjustment, and the political strife growing out of a maladjusted social pattern that was allowed to run loose through flagrant misappropriation of judicial rights. Gideon Jackson grows mentally and spiritually as he labors tirelessly to work out the destiny of his people who were confused, abused, and persecuted. Of special interest is the manner in which "Freedom's Road" deals with the rise of the Klu Klux Klan in its determined efforts to stem the tide of democratic thinking among the underprivileged in Gideon's Community.

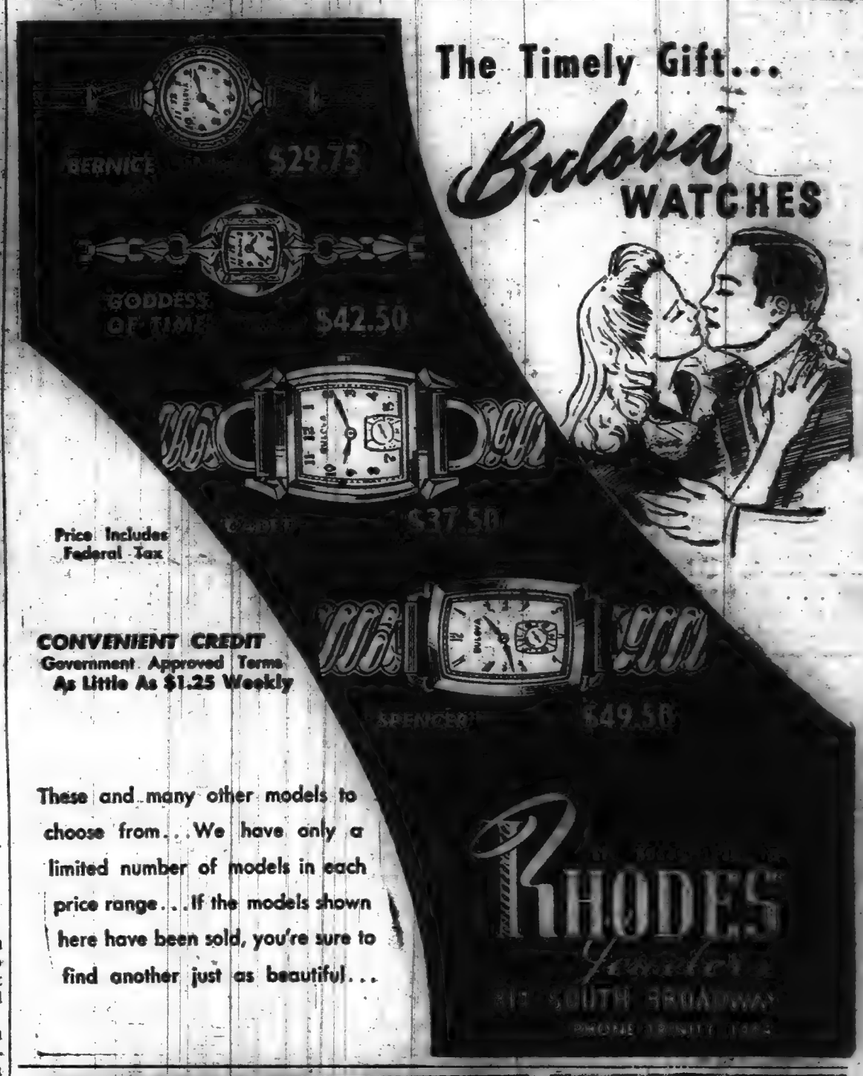
Throughout, "Freedom Road" moves at a rapid pace and the moral victories which Gideon wins will long be remembered by everyone who reads this powerful novel.

The documentary substance of this book is truly taken from the "lost pages of American History." This is, without a doubt, "The story you thought would never be written."

"Freedom Road" is represented in the Negro market by W. B. Graham & Associates, Inc., 35 West 42nd Street, New York 18, New York.

Reaffirm Support Of Roosevelt-Truman

NEW YORK.—CIO President Philip Murray, UAW President R. J. Thomas, Willard Townsend and other top CIO officials this week reaffirmed their support of the Roosevelt-Truman ticket, indicating that the full strength of CIO's 5,500,000 membership would be thrown into the fight to elect Roosevelt, Truman and a liberal Congress.



From President Murray on down, CIO leaders were unanimous in their conviction that a victory for the Roosevelt-Truman slate would insure a speedy and total victory in the war and a post-war era of full employment and security.

GIPSONNET . . .

When I'm with him he makes me nervous,
But, when we're apart, I'm blue;
I'd rather be nervous than lonesome—
Wouldn't you?

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE . . .

The above Gipsonnet is Sis Willner's contribution . . . Betty Jean George, the deb, and Ishmiel Evans, a grand guy, have decided on an annullment . . . The Sentinel stated in last week's communique that "Lunceford broke all records during his stay there." G'wan, he didn't even tie the one set by the Swoonhearts of Rhythm! . . . The divorce suit of a vedy social Westside couple will hit the headlines. It will embarrass a coupla prominent people . . . In case you wondered whatever became of "Dynamite" Jackson, the popular boxer (and whata fighter he usta be!) is co-owner of a Central avenue Drug store . . . A Corner-Lounger in front of the Clark hotel the other sundown heckled a femme passerby. An officer from Newton Street asked him (and very politely) to cut out the risgay remarks. The Corner-Lounger made several ugly cracks, then dared the Officer to do something about it. He did, he handed his Gun and badge to a columnist and punched the heckler in the nose. It was a one-punch fight, with the CL taking the count. I'd like to openly give an orchid to the Officer here, but to expose his name may get him a reprimand for removing his Gun and Badge. So we'll just wait and send him a Christmas present . . . The club Alabam is closed. Seized by the Treasury dep't. for unpaid taxes . . . Boyd Pinkston, my friend and friend of all my friends, is recuping nicely at the California Lutheran Hospital following a major operation. The popular Sportsman (and one of the nicer guys) is well on the road to recovery, thank God! . . . Debutante Mary Louise Browning (Melrose's baby sis) has a broken heart. Oh well, on her it won't show. As she puts it: "I'll lose my memories in my studies at school!" . . . Bardu Ali has a much improved band on the stage at the Lincoln. In fact, the whole new show is sparked with big time entertainment . . . Rex Ingram, the Actor, and Henry Blankfort, the Author, talking shop the other evening at the Villa Arlington. Two grand guys. We love 'em both damb near to death! . . . Jerry Nicholas, Fayard's dainty little doll, says "The best way to get your prayers answered is to get up off your knees and hustle!" . . . Sudden Thawt: Elysa Teale's unprejudiced views (on any subject) oughta be para graphed in one of the papers. Her interesting conversations are as refreshing as a Cole Porter tune . . . Have a Laff dep't.: Manager Moe Gale is suing a reporter for calling the Ink Spots "Uncle Toms." The scribe hit the nail right on the thumb in his recent article. An Uncle Tom is what one of them aint anything else but! The one we're referring to is Deke Watson. His uncle tomfool'ry turns your stomach. He's the one who rolls his eyes in a golfball-like fashion, and grins from ear to ear while ad-libbing about Southern Fried Chicken and Candid Yams, etc. The Ink Spots are a smart act crowded with class, that's why they don't need Uncle Deke's Uncle Tomming to put their act across. He clowns and uncle toms in every theatre they play, and Mr. Gale can't sue me for libel—'cause he knows I'm libel to prove it! (Next case, please) . . . Leonard McClain, the popular young Bailbondsman-about-town, deserves your support. A gentleman in ev'ry sense of the word, he's adored by the Central crowd. He's sincere in his tireless efforts to help the little guy. And because of that, we love him. (Okay, Mac—if the garrulous Mr. Gale has us arrested for calling Uncle Deke an Uncle Tom, you'll get our case!) . . . Tip To Talent Scouts: A new singer named Dick Fields made a down payment on a bright career the other evng at Charioteer Jimmie Sherman's Westside Apt., when he let a few of us sit in on an audition he made for Columnist-Agent Alyce Keys, who handles Patsy Hunter, Marie Bryant, Aniseeeee Boyer and others. His singing comforts the ears, and what we love about him is that he doesn't imitate Sinatra. He has a refreshing style all his own . . . Remember a coupla columns ago when we wrote that "Maxine Sullivan would be a natural for the Trocadero when King Cole checks out for a moon pickcha theatre tour?" Well, she got the job. (See, they even read the col'm in Hllywd!)

★ THEATRE—AMUSEMENTS ★

By J. T. GIPSON

DANCE GROUP IN REPEAT RECITAL—So well received were the youthful dancers, who have been training under Archie Savage for the past year, in their recital at the Vanguard Theatre last week, that they have been requested to repeat the performance. This group, which constitutes some of the most promising students in the area, will appear again, Friday night, August 11, and Sunday night, August 13, on the Vanguard stage at LaBrea Street just off Hollywood Boulevard. The curtain will go up promptly at 8:30 p. m. Members of the group have designed and made their own costumes and worked out their own scenic and technical effects. The picture above includes the following: First row, left to right: Camille Roane, Thomas Hughes, Monica Carter. Back row, left to right: Jayne Edwards, Ethel Washington, Charles Caballero, Archie Savage and Roger Reynolds. Other members of the group, not shown in the picture, are James Truitte, William J. Loftlin, Dorothy Coleman, Paul Goodwin, Phillip Goodwin and Byron Ellis. Mr. Savage, director of the unusual dance group, states that they may appear at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium on the night of August 31st.

Tiny Bradshaw Is Headliner at Top Angel City Nitery

June Richmond Is Also Featured in Fast-Moving Show

With June Richmond headlining, and Cecil "I Wonder" Gant handling the intermission piano assignment, the show at the Plantation stacks up as one of the Angel city's best. It's a fast moving revue, just what the doctor ordered for the stay-up-laters. As columnied in a previous communique, the Two Esquires have a clean dancing act that wins for them plenty of that stuff called applause. When I first caught this act in New York, they knocked me out. I caught them again the other evening at the Plantation, and they're still knocking me out! While far from being perfect, the stuff the Esquires dish out is there, and it's mellow.

THAT BRADSHAW BAND!

The "Hey Lawdy Mama" gal, June Richmond, was reviewed recently when she was with the Bill Robinson show at the Orpheum. What we said then still goes. She has something on the ball. She's terrific, but not the same June you remember with Andy Kirk. I can't for the life of me figger what's happened. The stuff is there, but it's missing.

A wealth of ideas and a minimum of noise, it's still the Tiny Bradshaw band that keeps things jumping at the Plantation. Top showman, the handsome-smiling Tiny makes a splendid front for his youthful group. Working beautifully together these riff-riding youngster's give Tiny one of the best bands in his career. Trumpet tooting Billy Ford is a standout on takeoff solos, while a tenor tooter named Count Hastings handles the ride stuff in the reed section. The only complaint we have with his playing is that he seemingly overblows his horn. Other than that, he's one of the most terrific tenor tooters in the field of swing today, and that goes for the current show at the Plantation, it's one of the most terrific in Angel city nightlife today.

Cecil Gant, the soldier whose recording of the current avenue hit favorite, "I Wonder," is also featured at the Plantation with his songs and piano toying. New in the theatrical profession, he nevertheless knows that to be a success you must please the customers, and that is what he ain't doing anything else but with his singing and piano playing at the Club Plantation. —Gipson.

AN EYEFUL FOR THE BOYS—Always willing to 'shake a hip' if it will make Uncle Sam's men happy, vivacious Marie Bryant will be among those volunteer performers furnishing entertainment for the hundreds of servicemen, their families and friends, who will attend the gala midsummer picnic Sunday afternoon, August 13, in beautiful South Park. Ever popular, and always enthusiastically received, Miss Bryant never fails to answer when called upon to entertain the boys.

Jimmie Noone Memorial Concert Sunday at Famed Trocadero Club

Sponsored by the Musician's Congress, the Jimmie Noone memorial concert will be held Sunday, August 13, at the famed Trocadero Club on Hollywood's famous Sunset Strip.

Highlight of the evening will be selections by the original Jimmie Noone band, and the auctioning of old and rare recordings of the late Jimmie Noone's band by columnist Ted LeBerthon.

One of the truly great artists in the kingdom of swing, the late Jimmie Noone held his own with the very best of them. He loved his instrument, the clarinet, and he loved and was loved by nearly all who knew him.

He's gone now, but his music and memory lingers on. This Sunday, all music lovers will pay tribute at the Trocadero to the memory of a great and wonderful musician.

Dooley Wilson, Johnny Mercer, Calvin Jackson, Count Basie, Louis Armstrong, Nappy LaMarre, the Nicholas Brothers, Alyce Keys, Joe Sullivan, Big Sidney Catlett, Tiny Bradshaw, Maxine Sullivan and Tommy Dorsey are among the many who have promised to be on hand to make this event a memorial one.

You can count the Eagle's theatrical editor in on this date, too, for Jimmie Noone was one of our favorites.

Shepps Playhouse Will Be Open Soon

The corner at First and Los Angeles will soon be the brightest spot in Bronzeville as the neon signs are now being installed in preparation for the opening within the next few weeks. Located at the crossroads between Hollywood and Los Angeles, the spot may be easily found simply by following the bright lights.

It would take an artist to give an adequate description of the swanky place but the layman will make an attempt to mention some of the highlights. At the head of the stairs above the entrance, one enters the Three Star Five Circle Bar, named so from it's design. The tables in this room are chrome bottom, while the tops are each of a different color. The entire lower floor is carpeted and all the rooms on the upper floor except the cabaret. The side rooms for small parties will each have a name and different color scheme.

An earlier release gave a description of the cabaret which is done in pale green sateen but we did not mention that the bandstand is backed in strips of black and yellow cloth stretched out fanwise. A large staff with silver notes complete this picture.

Gordon "Shepp" Sheppard, former Hollywood cameraman and still a member of I.A.T.S.E. is owner and designer of this beauty spot. Jack Cook, topnotch decorator is in charge of the work. When completed, this place will set the pace for what the well dressed night club will wear.

Nash Singers Quartette Appear in Hollywood Bowl

Appearing in the Hollywood Bowl with the famous Dunham Dancers, during the last week, was a quartette of the Nash Singers, composed of Margaret Pett, Roberta Lee, Finis Moore and Carl Handley. The quartette was well received and was a splendid representation of the group.

Two Sundays ago, the entire group, under the direction of Mrs. Nash, delighted the audience assembled at the Fellowship Assembly of All Nations Foundation to hear Dr. Alain Locke, of which the Reverend George Garner is minister. The audience was captivated by the renditions of the group which included "My Lord, What a Mourning," with Phillip Waites as soloist, "I've Been 'Bucked" "Rock 'a My Soul," and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho." The first number was arranged by Mrs. Nash; the others by Eddie Jones.

The group is quite versatile in its repertoire, which includes spirituals, popular and classics. All numbers are sung acapella.

Mrs. Nash, under whose direction the group has been working, has given a very fine civic organization to the community, and the public is beginning to consider the Nash Singers as a definite asset to the community-at-large.

PRAISE FOR NEGRO WORKERS

Negro workers are neither so prone to absenteeism as other workers nor do they change or lose their jobs quite so frequenly, Reginald E. Gillmor, President of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, says in reciting some of the experiences the big precision instrument concern has had since first seeking the aid of negroes in the war effort more than three years ago.

Thoughts in Passing... Officers Sidney Moulton and Archie Lewis, of the Sheriff's Dept., are two swell guys. J. T. Gibson, theatrical editor of this publication, is doing more than his share for sepia entertainers. He has shoved the old baliwick in this field back into history. Go forward, young blood. 'Tis widely rumored that two swell people just can't get together. We hope that it is only a rumor. He is Tommie Smith, the barbecue king from Santone.

George Holman of 'Frisco was sentenced to life for starting a blaze which took 22 lives. eH is a cafe owner.

Lt. Joseph Hayes, medical officer, and his wife are enjoying his furlough here with relatives. He is the nephew of Mrs. Earl J. Morris. Lt. Hayes is assigned to the base hospital at Fort Huachuca. "Doc" is a graduate of Meharry and served his internship at the General Hospital here. He qualified for a commission while in Los Angeles and was accepted.

A great many people have wondered as to the whereabouts of Spencer Williams. We received a letter from Spencer and he is still in the film business. Only now, he is going for himself. He has taken unto himself a wife. One of those fine San Antonio girls (I should know, Mrs. Earl J. is a native of the Alamo city). Spence is now a resident of Santone.

One of the most intensive behind-the-scenes battles is being waged by two judges in behalf of democracy. This splendid young Negro in whose behalf they are fighting for doesn't know now (unless he is shown this article) that these two men have almost daily been fighting for the right for him to become a member of the Bar Association. He is Deputy District Attorney Charles Matthews.

Democracy at Work Dept.... H. L. Byam, tax collector, has his share of colored employes down in the Hall of Justice. Recently he appointed Henry B. Gray as a clerk in the Assessor's office. Mr. Gray took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and went to work in a manner to justify the faith that H. L. Byram, Civil Service, and anyone else who had anything to do with his appointment.

Memory Lane... Seeing those swell dramas down at the Lincoln theater naturally makes the old-timers dream of the past. We can recall the Old Lafayette Players at the Avenue and Grand theaters in Chicago.

In those days there was Clarence Muse, Cleo Desmond, Laura Bowman, Sidney Kirkpatrick, Monte Hawley, Andrew S. Bishop, Arthur Ray, Charles Moore, Lawrence Vriner, Evelen Preer, A. B. De Comatheire and many others.

Clarence Muse was one of the charter members forming the group in New York. Muse has made his mark in the films. But we feel that he has never surpassed his performances in "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde." But that has been due to the fact that he hasn't had the vehicles. Muse is also a good baritone, but rarely has a chance to use his voice on the screen.

The great Evelyn Preer came to Hollywood, played in a series of comedies and went to heaven. She has been joined by Arthur Ray.

Lawrence Criner, we understand, is in the navy. Monte Hawley is with Laura Bowman. Monte's color kept him from going places in the film industry. The major studios refused to hire him to play colored roles and they had plenty of white boys. Monte, however, had his day in the colored films.

We remember Cleo Desmond as the heroine of many dramas. Criner usually was the heavy in the old days and when he came to Hollywood—he still was the main villian. Laura Bowman took a trip to Haiti, and bringing back a swell little guy as her husband she is the star of the Lincoln theater dramas.

It would have been nice if they could have kept their little band together and passed on their background in the theater to those new-comers. Sybil Lewis, however, has a front seat, with Bowman and Hawley now. Wonder why they don't start some little theater group? Or start a drama school? They know all the tricks of the trade. This writer, for one, would not like to see the art die with these old master of histronics.

This is your pistol-packing law enforcement officer, Earl J. Morris, 5013 Wall street, 11, ADams 7010, who tells you that Sheriff Biscailuz and Under-Sheriff A. C. Jewel are two swell guys to work for.

THE COUNT AND THREE KINGS!—The four hep and happy characters in the picture above were caught by a photographer during last Monday evening's Jam Session at the Orpheum Theatre. In tht usual order are: Count Basie at the piano, that sentimental gentleman of swing, Tommy Dorsey on trombone, trumpet-tooting Ziggy Elman and the king of the saxophone, Jimmy Dorsey.

One of the hottest "sessions" to emulate from the stage of the Orpheum in many a moon, the one held last Monday evening, had the rafters rocking in rhythm.

Said Orpheum Publicity Director Nelda Barrick: "The joynt jumped!"

Count Basie Band Is Held Over By Popular Demand at Orpheum

By J. T. Gipson, Theatrical Editor

Proof that the current stage show at the Orpheum this week is made to order for the hepcats and hepchicks, is the fact that the good Count Basie and his band and revue is held over for a second week. The first time any band and revue has been so honored in all Orpheum history! The toe-tingling tunes of the Basie bandsmen is worth the price of admission in itself, but then, thrown in as extra features is the comedy team of Patterson and Jackson; "Shorts" Davis, who has an okay act, and the Delta Rhythm Boys, of which there is none whicher! Their tinsel tonsilling had the chicks swooning all over the place. And that bass singer, Lee Gaines! He's singsational!

FAST MOVING SHOW

From the Count's opening theme "One o'clock Jump," to the finale of the show, things kept moving along at a rapid fire pace. This is the show that will go down in Orpheum books as the greatest in Orpheum history. Not since the Lena Horne engagement has the crowds stood three and four abreast for nearly a block waiting to get anything that looked like a seat. And all because Nelda Barrick and the other powers that be (in the Orpheum booking dept.) thought up the terrific idea of booking the Count Basie band into the Orpheum long with the Delta Rhythm boys!

Featured with the Count are Earle Warren, Harlem's answer to F - - - - S - - - - - -, who sings much better than F - - - - S - - - - - -. Thelma Carpenter, the lush bundle of chirping loveliness, and Jimmie Rushing, known as Mr. V by V.

Yes, the current show at the Orpheum is one of that Theatre's best, and you can quote me on that, too!

"Wilson" Road Show Engagement Begins This Friday, Aug. 11

20th Century-Fox studios and Fox West Coast Theaters have combined forces to launch the roadshoy engagement of Darryl F. Zanuck's Technicolor production of "Wilson" starting Friday, Aug. 11, at two Los Angeles theaters, the Carthay Circle and United Artists.

"Wilson" is heralded as Darryl F. Zanuck's greatest production and also as the most important picture yet turned out by the 20th Century-Fox organization since its founding.

In sweep and magnitude, in size of cast and in cost of production, "Wilson" promises to rank with the most outstanding pictures presented at the Carthay Circle and United Artists theaters in years past.

Directed by Henry King and written for the screen by Lamar Trotti, "Wilson" required the employment of the major portion of the studio's facilities, several thousand technicians working two full years to prepare it. More than six months were required to photograph "Wilson."

Sixty songs of the Wilson period, as well as romance, comedy and dramatic thrills are additional features providing all-around entertainment of every type.

In size and number the sets for "Wilson" are said to surpass everything yet filmed at the studio, 37 acres and 12 stages 162 exterior and interior scenes. The picture has 143 speaking parts, more than 12,000 players, and 87 songs.

A continuous performance policy with no reserved seats will prevail at the United Artists theater. All seats will be reserved at the Carthay Circle. Reservations may be secured at the Carthay bokoffice, at all agencies, by mail, or by telephoning WEbster 7211.

Noble Sissle's Band: Will Spend Vacation Time in Los Angeles

Completing an engagement at the Regal Theatre in Chicago, Illinois, on July 28th, Edna Williams and William France, musicians who have been touring with Noble Sissle's band for the past six months are in the city for an indefinite rest period.

Miss Williams, featured vocalist and trumpet player and Mr. France, tenor saxophonist, report a pleasant experience on tour with the band. Miss Billie Holliday, noted songstress, appeared on the same bill.

The talented musicians are considering a proposition to play an engagement at Garrick's Lounge in the Chicago loop, after they leave Los Angeles.

Zeta Sorors Work Together As Area Director And Secretary in Camp Breckenridge Locale

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Miss Mary L. Holman, Area USO Director for women and girls, is a graduate of Boston University School of Social Work (Boston, Mass.) and of the Atlanta U. School of Social Work (Atlanta, Ga.) with advanced work at B. U. Boston, Mass., is a shining example of a Zeta who has given another Zeta, Soror Elnora Freeman Powers a chance to prove her worth as her personal secretary, and program assistant.

Miss Holman's experience covers several years of work with women and girls. She was the first Negro Director of Religious Education in schools for Negro girls operated by Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, which work kept her at Allen High School (Asheville, N. C.) for three years. She then became National Promotional Worker under the same organization. In that capacity Miss Holman had the supervision of work for the society in 19 Negro conferences and traveled extensively giving instructions to women and girls concerning work of the society in the church.

In 1942 she was sent by USO (Y. W. C. A.) to Oklahoma City, to organize the first National USO Club for Negro Service Men. That club was located on a side street in five small rooms, but with her untiring efforts, magnetic personality, and willingness to work, she was able to interest civic-minded citizens who went forth and obtained the former NYA buildings for the USO Club. After being there for 17 months, she was promoted to the position she now holds. Miss Holman works under the supervision of the National Board, YWCA, one of the six agencies of USO.

Unselfish in spirit and true to Zetadom, Miss Holman has as her secretary a sister Soror, Mrs. Elnora Freeman Powers, whom she trained in USO work while in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Powers is a graduate of Langston University (Langston, Okla.), being a member of Lambda Alpha chapter on the campus. She has had several years of secretarial experience having done some of that work while attending the University. After Miss Holman was situated in the Breckinridge area she sent for Mrs. Powers to serve as her personal secretary, and program assistant.

The two Zeta women (Holman and Powers) are a credit to Evansville, Ind. (Lincoln USO) and to Morganfield, Ky. (Dunbar USO) where they have their headquarters. They are putting over a fine job working in and out of Evansville, Ind. Henderson, Camp Breckinridge, Morganfield, Sturgis and Madisonville, Ky. Their program consists of special USO club work and recreation with women and girls and in supplying hostesses for all affairs at Camp Breckinridge. They plan to enlarge upon their program by training girls from Corydon, Uniontown, Wheatcroft and Providence, Ky. for junior hostesses duties at Camp Morganfield USO club.

Their training, experience and personalities make them efficient in their fields and they are being constantly called upon by the community to serve in any capacity that has to do with social welfare.

Hats off to two Zetas, Soror Holman and Soror Powers whose friendship and sorority ties have given to USO a fine example of employer and employee relationship and who are putting over a splendid program in the midwest area.

Velma Middleton is the vocal star who will be heard when Louis Armstrong appears on the Coca-Cola "Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" over the Blue network Friday night. Velma, who was born in St. Louis, has been featured with many of the nation's top-name bands.

Servicemen Enjoy Baseball as They Play It On War-Torn and Far Away Southwest Pacific Isle

CALIFORNIA EAGLE

SPORTS

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE
SPORTS EDITOR

Not Big-League But It Is Soul-Satisfying Anyway

By Sgt. John H. Scott

Headquarters, 13th AAF, Southwest Pacific—Baseball as played by servicemen on a South Pacific island may not be strictly big league, but it has the clinching plays, the cat-calls of fans, and the lusty swat of ball meeting bat that endears the sport despite a war.

Accompanied throughout by the catcher's chant, "Weell aalllll rite!" sung before each pitch, a ball game for anyman's taste was recently played—and won—by a Negro nine at an advance South Pacific airbase.

The game was a mid-season battle between soldiers of a Negro ordnance ammunition company and a headquarters squadron, both of the 13th AAF Service Command, operating in the South and Southwest Pacific.

Clustered with spurt hitting, yet lacking a fast beginning, the game hit a stride in the latter part of the fourth inning when the ordnance men brought out, shall we say, their ammunition, to make three hits, driving in two runs. The score then was two-up, headquarters gaining one run in each of the first two innings.

Three more runs were earned by ordnance with two hits and a homer in their half of the fifth frame; and spurred on by the rattled two-error state of headquarters, the ordnance ball club, called Harrison Cubs, made four runs in the sixth to lead 9-2. But this was a seven-inning game.

Private Rueben Hudson, 6 feet and 170 pound pitcher from 283 Berry Street, Hackensack, New Jersey, faced headquarters the first two innings, but ran into trouble.

And then to the mound went one of baseballdom's oddest pitchers. A soldier, Private Reuben "Lefty" Erwin, of Hefling, Alabama, who pitched without using a wind-up!

Weighing only 140 pounds, and chewing gum by the jawful, Reuben Erwin just stepped into the box and threw from the shoulder. Perhaps it was his lack of wind-up, but not until the sixth did he weaken, and he was relieved only because of threats of hits.

Of great and truly psychological help was the chanting catcher, Private John H. Hines, 3206 Cline Street, Houston, Texas, who interspread his, "Weelll aalllll rites" with a singsong, "Come onnnnnn boy," and "Laaaaay it down here!" Hines was substituting in this game for Private First Class George McDuffie, 1206 Run Street, Jacksonville, Florida, regular catcher.

First Sergeant John H. Scott, 4329 Cook Street, St. Louis, Missouri, 39-year-old first baseman and playing-manager, describes Hines as being "an excellent receiver with a comforting tone . . . who, while talking ceaselessly to the pitcher, makes him place them where they're needed most.

"And most players would rather go AWOL than try to steal on his good right arm."

Not many tried this, although bases were filled by headquarters in the first of the seventh, and eventually emptied to the tune of five runs. But they were stopped from thereon by Private Alfred "Stechell Paige" Hill, 238 Beach Street, Arvern, Long Island, New York, who had 24 strike-outs to his credit in two previous ball games.

BEHIND THE PLAY

By DON DE LEIGHBUR

NEW YORK.— The hefty, smooth-black, laughing man with the tam, sat on a fireplug on East Forty-seventh Street in Chicago the other week and chewed the fat in droll conversation with a half dozen or so old-timers who hung onto his every word with unfeigned interest and as if they were listening to an oracle. It was after 3 o'clock in the morning and the blackness of the Chicago night was softened by the street lights on this famous business thoroughfare in the heart of the teeming South side, and by the twinkling dazzle of the neons, impelling invitations to come in this bar and that tavern for liquid pleasures, for music, for companionship of pretty women. The old-timers, however, wanted none of that. The companionship of the man wearing the tam was enough.

"I'm doing all right," the hefty-smooth-black laughing man said, his mouth flashing an ivory grin. "I don't need anything and I still can whip the best they've got around today." The fellows gathered about him laughed in approval, although they knew as well as the laughing man with the tam that Jack Johnson past 60 was a holdover from another era of boxing and that at his age, his chances against some of the really good heavies plying their wares in American rings today would be practically nil. However, the idea sounded good. One liked to hear him talk. His words were the words of experience, of a man who had lived in the days when boxing was at its turbulent height. Jack Johnson, way past 60, is a fitting representative of that era that old timers like to talk about and of which youngsters listen in awe.

Jack told me he had come in from California and the West Coast and was in a circus playing in one of the downstate Illinois towns. It seems that he was looking for others to go into the show.

GI Fight Card Pleases South Pacific Joes

By Marine Private First Class COLLIE J. NICHOLSON

SOMEWHERE In The SOUTH PACIFIC — (Delayed) — Uncovering a wealth of boxing material for his fourth boxing show, Chief Lynch released a blazing galaxy of fistic hopefuls who fought six rousing rough-house battles before an appreciative crowd of G. I. fight fans here.

Big James Simmons, a classy 175-pound Marine, stole the show by decisively outpointing H. W. Hart, heavyweight champion on a U. S. vessel. Simmons battered Hart all over the ring with a murderous barrage that left no doubt as to the outcome. This was his third South Pacific win in as many starts.

In the other bouts, Duke, 120 pounds, also from the U. S. vessel, defeated Audin, 125 pounds, a Marine. This was the only bout the Marines lost.

Sackie, 135 pounds, Marine, and Roe, Army, fought a draw. Burnette, 155 pounds, Marine, defeated Blakely, 156 pounds, Navy. Carracejie, 155 pounds, Marine, won the nod over Ruman, 154 pounds, Navy, and Craig, 169 pounds, Marine, kayoed Bloney, 170 pounds, Navy, in the second round.

These fights are held twice a month under the auspices of the Navy recreation department of this command. Promoter Lynch stated that in the near future champions will rule each division if plans for a tournament materialize.

Yes, it was big horses.

The credit for bringing such handicap stars to Caliente goes to our popular generalissimo, Eddie Nealis and Armando E. Verdugo, director of personnel. Director of books and mutuels, E. L. Caress, Judge Joe Walters, acting presiding steward and racing secretary, Judge James O. Cunningham, Judge Albine A. Morgan and Judge Andrew Ferguson also share in the honors.

Caliente has the reputation of having the cleanest racing of any track in the country. Also the most formful racing. More favorites win at Caliente than at any other track. Very seldom does one hear of any scandal at the border course.

Out of the fourteen races run last Sunday, nine public choices were first to the payoff line. Four fairly long shots also brought happiness to the fans. They are always trying to beat he favorites. The other winner was dressed up well backed by the public.

The feature event went to Blue Pennant. It was the Fair Acres handicap valued at $1500, at one mile. Carrying the heavy weight of 124 pounds, the son of Blue Larkspur-Minnant made every post a winning one from the break, running the mile over a dull track in 1:38 1/5 and paying $4.00.

In the secondary feature, Swell Chance, owned by the same stable, nosed out the fast-closing Keaton Light. This event was six furlongs. The winner also paid $4.00.

The combination feature for three-year-olds at one mile was won by Pass All, paying $4.20. It was his fourth straight win, also the fourth straight for Blue Pennant.

The Daily Double paid $225.80 while the Quiniela backers received $13.

Again Caliente can proudly boast of big time racing. This Sunday another gala program of fourteen races will be held, bringing the best horses together on the west coast in sprints and distances, so until Sunday, keep buying more bonds. The more we buy the shorter the war. It will keep the enemy from our shores. So long,—GEORGE.

Seamen Urge Brooklyn Dodgers To Sign Negroes to Aid Team

NEW YORY—The men who man America's bridge of ships are deeply troubled by the ill-fortune of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

In reply to Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, who recently declared he would spend the money for new players if anyone knew where he could find them, National Maritime Union crew of the United States Army Transport Argentina wired:

"Be it resolved that we the 277 crew members of the Army Transport Argentina A ship that has carried over 100,000 soldiers to the battle fields of the world go on record urging you, Mr. Rickey, to bolster our beloved dodgers by signing some of the swell Negro ball players. We can't understand why you haven't done this before. On the 'Argentina' we have many Negroes, and we work and play and fight as a complete and harmonious team. Why not on the dodgers?

"You don't know what it means to a Dodger fan, Mr. Rickey, when he's a few thousand miles away on some ocean and the radio mom sends down the news from the states, and what do we read? Our Dodgers have lost again. Give us a break, Mr. Rickey, and get us some Negro ball players. We will be 100% behind you."

NMU Vice-President Frederick N. Myers also wired Rickey, urging him to sign up Negro ball players. His telegram, sent on behalf of the union's 80,000 members of every race, color and creed, who work together harmoniously and effectively to keep 'em sailing, declares:

"As a Brooklyn fan, born in Brooklyn of a family residing in Brooklyn for the past 200 years, and also as a plugger for the Dodgers on the seven seas, I urge in the name of 80,000 seamen who believe that the Dodgers can be a better ball team, that all available manpower is utilized.

"Urge that you take steps to see that Negro ball players are given an opportunity to put their talents to work on the Brooklyn team."

Y. M. C. A. Summer Camp

One hundred and twenty-four youngsters of the 28th Street branch YMCA enjoyed a two week's vacation at Big Pines in the San Bernardino mountains. These boys were under the direct supervision of Robert L. Williams, Jr., boy's work secretary; Joseph Henderson, boy's field secretary, and Lionel McQuillan, former swimming instructor.

Camp awards were won by: Artist Hubbard and Corrie Van Holloway in archery. Herman Streeter and Milton Sheffield — "best boys" in camp. Cabins 10 and 6, the "best cabins." Prizes for the "best boys" and "best cabins" were given by Richard L. Adams, former youth leader, now serving in the Army Air Forces.

Swimming in Jackson lake, horseback riding, overnight hiking, handicraft, campfire, baseball, horseshoes and volleyball occupied the greater share of activity.

High praise was given the camp by officials, neighboring campers and visitors. A campfire activity was shared with Camp Metaxa under the direction of leaders of both camps. Songs, stunts, stories and games highlighted the event.

Additional features of the camp were: an enlarged canteen; building of an infirmary and erection of a second archery range. Religious services and 'ragger" ceremonies were held at the newly constructed chapel.

Much of the success enjoyed by the branch was due to the unselfish acts of Dr. Stovall and his staff of physicians and nurses of the 28th Street Health Clinic; Messrs. Ringold and Spiller, who through the Union Station Red Caps contributed money enabling three boys to enjoy a camp period; the Golden State and Angelus Funeral Home, who permitted announcement space on their Sunday morning radio program, and to all parents and friends.

The doubles matches will be played teamed with American Tennis Association players.

BASEBALL NOTES

PITTSBURGH.—Dubbed the Negro National League's "in-and-out-club," the New York Black Yankees have more boosters than many of the winners. The Semler aggregation fared slightly better than did Newark in the early season games. Although they dropped seven out of eight, the Yanks had the honor of winning the first league game from the champs 7-4 in Norfolk on May 10. Newark lost 10 before they could get a winner.

SAY DODGERS NEED NEGRO BALL PLAYERS

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The National Negro Congress last week wrote Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers ball club, requesting an appointment to discuss the hiring of Negro aces. Pointing out that the all-time low of the Dodgers today and their desperate need for quality players gives Rickey an opportunity to help break down the Jim Crow ball and at the same time benefit his team and himself, the congress wrote: "The Dodgers can be the medium of progress today, and we strongly urge you to take advantage of your opportunities by hiring qualified Negro players."

Army's M.P. Nine Advances In Loop

CAM PLEE, Va.—Accounting for a pair of wins while the 9th Regiment was held to a 3-3 deadlock by the 7th, and was set back by the 11th, 8-3, the M.P. baseball team jumped into first place of the ASFTC Baseball League this past week by half game margin.

Wednesday the 7th and 9th battled for ten innings before the umpire was forced to call the game due to darkness. Monday the 11th's ace right hander, Garnett Blair, held the "Fighting 9th" to six scattered hits as his team collected 10 blows.

In order to take over first place, the M.P. nine won a 7-0 forfeit from the 12th Monday, and blasted the 1326th Hospital 14-8, Wednesday.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The swimming program at Central Playground, 1857 East 22nd street, under the supervision of aquatics director Curley Monroe, is attracting a lot of attention this summer.

Hundreds of adults have joined the throngs of youngsters who daily disport themselves in the sparkling water at Central Pool.

The Deputy Auxiliary Police team won the swimming meet at Central last Thursday when they competed a gainst teams from the 28th street YMCA and Central Playgrounds.

Blackwell "Wolf" Huddleson and "Dusty" Steele were the star performers for the D.A.F.'s and Lowell, Douglass and Penland chalked up the most points for the "Y". Rosen stood out on Central's team.

Tomorrow (Friday) at 6 p.m. the flashy team from Evergreen Playground will visit Central to compete against the three teams named above. The public is invited to attend this contest.

Louise Parker, the attractive lass who holds a position as life guard at Central Pool, has the distinction of swimming more miles than any other lifeguard in the Municipal set-up this season. Louise has more than 17 miles to her credit and is still going strong.

ELMER RAY, heavyweight fighter, is suffering from a chipped bone in his left arm. He was scheduled to fight Perk Daniels at the Olympic recently but the Athletic Commission ordered the bout canceled.

Mrs. Arie Buford Thomas died at General Hospital July 4. Services were held at Conner-Johnson Chapel July 12 with Rev. E. A. Anderson officiating. Interment at Beaumont, Texas, the place of her birth.

Willie Joyce Under New Management

Announcing recently that he had purchased the contract of Willie Joyce, Gary (Ind.) lightweight, from George Trafton, who has returned to football and has signed as assistant coach for the Green Bay Packers, was Charley Schuster, Hollywood businessman.

Schuster said Joyce's next in San Francisco against Henry Armstrong had been postponed from Aug. 7 to Aug. 21 to enable Armstrong to recover from a hand injured in his last bout with Slugger White.

HUNTING

Southern California hunters will open the deer season in Districts 3½ and 4½ Aug. 10 with hunting permitted through Sept. 9, it was disclosed last Sunday by William V. Mendenhall, supervisor of Angeles National Forest.

The two districts include territory along the costal mountains from the Monterey county line south and all of Los Angeles county. Much of the territory is closed to hunting, however, because of Forest Service fire precautions.

The only section in Angeles Forest which will be open to hunting is an area about a mile square near the mouth of Big Rock Creek in Antelope Valley.

Deer hunting will be permitted in San Diego, San Bernardino, Inyo, Fresno and other Southern California counties from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, it was announced.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

BY EDDIE BURBRIDGE

I SEE WHERE Chief Inspector Willie Ritchie of the State Athletic Commission brought Promoter Mike Hirsch of the Ocean Park fight arena and a few of his employees before the California boxing body last weekend for an inquiry regarding discrepancies in the sale of tickets to shows at the beach beak-busting palace. It seems that the State was deprived of taxes and principals Clayton Worlds and Bob Smith, who fought on June 19, of their share when Ritchie charged that he discovered 225 "outlaw" gallery ticket stubs at $1.20 each, totaling $270, in the gate containers for which no records were available at the box office. Promoter Hirsch claimed in defense that a month previous to the fight somebody who robbed the arena of various articles and had possibly stolen two rolls of gallery tickets also. This was verified. Hirsch says that the tickets may have been sold outside the arena. Anyway, the matter has been referred to the District Attorney's office for a separate investigation. My idea about the matter is that it had to happen to Clayton Worlds who has been getting few fights despite his ability and who probably needed those extra frogskins.

DID YA KNOW . . . Several Negro athletes now in the toils of the law will probably participate in the 31st Annual Track and Field Meet to be held Saturday, September 9th, at San Quentin. The San Francisco Olympic Club and Warden Clinton T. Duffy are sponsors of the meet and predict a gala day. We do not advise any L. A. fellows to commit any crimes so as to be on hand for this grand occasion. . . . Bobby Yeager, up-and-coming young lightweight of the Lewis-Tolson fight stable, is showing noticeable improvement in each succeeding bout. We predict again without any qualms that Bobby in a few months, if he gets the right booking, will be running on even terms with John Thomas as one of the two best West Coast lightweights. Thomas is Bobby's stablemate. This writer noticed that Bobby scaled 139 pounds last Friday night and it may mean that he is growing in weight and may have to desert the lightweight division and become a welterweight campaigner in the near future. That will give Lewis and Tolson a top-notcher in both weights.

Army Baseball Team Seeks To Gain Lead In League

CAMP LEE, VA.—An opportunity to tie for first place will be offered to the 7th Regt. baseball team when it meets the league leading 9th ASFTR club soon at the 7th ASFTR's diamond, located at 13th Street and Avenue A. At present the ASFTR is holding on to the loop lead by one full game.

A homerun with no men on the bases by Abram Travis broke up a 3-3 tie in the sixth frame last week to give the league leaders a 5-3 victory over the circuit's first half champions, QM School. Wardell Smith, the victors' ace pitcher, limited the School batters to four hits. The School boys fell to fifth place during the week, for Monday they lost a 6-3 decision to the "hot" 7th ASFTR.

According to an announcement last week by the Athletic Office, the 1326th Hospital team is playing in place of the "bye" on the second half schedule. All teams have been urged to make a note of this information. Due to a misunderstanding of last week's slate by its opposition, the hospital team was idle.

Although it ran into trouble Wednesday against the sixth and had to be satisfied with a 2-1 win, the M. P. team is coming up fast. Monday the club belted out a 16-8 victory over the 8th ASFTR. Should they win next week's tussles, while the 7th ASFTR defeats the 9th ASFTR, the M.P.'s go into a three way tie for first place.

Bobby Yeager In Smashing TKO Over Chuey Figueroa

Proving himself once and for all the master of Chuey Figueroa, 133, who gained a decision over him in a previous engagement, Bobby Yeager, 135½, classy and hard-hitting stablemate of John Thomas, scored a fifth-round technical knockout during the scheduled ten-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night. It was the rubber match, Yeager having scored a t.k.o. over Figueroa in three rounds in their second fight.

Leading by points Yeager had pounded Figueroa's face so steadily that as the fifth got underway Chuey's face appeared to have tangled with a meat chopper. Bobby went right to work on Chuey in the fifth and being unable to breathe through a smashed nose Figueroa asked Referee Charley Randolph to stop the bout. The doctor was called into the ring, examined Chuey's cut eye and bleeding nose and advised that the bout be halted.

Packo Villa, 127½, took a six-round decision over Ralph Lara, 128, in the semi-windup. In the preliminaries Ray Vargas, 138½, won from Torpedo Reed, 141. Agustine Rodriguez, 112½, and Benny Cousins, 113, fought to a draw; Charley Dilworth, 150½, defeated Billy Shaw, 146; Anicito Madrid, 125, and Henry Zamora, 129, went four rounds to a draw in the curtain raiser.

Apologizing To Lige Drew

Through error we published in our issue of August 3, 1944 that Lige Drew had lost a decision to Bobby Claus at Hollywood Legion Stadium on Friday, July 22, 1944. Hence our apology to Mr. Drew. The official decision rendered was a draw verdict.

GOLF

The showing of our local golfers in the Southern California Open, recently concluded, altho not sensational was inspiring and promising.

The best score for our group was turned in by Oscar Clisby, a four round total of 297, nine strokes over par. His performance earned him seventh place among the amateurs

Jimmy De Voe, who had a tie for first place in the Pro-Amateur, continued his fine play for the first 36 holes with 72-73, 145.

1ST PLACE TIE

The surprise of the tournament was supplied by Bill Spiller, golfing Red Cap who finished in a first place tie in the 5 to 7 handicap group, with 307. Spiller has just been playing the game about a year and a half, but stays in the 70s consistently. His best 18 hole score was a 75.

Of our seven entrants in the field of over 150 of the best pros and amateurs in Southern California, we snagged two prize winning places, in addition to the Pro-Amateur win.

SAYS JIMMIE SMITH — After a lapse of several years, the Strickland family has again made golfing headlines and this time it is Ed. Strickland, who, Sunday, for his final two rounds in the Beverly Hills tournament, shot even par to give him a total of 288. This remarkable performance for the part time golfer, earned him a fifth place tie and $250. Byron Nelson won with 277, seven strokes under par for the Rolling Hills layout.

Ed wos one of five original entries of our group, that included Errol Strickland, Jimmie De Voe, amateur Bill Spiller and John Riddle. All but Riddle completed the 36 holes.

With 298 was Errol Strickland. De Voe followed with 307 and the yearling Spiller accounted 310 strokes.

A few years ago, the Striklands of Riverside were the talk of the golfing world in both black and white circles, when they were setting records on their home town course. If I remember correctly there were four of them, brothers and cousins, Cliff, Hugh, Edward and Errol. Cliff, I believe, is in the army and his last tournament play was when he borrowed my ancient set of Hagens and played in Golden-Eagle tournament at Sunset Fields. On one of my eastern trips I was asked by Louis Corbin to name the best ten Negro golfers in the United States. I placed Strickland number one and the Bermudian, who had never heard of the westerner, thought I was crasy. A year or so after that they brough the United Golfers Association tournament to Los Angeles, and what Cliff Strickland did to Wheeler and the other greats is well known golf history. I saw Corbin some time after the tournament and he shook my hand.

Certainly the Stricklands are a great golfing family and it's a shame they couldn't have been encouraged or had the opportunity to enter major competition.

In speaking of golfing families, if there were four Grants like Em and Jud, the Stricklands would perhaps have to take a back seat.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOXER

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C.—Marine Platoon Sergeant Charles W. Riggs, Negro heavyweight who was prominent in Eastern boxing circles before he came to this base, has his eyes on a future in professional boxing when the war is over.

Billy Hale and Mike Belloise, former word champ., fought to a ten-round draw at Ocean Park Monday night.

Hollywood Cards Two Ten-Rounders

A fast action card of two ten-round main events has been carded by Matchmaker Charlie McDonald for Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium.

They are Eddie Hudson versus Vic Grupico and Joe Barnum vs. Nick Moran.

The quartet appearing at the Stadium are promising boxers, getting a chance because of the dearth of material.

Hudson has won a couple of semis recently at Hollywood. Grupico, a San Franciscan, was stopped by Willie Joyce in the northern city, won a six-round semi-windup from Kent Martinez at the Olympic.

Joe Barnum saved an otherwise dull bout by scoring a 10th-round t.k.o. over Billy Tierney recently while Moran has always given a good account of himself.

POSTPONE ANGOTT, WILLIAMS BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA—It was announced by Promoter Herman Taylor last weekend that Sammy Angott, former lightweight champion, had injured his hand while defeating Aaron Perry recently at Washington and for that reason he had been forced to indefinitely postpone his 15-round bout with Ike Williams, Trenton, N. J. title threat. X-rays will be taken to determine if there is a fracture.

Lem Franklin Dies From Ring Hurts

NEWARK, N. J.—Lem Franklin, Chicago heavyweight, who suffered a brain concussion and partial paralysis when he was knocked out in a bout at Meadowbrook Bowl here on July 24, died last Thursday at City Hospital.

Franklin enjoyed a commendable record as a boxer and at one time was considered as a threat for the heavyweight title.

GETS REVENGE—John Thomas, above, gained sweet revenge Tuesday night at the Olympic Auditorium for a decision victory scored over him a year ago by Aldo Spoldi, when he pounded Spoldi to the canvas eight times during their scheduled 10-round main event to gain a technical kayo in the seventh heat, Referee Benny Whitman halting the contest.

FACTS ABOUT SPORTS

By C. W. Posey

Burleigh Grimes was the last of the "spit ball" pitchers in the big leagues.

To the best of our knowledge, there are no "spit ball" pitchers in the Negro American League.

The Negro National League still allows two pitchers to throw the "spit ball." They are Bill Byrd of Baltimore, Elite Giants and "Neck Stanley of N. Y. Black Yankees.

These two pitchers, and many others, were throwing the "spit ball" when the Negro National League was organized in 1933. It was ruled by the Negro National League moguls at that time to allow all pitchers who were then throwing the "spit ball," to continue, but prohibit its use in future years by any other pitchers.

Byrd and Stanley are the only pitchers now in the Negro National League, of the great number of those who threw the "spitter" in 1933.

A few weeks ago, we wrote of umpires permitting pitchers to "cut" and otherwise deface a baseball so that it would make unnatural darts when it reached the batter.

We cited instances, the most recent of which was a game we witnessed at Yankee Stadium on June 11th between Cincinnati Clowns and New York Black Yankees. Umpire Gholston allowed Pitcher Davis, of the Clowns, to pitch a "doctored" ball throughout nine innings, despite the protests of Manager Harry Williams of the New York Black Yankees.

The fans, who did not know what it was all about, actually booed Manager Williams for protesting this illegal pitch.

In the past week, Umpire Cal Hubbard, of the American League, accused Pitcher Potter of St. Louis Browns, of throwing the "spit ball" and put him out of the game. Umpires of Negro League games should get rid of these "cheaters" on the first two illegal pitches they throw.

Umpires now examine balls when they touch the stands to see that they are not marked. That is to prevent a "cut" or "scraped" ball from being pitched.

The best "emery" ball pitcher we have met in years of baseball was "Chet" Brewer of Kansas City Monarchs. "Smoky" Joe Williams was a "shark" at this style of pitching if he found out the other hurler was pitching illegally. Hilldale of 1929, had Manager Phil Cockrell, Joe Strong and Dalte Cooper. Any one of these three could and would "mess" with a ball every time they got in a hole with a good hitter at bat.

Tom Wilson had one of the best when Willis was pitching for his Nashville Elite Giants.

The three pitchers of the present day whom we know and do throw a "doctored" ball when allowed by the umpire are: Radcliffe and Sadler of Birmingham and Davis of the Clowns — although there are many others who attempt to sneak in the "cut" ball when they get in distress. There is not a hitter, living or dead, who can or could successfully hit a "doctored" ball if thrown by a pitcher who knows how to deliver it.

BOXING BRIEFS

LIGE DREW meets Eddie Cerda at Fresno next Tuesday night.

NEW ORLEANS.—Ossie (Bulldog) Harris, 164, Pittsburgh, scored a technical kayo over Eddie Jackson, 160, Detroit, in 8 rounds last week-end.

WORCESTER, Mass.—Bert Lytell, 151, Fresno, stopped Vern Patterson, 150, Worcester, in five rounds last Friday.

FREDDY DIXON is slated to meet Maxie Berger of New York at the Olympic on August 29th. Berger is due in town this week to begin prepping for the battle.

CHARLES KELSON, with his principal charges off to the wars, is nevertheless being kept busy. Kelson is training Roy Miller, an up-and-coming protege of Henry Armstrong. With Charlie behind him Miller should go places, because Charlie positively knows what to do.

TURKEY THOMPSON is in line for a bout with Lee Nova here in the near future. The Turk wasn't disgraced in his bout against Murray although rumors insist that the bout was as dull as all outdoors.

COACHES AND OFFICIALS TO HOLD MEET

The Coaches and Officals association of the Southwest will hold its annual meeting at the I. M. Terrell High School, Fort Worth, Texas, Friday and Saturday, August 25th and 26th, 1944. President L. L. McGee announces that an official testing and ranking program will be conducted.

John Thomas Scores Technical Kayo In 7th Round Over Spoldi

Erasing a defeat scored over him a year ago by Aldo Spoldi, New York Italian, John Thomas, ranked third among the nation's lightweights, floored Spoldi eight times and coasted to a seventh round technical kayo when Referee Benny Whitman stopped the scheduled ten-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night before a large crowd.

Both boys weighed 138 pounds. Thomas, in a vicious mood, had smashed Spoldi to the canvas three times in the sixth round for counts of eight, nine and seven and when the Italian kissed the deck five more times in the seventh Referee Whitman figured that he had enough for the night and halted the uneven fray. Thomas has improved immensely since his first bout with Spoldi and it was proven conclusively that Spoldi does not belong in the same ring with him anymore.

MAJOR JONES PLEASES

A newcomer in the person of Major Jones, classy holder of the 1944 Golden Gloves title in the featherweight and lightweight divisions, managed by Norman Saunders, made a big hit with the fans in his pro debut Tuesday night by pounding out a lop-sided decision over Torrito Ramos, 139, in four rounds. Jones scaled 135.

Other prelims ended as follows:

Art Aragon, 130, added another win to his straight string of victories, but had a tough time getting the nod over Lou Bernal, 132, in the six-round semiwind-up.

George Fulton, 162, defeated Jack McBride, 170; Tino Leon, 136, decisioned Danny Valdez, 132, and Benny Cousins, 114, captured the nod over Augie Rodriguez, 112.

DIXON VS. EVANS

Next Tuesday night, August 15th Freddy Dixon, sometimes called the uncrowned welterweight champion, will meet Ben Evans, undefeated Southern champion, in the ten-round main event at the Olympic.

THOMAS NODS SILVA

John Thomas, 139, classy West Coast lightweight contender, pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Joey Silva, 139, in the feature bout at Wilmington Bowl last Wednesday night.

Beau Jack Wins Over Montgomery

NEW YORK.—Closing fast but too late Bob Montgomery, the New York lightweight champion, lost a split 10-round decision to Beau Jack before a crowd of 15,822 at Madison Square Garden last Friday night. Montgomery's title was not at stake in the benefit for War Bond sales which brought in a "gate" of $35,864,900 in War Bonds (maturity value), the greatest boxing gate in ring history.

It was the fourth meeting between the two gladiators, each now holding two decisions. Jack piled up plenty of points in the early rounds with Montgomery closing fast as he saw victory being snatched from him.

Jack weighed 138¾ to 137½ for Montgomery.

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

MATERIAL GAINS

Since we dwell upon this good earth, there are numerous necessities that we always stand in need of: food, money, clothing, shelter, etc. Many people are mistaken in making these things the aupex of life instead of the ways and means for contentment.

There are those who live to eat, whereas they ought to eat to live. Oftimes those who make only material things an end, fail to secure them, and, suffer what they believe to be bitter disappointment.

If we would remember that these blessings which are gathered while on earth, cannot be taken with us when we leave . . . there would be less heartaches and unhappiness.

Don't let material gains make your life miserable by trying to be greedy.

A. I. Dear Prof. Herman: I certainly enjoy reading your column every week and was wondering if you would help me with this question. What happened to my money?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you spent the dollar, that you missed for a gift, and then the incident slipped your mind.

Mrs. D .P. Did he get my letters?

Ans. I feel that your husband did receive the mail you have sent, but to safeguard the letters always write V-Mail. For if anything should happen to the mail . . . there is a duplicate of the same letter in the post office for that district which will be sent him, so that he is sure to hear from you.

L. M. Why do my teachers watch me?

Ans. After giving your question careful thought and consideration I find that you are a very attractive person, and people often stare at you. But you must not take offense or feel that there is anything wrong with you. There is no harm meant by this, although it is ill-mannered, just ignore it.

D. H. Shall I marry the older man?

Ans. Concentrating upon you question I find that you have two friends . . . but the older one has asked you to marry him. The younger man is more your equal however and you have more in common. Therefore I do not advise you to marry this man you have in mind.

R. Y. Dear Sir: I guess I don't need to mention the fact that the Hindu Charm Bag has brought me great comfort and helped me in many ways. For you already know how wonderful this bag is. But just the same, I had to thank you for your kindnes.

J. V. O. Will this doctor in Chicago mean anything in my life?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that this man will mean a great deal to you in the future. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate many other interesting events which I will be glad to relate if you will write in for a private reply.

F. M. T. Did my husband leave me for another woman?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your husband as still caring a great deal for you. But it seems that you had disagreed for some time and to avoid further unpleasantness, he thought it wise to leave. I do not envision any other woman in his life at this time.

M. L. P. Does he mean what he says?

Ans. I am of the opinion that your boy friend really intends to marry you after the war. But you may not wait that long. If it is possible for him to come back sooner, for he loves you dearly.

F. M. D. Will the change be made for better or worse?

Ans. According to your Zodiacal Sign, the change you make within the next few weeks will be for the better.

BAY CITIES

Dr. Harold M. Kingsley, eminent prelate, en route to his home in Los Angeles, from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he attended the general council of Congregational and Christian churches, was the guest speaker at the South Berkeley Community church, at the Sunday morning worship, July 30.

Dr. Kingsley, former assistant moderator of the General Council, and well known as the former pastor-director of the Church of the Good Shepherd, gave illuminating observations on the recent council. He was also the guest speaker Monday evening, July 31, at the Berkeley Inter-Racial Committee, at its August meeting. Dr. Byron Rumford, president of the committee, directed the program for the session.

The North Oakland Baptist Church Missionary Society of which Mrs. A. O. Bell, wife of the pastor, Rev. A. O. Bell, is general president, held forth at an all-day service, emphasizing the women's activities of the church, with the Berkeley Circle of which Mrs. Alberta Every is president, directing the day's program.

Rev. H. J. James, pastor of St. James Baptist Church, Oakland, was the guest speaker at the morning worship. An old-fashioned basket dinner, served in the recreation room of the church, followed the close of the services.

Mrs. E. S. Truman was the guest speaker for the afternoon service. A pageant, titled "The Third Day," and special music by the Gospel Chorus climaxed the activities of the day.

Last rites were held for Mrs. Helen Beatrice Richardson, July 26, wife of Alfred Ferdinand Richardson, 1820 Ward street, whose death occurred July 23. Requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul at St. Columba's Catholic Church, Oakland.

Mrs. Richardson was born in Louisiana. Her death followed an illness of several months in the home where she had lived for the past 31 years.

Mrs. Richardson is survived by her husband, Alfred Ferdinand Richardson, and by a sister, Mrs. Rosa B. Hawkins of San Francisco. She was the mother of the late Modest Orenthal Richardson, a graduate of the University of California who passed on in 1927. Mrs. Richardson was prominent in civic affairs.

Miss Catherine Patton of Los Angeles is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Lillian Lamb, on California street.

Bruce Hawkins, son of Attorney and Mrs. Leland Hawkins, prominent Berkeleyans, is home on a 30-day leave from U. S. Army Camp near New Orleans.

Mrs. Viola Gatewood, 2428 19th avenue, Oakland, was hostess at a smartly appointed bridge-pokeno luncheon July 27. A jolly group of the socially prominent, including a bevy of charming out-of-towners who shared in the honors of the occasion were assembled for the event.

Mrs. Lillian Banks Renfro, sister and house guest of Mrs. Edna Willis, 2661 Wakefield avenue, Oakland, Mrs. Theressa Kempo, both of Los Angeles; Mrs. Ina Mann of Houston, Texas, sister and houseguest of Mrs. Minnie Oubre in Ashby avenue; Mrs. Robie Woods of Vicksburg, Miss., relative and house guest of the P. Prestons on King street, and Mrs. Pearl Allen of San Antonio, Texas, comprised the out-of-town group.

Mrs. Zelia Mae Tatum and Mrs. Thelma Stone were high scorers at bridge, while Mrs. Edna Willis was awarded the pokeno prize.

Mrs. Renfro was further honored when Mrs. Hazel Lewis on San Leandro boulevard, Oakland, was hostess at a lovely bridge luncheon.

Mrs. Sadie Lewis, 1608 35th avenue, entertained also in Mrs. Renfro's honor, was cohostessed by Mrs. Louise Lewin Hamilton of San Francisco on a sight-seeing tour of that famous metropolis.

Honoring her husband, H. Tyre, on his birthday anniversary, Mrs. Marie Tyre was hostess at a festive evening of social gaiety which assembled 25 guests at the home of the Bill Whites on Telegraph avenue.

The popular Emory Tatums, Berkeleyans, weekended with Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Wilkerson in San Jose last week.

ROUND ROBBIN INVESTMENT COMPANY

4113 So. Central Ave. Los Angeles 11, Calif.

ADams 3231 or 9033

The Round Robin Investment Company, 4113 South Central Avenue, Los Angeles 11, California, offers 19,999 shares of its capital stock, par value $5.00 per share, to the investors who are interested in placing their savings in the investment of real property.

Because these securities are believed to be exempt from registration, they have not been registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, but such exemption, if available, does not indicate that the securities have been either approved or disapproved by the Commission or that the Commission has considered the accuracy or completeness of the statements in this communcation.

These 19,999 shares are offered for a 100% cash consideration of $5.00 per share.

The proceeds shall be deposited in escrow 100%.

There will be no underwriters, and no underwriting discounts and commissions.

All expenses of advertising, office rent, phone service, mailing, clerical and stenographic services shall be paid by the membership of the Round Robin Cooperative Civic League, Inc., a non-profit membership corporation.

The aggregate estimated expenses are $250.00 and estimated per unit expense is .01¼ cents.

The $99,995.00 secured from the sale of these 19,999 shares of securities shall be used in the following manner:

1. The primary purpose for which the funds will be used will be to purchase homes costing from $1000.00 to $6000.00 for cash to be resold to purchasers for a small cash down payment, the balance like rent.
2. If any surplus remains after making the above investments in small homes it will be used to make sound investments in income producing real properties upon sound, sensible and appropriate business procedure such as now used by sound mortgage concerns.

It is believed that this program will afford large numbers of citizens who have $500.00 or more an opportunity to purchase a home on terms which will enable them to pay for the same like rent.

IMPORTANT

To all prospective home owners, the sooner you and others purchase from 20 to 50 shares of these securities, the sooner we shall be able to purchase your home.

If you have $1000.00, take $250.00 and purchase 50 shares of these securities and save the balance to make your down payment on a home and pay the balance like rent.

Be an investor of the concern which if this program is carried out will hold the security on your own home.

The Round Robin Investment Company Offers:

(a) Thrift saving—with confidence.
(b) Home ownership opportunities.
(c) Sound investment opportunities in income producing real properties.
(d) This is an organized system to create purchasing power for the benefit and profit to home owners and others.

Because Real Estate touches the life of every man, woman and child, because it is the fundamental foundation of all wealth, there is a very definite need for an investment in real estate. Ownership of the Home in which you live stimulates the inherent qualities and rights of a person, and affords a thorough opportunity to obtain a basic knowledge of the most important subject on earth, "HOME"—which is the backbone and foundation of the community in which you live, and the nation at large.

Mme. Sinclair White Mourns Her Mother

Funeral services for the late Cora White, mother of Mme. Sinclair White Amato, and the grandmother of Norma Amato, prominent soprano and soloist at the church of All Nations, was held last Saturday with Conner-Johnson officiating.

The funeral procession started from the Conner-Johnson parlors and proceeded to the church of All Nations where the Rev. George R. Garner read the burial service.

Mabel Massingill sang, "Lead Kindly Light," one of the favorite hymns of the departed. Interment was in Rosedale Cemetery.

The deceased was born in Ashland, Viriginia.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. Juanita Mack, by Mrs. Louise Ingram and Mrs. Mary Mitchell, at the home of the former, 1246 Birch Street. Many guests gathered to celebrate the birthday, and lovely gifts were received. Delicious refreshments were served amidst beautiful decorations, and delightful games enlivened the evening for all present.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Mollie Freeman Kimbrough wishes to thank her many friends for the cards, telegrams, and kindly expressions of sympathy during the passing of her brother, Mr. Monroe Pennington. The family is particularly grateful to the friends at Consolidated Steel at Wilmington, California.

"I'm doubly lucky to have a GAS Refrigerator during the war"

"JUST AS I'D EXPECT, my Servel Gas Refrigerator is a big help in making the most of war-restricted foods.

"But I never dreamed how lucky we'd be in wartime—to have the kind of a refrigerator that takes care of itself. The tiny gas flame freezes with no moving parts, so there's just no wear to worry about."

the grounds that such jobs were reserved for Negroes.

Mrs. Strange further stated that in telephone conversation with E. P. McGurk, supervisor of employment for the Los Angeles Railway, she was told that it was company policy to reserve certain jobs for whites and certain jobs for Negroes. "He never would come out and say whether he would hire Negroes, so I put the question directly to him," she stated.

Joseph D. Nailor of the office of defense transportation, who was to have testified on the results of a survey enumerating the equipment of the Los Angeles Railway Company now in operation and now in the yards, appeared briefly to state that he has been ordered by the regional board in San Francisco not to testify before the committee. Committee members immediately requested the San Francisco office be contacted for an explanation of the order forbidding Nailor's testimony.

Thomas C. Campbell, war manpower area director for Los Angeles and Orange County, testified that Los Angeles Railway's hiring priority issued to it Nov. 8, 1943, was withdrawn March 24 because of the company's "under utilization of available labor." The company still had the right to hire elegible workers at its gates, but it was denied WMC referrals.

TWO REFUSALS

James A. Herod, another witness, told of being twice refused employment by the railway company. Herod, who holds a bachelor of science degree from Straight college in New Orleans, said that he responded to the company's daily radio request for workers for "this vital war work," and that he considered himself qualified for the job of motorman.

Included in the testimony also was a letter from Rev. Joseph T. Mc Gucken, auxiliary bishop of Los Angeles to the effect that there is a serious transportation problem in Los Angeles and that the service is inadequate to serve the public. Bishop McGuken said in part, "I do not think the public would object to Negro motormen or conductors any more than they object to Pullman porters, who have earned a respected position.

The bishop further stated that there were no insoluble problems in the situation and that the employment of Negroes by the railway company would do much to relieve the dangerous aggravation of racial tension in Los Angeles.

Malcolm Ross, chairman of the FEPC, is conducting the hearing with Charles Houston, Boris Shiskin, John Brophy, and Milton P. Webster. Maceo W. Hubbard of Washington, D. C. is counsel for the committee with J. Stuart Neary representing the company.

Nola Slayden testified that she was refused employment as an operator by the LARY despite approximately one year's service an as operator for the Municipal Railway in San Francisco. Miss Slayden was selected as an instructor by the San Francisco Railway, and is qualified by educational background and temperament for the position.

Floyd Covington, Executive director of the Los Angeles Urban league presented illustrated and exhaustive testimony in support of the several points which he drove home with his quiet statement of facts.

An impressive array of witnesses, including Paul Wetscher, assistant personal manager at Lockheed, who testified that his company did not find it difficult to integrate the 3000 Negroes they employ and Everett Wile, Executive Secretary of the Council For Civic Unity, who told of the Council's efforts to encourage an educational program on unity for the union.

The case of the LARY as presented by J. Stuart Neary, occasioned some surprise when Mr. Neary admitted that the company had practised discrimination against Negroes, but only because of its fear of the union which threatened to walk out, (subtlely), if Negro workers were upgraded and put to work as platform men.

EMOTIONAL PREDJUDICE

Caling the action of the white union employes," pure emotional prejudice without any rational justification," Neary repeated that the company would not hesitate to employ Negroes in any capacity if the assurances were given that there would not be a transportation tie-up due to a strike or "mass quitting" of the white employes.

Previously scheduled for two days, the hearings ended Tuesday after the testimony of L. D. McClurg, president of the Transportation workers union, AFL, who read from the international constitution to prove that the AFL does not discriminate, but who mournfully predicted that 87 per cent of the white employes will talk out the minute Negroes are put to work as platformen.

McClurg asserted that during one of the educational meetings for his union, he had to prohibit speeches which were to be made by Orson Wells, Olivia DeHaviland and Rex Ingram, because he considered them inflammatory.

He also attempted to justify the Jim Crow attitude of his union by stating that the men were mad because the Sentinel and the California Eagle kept insisting upon equality for Negro workers and stirred up things.

POSITIVE ACTION

With the admission of the Company to the discrimination charges, the FEPC will have to take immediate and positive action.

MARION DOWNS THRILLS SWEET CHARIOT HOUR AUDIENCE

Marion Downs, delightful soprano from Samuel Houston College, in her inimitable manner captivated the large interracial audience which filled every seat and overflowed into the aisles and vestibule of the Sunset Avenue Church of Pasadena last Saturday evening at the Sweet Chariot Hour vesper program.

Mrs. Downs, who is on a tour of the West Coast, presented a preliminary program before the regular broadcast of the Sweet Chariot Hour over station KPAS which originates weekly from the Sunset Avenue Church, corner of Sunset and Pepper, at 6:30 p.m.

On the preliminary program, Mrs. Downs sang two groups of numbers among which were compositions by Schindler, Rachmaninoff and Dett. Frances Walker, her talented accompanist, and who is a musician in her own right, presented a brilliant Chopin number on the piano.

For the broadcast with its great interracial audience, Mrs. Down sang, "I Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," "On My Journey," and "Just a Closer Walk with Thee." Frances Walker, who is also a gifted singer, sang the solo part of Sweet Chariot Hour prayer song, "Breathe on Me." As usual, the 25-voice Sweet Chariot Hour Chorus was on hand and were directed by Rubye Wilkins. Rev. Owen A. Troy, pastor of the church, introduced the guest soloists.

This Sunday Is Civic Day At Lincoln Memorial

Today, with saboteurs in Philadelphia numbering 6,000, striking because Negroes were upgraded, today, with a Vice-President repudiated as a candidate for the election of 1944 because he.. advocates.. opportunity.. for every man according to his ability regardless of race, today with a Congress handling a war tying up proceedings to fight over a soldier vote bill because it involves breaking the Poll Tax laws of the South, in these times, the ministers of the Christian Church must speak out as did Amos, the prophet of old, and say, "Let Judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."

It is out of this cry for the Holy City that Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church will observe Civic Day, Sunday, Aug. 13, and bring to the worshiper one who can speak with authority on these persecutions of God's people. The church is located at 4415 Hooper Ave.

Atty. Loren Miller, popular and successful lawyer will speak on the subject, "The Social, Economic and Spiritual Implications of the Political Scene for Negroes" at 11:00 A. M.

THE NEGRO of the deep South has he[illegible]l to make up the fifty thousand and more new[illegible]ers to Los Angeles within the past year.

When I hear people say these new-c[illegible]rs are making conditions bad for us, I wonder w[illegible] they expect from a people who for more than hal[illegible]century have been denied educational opportuniti[illegible]n a measure beneath those in the African British [illegible]nies.

The Negroes who came to California to work in the war industries were not only attracted by the wages they were to receive for the first time, they were mainly imbued with a desire for freedom—freedom according to the Four Freedoms of the Atlantic Charter as set forth by our leaders: President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill; Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Worship, Freedom from Want, and Freedom from Fear.

They were tired of being pushed off the sidewalks in Florida, of being compelled to whisper instead of talk in Georgia, and of being shot down in Louisiana for demanding a day's pay for a day's work.

Yes, they were tired of this. They came here looking for the Promised Land. Yes, they do often bury their past sorrows in a bottle of wine, curse their former fellow sufferers the way their poll-tax masters used to curse them. They scream and yell now, because they once had to whisper. Sometimes we are greatly annoyed by their behavior. But should we be?

Our job, it seems to me, is to help these new-comers find their way in the new world.

We have sent our sons across the Atlantic and Pacific to drive the Fascists out of control. They have sent their sons also. If residential areas are built against these new comers, they are built against us also. If discrimination is on the increase for them, it is for us, too. So we must find a common meeting ground.

There are organizations such as the People's Educational Association ready to help not only these who have been deprived of training in the arts, sciences, and especially in political economy; but those also whose souls have been shrunken by race hatreds. And those who give lip service to religion and democracy, but have never understood what is meant by this fact: "God hath made of one blood all nations of men," may be inviting upon their heads a curse such as not even those Fascists in Europe have experienced.

Urban League Lauds Officials On Settling of Philly Strike

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The National Urban League this week sent letters of commendation to President Roosevelt, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, and Michael Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union (CIO) for their prompt and vigorous action in settling the recent strike of employes of the Philadelphia Transit Company. The league pointed out that the issue was clearly defined, involving not only the right of an American citizen to work on a job for which he was qualified, but the power of duly established government agencies to enforce their decisions with respect to the utilization of available labor supply during a national crisis. Any other decision or course of action, officials of the league said, would have constituted a complete capitulation to the forces of bigotry and race hate, the same evils which have plunged the world into a desperate struggle.

For his approval of the measures used in settling the controversy, the league told President Roosevelt that "millions of American citizens of all races and creeds will take renewed faith in the fundamental rightness of our democratic institutions as a result of the decisive action taken by you in this unfortunate situation."

The "States Rights" Bill Before The House, Is a Danger Sign

By John M. Lee

"States' Rights," the new rallying cry for the forces which fought the Federal ballot for the soldiers and the legislation to outlaw the Poll Tax looms, as the crucial issue in the coming elections. Already a coalition of Republicans and Roosevelt-hating Democrats has formed to effect passage in the house of the notoriously narrow "States' Rights" bill sponsored by Senator George, and passed early this week in the Senate. Showing violent opposition to the Kilgore Bill which provides full peace time employment and considers all related reconversion problems, the States' Rights are determined that the fixing of unemployment compensation be left to the states with the possibility that there could be as many as 48 diferent standards in as many states.

The Murray-Kilgore Bill which would set a Federal standard of compensation running up to $25 weekly would off-set the fears of the Negro people and other minorities that discriminatory administration of reconversion would reduce their economic status.

NO PROVISIONS

Predictions are being made that should the coalition forces supporting the George Bill prevail all hope for careful disposition of war property, and the orderly resumption and expansion of civilian production would die immediately. The George Bill does not make any provisions for wide range reconversion.

Leaders of the Negro communities throughout the nation are fearful that the passage of the "States' Rights" Bill will usher in a period of financial difficulty which will bring with it a depression in the affairs of the Churches, home owners and small business operators.

Letters and telegrams are being sent to members of the house asking them to vote against the bill sponsored by Senator George, and to revive fully the principles of the Murray-Kilgore Bill.

Claude Hudson, Jr., came from one of the city's most outstanding families. His father, besides being a leader in the professional life of Los Angeles, is the former president of local branch of the NAACP, a post which he held for ten years. Prior to his entering the army, Claude Hudson, Jr., was the owner of the Service Station at 41st and Central.

Says Auxiliary A-35 Wants Jim Crow Bargaining Rights

While attending a newly organized Citizen's Committee meeting a few days ago, I enjoyed the experience of listening to a representative of the Boilmakers Jim Crow Local A-35, Wells by name, tell the committee members how much progress was being made by the Auxiliary.

He concluded his remarks, stating that he and his associate officers of the Jim Crow union hoped very much that the officers of the regular Local No. 92 and the Boilmakers International would grant them the right to negotiate their own contracts.

In mentioning some of the other alleged fine features of the Jim Crow union, Brother Wells stated that thousands of dollars are being banked in the jurisdiction of A-35.

At the conclusion of Mr. Well's remarks, I asked him if the Jim Crow A-35 could send or use the money they banked without first obtaining permission from the regular local No. 92. The answer was "No." I then asked him if the money belonged to Local No. 92. He answered, "Local No. 92 exercises complete control over all money handled by Local A-35."

It was following the above admission that Mr. Wells stated

Full Compliance Is Promised By LARY

Los Angeles Railway President P. E. Harris and other company executives gave their attention this week to studying means to comply with the recently issued order from the FEPC to desist in their practices of discrimination, and hire and upgrade Negroes to the position of platform men on the company's trolleys and buses.

The FEPC committee granted the company a "reasonable time" to comply with its order, and according to statements from Harris, full compliance will be given.

Texas Negroes Form A Democratic League For 571,000 Voters

DALLAS, Tex.—Organizing on a state-wide basis to promote full representation and activity of some 571,000 Negroes in the state, W. J. Durham, Texas attorney and a prime mover in the Negro participation in the July 22 Democratic Primary election, was named chairman of the newly-formed "Texas League of Democratic Voters."

The organization is considered a move to solidify the Negro vote so that it will become an important factor in Texas politics as a result of the Supreme Court decision last spring which granted Negroes the right to participate in the Democratic Primaries.

The organization meeting which was held in Dallas was attended by 150 representatives from all parts of the state. It is expected that the Negro vote will play an important part in the reelection of President Roosevelt.

Dewey Attempts To Smear Adam Powell And Channing Tobias

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Political experts agree that Thomas E. Dewey made one of the gravest mistakes of his campaign in a recent attack on two outstanding Negro leaders, Dr. Channing Tobias and the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr.

In an interview with Richard Thomas of the Chicago Defender, Dewey attempted to smear Dr. Tobias, respected executive of the National YMCA, by inquiring whether it was true that Tobias had turned Communist.

Dewey's attempt to pin the Red label on Tobias brings to

American people was emphasized last Sunday evening by the People's Educational Association when it celebrated its first anniversary at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.

The British Workers Educational Association was established in England in 1903. Today it is the bright spot and the chief medium through which not only trade unionists, but also those persons in all walks of life interested in a general people's movement, may find a common meeting ground.

When Ernest Green, general secretary of the British movement, came to Los Angeles last year, a group of open-minded citizens called a conference and discussed plans for the launching of such a movement here.

At this conference persons representing labor, politics, religion, and education were present.

After listening to Mr. Green's recital of what had been accomplished by the British educationally underprivileged in England, the group unanimously decided upon the organization of an educational association movement in Los Angeles, and the mechanics for such an organization were set in motion.

The lone candle that burned last Sunday evening, celebrating the first anniversary, blazed the future for a much needed educational movement not only in California, but also in the United States.

The features on last Sunday evening's anniversary program were a drama presented by Gail Sondegaard, Rex Ingram, and others; and talks given by leaders of labor and education.

Among the speakers were Willis J. Hill, representing the A. F. of L., Floyd Covington, executive secretary of the Urban League, and John Howard Lawson. All of these, including the play, touched on the need for the type of education offered by the People's Education Association. The highlight of the evening, however, was reached in the address made by Dr. Holland Roberts from the School of Education at Stanford University.

The People's Education-al Association stands for what the title suggests—people, all kinds of people, without regard to race, creed, color, or religion.

Since the brunt of discrimination in all walks and endeavors, even in the field of education, falls heavily on the Negro, he naturally figures prominently in such discussions; hence Dr. Roberts in a brief outline, painted a picture in figures telling the story of the Negro's plight in his own country.

The Stanford educator said, "America as a whole spends an average of $99 a year on every pupil enrolled in school. The South, which is poor compared to the rest of the country, spends $44.31 per white pupil and $12.57 per Negro pupil. The Negro pupil receives in public support of his education about one-fourth that of the Southern white child and less than one-eighth that of the average pupil in the nation as a whole.' (These figures are from a study of Southern school finances made by Fred McCustion, of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States.)

'Individual states with huge black populations show even greater discrepancies. Georgia spends an average of $35.42 for each white child, and $6.38 for each colored pupil. Similar figures for Mississippi are $45.34 against $5.45. In those two states which together embrace one-eighth of the total Negro population of the nation, the colored pupils get only about 6 per cent of the amount which America as a whole deems necessary for the education of its children.

In individual communities the lack of Negro schools is almost complete. At least fifty rural counties in the South have not a single modern school building available for pupils of a race which often makes up more than half the population of the given county. In Montgomery County, Alabama, which is fairly typical of rural counties of the deep South, an average of $28 is spent on teachers' salaries for every white pupil enrolled, while only $4 per colored pupil goes to salaries for Negro teachers. In Alabama it takes seven times as much to educate a white as a Negro. From all indications whites are dumber than Negroes.

Edwin R. Embree, the statistician responsible for thee figures, states also that in a visit to these Southern schools one sees not a system but a series of incidents—bizarre, heroic, pathetic, romantic. A teacher presiding over a deskless room without a single textbook makes one suddenly realize that the child has nothing to draw from, since teacher and pupil are practically equal in both intelligence and training.

Think on these things. We cannot win freedom in foreign fields and have slavery in our own land.

Biddle Is Asked To Investigate Pegler

New York, N. Y.—Culminating a week of active interest in the Philadelphia transit strike, the National Negro Congress yesterday communicated for the second time this week with Attorney-General Francis J. Biddle, and urged his immediate and personal attention to an investigation of the part played in the strike by Westbrook Pegler, who on Tuesday of last week alleged that the transit men had the right to strike because they were being made the victims of discrimination.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Steward are active in the NAACP and in their local church. Mr. Steward has served as Executive Secretary of the Glenarm Branch YMCA and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Adult Education Council of Denver. Jim Crow A-35 that the Negro leaders of A-35 were "hoping" to "some day" exercise separate autonomy privileges. It seems to me that a person like U. S. Griggs, Acting Financial Secretary of Local A-35, should realize the general weaknesses of separate unions for Negroes.

U. S. Griggs has an extensive college education. Doesn't it seem logical that he would know Jim Crowism when faced with it. Certainly most Negroes, even the most ignorant, recognize and combat Jim Crow wherever it is practised.

To Mr. Wells and Mr. Giggs I want to point out these facts:

Whether you obtain separate bargaining rights or not, you as leaders of the Jim Crow separate Auxiliary will be helping to force the Negro shipyard workers farther into a state of employment insecurity, because no industry or company will be compelled to bargain with any union—Jim Crow or otherwise—unless a majority of their employees choose such a union by ballot.

It is a known fact that Negroes only compose a very small percentage of the working personnel in the majority of employees in any plant to vote to have Jim Crow A-35 as their bargaining agency when the membership of this auxiliary admits only Negroes?

Separate autonomy or second class unionism. Dress it up as you may and it will amount to only one thing—JIM CROWISM!

We Negro shipyard workers want no part of it. We believe that a united union is the strongest and the best union. We have a shipyard committee which is striving to obtain equal membership privileges in Local No. 92. If we are successful, we will have a stronger guarantee of retaining our shipyard employment when the war is concluded.

We have no such guarantee as members of the Jim Crow A-35.

If you want further information concerning this issue, we urge you to come to the regular meetings of this committee every Thursday night at the Y.M.C.A. E. 28th St. at 8 p.m.

Relief Association Plans to Build for Post War Security

(Fourth in a series of articles

It is the intention of the Board of Directors and the membership that the five acres housing the various projects of the Economic Relief Association at 27th and Compton avenue should become a community-wide project giving employment to and fulfilling the economic needs of hundreds of Los Angeles' citizens in the coming years.

Although the salvage activities along with the nursery, poultry breeding, and other activities are in embryo and many of the services rendered are on a voluntary basis, plans for expansion are being made so that employment for at least 100 men will be possible.

The community is urged to give its support both by bringing articles to be salvaged, assisting with the sorting of these materials, and by recruiting memberships for the Association. All of these efforts will pay dividends in the maintenance of community morale in periods of most need. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves welcome any service which anyone is free to give. No amount of time is too small or no interest shown is without appreciation.

Landlady Is Fined $50 for Assault on Her Former Tenant

Lydia Avery, 60 years of age, owner of property at 685 East 51st street, Los Angeles, California, was fined $50 for assault with a deadly weapon, before Judge Walter Gates last week.

Mrs. Avery purchased the property January of this year and was forced to hire Attorney H. L. Richardson to evict the tenants of the property. After the eviction order was obtained, the tenant, Brainard Worrill, a post office employe, engaged in an argument with her. Mrs. Avery, incensed at his actions and words, struck him on the right hand with a hoe, inflicting a deep gash between the index finger and the thumb.

Judge Gates, in passing sentence, took into consideration the defendant's age, the trouble she had to get possession of her property, and her past good reputation.

Every man will have something to do for his friend, and something to bear with in him. Only the sober man can do the first; and for the latter, patience is requisite.—Feltham.

Discrimination In Restaurants To Be Checked By the CIO

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The National CIO Committee to Abolish Racial Discrimination will conduct a campaign against Negro racial discrimination in Detroit restaurants, it was announced this week. The decision follows conviction last week of a restaurant employee charged with violating the Michigan Civil Rights law in refusing to serve a Negro girl.

The case grew out of a dinner date between Miss Otha Kirk, a Negro girl who is private secretary to Al Barbour, Michigan Director of the CIO Allied War Relief Committee and Miss Mary Duprey, secretary to August Scholle, Michigan CIO Regional Director.

Arriving at Detroit's Old Colony Bar and Restaurant, the white and Negro girl entered a booth. The waitress furnished them with menus and went away. Later, Miss Duprey's attention was attracted by the waitress who beckoned her out of the booth and told her she was sorry, but she could not be served "because of the young lady who was with her."

Complains of Bad Treatment At Maywood Government Plant

During September of 1944, Mrs. Linnie M. George, a Junior crane lift operator employed at the Army Air Force in Maywood, injured her hand and reported same to Major Turft, an Army Air Force doctor. He put a splint on her hand. It was very tight and turned purple and become swollen. Consulting her family physician, Doctor Herman Epstein, 237 West Seventh street, he said Major Turft (the army physician) had put the splint on too tight, and he (Dr. Epstein) removed it. Mrs. George had no more trouble after the splint was removed.

A few days later, Thursday, August 10, Mrs. George was driving an Army truck on the premises of the Army Air Force grounds, when she collided with another truck driven by an Italian. The Italian's truck hit the truck driven by Mrs. George with great force, shaking Mrs. George up considerably and bruising noticeably her legs, back and stomach, and causing her right arm to swell up. Mrs. George immediately following the accident went to the hospital on the grounds of the Army Air Force, and asked to see the doctor. The doctor, Major Turft, upon seeing her, remarked: "Aren't you the same girl who came to see me about her hand?" Before she could reply in the affirmative, he bellowed: "Well, get the hell out of this office and don't come back again!" Major Turft was apparently peeved at seeing that Mrs. George had removed the splint he had put on her arm. When Mrs. George tried to explain that she wasn't coming for treatment on her arm, but for treatment resulting from an accident, the doctor told her to get the hell out of his office and not to come back again for NOTHING!

She then complained to the commanding officer, Colonel Turnbull, and he said he would take her case up with the doctor. So far nothing has been done about it, and it has been since last Thursday that the accident took place. Still she has received no medical aid! Several complaints are on file at the FEPC office regarding the inhuman treatment of the Negro employes of the Army Air Force.

Mrs. George's supervisor is Lt. Shamasky.

SOCIAL AND OTHERWISE...

Carl Hansborough, recently returned from military service, has already found a place to make use of his talent as a fine photographer. He will be operating out of the Lena Edwards Studio of Art and Photography, located at Jefferson and Normandie.

Dynamic Marie Bryant, electrifying Mabel Scott and the artistic Archie Savage dance group added much to the sparkle and gayety of the USO picnic on Sunday afternoon at So. Park. The affair was a real success. That sweet and hot swing band from Port Hueneme was on hand to give out with the latest tunes in their own swing-sational style. (Note: Please be advised that I borrowed that adjective 'swing-sational" from my worthy colleague, J. T. Gipson. Hope you don't mind, Jay.)

Orchids to that tireless USO volunteer woreker, Mrs. Naomi Booker, wife of the physician, Dr. Arthur J. Booker. She is constantly at her post and never seems to grow weary of her job.

Considering what the well-dressed man is wearing today, it seems to be a toss-up between them as to who looks best in his uniform—Ensign Bill Barker of the U.S. Marines, or Capt. Alex Boldin of the American Red Cross service division. Had the pleasure of greeting them both last week as they arrived to spend their leave in the Angel City. Speaking of angels—One seems to be pretty popular around the city: When Bill Amory, USN. came in town on his leave, he was a guest of Jerry Mann at dinner; when Capt. Alex Boldin arrived, he and Jerry Mann took in the theatre, had dinner, and went night-clubbing afterwards; and when S/Sgt. George Pendleton arrived from the Tuskegee Air Base on Sunday, Jerry Mann, as usual, was one of the first persons he called to see. Well, we can't say the young lady isn't doing her part to keep up the morale.

Popular Leontyne Taylor and Cadet Clifton Russell became "Mr. and Mrs." on Thursday night last. Congratulations, my dears!

O course, as you would know, without my telling you, Lena Horne is 'knocking 'em dead' at Chicago's swank Chez Paree.

In closing, may I offer my personal congratulations to Miss Lena Edwards and her associate, DeVere, for their outstanding contribution to the California Eagle and the community-at-large, this week, in the introduction of the Rotogravure section in our paper. Good luck to them. Until next week, friends, I'll say again, so long.

Kelson Jr., John Kelson, Jr.

BRIDAL COUPLE—The popular Sgt. and Mrs. Ernest Holloway, who took their vows at Saint Phillips Episcopal Church last Thursday evening August 9, at seven o'clock. The bride is the former Miss Phyllis Kelson, who attended UCLA, where she resided on campus. She is a member of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority of which she was past Basilius. Sgt. Kelson-Holloway Nuptials An Important Social Event

By Jessie Mae Brown

Saint Phillips Episcopal Church was the scene of an impressive military wedding on Wednesday, August 9, when Miss Phyllis Maudine Kelson plighted her troth to Sergeant Ernest Holloway. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. John Kelson, was beautiful in a traditional white satin gown with flowing train, her illusion veil of fingertip length was held in place by white seed pearl leaves. In keeping with the customary "something old, something new," she wore a dainty lavalier at her throat, a family heirloom, a gift from her mother. Her bouquet was of white bovardia, gladioli, and orchids made in the shape of a pom-pom; special design of Mrs. Mary Grimes and Mrs. Windsor.

The Matron of Honor, Mrs. John Kelson, Jr., wore a beautiful yellow gown with matching veil hair piece, her bouquet was of pink Talisman roses.

Bridesmaids were dressed in popular late summer shades: Misses Jean Brown in rich gold, Puffy Houston in a scintillating blue, and Bobby Dean Dennis in delicate pink. They wore dainty dutch crowns, matching their gowns and their bouquets were of gladioli.

John Kelson, Jr., served as best man, Ronald Williams and Cpl. Dewey Wineburgh were attendants. The ceremony was solemnized by Father Moore.

Villa Arlington, Reception Setting

The wedding reception immediately followed the services, in the Old California setting of Villa Arlington. Mrs. Myrtle Holloway, who traveled from Sacramento, California, to witness her son's marriage, stood in the receiving line with the wedding party and the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelson.

Serving from the handsomely appointed table centered by a beautiful wedding cake and tapers, were lovely members of Kappa chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority, of which Phyllis is a member. The popular young couple received many exquisite gifts, a tribute of the high esteem in which the family is held.

Honeymooning at Lake Tahoe

With a two weeks leave from the armed forces, the Sergeant took his bride to beautiful Lake Tahoe where a perfect honeymoon is being spent. On returning to the city, Ernest will report for duty and Phyllis will resume her activities in Los Angeles for the duration, upon which she will move into her new home in Sacramento, California, where Ernest is a successful chiropodist.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

In the shining circle of Los Angeles' Younger Set, weddings and more weddings have taken the spot light. Leontyne Taylor and Clifton Russel's high school romance was made final when they said their I do's in the beautiful garden setting of the Taylor S. Hobart home. The ceremony was strictly military, and the vows were taken under a little white arch in the familiar setting of the play house where "sis" use to give those unforgetable parties. Beautifully dressed in a pale blue bolero suit, topped by a large white hat, and carrying a bouquet of bovardia and gardenias she marched on the arm of her father while the organ played the familiar wedding march. Her sole attendant was Paulette Coleman, who wore a suit in darker blue, topped with a little dutch hat, and her bouquet was of pink talsmen roses and white bovardia. Clifton's best man was his school chum, Norwood Lewis. Rev. Clayton Russell officiated at the ceremony.

Immediately following the vow taking the reception was held. The table was beautifully arranged by a top knotch caterer and had as its centerpiece a large white wedding cake. The handsome couple received many congrats and lovely gifts. By the way, Sgt. Al Duvall and several other local gents stationed with Rip returned to camp last Saturday. Sis, however, is remaining in the city.

CELEBRATING

Furloughing, birthdaying, and welcoming were motives for the many affairs held last week. The surprise party honoring Jean Watkins' birthday was first on the calendar, being held Thursday night at Camilles Party Den. Her many friends were on hand to yell "surprise" at the right time. Took note of Anna LaCale Price and hubby Joel, who is enjoying several weeks of furlough in the States. Lt. Jackie Robinson also furloughing. Other guests included Corinne Jones and Bal Kemp, whose mother gave the affair, Weni Allen, Marcella Monore, Mary and Jean Williams, Jane Hampton, Heroldine Browning, Jessel Ried, Bruce Sheffield, Jack and Joe Terry, Clara Fentress, Theron Kirk having a gay time with the subs and the debs. Jean received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Saturday night, Gloria Roberts honored furloughing couz, Elmer Roberts, with a gay get-together. The gang had fun and loads of it dancing to Gloria's fine collection of records. By the way, the sailors were on hand by the dozen, so Elmer felt quite at home in his uniform. Jessel Ried starred as she did a bit of tripping with the light fantastics. Gennard Worhams had the time of her life, seeing to it that the service men had a grand time. Roy Hart and Harriet Kelley enjoyed the punch, along with Ann Cunningham and Lula Green. Elmer spent most of his dances with Connie Monore as usual. All in the affair was definitely on the ball. By the way, he reported for his station in the heart of the southland Monday morning. Gay party, fine time.

From the Roberts party we trekked over to Charlesetta Strange's home, where her couz Myrtle honored her with a gay party. All of her buddies were there to make the welcome back from New York a solid one. Half the dances were spent to the tune of Cecil Gants. "I wonder," Charlesetta says she loved New York, Chi, and all the other cities and only has plans for going back soon. By the way, actually seeing what the South has to offer, she has definitely made up her mind to do bigger things in the Youth Council of which she is a popular member.

MORE VOW TAKING

Sarah Palode made a very beautiful bride, Sunday afternoon, when she and Cpl. Ray Poterfield said their "I do's." The ceremony was held at Wards Chapel, AME Church, and was well attended by younger setters.

SUB-DEB GROUP

The early teen-agers have been enjoying summer time and easy living. Last Saturday night, at the home of Thedore Washington, the "Dashing Deb," new club, gave a farewell party in honor of Virginia Gittens who departed for Wyoming where she will visit her grandmother and enjoy life on a 1000-acre ranch. Among those present were Weldina Hefflin, Dorothy Williams, Doloris Wlker, Nona Hindrew, Jenecia Boggs and a host of others.

WELL, WELL, WELL!

Sammie Gravley's training at Asbury Park, N. J., is rapidly drawing to a close. In two weeks he will enter Columbia University where he will complete his months of long study towards becoming an ensign. Of course we are still pulling for him.... My, my, he hasn't changed a single bit. ...Chatter still has it that the Rachell Isom-Jackie Robinson engagement is off. How true I can't say.... The Bob Carrols are back from that fascinating Mexico honeymoon....In looking younger setters over recently, have seen none looking better than Renna Clarke and Paulette Dejoie in their summer fur trim. By the way, Euvolda Morris' reptile bag is definitely an eye catcher. . . . Hariette Kelley's pleasing smile is winning its way to many a heart now days. ...Adding another candle this month is Maethilde Kenner, Joe Knight, and Ruth West. Many happy returns of the day, chums.

...Chatter has been brewing over the annual Kappas Black and White formal, hoping that it will come off as usual....The Doll Leaguers also have something on the ball in a big way for the near future....Catherine Stanaslaus is infanticipating. She has returned to the city in wait for the new arrival.

Hear that Deloris Benie is doing a little serious talk on joining up with Uncle Sam's Wacs. ...Phyllis Hoxie blew in town quietly last week. The trip was so quick and slick she was only able to byz a few of her buddies. ...Jayne Criner's perkie little hats and her feathery hair style certainly serve as eye catchers. ...The Ernest Holloways are off to Lake Tahoe for a two-week honeymoon. Hey now . . . Marion Henderson (student nurse) has definite plans made for taking up study at UCLA when she completes her training at the General in February. By now, AKA Gloria Ford is just about used to her new room in the Y-House on the UCLA campus. By the way, Ernie Mae Maxey, who is still enjoying the life of a camp head, will return in the fall semester to take up residence at the house where she is quite an old-timer....Albertyne Strong entertained with a dinner party last Sunday afternoon. Gwen Harris is back in town after spending a super vacation at Murray's Dude Ranch.

USO Picnic Attracts 3000 at South Park

Over 3000 people jammed into South Park at 51st street and Avalon Blvd., Sunday afternoon and enjoyed one of the most successful picnics ever held in a Los Angeles public park. The affair, sponsored by the entire Los Angeles community including churches, volunteers of the Avalon USO, the AWVS, and the Hollywood Canteen provided both food and entertainment to uniformed servicemen throughout the afternoon.

Canteen groups under the direction of Mrs. Walter Gordon, Executive Chairman, Mrs. Josephine Brown, Hospital Chairman, and Mrs. Ethel Atkinson and Cornelia Robertson, Canteen Chairman, and the Kappa Mothers, served food to the servicemen, while individual soliders were invited to share in many basket lunches.

Entertainment for the afternoon was furnished by Archie Savage and his Rhumba Dance group from the Vanguard Theatre in Hollywood, Marie Bryant in her famous "Canteen Number;" Mable Scott who stopped the show with her "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy of Company "B" number;" Miss Clara Lewis, well-known pianist with a boogie-woogie specialty; and Miss Loretta Butler and her Ten Little Kiddies.

The 29th Special Service Band from Port Hueneme, furnished dance music for afternoon.

Prior to the formal entertainment, hundreds of the servicemen and girls entered into various races and obstacle games that provided fun for spectators as well as participants. The games were programmed by Jimmie Robinson, USO Administrative Assistant with the help of Don Derricks, Ernest Bendy, Roy Andrews, Jack Terry, and William Luke. Scalp Treatments

There are many hair and scalp conditions, each of which requires a certain type of treatment, corrective materials, and continuous care, according to the condition of the hair.

They are described under the heading of oily hair, dandruff, dry hair, etc. You apply the needed ointment or reconditioner over the scalp, down the hair to the very ends, then after careful combing, you manipulate the underlying tissues.

Manipulate with the palms of the hands until loosened. This home care helps the professional to keep the hair in a healthy condition. No one set of treatments is of course useful for all cases. The scalp must be studied and a treatment planned for the particular case by a professional.

Home care should consist of brushing and pulling, not to the point of irritation, for hair and scalp treating are necessary for successful hair dressing.

After the summer months which cause the hair to become dry, brittle, streaked, and faded, the hair is left in a limp condition. Such hair refuses to wave or curl without reconditioning treatments. Hair is like the skin of the body: it becomes dry and parched from the sun and the wind, and needs toning up. The public desires from the professionals — not dry, brittle hair without luster, but glossy, vibrant, healthy hair full of life and electricity.

Mrs. Woolford has been credited with one of the finest performances of the year as the result of her acting in this picture.

Race Does Not Determine Men and Women of Genius

It is a good thing for us to bear in mind that it is often the little things in life that count most. Yet what poor knowledge we possess of these little matters. The hair upon our heads is a common-place thing, but we know very little as to what it signifies. All kinds of claims have been put forward, some seemingly preposterous. The white races in the majority would have us believe that they are perfection on earth and that black-haired people of the darker races regardless of skin color are inferior to them. Inferior in intellect, in art and in all that goes to make up what men term civilization. Is there any scientific truth in such a claim? Man's hair is the most outstanding characteristic he possesses. It is the criterion of races according to its color, its shape, its straightness or its curls. We are supposed to determine more or less accurately the race to which a particular man belongs and what the coloring of his skin, eyes and hair has to do with his ability or achievements.

I think all men regardless of race, or color possess the same qualities or abilities but in various degrees. Some are above others and this is what we call ability or genius. To my way of thinking the color of a man's skin, eyes or hair has nothing to do with one's being classed as a genius. If mental ability keeps pace with determination then our men and women, whether of white parents or colored, must be par-excellent in their own rights to become geniuses.

Certain scientific writers and educators say that our greatest men, poets, soldiers and its men of science, its explorers and preachers, and the world's great thinkers are the offsprings of white mothers and fathers and they are furnished with the bulk of brains.

I am too young and know too little about life to offer a solution to this history but to my mind a genius is one who has inventive and creative ability and natural talent. I would like to select men and women whom the world holds up as geniuses as to their achievements and qualities such as Dr. George Washington Carver, Mary McLeod Bethune, Booker T. Washington, James Weldon Johnson, Paul R. Williams, A. Clayton Powell, Dr. W. E. DuBois, Dr. Leonard Stovall, Dr. Sadie Mossel Alexander, Madam C. J. Walker, Marion Anderson and Dorothy Maynor.

WHY BE A "BRUNETTE" BECAUSE YOUR SKIN IS BROWN?

Have you ever thought of tinting, bleaching, or dyeing your hair?—Or, are you still old-fashioned enough to think that only "hussies" do such things?

Our fairer sisters have been changing the color of their hair to suit the seasons and their current heart-throbs for centuries—with impunity—and added beauty! Since we straighten, wave, and curl our hair to look like theirs, why not follow through to our own advantage by adding color?

That "a woman's hair is her crowning glory" is an age old truth. Just because your skin is dark is no reason your "crown" must be "ebony," is it?

Poets have written immortal sonnets about their "Jeannie's light-brown hair," or Isoldo's "jet-black hair," and Cleopatra's "titian tresses." Variety is the spice of life, so they—and a poet knows!

Why not add a little "spice" to your potential glamour?

If your skin is fair, the contrast of dark, or black is lovely. Keep it that way.—But if your skin is dark—your eyes dark—and your hair is dark—!

Very few Negroes have "jet-black" hair. When the sun shines on a Negro's hair, the tints and gleams are organgey-red, a derivative of brown. If the hair were black, the "highlights" would be blue!

Cleopatra knew this, therefore she bleached her so-called "black hair a soft-hued, "titian-red." With her creamy brown complexion, the effect was so striking that the Roman Empire declared a holiday.

While it might not change the course of the war if you tint, dye, or bleach your hair (whichever it needs)—you WILL have a new lease on life, and a sparkle and "oomph" that dull, uninteresting "black" hair can never give you together with brown skin.

Let us help you determine whether your hair should be tinted, dyed or bleached—or left alone! You'll probably be surprised to know that very few women are too dark to have hair that can be TRULY a "crowning glory"!

"SWEETHEART"—Miss Gertie Lee Jeffery has recently been selected by members of Company A, 1316th Engineer Regiment, at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, as their "Desert Sweetheart." Miss Jeffery is a glamorous leading lady of a USO show, now playing in Orlando, Florida.

Kilgore: The Peoples' Bill Must Not Be Defeated!

Two bills concerning the reconversion of war time production to that of peacetime, are now being debated in the United States Congress. The one bill is called the Kilgore-Truman-Murray bill, which embodies the wishes of President Roosevelt concerning all soldiers discharged from service and all defense workers who will lose their jobs when war materials—airplanes, trucks, jeeps, ammunition, guns, etc. are no longer needed. The other bill, the George bill ,embodies the desires of the reactionaries of both the South and the North, the Dewey-Hoovers who think primarily of property and not of human beings.

The George bill has already passed the U. S. Senate. The Kilgore bill was rejected there. The fight is on now in the U. S. House of Representatives, and we must do our utmost to see that the Kilgore bill, not the George bill, is adopted there.

The Kilgore bill provides for an overall planning authority through which industry would be returned to its peacetime pursuits without any of the horrors of unemployment to the workers in those industries. While the transition was being made, and swords were being beaten into plowshares, workers who were temporarily jobless would receive jobless benefits amounting to 75% of their former pay ,with a maximum of $35 per week. Both service men and workers would be given an opportunity for training in a vocation of their choosing, with a maintenance of from $50 to $100 per month, according to the number of dependents. War veterans would receive a mustering-out pay of from $200 to $300, also rated according to the number of dependents. This provision would be extended for two years after the war ends.

The anti-New Deal Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, is the author of the George bill. It is supported by Republican Senators Taft, of Ohio, and Vandenberg of Michigan. They argue "states' rights" in support of their piece of legislation. (Who ever heard of a Republican being in favor of "states" rights" before this?) The George bill would leave the entire unemployment program to the states, with the provision that the Federal government might lend money to the states for unemployment compensation if asked to do so. The handling of the money however, and the say-so as to who should have it and how much would be left entirely to the states .

It is heart-breaking to think that this nefarious bill has already passed the Senate, and that the liberal ,humane Kilgore bill was defeated. But we must work all the harder to see that the situation is reversed in the House of Representatives. Our New-Deal Congressmen depend upon us to raise a stormy demand for the Kilgore bill. If it is adopted in the House instead of the George bill, it will be sent to the Senate and there those reactionaries of both South and North, who are making a phony plea for "states' rights" will be forced to think of human rights instead of property rights, of men and women who comprise the state, instead of an imaginary "state" that exists only in their minds.

When Thomas Dewey, Republican candidate for president, was asked his opinion of the two bills, he refused to comment directly upon either. Instead, he said that steps must be taken to see that all companies are paid properly for any loss they might sustain, and that government machinery and raw materials should be cleared from all plants as speedily as possible.

There you have the Hoover-Dewey mentality in its essence. Always placing property rights first! Human rights second! In the Hoover-Dewey eyes unemployment is a necessary part of "free enterprise." Workers threatened with hunger will work for almost nothing. And so they, the exponents of free enterprise, of rugged individualism, can make greater profits, can live in greater luxury, while thousands, even millions, of workers go hungry.

The opponents of the Kilgore bill point to the taxes it would involve. But they say nothing of the tax refunds guaranteed to corporations for two post-war years, while they are making the transition from war to peace. These corporations may draw on the United States treasury to the tune of $28,000,000.000 for that purpose. But in their eyes the soldier who fought that their precious property might be preserved, the workingman who toiled long hours in defense plants to provide the means for that fight, these should receive nothing from their government.

As Vice-President Wallace so aptly expressed it: "If we can do these things in war time, (providing employment for all) why can we not do the same thing in time of peace?"

Write to your senators and representatives and urge them to support the Kilgore bill and defeat the George bill. And remember to vote on November 7 for those Senators and representatives who will support President Roosevelt in all his humane measures for the reconversion of wartime industries to peacetime industries. Vote for another and an even better New Deal than we had in 1932.

A Call To Property Owners

Property owners pay taxes and spend money on the upkeep of their property. Most of the home owners in Los Angeles take pride in keeping their properties up to the so-called standard which means neat, clean, etc.

As a property owner I pay taxes and I don't grumble about it, but for the life of me I can't see why one or some individual property owners who take the same kind of pride in their homes that I take in mine and pay taxes on the same basis as I pay should lay down a law according to so-called residential restrictions policy which says that certain people can't live in certain places.

This week the Southwest Wave printed a direct appeal to racial prejudice in an article inviting all proptry owners in the area from Slauson to Manchester Avenues and from Figueroa to Central Avenue who are interested in keeping race restrictions in the vicinity intact to join a Property Owners Protective Association. Petitions were being circulated this week.

Under the leadership of H. Carleton Dye, President, 443 E. 73rd St. ,a meeting was called for Friday evening, August 18, at 7317½ South San Pedro. Mr. Dye and his followers who would lay down a law saying who should and who should not live in certain sections of the city have been encouraged in this sort of thing because of various decisions handed down by judges presiding over our courts.

It seems to me that only men well versed in the laws of the land and with a clear understanding of the Constitution of the United States should be entrusted with the power of making decisions that effect the life, liberty, and well-being of their fellow citizens. I sat in Julge Emmet H. Wilson's court a few weeks ago where the Boilermakers' Jim Crow case was tried, and I must say that Judge Wilson's decision in this case was a let down for me in view of the facts presented. But that is neither here nor there; the time has come when we, the people, who are being shoved around by these residential restrictions must act — and act quickly and decisively!

The California Eagle is calling upon the Eastside property owners to come to a meeting at 41st and Central Avenue Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. We must intelligently, without fanfare ,combat these restrictions which in this case back right against Central Avenue.

Many of these judges who make these decisions against us are voted into office by us. We can in some measure prevent this: Remember their names when we see them on the ballot and fail to put an "X" by them. Remember our vote-selling politicians who peddle political measures for a price. Remember that President Roosevelt gave us a Housing Authority to make it possible for all people to procure adequate housing without restrictions. Of course, the president could not personally supervise the housing management. In many cases the persons in charge of Federal Housing Projects have injected their own Jim Crow ideas into a program designed to alleviate conditions created in some measure by such short-sighted ideas.

We still have a fighting chance. We may stop the war, but we will not win it anywhere in the world until bigotry and race prejudice shall have been driven from the earth. Residential restrictions are a by-product of racial discrimination —so, let's organize against it.

"LICK THE PLATTER CLEAN!"

W. J. Wheaton Says—

STATE RIGHTS: The Bourbon South is using every conceivable means to circumvent the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court giving the right of franchise to Negroes. The slogan of "States Rights" is one of its most potent weapons. That was the red herring which was thrown across the trail when the Absentee Soldiers vote was up for consideration. Then comes the Murray-Kilgore measure vs. the George bill, and with the unholy alliance of Republican senators, the George measure, giving the states authority to compensate workers and veterans for unemployment periods, was passed.

The South Fought Hard

It was readily understood why the South fought so hard to defeat Federal voting bill. It would give the absent Negroes from that section a vote that could be counted. It is the same with the compensation act: There will be discrimination in the payments and Negroes will be on the short end. Yet some of us can not see the "Forest for the Trees." We are so intrigued with an outdated label that certain facts are obscured.

Promises, for the past fifty years have been made, only to be broken. Honeyed words and pats on the back. . . . A job to some Negro to keep his mouth shut . . . and the masses are forgot. We would rather know that the common folk: The folk that Lincoln knew and loved, were uppermost in mind. Keep your tab on the Republican legislators who combine with and play into the hands of the rabid race baiters.

Half Slave — Half Free

Those barnacles on the Ship of Progress. If Lincoln were living today he would be proud to wear the label of democracy. Did he not proclaim that "No nation could survive half slave and half free' 'Is that not the essence of true democracy? No minority group can afford to swap a fact for a promise, and this Administration has made its enemies because of its championship of the minority groups. Let us not be fooled by a promise.

Looking over the record of Senator Truman, Vice-Presidential nominee, a Democrat, we find that he has consistently voted for cloture and the repeal of the Poll-Tax. Look at the voting record of some Republicans; Robert Taft (Ohio) for instance. Many others could be mentioned.

Name Calling

COMMUNISM: What a hulabaloo they are making of that word. Do a bit of thinking contrary to the other fellow and immediately you are branded a Communist; Fascist and even a Nazi. That is the smear. . . . If smear it can be called . . . that the proponents of the Dewey ideology are endeavoring place. Pick up a Hearst paper and you will see, in every other line of its editorial Communism in capital letters. Every citizen in this country, and in some other countries, know just what the Hearst publications stand for. When the late Arthur Brisbane, Hearst star reporter, went to Italy on a visit, he was most profuse in his laudation of Mussolini and his ideals of government. His Boss made a trip abroad also. Most of us remember the incident resulting from that trip. It was not a very pleasant one. That is if we remember aright: The late Brisbane lauded Facism, the Hearst publications seek to befog factual issues with the injection of Communism. Not only is the asserted demon of Communism being injected into the political campaigns, but there is a trend to sow seeds of fear in our national life.

Wise Guy

At a recent luncheon of the Commonwealth Club a guest speaker, who claimed to have a greater knowledge of the Soviet government, and the Russian people, than most of us, gave a "Calamity Jane" picture of what we might expect from that government after this war. Just like Hitler, he sought to sow the seed of dissension by alleging that Russia had evil designs on your Uncle Samuel and that we had better look out for the "Big Bad Bear." The quote is my own:

Restriction

HOUSING: Sunday, Aug. 13th. This date was set for a mass meeting to discuss the housing problem as it affects San Francisco. There is a problem. It is engendered by the prevalence of the Residential provision in certain districts of the city. For years we have fought against these provisions. Some years ago there were strenuous methods made by real estate interests to prevent the occupation of a building by the Booker T. Washington Community Service Center on Divisadero St. The Center won out: But with the influx of war workers the problem again became acute.

It is alleged that certain Negro real estate interests are, somwhat responsible for present conditions. Of that we have no knowledge. But it is hoped that the meeting did not fall of results. We hope, also that it was not a meeting to orate; resolve; adjourn; and go home and forget. The Carpe Delm club was one of the sponsors and we feel assured that those young ladies did their part in the settling. of any serious questions that arose. It takes the women to do the things that count.

Times Whipping Up A Riot

The Los Angeles Times has certainly gone out of its way lately to stir up racial strife.

In an article reporting a fight at Fifth and Main streets between two Negroes and two baseball players, William Derflinger and Gene Holt, of Seattle, the Times spoke of the Negro boys as "zoot-suiters."

Of course we in no way minimize the gravity of street-fighting. But to be called "zoot-suiters" by as responsible a newspaper as the Times, or that claims to be responsible, does not help the situation in our eyes.

In another instance, in reporting the hearing held by the President's Fair Employment Practices Committee concerning the employment of Negroes by the Los Angeles Railway Company, the Times referred to the statement made by the Most-Rev. Joseph T. McGucken in such a trifling manner that the Catholic Interracial Council of Los Angeles protested it. The Council said the statements of the Times were by no means adequate to those Bishop McGucken had made.

Bishop McGucken made the following points: that he did not believe the public would object to Negro street-car operators any more than they object to Negro Pullman porters "who have established for themselves an enviable record for efficiency and honesty"; that he believed "the employment of Negroes on the cars would do much to ease racial tension that now exists in Los Angeles," and that he was confident "an intelligent approach to this problem, combined with some public education in tolerance, will give us better transportation, contribute to the war effort and help dissipate the racial tensions that have caused no small degree of alarm in Los Angeles."

The Times had reported the Bishop's statement in only about three or four lines, and did not give the gist of what he had said at all. We commend the Catholic Interracial Council for calling the attention of that newspapet to its misstatement.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

A PHONY PROPOSITION

The Merchants and Manufacturers of Los Angeles have won the first round in their fight to have a post-war free-for-all with the profits falling into their treasuries. They visualize a labor market glutted with a wealth of disorganized peting against each other for the barest of workers comminimum salaries. They are unwilling to continue the fair working hours and wage standards built through the efforts of organized labor and maintained by the War Labor Board and the Labor Relations Board, so they have taken steps to bust the unions by promoting a catch-all constitutional amendment which they hope will pass because of its deceptive description. They call it the "Right To Work Amendment," and they pretend that its purpose is to give every man the opportunity to work where he pleases without his having to join a labor union.

John M. Lee

It is not necessary to pass a constitutional amendment to give a worker the right to work, but it is necessary to support and strengthen labor unions if that right is to carry with it something of enduring benefit to the worker. Those men and women who are outside the ranks of organized labor must be reminded that the wage scales and conditions under which they work have been improved for them because organized labor spent sweat and blood to defeat combinations like the Merchants and Manufacturers who built their profits on the broken lives of the men in whose memory labor was organized.

Should this amendment, which will appear on the ballots as "Proposition Number 12" pass, it will seriously affect the future economic welfare of every man and women who works. It will throw the balance of power on the side of the unscrupulous employers and destroy the equity that has existed in employer-employee relationships and dealings. Reconversion and post-war planning will have little meaning in California if the safeguards and strength of labor are destroyed by this phony proposition. With a labor market which is already potentially broader than the demand, weakened through the death of full union protection, it will be simple for the unprincipled employer to introduce an era of exploitation that will put all past instances to shame.

Negro workers, union or otherwise, should mobilize for the defeat of Proposition Number 12, since the in-migration of Negroes to this state has been so heavy as to indicate that in many cases, their coming has been inspired as the ground work in a move to build a cheap, exploited labor market.

Reports have it that the Joint Political Action Group of the AFL will endorse Supervisor McDonough as their candidate against Hal Styles in the 1st Congressional District. Styles, if you like studies in inconsistency, had the AFL blessing when he made history by defeating cock-sure, reactionary Congressman Costello in the primaries; McDonough was endorsed for re-election as Supervisor. Both candidates were extolled and AFL political act on just squeezed itself purple because it was tickled to have two such wonderful candidates.

Things have changed now. The boys suddenly remembered that Hal Styles has never been a Congressman, and they aren't be sure how he'd vote on labor. Besides, McDonough has wanted to go to

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

The other night I listened to the 'man who predicts the news" on the radio. He was quite perturbed about the Philadelphia Transit strike, as was every honest American. He 'predicted" that investigation would be held to determined the "disruptive forces" responsible for the strike.

I don't claim to be clairvoyant, but before the Philadelphia situation, I "predicted" that should such a strike take place in any city in the country, it would be the work of the "Fifth Column."

In a discussion with Mrs. Banks on my trip from Washington, D. C. to New York we talked about the Capitol Transit Company and their un-American attitude in hiring workers. Mrs. Banks, a Negro woman, resident of Washington for 16 years, expressed the opinion that "Capitol Transit does not hire Negroes because the whites would refuse to work with them." I am quite sure the company gave that as their reason. But, it is not the truth.

Some years ago, the New York bus companies gave that as their reason for discrimination. The people of New York defied them. Today Negroes drive the buses, work in the subways and hold other positions similar to whites.

Los Angeles can take its lesson from Philadelphia. The LARY has fooled around long enough with it stupid excuses. They can no longer hold out. They may as well give in now, because they will have to do it eventually. Hitler's little boys in America have done enough damage and the people are getting awfully mad.

I sat in the subway in New York while the Philadelphia strike was on. I listened to the people talk about it. They didn't like the idea. "It disrupts the war effort"—those were the words on everyone's lips. "I don't believe it," said one young girl to her friend "what difference does it make who drives a bus or a train, as long as we get to work. People can't be that stupid. I wonder just what caused the strike!"

It is difficult for the average American to believe that we have native fascists. They are as deadly as any that Hitler or Tojo made. They worship the ground that Hitler walks on. They will go to any lengths to save their "Feuhrer" from destruction.

Let's not underestimate our enemies at home. They work very systematically—they are very shrewd. While they stir up a strike in Philadelphia, causing innocent people to fall prey to their vicious machinations, they have their henchmen working on our Armed Forces.

I came clear through the country. I talked to hundreds of G. I's. The propaganda that is fed them by the Fifth Column is almost unbelievable. Every time these traitors cause a stoppage in the war industries, they tell the soldiers "their people are selling them out." They blame our President, the trade unions and every organization that stands for Unity.

We can be thankful that Franklin D. Roosevelt is President of the United States. We can be thankful that there is a CIO. Our Commander-in-Chief praised the CIO for their service to the war effort. It wasn't the Philadelphia Transit Company who issued a call for the workers to go back to their jobs—it was the CIO. It wasn't the PTC who denounced race prejudice and every form of discrimination—it was the CIO.

Our President has never let us down during this war crisis. He has taken every situation in hand. He has done his utmost to give every American the kind of Democracy he deserves. What are we doing to help him? Whether it is the LARY, the Capitol Transit or the PTC, we must raise our voices and cry out against those Hitler tactics.

Let's remember the kind of President we have now—when we go to the polls in November. If it's Democracy you want—it's Roosevelt you want!

THE PULPIT VOICE

Conducted by

REV. HAMILTON T. BOSWELL

Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist Church

(This column is conducted regularly by Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell, M.Th., pastor of Bowen Memorial Methodist Church. Mr. Boswell is spending his vacation in Portland, Ore. Last Sunday he preached at the A.M.E. church in Portland, and this Sunday he speaks at the First Methodist Church there, one of the largest Caucasian churches there. During his absence this column is conducted by his assistant at Bowen, Wm. H. Stevens, Jr.)

One of the unique projects sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies this summer is the project being conducted in South Los Angeles in the Housing Projects and School Playgrounds and Parks there. The Co-ordinating Council of South Los Angeles is backing the project. A most enlightening session was held in the last C.C. meeting. The council was in the process of determining the events of the closing program. Mr. Walt Giles of the 109th St. Playground was presiding. Mrs. Jean Riffe of the Y.W.C.A. was there as were Mrs. Johnson of Hacienda Village and Imperial Courts, Mr. Hardman and assistant of Jordan Downs, Mrs. Miller of Pueblo Lane, Mr. Shoemaker and Mr. Gutterson. Father Fergus of the Capuchin Catholic Church was there and Rev. Hicks of St. John's Methodist Church.

Clarence Mackey, in charge of the baseball program, made a most promising report as to the growing social responsibility of the boys in his charge. Mrs. Winifred Keating who is heading the Council of Social Agencies program, outlined its project and mentioned some of her willing workers, Mr. Santana being a shining exmaple of local talent.

The Council was planning a closing program for a Sunday afternoon. They were wondering how the Church would react. Just a short while ago the Church had been so hostile to so many of the Council's plans. It was most unique and most promising to see Rev. Hicks make the motion and Father Fergus second a resolution to carry out the worthy program of the Co-ordinatin Council. Here we have seen enlightened Social Groups working hand in hand with a united and enlightened church, planning for the community's welfare. Responsive, socially aware citizens, and young people growing into responsible, neighborly-minded citizens, interested in and proud of their community will most assuredly be inspired toward continued development. We are learning to work, play, pray and live together.

Bishop Eddie R. Driver Passes

Bishop Driver, Founder, Organizer and Builder of the Church of God in Christ in the State of California, departed this life August 9, 1944 at 11:05 P. M. The parting of Bishop Driver is a tremendous shock to the state and church world. He came to California over 30 years ago and established churches throughout the state, with headquarters in Los Angeles, California, where he lyied and died. Under his leadership as the state executive, more than 35 churches were organized and built in the state. Not only was he known for his ability to organize and build churches, but was also known as a civic leader and a humanitarian. He was the father of four boys, two of which are now Pastor and Assistant Pastor of the mother church which he founded and organized, and two are successful prominent businessmen of this city. He leaves to mourn his death a wife, four sons of this state, many other relatives and a host of friends. Funeral services will be held at the Church of God in Christ located at 1460 E. 20th Street, Los Angeles, Thursday, August 17, 1944 at 12 noon. The body lay in state at the church Wednesday noon until time of the funeral, in order that his many friends could view the body. Conner-Johnson Co. in charge.

SINGS TO BENEFIT COLLEGE—Pictured above are Marion Jackson Downs, lyric soprano, wife of President Karl E. Downs, and her accompanist, Miss Frances Walker, music department, who are traveling in the interest of Samuel Houston College. They appeared last Sunday evening at the First Methodist Church in sacred concert where an offering of over $1500.00 was received for the school.

SONG WRITER AND AUTHOR—Parker Scott who is the author of the article "Renegades" which appears in this issue, and who has written a religious song entitled "The Wonderful Works of God."

The Renegades Must Be Destroyed, Says Writer on Religion

By Parker Scott
Spiritual Song Composer and Veteran of World War Number One

Anyone wishing to secure a copy of his numbers, ring CEntury 2-3054. The latest—"The Wonderful Works of God."

In the analysis of this subject one must first know what the word Renegade means and where such a character as a Renegade got it's origin. The first Renegade in the world known from the Bible was Cain. When he renegaded against God, when he sold out to Lucifer by the offering of fruit instead of the proper offering. In Genesis 4:4 it reads: "But unto Cain and unto his offering He had not respect, and Cain was very wroth and his countenance fell.

In the Webster's dictionary it reads: "Renegade—one who disregards principle or an opstate." Balaam the bible prophet was such a character, when he went out to curse Israel for king of Moab, but God did not let Balaam carry out his plan as it says in Numbers 21:22. When the tribes of Israel warred against Moab all of the kings of Moab were slain and Balaam was slain also for trying to sell out Israel as it says in Numbers 31:8.

Nations like India, Africa and China where exploition and slavery once reigned throwing the country and it's people into a degenerating state. All of this was the results of a renegade domininon over them.

During the days of 49, the days of the Gold Rush to California, there was practically no law for a man was his own law but there were some who called themselves officers of the law, but gave the people practically no protection at all, letting the renegades run the country, poluting the people with robbery and unjustifiable acts. It was renegade white men who sold the Indians guns to fight Custer. Custer and his whole command was massacred in '49 at Little Big Horn in the State of Wyoming but the bullets from the rifles of the Federals ended the lives of a number of these renegades but according to history it was not until the organizing of the Vigilantes that the Renegades were obliterated.

In the days of slavery it was renegade characters who manned the boats that broat the slaves over to United States. When they saw a British war ship approaching, to hide the evidence they would chain the slaves and throw them overboard. So we see that a renegade has no principle, no character and regards no one, only the money he gets out of his unjustifiable acts. Some of these renegades have made huge sums of money but only for themselves, having no interest in the welfare or construction of the nation or the people.

Jesus Christ was an example of character of which man should be, but Cain was not a good character and had no principle, that is why he offered up fruit instead of a lamb. Balaam lost his life by loving money too much. There was no justice in '49 till the Renegades were cleaned out all up and down the line. After the Renegades were wiped out California grew and has become one of the richest states in the union. The people have prospered. Many have inherited the wealth from their fore-parents of the '49 days. But any nation or people who will tolerate the renegade characters in leadership or in their groups will find themselves always looking for justice and justice will have fled from them.

REVIVAL CLOSES

On Sunday, August 13, a most colorful Revival Service came to a close at First AME Church in Pasadena. Climaxing a two-weeks series of evangelistic services, the speaker, Evangelist Annie M. Thompson, delivered two inspiring closing messages.

One of the highlights of the revival was the Annual Women's Day Service, observed recently.

This is Pastor Dames' fifth annual closing before the Annual Conference which convenes August 30 in Los Angeles. Since coming to Pasadena, he has been instrumental in paying off a mortgage of 17 years standing on the church property.

Pilgrim Baptist Church Services

All Pilgrimites and friends enjoyed a wonderful treat last Sunday as they listened to Rev. A. T. Inman, who delivered the 11:00 o'clock message. His subject was "The Glory of the Gospel of Jesus in a Changing World." Rev. Inman is pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Muskogee, Oklahoma, and one of the leading ministers of that city.

At the evening service, the Gospel Choir rendered a wonderful song service, climaxed by the farewell sermon of Rev. Perry Pilgrim who left Tuesday morning for Indianapolis, Indiana. The spirit of the Lord spoke to Rev. Pilgrim and said "go." We are praying for Rev. and Mrs. Pilgrim a safe and enjoyable trip as they travel through the country.

Four souls were added to the church during these services.

On Sunday, August 20th, we are especially asking all members and friends to come to Pilgrim Baptist Church, 45th and Wadsworth, where the spirit is high and God is teaching us through our pastor, Rev. B. W. Wade. At 3:30 p.m. the Gospel Choir will render a song service for the New Bethel Baptist Church, 41st and Naomi Streets, of which Rev. H. Anderson is pastor. You are welcome to all services at Pilgrim. Sister L. P. rGaham is reporter for the church.

Why is the fourth book of the Bible called 'Numbers'?—C. N., Oakland, Calif.

This book is called Numbers because it contains the account of two numbering of the Children of Israel. At the first census there were 603550 males above 20, exclusive of the Levites; at the second numbering, 38 years later, there were 601, 730. of the first number only Joshua and Caleb were alive when the second census was taken. The number of males would indicate a total population of about 3,000,000.

What is the meaning of "Messiah?"—Mrs. C. M., Los Angeles, Calif.

The Old Testament had foretold the coming of a great and wonderful king in the family line of David, who would rule and bless the whole world. He was referred to as the "Messiah." In the New Testament he is called the Christ. Both words mean the same, "The Annointed." Jesus was his personal name. The Messiah or Christ was the name of his office.

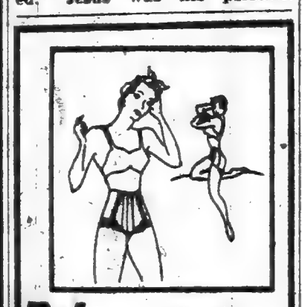
How could a sinful man like David be called a 'man after God's own heart?"—P. J., Long Beach, Calif.



David's life shows very clearly that a man reaps what he sows. Yet it also shows God's forgiveness when a person turns from sin.

David's most previous sin was that of adultery, and virtual murder to cover adultery. This the great blot on David's life. His remorse and guilt feeling made him a broken man. God forgave him. But "the sword never departed from his house." He reaped exactly what he had sown—a long and bitter harvest. One of his daughters was raped by her own brother, who in turn was killed by another brother. His wives were violated in public. Absalom led a rebellion against his father, and died in the struggle.

The reason David is called a "man after God's own heart," is because in a nation that was continually falling away into idolatry, he stood like a rock for Jehovah. He understood that Israel's national mission was to establish in a world of idolatry faith in a living God. It was the character of his administration, rather than his private virtues, that pleased God. Moreover, in his general character, he was a good man. Also we don't find him repeating the same sin. He confessed his sins and forsook them.

What does the name of the first book in the Bible mean.—K. P., Pasadena, Calif.

Genesis means "beginning." This book contains the account of the creation of the world, and the origin of man and of things.

Minister Praises Negro Soldiers

When Rev. Arnett Williams, the assistant pastor of the Faithful Central Baptist Church preached last Sunday morning, August 13, every seat was taken in the church. The minister used as his theme, "I Want to Be Happy."

During the course of his sermon, Rev. Mr. Williams asked all service men present to stand and he proceeded to laud them, saying: "When a man is forced to leave his mother, his wife, children and home, to go fight and die for his country, if need be, I feel that too much cannot be said or done for such a man." He asked God's blessing upon each and every man personally and prayed that God might bring them safely home again.

The minister preached from his heart, and it was conceded by all present that his sermon was a masterpiece. Rev. Williams is a graduate of the Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga.

There were four additions to the church and baptizing was administered immediately after the morning sermon by Rev. Williams.

Recently, Miss Lillian Beasley and Mr. Esker Morehead were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Arnett Williams. They can be reached at 336½ East 42nd Street.

The brother-in-law of Rev. Williams, Mr. Thomas Brown of Fort Worth, Texas, arrived in Los Angeles on Tuesday.

At the morning service, the Rev. A. A. Peters, pastor, presented the Silvertone Quartette which was directed by Edward Driver, and Dr. Ralph Mayberry of the Southern California Baptist Missionary Society, who was the guest speaker. The choir of Victory Baptist Church and the Victory Trio, all under the direction of Earl Pleasant, offered music appropriate to the occasion.

The Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the People's Independent Church of Christ, brought an inspiring message to the 4:00 p.m. service. A concert by the Southern Gospel Singers highlighted the evening worship.
